

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

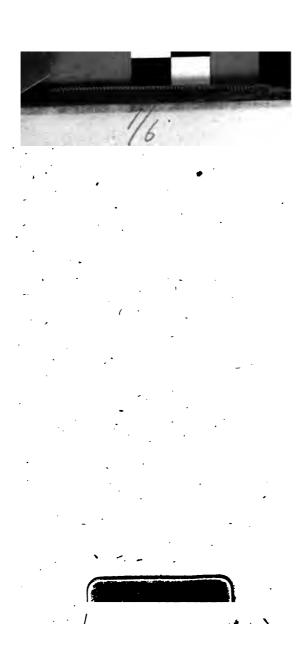

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at http://books.google.com/

An ADVERTISEMENT to the READER.

Ome say the Pilgrim's Progress is not mine,
Infinuating as It I would thise
In Name and same by the worth of another,
Like some made rich by robbing of their Brother.
Or that so fond I am of being Sire, I'le father Bastards; or if need require,
I'le tell a lie in Print to get applause.
Iscornit; John such dirt heap never was,
Since God converted him. Let this suffice
To shew why I my Pilgrim Patronize.

It came from mine own hear, so to my head, And thence into my fingers trickled; Then to my Pen, from whence immediately On Paper I did dribble it daintily.

Manner and matter too was all mine own,
Nor was it unto any mortal known,
Till I had done it. Nor did any then
By Books, by Wits, by Tongues, or Hand or Pen, Add five words to it, or write half a line Thereof: the whole, and every wit is mine.

Also for Itis, thine eye is now upon,
The matter in this manner came from none
But the same Heart, and Head, Fingers and Pen,
As did the others. Witness all good men;
For none in all the world without a Lie,
Lan say that this is mine excepting I.

I write not this of any oftentation,
Nor 'cause I seek of men their commendation;
I do it to keep them from such surmize,
As tempt them will my name to scandalize,
Witness my name, if Anagram'd to theer
The Letters make, Nu bony in a B.

JOHN BUNTAN.

THE

Holy War,

SHADE BY AI

DIABOLUS;

For the Regaining of the Metropolis of the World:

OR, THE LOSING

And taking again of the Town

MANSOUL

By JOHN BUNIAN, Author of the Pilgrim's Progress, 1st, and 2d, Part.

Note, the 3dPart suggested to be his, is an Imposter.

I have used Similitudes, Hos. 12. 10.

LONDON, Printed for J. Clarke, at the Golden Ball, in Duck-lane, 1738.

TO THE ## READER.

IS strange to me, that they that love to tel Things done of old, yea, and that do excell Their Equais in Historiology, Speak not of Manfoul's Wars, but let them lye Dead like old Fables, or fuch worthless things, That so the Reader, no advantage brings: when Men, let them make what they will their own Tin they know this, are to themselves unknown. of Stories I well know their's divers forts, Some foreign, some domestick; and reports Are thereof made as fancy leads the Writers: ( By Books a Man may quess at the Inditers. ) Some will again of that which never was, Nor will be, feign, ( and that without a cause ) Such matter, raife such Mountains, tell such things Of Men, of Laws, of Countries, and of Kings: And in their Story feem to be fo lage, And with fuch gravity cloath every Page, That shough their Frontice piece fays all is vain Tet to their way Discipl's they obtain. Bus. Readers, I have somewhat else to do. Iban wish vain stories thus to trouble you; What bere I say some men do know well, They can with Tears and Joy the ftory tell. Christians

The Found of Manioul is well known to many, Nor are her troubles doubted of by any.

s ere acquainted with those Histories. a Mansoul and ber Wars Anatimize. Scriptures. Then lend thine Ear to what I do relate ubing the Town of Mansoul and ber state. m she was lost, took captive, made a Slave; d bow against bim set, that should ber save. I bow by bostile ways fee did oppose TLord, and with his Enemy did close. they are true, be that will them deny. If needs the best of Records vilisie. m) part I (my self) was in the Town, th when 'twas fet up, and when pulling down. in Diabolus in bis possession, d Mausoul also under his oppression. , I was there when the own'd him for Lord, d to bim did submit with one accord. Vben Mansoul trampled upon things Divine. d wallowed in filth as doth a swine: en she betook ber felf unto ber Arms. gbt ber Emanuel dispis'd bis Charms, Her. # I was there; and grieved for to fee, Counfels. ibolus and Manfoul so agree. let no Men then count me a Fable-maker. ' make my Name or Credit, a partaker their derifion, what is here in view. nine own knowledge I dare lay is true law the Princes armed Men come down Troops, by Thousands, to besiege the Town. in the Captains, beard the Trumpets found, how his Forces cover'd all the Ground. bow they fet themse ves in Battel ray, 1ll remember to my dying day. jaw the Colours waving in the Wind, liber within to mischief how combined Her uin Mansoul, and to make away Soul. Primum mobile without delay. faw the Mounts cast up against the Town. bow the Slings were plac'd. 10 beat it soun. rd the Stones fly whizzing by mine Fars, s longer kept in mind than got in scars, )

I beard them fall, and saw what work they made, And bow Old Mors, did cover with his Shade, The Face of Mansoul, and I heard ber cry, Wo worth the day in dying I shall die. I saw the Battering Rams, and bow they play'd To beat up Ear-gate, and I was afraid. Not only Ear-gate, but the very Town Would by those Battering Rams be beaten down. I saw the Fights and beard the Captains shout, And in each Battle, faw who fac'd about: I saw who wounded were, and who were strin, And who when dead, would come to Life again. I beard the Cries of those that wounded were. (While others fought like Men bereft of Fear.) And while the cry, Kill, Kill, was in mine Ears The Gutters ran, not jo with Plood as Icars. Indeed the Captains did not always fight. Bus when they would molest us Day and Night; They cry, up, fall on, let us take the Town, Keps us from Seeping, or from lying down, I was there when the Gates were broken one, And saw bow Mansoul then was stript of Hope. I saw the Captains march into the Town, How there they fought, and did their Foes cut down I beard. she Prince bid Bonnerges goe Up to the Castle, and there seize his Foe, And law bim and bis Fellows bring bim down In Chains of great Contempt quite through the Town. I saw Emanuel when be possest His Town of Manfoul, and bow greatly bleft A Town, bis gallant Town of Manfoul was. When she receiv'd bis Pardon, lov'd bis Laws. When the Diabolonians were caught. When try'd, and when to Execution brought. Than I was there ; yea, I was standing by . When Manfoul did the Rebels crucifie.

Aufo saw Mansoul clad all in white, and beard ber Prince call her his Hearts delight. Saw him put spon her Chains of Gold, I Rings and Barcelets, goodly to behold.

What shall I say, I heard the Peoples cries, And saw the Prince wipe tears from Mansoul's Eyes. I heard the Groans, and saw the Foy of many: Iell you of all I neither will nor can I. But by what here I say, you will may see That Mansoul's matchies wars no Fabres he.

Mansoul! the define of both Frinces was, One keep his gain would tother gain his Lojs; Diabolus would cry the Town is mine, Emanuel would p'ead a right Divine Umo his Mansoul; then to Blows they go, And Mansoul! crys, these Wars will me undo.

Manfoul ber Wars seem'd endies in her Eyes, She's lost by one becomes another's Prize And be again that lost her last would swear, Here her I will, or her in pieces test.

Mansoul. it was the very seat of War, Wherefore her Troubles g exter were h, far, Itan only where the noise of War is heard. Or where the shaking of a sword is fear'd. Or only where small Skirmishes are sought. Or where the Fanly sightesh with a Ikought.

She saw the Swords of fighting Men made red, And heard the Cries of the with them wounded. Must not her Frights then he much more by far Than theirs that to such Doings Strangers a e? Or theirs that hear the heating of a Drum. But not made fit for fear from House and Home?

Manfoul not only beard the Tumbet found, But faw her Gillants gaping on the Ground, Weerefore we must not think that she could rest With them whose greatest earnest is but jest: Or where the hinstering threatning of great Wars Do end in Parleys, or in wording fais.

Mansoul, b.r mighty Wars, they do portend Her Wea or Woe, and that World without End. Wherefore she mist be mire concerned than they Whose fear begin and end the self same Day. Ir where none other harm doth come to him but is engaged, but loss of Life or limba

A 4

As all must needs confess that now do well In Universe, and can this Story tell.

Count me not then with them that to amize
The People set them on the Stars to gaze, Infinuating with much Confidence
Of some brave Creatures; yea, a world they will Have in each Star though it be past their Skill,
To make it manisest to Man,

That Reason bath, or tell bis Fingers can.

But I have too long beld thee in the Porch
And kept thee from the Sun shine with a Torch.
Well now go forward, step within the door
And there behold five bundred times much more
Of all sorts of such inward Rarities.
As please the mind well, and well feed the eyes With those which if a Christian, thou wilt see. The Nor do thou go to work without my Key,
(In mysteries Men soon do lose their way)
And also turn it right if thou wouldst know
My Riddle, and wouldst with my beiser plow,
Is lies there in the Window, fare thee well,
My next may be to ring thy passing Bell.

John Buny.

RELATION

OFTHE

HOLY WAR, &c.

In my Travels as I walked through many Regions and Countries, it was my chance to happen into that famous Continent of Universe; a very large. and spacious Country it is. It lieth between the two Poles, and just amidst the sour points of the Heavens. It is a place well watered, and richly adorned with Hills and Valleys, bravely situate; and for the most part (at least where I was) very similar ful, also well peopled, and a very sweet Air.

The People are not all of one Complexion, nor yet of one Language, Mode, or way of Religion; but differ as much as ('tis faid) do the Planets themselves: Some are right, and some are wrong, even as it happeneth to be in lesser Regions.

In this Country, as I said, it was my lot to travel, and there travel I did, and that so long, even till I learned much of their Mother-tongue, together with the Customs, and Manners of them among whom I was. And to speak truth, I was much delighted to see and hear many things A natural state which I saw and heard among them: pleasing to the Flesh.

Yea I had (to be fure) even lived and riem died a Native among them, (I was so taken with em and their doings) had not my Master sent for ma home to his House; there to do Business for him, and to over-see Business done.

Now there is in this gallant Country of Universe a fair and delicate Town, a Corporation called Man fon!, a Town for its Building so curious, for its situation so commodious, for its Privileges so advantagious; (I mean with reference to its Original) that I may say of it, as was said before, of the Continent in which it is placed, There is not its equal under the mobele Heaven.

As to the fituation of this Town, it lieth just between the two Worlds, and the first Founder, and Builder of it, so far as by the best and most Authentick Records I can gather, was one Shaddais and he built it for was one Sheddai; and he built it for his own delight. Gen. 1. 26. He made it the Mirrout and Glory of all that he made, even the Top-piece beyond anything else that he did in that Country:

Yea so goodly a Town was Mansoul, when first built, that it is said by some, the Gods at the created Angels. Letting up thereof, came down to fee it, and fung for Joy. And as he made it goedly to behold, fo also mighty to have Dominion over all the Country round about. Yea, all was commanded to acknowlege Manfoul for their Metropolitan, all was injoyed to do homage to it. Ay, the Town it self had positive Committion, and Power from her King to demard Service of all, and also to subdue any, that any ways denied to do it.

There was reared up in the midft The Heart. of this Town, a most famous and stately Palace; for Strength it may be called a Cafile; for Pleasantness, a Paradise; for Largeness a place so copious as to contain all the World, Reed. 3. 11. This place, the King Shaddai intended that for himself alone, and not another with him: Partly because of his own delights, and partly because Power of he would not that the terror of firangers sink. Place Should be upon the Town. This place Shaddai made also a Garrison of, committed to e keeping of it, only to the Merbe Town.

by John Bungan.

The Wall of the Town was well built, year is and firm was it knit and compact together, that it not been for the Townsmen themselves, they conor have been shaken, or broken for ever.

For here lay the excellent viidom of him The Be that built Man, oul, that the walls could rever be broken down nor hurt, by the most mighty advergentate, unless the townsmen gave content the a

This famous Town of Manfoul had five Gates, which to come out, and at which to go in and it were made likewise answerable to the Wall.: To impregnable, and such as could never be opened forced, but by the will and leave of those will The names of the Gates were these, Exeguse, Exeguse, Mousb gate, Nose-

gue, and Feel gate.

6

2.

77

1

i

Other things there were that belonged to Town of Manfoul which if you adjoin to these, yet give further demonstration to all, of the glory strength of the place. It had always a the State strain its walls; Manfour at it had the best, most wholesome, and excellent Law that then was extant in the Wo There was not a Rascal, Rogue, or traiterous Petten within its walls: They were all true Man, sast joined together, and this you know is a great ref. And to all these, it was always (so long as it the goodness to keep true to sbaddai the King his catenance, his protection, and it was his delight,

Well, upon a time thete was one Diabolus a m ty Giant; made an affault upon this tamous Tow Manfoul, to take it, and make it his own Habitat This Giant was King of the Blacks or Negrees, and a most raving Prince he Sinners the was. We will it you please first d.f. Original of course of the original of this Diabolus, bolus.

and then of his taking of this tamous Town of Manfoul.

This Diebous is indeed a great and might and yet both pour and beggarly. As to his

The Boly War,

he was at first, one of the Servants of made and taken, put by him into m mighty place, yea, and was put into such as belonged to the best of his Territorie nious, Is. 14. 12 This Diabolus was the morning, and a brave place he had of him much Glory, and gave him much £ income that might have contented Heart, had it not been insatiable, and Hell it felf.

Well, he seeing himself thus exalted and Honour, and raging in his mind for and degree, what doth he but begins t himself, how he might be set up as L and have the fole power under Shaddai, Fude 6. ( Now that did the King refer yea, and had already bestowed it upon I fore he first consults with himself what h done, and then breaks his mind to fome companions, to the which they also ag fine, they came to this iffue, that they fhe attempt spon the King's Son to deftroy ! inheritance might be theirs. Well, to l Treason (as I said) was concluded, the t ed, the word given, the Rebels rendel the assault attempted. Now the King, being all, and always Eye, could not b passages in his Dominions; and he havi love for his Son, as for himfelf, could r he faw, but be greatly provoked an Wherefore what does he, but takes then Ni.k. and first Trip that they made to derign, conv. as them of the Treason, h him and Conspiracy that they had deviettempted to put into practice: And cal wher out of all place of Truft, Benefit, elerment; this done, he banishes the hem down into the horrible Pits * Chains a never more to ex that he had appointed: and that for ever and ever. Now they being thus cast out of all place of Trust. Profit, and Honour, and allo knowing that they had loft their Prince's favour for ever, being banished his Court and caft down to the horrible Pi's, you may befure they would now add to their fermer Pr dewhat Malice and Rage against Shaddai, and against his Son they could, I Pet. 5. 8. Wherefore Reving and Ranging in much fury from place to place, (if perhaps they might find something that was the King's) to revenge, by spoiling of that, themselves on him. At last they happined into this fracious Country of Univerle, and steer their course towards the Town of Manfoul; and confidering that that Town was one of the chief Works, and delights of King Shaddai; what dothey, but after Council taken, make an affault upon that. I fay they knew that Manfoul belonged unto Shaidai, for they were there when he built it, and Beautified it for himself. So when they had found the place, they Shouted horribly for Joy, and Roared on it like as a Lion upon the Prey: Saying, now we have found the Prize, and how to be revenged on King Shaddu, for what he hath done to us. So they let down and called a Council of War held by A Conneil of War, and confidered with themselves Diabolus, what ways and Methods they had beft to Engage in, for the winning to themselves this famous Town of Manfoul: and the four things were then propounded to be considered of.

Firft, Whether they had helt, all of them to shew benselves, in this design to the Town of Mansoul.

Secondly, Whether they had best to go and six down to gainst Mansoul, in their now razged and beggarly uise.

Thirdly, Whether they had best to shew to Mansoul beir Intentions, and what design they came about, or sheether to assault it with words and ways of deceit.

Pourthly. Whether they had not belt, by some of their mpanions to give out private Orders to take the a rage, if they see one, or more of the principal Top men, to Shoot them: If thereby they shall judge their cause and design will the better be promoted.

It was answered to the first of these Proposals, in . the Negarive, to wit, that it would not be best that all should shew themselves before the Town: Because the appearance of many of them might Alarm, and fright the Town. Whereas, a few or but one of them, was not so likely to do it And to inforce this advice to take place, 'twas added further, that if Mansoul was frighted er did make the Alarm,'tis impossible, Lid Diabo!us for he spake now) that we should take the Town: For that none can enter into without its own confent. Let therefore but few, or but one affault Manfoul, and in mine Opinion said Diabo.us, let me be he. Wherefore to this they all agreed, and then to the second Proposal they Whether they had best to go and sit down came namely, before Manioul, in their now Ragged and Beggarly guije. To which it was answered also in the Negative, by no means; and that because, though the Town of Mansoul, had been made to know, and to have to do before now, with things that are invisible; they did never as yet fee any of their fellow Creatures in fo bad and Rascal condition as they. And this was the Advice of that fierce Aletto. Then faid Apollyon, the advice is pertinent, for even one of us appearing Apollyor. -to them as we are now, must needs, but beget and multiply fuch I houghts in them, as will both put them into a Confternation of Spiric, and necessitate them to put themselves upon their Guard And if so, said he, then as my Lord Aletto said but now, 'tis in vain for us to think of taking the Town. Then said that mighty Giant Beelzebub, the Advice that already is given is fafe; for the' the Men of Man foul have feen fuch things as we once were yet hither to they did never behold such things as we now are And 'tis best in mine Opinion to come upon them in such a Guile, as is common to, and most familiar among them. To this when they had confented: Th vext thing to be considered was, in what hape, H. r Guile, Diabotus had best to shew himself, when ent about to make Manfoul his own. Then one fuid ie thing, and another the contray, at last Lucifer. nswered that in his Opinion, twas best that his Lordip should assume the Body of some of those Creatures nat they of the Town had Dominion over. noth he, those are not only familiar to them, but king under them they will never Imagine, that any ttempt should by them be made upon the Town; and to bland all, let him affume the Body of one of these Beafts that Mansoul deems to be wifer than any of the reft, Gen. 1. Kev. 20. 1, 2. This Advice was applauded of all fo it was determined that the Giant Diabolus should assume the Diagon, for that he was one in those Days, as familiat with the Town of Manfool, as now is the Bird with the Boy For nothing thatwasio its primitive state was all amazing to them. Then thy proceeded to the Third thing, which was.

3. Whether they had best shew their intentions, or the defign of bis.coming to Mansoul, or no?

This also was answered in the Negative, because of the weight that was in their former Reasons to wit, for that Manfoul were a ftrong People; a ftrong People in a ftrong Town, whose Wall and Gates were impregnable, ( to say nothing of their Cast e ) nor can they by any means be won but by their own confent. Besides said Legion (for he gave answer to this) Adiscovery of our intentions, may make them send to their King for aid, and if that be done, I know, Itickly what time of Day 's will be with us: Thereore let us affault them in all pretended Fairness, coreting of our Intentions with all manner of Lies flatteries, delufive Words? Feigning of things that ever will be, and promising of that to them, that hey that never find: This is the way to win Manfoul nd'to make them of themselves to open their Gates ) us; yea, and to delire us too, to come in to them.

And the Reason why I think that this project will do, because the People of Mansoul now are every one sple and Innocent; all honest, and true; Nor de ras yet know what it is to be assaulted we Fraud, Guile, and Hypocrifie. They are ftrangers? Lying and diffembling Lips; wherefore we cannot, it thus we be diffusifed, by them at all be different on Lies shall go for true Sayings, and our Diffimulation for upright Dealings. What we promise them, they will in that believe us; especially, if in all our Lie and Feigned Words, we pretend great love to them and that our design is only their advantage and ho nour. Now there was not one bit of a reply against this, this went ascurrent down, as doth the Water downa fteep descent: Whereforethey go to consider of the last Proposal, which was.

4. Whether they had not best to give out Orders to some of their Company, to shoot some one or more of the principal of the Townsmen: If they judge that their cause my be promoted thereby.

This was carried in the Affirmative, and the Man that was defigned by this Stratagem to be deftroyed of Captain Resistance, otherwise called Captain Resistance, and a great Man in Mansoul, this Captain Resistance was; and a Man that the Giant Diabolus, and his band, more seared than they seared the whole Town of Mansou besides. Now who should be the Actor to do the Murder; that was the next, and they appointed one Tispbone, a fury of the Lake to do it.

The result of their Council. War, rose up, and assay'd to do as they had determined; they marched towards Mansoul, but all in a manner invisible save only one; nor did he approach the Town in his own likeness, but under the shade, and in the Body of the Dragon.

So they drew up, and fet down before Ear-gate, for that was the place of hearingfor all with out the Town

Diabolus So as I said, he came up with his Trair to the Town, to the Gate; and laid his Ambuscado so Captain Resistance, within Bow-shot This done, the Giant ascended up co

Aum

e Gate, and called to the Town of Mansoul for Nor took he any with him, but one All-, who was his Orator in all difficult Matters. , as I said, he being come up to the Gare (as the ner of those times was ) sounded his Trumpet for ience; at which the chief of the Town of Mansoul as my Lord Innocent, my Lord Will be will, my i Mayor, Mr. Recorder, and Captain Resistance came n to the Wall to see who was there, what was the matter. And my Lord of Manfeel be will, when he had looked over and appeared. who flood at the Gate, demanded what was, and wherefore he was come, and why he ed the Town of Mansoul with so unusual a Sourd, liab. Diabolus then, as if be bad been Diabolus his imb began his Oration and faid, Gentle- Oration. of the famous Town of Mansoul, I am, as you may tive no far dweller from you, but near, and one that und by the King to do you. my Homage, and what fer-I can : mberefore that I may be faithful to my self, to you, I have somewhat of concern to impart unto you. refore grant me your Audience and bear me patiently. I first, I will assure you, it is not my self but you; not , but your advantage that I feek by what I now do, as full well be made manifest, by that I have opened my I waso you. For Gentlemen, I am ( to tell you the Truth ) to shew you how you may obtain great and ample derance from a bondage that unawares to yourseives you :aptivated and instaved under. At this the Town of sjoul began to prick up its Ears, and what Manfoul, pray what is it thought they? And he ingaged, , I have something to say to you concerning King, concerning his Law, and also touching your es. Touching your King, I know he is great and po-, but yet, all that be bath said to you is neither true, yet for your advantage, 1. Tis not true, for that rewith be bath bitberto awed you, [ball not come to nor be fulfilled, though you do the thing he bath iden. Rut if there was Danger what a flavery is is always in Fear of the greatest of Punisoments, for doing so small and trivial a thing, as Eating Diabolus his functions a using jo juman and structure a using, as earm function made of a little Fruit is? 2. Touching his Lague up of Lies.

The Poly War,

able, Intricate and Intricable. Unreafed able as was hinted before, for that the Punishment is no proportioned to the offence. There is great difference, and Diabolus his

10

ortion betwixt the Life, and an Apple: Tet the uft go for the other by the Law of your Shaddai. is also Intricate, in that be saith, first, you may all; and yet after, forbids the eating of One. And t the last Place, it must needs be intolerable for as is that Fruit which you are forbidden to cat of (if e forbidden any) is that, and that alone, which is y your eating, to minister to you, a Good, as yet was by you. This is manifest by the very Name of the is called the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Eand have you that Knowledge as yet? No, no, nor u conceive bow good, bow pleasant, and tow mu b 10 Fred to make one Wise it is, so long as you stand by King's Commandment. Why should you be bolden in ance and Blindne, s? Why |hould you not be inlarged nowledge and Understanding ? And now! Ab ye Inbats of the famous Town of Mansoul, to speak more partriy to yourselves, you are not a free People ! You are both in Bondage and Slavery, and that by a grievous 1: no Reason being annexed, but so I will have it, so "I be. And is it not grievous to think on, that that thing, that you are forbidden to do, might you but do vould yield you bosh Wisdom and Honour: For then Eyes will be opened, and you shall be as Gods. Now this is thus, quoth be, can you be kept by my Prince in : Slaury, and in greater Bondage than you are inder, Day? You are made underlings, and are wrapt up in nucniences, as I have well made appear: For what Bonegreater than to be kept in Blindneis? Will not Reatell jounthat it is better to have Eyes than be without; n; and so be at Liberty, to be better than to be shut up dark and Stinking Cave?

And just now while Diabolus was speak Captain Fethese Words to Mansoul, Tispbone shot sistance slain. Captain Resistance, where he stood on the Gate, and stally wounded him in the Head, so that he, to the sazement of the townsmen, and the Incouragement Diabolus, sell down dead quite over the Wall. Now in Capt. Resistance was dead) and he was the one an of War in the town) poor Mansoul was wholk left naked of Courage, nor had she now any heart to resist. But this was as the Devil would have it. Then flood forth that He, Mr. Ill pause, that Diabolus brough with him, who was his Orator, and he Addressed him felf to speak to the Town of Mansoul: The tenour of whole Speech here follows.

Town of Man.

Ill-pause. Gentlemen, quoth he, it i Mr. Ill-Paufe his my Matter's Happiness, that he has this Day a quiet and teachable Auditory and it is hoped by us, that we shall provail with you, not to cast off good Advice: My Master has a very great Love for you, and although, as he very well knows, that he runs the Haze zard of the Anger of King Shaddai, yet Love to yet will make him domore than that. Nor doth there need, that a word more should be spoken to confirm for truthi what he has faid; there is not a word that carries with it self evidence in its Bowels; the very Name of the Tree may put an end to all Controverse in this Matter. I therefore at this time shall only add this Advice to you, under, and by the leave of my Lord ( and with that he made Diabolus a very low Conger. ) Confider his Words, look on the Tree and the promising Fruitthereof remember also that yet you know but little, and that this is the way to know more: And if your Reafons be not conquered to accept of fuch good Council, you are not the Men I took you to be. But when the Towns folk saw that the Tree was good for Food, and that it was Pleasant to the Eye, and a Tree to be defired to make one Wife, they did as Old Ill paufe Advised, they took and did eat thereof, now this I should have told you before, that even then, when this 10 pause was making of his Speech to the Townsmen, My Lord Inno-Lord Innocency, ( whether by a shot from cency's Death. the Camp of the Giant, or from some qualm, that suddenly took him, or whether by the flinking Breath of that Treacherous Villain, Old Illpanse, for so I am most apt think ) sunk down in the Place where he stood, nor could he be brought to Life gain. Thus these two parve Men Died; brave Men I em, for they were the Beauty and Giory of Minlong as they Lived therein: Nor did there now a any more a Noble Spirit in Manfoul, they all wn and yielded Obedience to Diabolus, and behis Slaves and Vaffals as you shall hear.

Towns Folk, but as Men that had taken. a Fools-Paradife, they presently, as afore was i, fell to prove the Truth of the Giant's Words, aft they did as Ill pause had taught them, they d, they confidered, they were taken with the Iden Fruit, they took thereof and did Eat: And ha-Eaten, they became immediately Drunken there, so they opened the Gate; both Eargate, and ate, and let in Diabolus with all his Bands, quite that he had annexed with solemn Threatning to reach thereof.

abolus having now obtained Entrance in at the s of the Town, Marches up to the middle thereof. ske his Conquest as sure as he could, and finding is time, the affections of the People warmly inig to him, he as thinking 'twas best striking while ron is Hot, made this further deceivable Speech them, faying, Alas my poor Manfoul! I have done indeed this fervice, as to promote thee to bonour, and easen the Liberty, but now Alas! Alas! poor Manbou wantest now one to defend thee, for assure thythat when Shaddai thall bear what is done, be will : For forry will be be that thou half broken his s, and cast his Cords away from thee. What wilt 10? Will thou after Enlargement, Suffer thy Privis to be invaded and taken away? Or what wilt rewith shifelf? Then they all with one confent to this Bramble, do thou Reign over he is entero he Accepted the motion, and became tained for King of the Town of Manfoul. This their King g done, the next thing was, to give Possession of the Castle, and so of the whole igth of the Town. Wherefore into the Caffle be He is possessed of the Caitle, and fortified it for himfelf.

goes (it was that which Shaddai be in Mansoul, for his own Delight Pleasure:) This now was become Den, and Hold for the Giant Di lus. Now having got Poss: stion of t flately Palace, or Caffle, what doth he, but make a Garrison for himself, and strengthens and fortil it, with all forts of Provision again He new model- the King Shaddai, or those that the leth the Town endeavour the regaining of it, to and his Obedience again.

This done, but not thinking himself yet secure nough, in the next place, he bethinks himself of all modelling the Town; and fo he do My Lo.d Mayor fetting up one, and putt ng down oth put out of place. at Pleasure. Wherefore my Lon Mayor, whose Name was my Lord Understanding at

Mr. Recorder, whose Name was Mr. Conscience, the

he puts out of Place and Power.

As for my Lord Mayor, though he was an Under flanding Man and one too that had complied with t rest of the town of Manfoul in admitting of the Gin into the town, 2 Cor 10. 4, 5. Yet Diabolus thong not fit to let him abide in his former Luftre at Glory, because he was a seeing Man: Epb. 4. 18, 19 Whereforehehad darkned it not only by taking from bil his Office and Power, but by building of an high at frong tower, just between the Sun's Reslections, as the Windows of my Lord's Palace: By which mean his House and the whole of his Habitation, was mad as dark as darkness it self. And thus being alienate from the Light he became as one that was born blin To this his House my Lord was confined, as to a Pr fon; nor might he upon his Parole, go further that within his own Bounds. And now had he had a Heart to do for Manfoul; what could he do for it, wherein could he be profitable to her? So then, long as Manjoul was under the Power and Govern ment of Diabolus, (and so long it was under him; it was obedient to him; which was, even until by War it was rescued out of his Hand.) So long my Lord Mayor, was rather an impediment in, than an advanage to, the Famous Town of Mansoul.

Asfor Mr Recorder, before the Town

The Recorder put out of Peace.

was taken, he was a Man well Read in the Laws of his King, and also a Man of Courage and faithfulness to speak truth at every occasion : And he had a Tengueas bravely Hung, as he had an head filled with Indement. Now this Man, Diabolus could by no means abide, because, though he gave his consent to his cominginto the Town, yet he wouldnot, by all wiles Trials. Stratagems, and devices that he could use, make him wholly his own. True, he was much degenerated from his former King, and also much pleased with many of the Giant's Laws, and Service: But this would not do for as much as he was not wholly

He fometimes his, he would now and then think upon freaks for his Shaddei, and have a Dread of his Law firm King, upon him, and then he would speak with a Voice as g eat againft Diabolus, as when a Lion Yea, and would also at certain times when his fits were upon him (for you must know, that sometimes he had terrible fits ) make the whole Town of Manfoul shake with his Voice : and therefore the new

King of Manjoul co id not abide him.

Diabolus therefore feared the Recorder, more than any that waslest alivem the Townof Manfoul, because, as I faid his words did shake the wnole Town : they were-like the Ratling Thunder, and also like Thunder claps. Since therefore the He is more Giant could not make him wholly his that before. He is more own, what doth he do but Studies all that he could to Debauch the Old Gentleman, and by Debauchery, to stupisie his Mind, and more harden his Heart in ways of Vanity. And as he Attempted, fo he accomplished his Design. He Debauched the Mana and by little and little fo drew him into Sin and Wickedness, that at last he wasnetonly Debauched as athirs, and so by consequence Defiled, but was almost (at last, I say ) past all Conscience of Sin. And this was the farthest Disbolus could go. Wheretore he l him of another project, and that was to perfu Men of the Town that Mr. R The Town taken was Mad and to not to be Re o.f from heeding And for this he urged his Firs,2 of him. if he he himself, why doth he thus always? But, quoth he, as all Madfolk hav . Fits and in them raving Language; so hath t and doating Gentleman. This by one mean or a he quickly got Manfoul to flight, neglect, and whatever Mr. Recorder could fay. For beside. already you have heard, Diabolus had a way t How Gonscience becomes so ridi- ry, unsay and deny what he in l culous, as with had affirmed. And indeed this v Carnal Men it is next way to make himself redi and to cause that no Man should him. Also now he never spake freely for Kir dai but always by force and conftrant. Besid would at one-time be not against that, at which nother he would hold his Peace. So uneven a now in his doings. Sometimes he would be, as asseep, and again sometimes as Dead, even then the whole Town of Manfoul, was in her caree; Vanity, and in her Dance after the Giant's Pi Wherefore, sometimes when Mansoul did use frighted with the thundering Voice of the Recordwas, and when they did tell Diabolus of it, he answer, that what the Old Gentleman said, w. ther of Love to him, nor pity to them, but of a ish fondness that he had to be prating: And for hush, fill, and put all to quiet again. And th might leave no Argument unurged that might t to make them fecure, be faid, and faid it ofter Man foul! Confider that not with standing the Old tleman's Rage, and the rattle of his high and thun Words, you hear nothing of Shaddai himself ( Liar, and Deceiver, that he was, every out c

Saranical

Rhstorick.

Mr. Recorder against the Sin of W was the Voice of God in him to the goes on and fays, You see that he values not Loss, nor Rebellion of the Town of Mansoul, nor he trouble himself with calling of his Town to a koning, for their given themselves to me. He was that though ye were his, now you are lawfully ie; so leaving us one to another, he now hath shahis Hands of Us.

his Hands or Us.

Moreover, O Mansoul quoth he, consider how I have red you, even to the uttermost of my Power; and t with the best that I have, could get, or procure for in all the World: Besides, I dare say, that the Laws Customs that you now are under, and by which i do Homage to me, do yield you more solace and itent, then did the Paradise that at first you posses.

. Your Liberty also, as your Selves do very well we has been greatly widened and en- His flatteriesged by me; whereas I found you a Pen'd up People ave not laid any reftraint upon you; you have no w, Statute, or Judgment of mine to Conscience. It you; I call none of you to Account for your Dos, except the Madman, you know who I mean: I re granted you to Live, each Manlike a Prince in own, even with as little Controll from me, as I my have from you.

And thus would Diabolus hush up, Men sometimes I quiet the Town of Manfoul when angry with their Conscience.

Recorder that was, did at times left them: Yea, and with such cursed Orations as se would set the whole Towa in a rage and sury and the Old Gentleman: Yea, the Rascal cure, at te times would be for destroying him. They have m wished (in my hearing) That he had lived a outland miles off from them: His company, his rds, yea the sight of him, and especially when they membred how in Old times he did use to threaten I condemn them; (for all he was now so Debaud d) did terrifie and afflict them fore.

But all wishes were vain, for I do not know how, und by the power of Shaddai, and his wisdom, he was reved in being amongst them. Besides, his bouse was as firong as a Caftle, and flood hard by a firong Ill-thoughts. Hold of the Town: Moreover, if at any time any of the cure or Rabble attempted to make him Of fears. away, he could pull up the fluces, and le in such floods, as would drown all round about him.

But to leave Mr. Recorder, and to come to my Lord Will be will, another of the Gen'ry, of the famous town of Mansoul. This Will-be will was as high born as any Man in Manjoul, and was as much, if no more, a Free holder than many of them were: Be fides if I remember my Tale aright, he had some pri viledge peculiar to himself in the famous Town o Manfoul: Now together with these, hewas a manofgrea friength, resolution and courage, nor in his occastim coul any turn bim an y. But I fay, whether he was poid o his Estate, Priviledges, Strength or what, (but sure in was through pride of fomething) he fcorns now to be a flive in Manfoul; and therefore refolves to bear Of fice under Diabolus, that he might such an one as he was) be a petty Ruler and Governour in Mansoul and (head-fliong Man that he was) thus he began be times; for this Man, when Diabolus did make his Ora tion at Ear gate, was one of the first that was for consenting to his words, and for accepting of his c unsel at wholesome and that was for the opening of the Gate and letting him into the Town : Wherefore Diebolu. had a kindness for him; and therefore he designed for him a place; and preceiving the valour and floutness o the Man, he coveted to have him for one of his great ones, to act and to do in Matters of the highest concern

The Will rakes him of that fecret matter that lay in hi Breaft, but there needed not much per swaffon in the Case. For as at first he wa willing that Diebolus should be let into the Town; so now he was as willing to serve him there; When the Tyrant therefore perceived the willingness of my Lord to serve him, and that his mind stood bending tha way, he sorthwith made him Captain of the Castle Government.

Sovernour of the Wall, and Kreper of the Head. Bates of Manfoul: Yea there was a clause in Field. his Commission, that no thing without Lim Senses. bould be done in all the Town of Mansoul. So that now, next to Diabolus himself, who but my Lord Will be will in all the Town of Mansoul; nor could any thing now be done but at his Will and Pleasure throughout the Town of Mansoul. Rom. 8, 7. He ad also one Mr. Mind for his Clerk, a man to speak on, every way like his Master: Mr. Mind my to speak on, every way like his Master: Lords clerk. For he and his Lord were in principle one, and made to suffil the lusts of the Will and of the Mind.

But it will not out of my thoughts, what a desperate one this Will bewill was, when power was put into his hand. First, he statly denyed that he owed any suit of service to his former Prince, and Liege Lord. This done, in the next place he took an Oath, swore fidelity to his great Master Diabolus, and then being stated and settled in his Places, Offices, Advancements and Preferments; Oh! you cannot think unless you had seen it, the strange work, that this workman made in the Town of Mansoul.

First, he maligned Mr. Recorder to The carnal will-death, he would neither endure to see opposeth Conhim, nor to hear the words of his mouth; science.

he would shut his Eyes when he saw him, and stop his Ears when he heard him speak: Also he could not enlare that so much as a fragment of the Law of Shad-li should be any where seen in the Town. For exam-le, his Clerk Mr. Mind had some old sent, Neb 9. 26- and torn Parchments of the Law of good Shadai in is House, but when Willbewill saw them, he cast them whind his back. True, Mr. Recorder had some of the laws in his study, but my Lord could by no means omeat them: He also thought and said, the windows smy old Lord Mayor's House were always Corrupt will so light for the profit of the Town of loves a dark smooth. The light of a Candle he could understanding

D 2

Diabolus his funcility made up of Lies.

doing so small and trivial a thing, as Eatin of a little Fruit is? 2. Touching his Law this I say further, they are both unreason able, Intricate and Intrierable. Unreason able as was binted before, for that the Punishment is ni proportioned to the Offence. There is great difference, an know, that as Diabolus had commanded, and that hy the hand of Mr. No-Iruth, the Image of Shadisi was defaced; He likewife gave order that the fame Mr. No-Iruth should set up in its stead the horrid and formidable Image of Diabolus: To the great contempt of the former King, and debasing his Town of Manfoul.

Moreover, Diabolus made havock of all remains of the Laws and Statutes of Shaddai, that could be found in the Town

Of Manfoul: to wit, fuch as convain'd either the Doctrines or Morals, with all Givil and Natural Documents. Alforelative severities he sought to extinguish. To be short, there was nothing of the remains of good in Mansoul, which he and Will bewill sought not to destroy: For their design was to turn Mansoul into a Brute, and to make it like to the sensual Sow: By the hand of Mr. No-Truth.

When he had deftroyed what Law and good Orders be could, then further to affect his defign namely, to alienate Manfoul from Shaddai her King he commands, and they fet up his own vain Edicts. Statutes and Commandments, all in places of refort, or concourse in Manfoul, 1 Fobn 2. to wit fuch as gave liberty to the lusts of the flest, the lusts of the Eyes, and the Pride of Life, which are not of shaddai, but of the World. He incouraged, countenanced and promoted lasciviousnels, and all ungodliness there. Yea much more did Diabolus, to incourage wickedness in the Town of Manfoul, he promised them peace, content, joy and blifs in doing his commands and that they should never be called to an account for their not doing the contrary. And let-this serve to give ataste to them that love to bear of what is done beyond their knowledge, after off in other Countries.

Now Manfoul being wholly at his beck, and brought wholly to his Bow; Nothing was heard or feen therein but that which tended to fet up him.

But now, he having disabled the They have a new Lord Mayor and Mr. Recorder from Lord Mayor and earing of Office in Mansoul: And a new Records (ec.)

feeing that the T wn, before he came to it, was the most ancient of Corporations of the World; and fearing it he did not maintain Greatness, they at any time should object that he had done them an Injury: Therefore I say, (that they might see that he did not intend to effen their Grandeur, or to take them from any of their Advantagious things) he did chuse for them a Lord Miyor, and a Recorder, himself: And such as contented them at the Heart, and such also as pleased him wordrous well.

The Name of the Mayor that was of Lind-Mayor. Diabolus's making, was the Lord Luftings. A man that had neither Eyes nor Ears; all that he did, whether as a Man, as an Officer, he did it naturally as doth the Beaft. And that which made him yet the more Ignoble, though not to Manfoul, yet to them that beheld, an! were grieved for its Ruins, was, that he rever could favour Good, but Eyil.

The Recorder was one whose Name was Recorder. Forget-gord. And a very forry Fellow he was. He could remember nothing but Mischief, and to do it with delight. He was naturally prone to do things that are Hurriul; even Hurtful to the Town of Mansoul, and to all the Dwellers there. These two therefore, by their Power, and Practice, example and suites upon Evil; did much more Grammer, and set Thoughts the the Common People in hurtful Ways. For who doth not preceive but when those that sit alost, are vile, and corrupt themselves; they corrupt the whole Region and Country where they are.

 theifm; Thirteen in All. Mr. Incredulity is the Eldost and Mr. Atheifm the Youngest of the Company.

There was also an Election of Common-Council-Men, and others; as Bailiffs, Serjeants Conflables &c. but all of them like those aforenamed, being either Fathers, Brothers, Cousins or Nephews to them, whose Names for Brevities sake, I Omit to mention.

when the Giant had thus far proceeded in his Work, in the next place he between those three throughout the Town and he Built three that the Town; and he Built three that feemed to be Impregnable. The First he called the Hold of Desiance, because it was made to Com nand the whole Town, and to keep it from the Knowledge of its Angiest King. The Second he called Midnist Hold, because it was Built on purpose to keep Alm soul from the true Knowledge of it self. The Tinrd was called Sweet sin-Hold, because by that he Fortisted Mansoul against all desires of Good. The First of these Holds stood close by Eye gate, that as much as might be Light might be Darkned there. The Setond was Built hard by the Old Castle, to the end that that might be made more Blind (if possible.) And the Third stood in the Market Place.

He that Diabolus made Governour over the First of these, was one Spite God, a most Blashhemous Wretch. He came with the whole Rabble of them that came against Mansoul at first, and was himself) one of themselves. He that was made the G vernour of Midnight Hold was one Love no light, he was also one of them that came first against the Town and he that was made the Governour of the Hold called Sweet sin Hold, was one whose Name was Love-slesh, he was also a very Leud Fillow, but not of that Country, where the other are bound. This Fellow tould find more sweetness, when he stood sucking of a Lust, than be did in all the Paradise of God.

And now Diabolus thought himfelf (afe; be hall aken Manfoul; he had Ingarrifoned himfelf therein; had put down the old Officers, and had fee up no

The Poly War,

Ones; he had defaced the Image of the made his Nest.

dai, and had set up his own; he he spoiled the old Law-Books, and he promoted his own vain Lies; he had made him ne Magistrates, and set up new Aldermen; he had Bu his new Holds, and had Mann'd them for himse And all this he did to make himself secure, in Cithe good shaddai, or his Son, should come to ma an Incursion upon him.

Tidings carried Now you may well think, that low to the Court of before this time, Word by some or what had hap-ther could not but be carried to the pened to Man-Good King Shaddai, how his Manso foul.

in the Continent of Universe was lot and that the Giant Diabolus, once one of his Manso files Servants, had in Rebellion against the Kin made sure thereof for himself: Yea, Tidings we carried and brought to the King thereof, and the

to a very Circumstance.

As first, How Diabolus came upon Mansoul ( the being a simple People and Innocent) with Crast, Su tlety, Lies and Guile; hem, That he had Treach roully flain the Right Noble and Valiant Captal their Captain Resistance, as he stood upon the Ga with the rest of the Townsmen; Item, how my bra-Lord Innocent fell down Dead ( with Grief some si or with being Poisoned, flinking with the Breath one Ill pause, as say others) at the hearing of ! Just Lord, and Rightful Prince Shaddai so Abust by the Mouth of fo Filthy a Diabolian, as that Var Ill pause was. The Messenger surther told, that ass this Ill-paufe, had made a short Oration to the Town men, in behalf of Diebolus his Master; the simp Town believing that what was said was true, wi one confine did open Bar-gate, the chief Gate of t Corporation, and did let him with his Crew into Possession of the Famous Town of Mansoul. He st ther shewed how Diaboins had served the Lord Ma or, and Mr. Recorder, to wit, that he had put the from all place of Power and Truft; Item, he shew allo that my Lord Willbewill was turned a very Rebel and Runagate, and that so one Mr. Mind his Clerk, and that they two did Range and Revel it all the Town over, and teach the Wicked ones their Ways. He said morever, that this Willbewill was put into great Trust, and particularly that Diabolus had put in Wellbewill's Hand, all the strong Places in Manjoul; and that Mr. Affellion was made my Lord Willbewill's Deputy, in his most Rebellious Affairs. Yea, said the Messenger, this Monster, Lord Willbewill has openly disavowed his King Shaddai, and hath Horribly given his Faith and Plighted Troth to Diabolus.

Also said the Messenger, besides this, the new king, or rather Rebellious Tyrant over the once Famous, but now Perishing Town of Mansoul, has set up a Lord Mayor, and Recorder of his own. For Mayor he has set up one Mr. Lustings, and for Recorder Mr. Forget-good, two of the Vilest of all the Town of Mansoul. This saithful Messenger also preceded, and told what a fort of new Burgestes Diabolus had made; also that he had Built several strong Forts, Towers, and strong Holds in Mansoul. He told too, the which I had almost forgot, how Diabolus had put the Town of Mansoul into Arms, the better to Capacitate them on his behalf to make resistance against Shaddai their King, should he come to reduce them to their former Obedience.

Now this Tidings-teller did not deli-Grief at Course ver his Relation of things in private, but to hear the in open Court, the King and his Son, Tidings. High Lords, Chief Captains, and Nobles, being all there present to hear. But by that they had heard the whole of the Story, it would have Amazed one, to have seen, had he been there to behold it, what Sorsow and Grief, and Compunction of Spirit, there was among all Sorts, to think that Famous Manfoul was now taken: Only the King and his Son foresaw all this long before, yea, and sufficiently provided for the selief of Manfoul, tho' they told not every body theref. Yet because they also would have a stage in contact.

doling of the misery of Mansoul, therefore they did, and that at a rate of the highest Degree, be the losing of Mansoul, Gen. 6. 5, 6. The King plainly, that it Grieved bim at the Heart, and may be fure that his Son was not a whit behind Thus gave they Conviction to all about them. they had Love and Compatition for the famous T of Manfoul. Well, when the King and his Son wi retired into the Privy chamber, there they again · fulted about what they had defigned before, to The fecrets of the tas Manfoul fould in time be fu ed to be !oft: So as certainly it [hou. his purpole. recovered again; recovered I fay, in f a way as that both the King and his Son would themselves Eternal Pame and Glory thereby. Wh fore after this Consult, the Son of Shaddai (a sv and Comely Person, and one that The Son of God. always great Affection for those were in Affliction, but one that had Mortal Ent in his Heart against Diabolus, because he was del ed for it, and because he sought his Crown and ! nity ) Ifs. 49. 5. 1 Tim. 1. 15. Hof. 13. 14. This of Shaddai, I say, having ftricken Hand with his ther, and promised that he would be his Servar recover his Manfoul again, It od by his Relolut nor would be Repent of the fame. The purpo A beave defign which Agreement was this, to wit, in foot for the at a certain time prefixed by both, Townef Man- King's Son should take a Journey into · loot. Country of Universe, and there in a of Fustice and Equity, by making of amends for Folies of Mansoul, be bould lay a Foundation of ber feit deliverence for Diabolus, and frem bis Tyranny.

Moreover immunel resolved to make at a time venient, a War upon the Giant Diabolus, even we have was possessed to the Town of the Model; and that he would fairly show firength of Hand, drive him out that his Nest, and take it to himself, to be himselfon.

This now being resolved upon, order was Thermy given to the Lord Chief Secretary, to draw Stip upon a sair Record of what was determined, and to cause that it should be Published in all the Corners of the Ringdom of Universe. A short Breviat of the Contents thereof, you may if you please take here as sollows

Let all Men know who are concerned, The Content that the Son of Shaddai the Great King, is Ingaged by Covenant to his Father, to bring his Mansoul to him again; Yea, and to put Mansoul too, throught the Power of his matchless Love, into a far better, and more happ Condition than it was in before it was taken by Disholus.

These Papers thereof were published in several Places, to the no little Molestation of the Tyrant Diabolus, for now thought he, I shall be Molested, and my Habitation will be taken from me.

But when this matter, I mean this purpose of the Ring and his Son, did at first take air at Court; who can tell how the High Lords, Chief Captains, and Noble Princes that were there, were taken with the business! First, they whis Among the pered it to one another, and after that it began to ring throughout the Ring's Palace, all wondring at the Glorious design, that between the King and his Son was on foot for the miserable Town of Manjoul. Yea, the Courtiers could scarce do any thing, either for the Ring or Kingdom, but they would mix with the doing thereof, a noise of the love of the King and his Son, that they had for the

Nor could these Lords, high Captains, and Princes, be content to keep this News at Court, yea before the Records thereof were perseated, themselves came down and told it in Universe. At last it came to the Ears, as I said, of Diabolus, Diabolus perto his no little discontent. For you must News. think it would perplex him to hear of it it would perplex him to hear of it it design against him: Well, but after a sew case his Miad, he concluded upon these Four things.

Town of Manfoul.

First, that this News, this good Tidings (if possible) should be kept from the Ears of the Town of Mansoul: For said he, if they shall once come to the Knowledge that Shaddai their former King, and Emanuel his Son, are contriving of Good for the Town of Mansoul: What can be expected by me, but that Mansoul will make a Revolt from under my Hand and Government, and return again to him?

Now to accomplish this his Design, he First how to renews his Flattery with my Lord Willkeep the news bewill, and also gives him first charge from Mansoul, bewill, and also gives him first charge and command, that he should keep watch by Day, and by Night of all the Gates of the Town especially Ear-gate, and Eye gate: For I hear of a design, quoth he, a design to make us all Traytors, and that Manfoul must be reduced to it, first bondage again. I hope they are but flying Stories quoth he, however let no fuch news by any means be let into Manfoul, left the People be dejeded thereat: I think my Lord, it can be no welcome news The Will en- to you, I am sure it is none to me. And gaged against I think that at this time it should be all the Gospel. Good Thoughts our Wildoms and care to nip the Head must be kept of all such rumours as shall tend to out of Man- Trouble our People: Wherefore I defite foel my Lord, that you will in this matter do as I fay, let there be ftrong Gaurds daily kept at every Gate of the Town. Stop also and Examine, from whence such come you may preceive do from far come hither to Trade; nor let them by any means be admitted into Manfoul, unless you shall plainly perceive that they are favourers of our Excellent Government.

All good thoughts and words are to be froppressed them have Power to suppressed them have Power to suppressed from any they shall perceive to be Plot-ting against us, or that shall prate of what by Shaddai and Emeruel is intended.

is therefore was accordingly done: My Lord will harkned to his Lord and Mafter, went ; ly after his Commandment, and with all the ice he could, kept any that would, from going broad, or that fought to bring this Tidings to u, from coming into the Town.

indly, This done, in the next place us, that he might make Manfoul as A new Qath he could frames and imposes a new imposed.

and horrible Covenant upon the Towns folkswit, That they should never desert him, nor his ment, nor yet betray him, nor seek to alter his But that they should own, confess, stand by, and ledge him for their rightful King, in desiance to t do or hereafter shall, by any pretence, Law, or hatsoever lay claim to the Town of Mansoul, Isa.

Thinking belike that Shadai had not power live them for this Covenant with Death, and tent with Hell. Nor did the filly Manfoul flick gle at all at this most monstrous Ingagement, if it had been a Sprat in the mouth of a Whale, vallowed it with out any Chewing. Where they datit? Nay, they rather bragged and boasted to brave Fidelity to the Tryant their pretended iwearing that they would never be Changlings, sake their Old Lord for a New.

s did Diabolus tie poor Manfoul fast, but jeahat never thinks it felf strong ecough, put him next place upon another exploit, was yet more, if possible, to Deikical Panathis Town of Mansfonl: Wherefore phlets and hied by the Hand of one Mr, Filth, thy Ballads, ious, Nasty, Lascivious piece of and Romanca, ness to be drawn up in Writing, upon the Gates, whereby he d and gave Licence to all his true and truffy Manfoul, to do whatfoever their lufful Apprompted them to do, and that no Man was to der, or controul them, upon pain of incurring leafure of their Prince.

Now this he did for these Reasons:

R afons of his hus doing.

1. That the Town of Manfoul myet made weaker and weaker, more unable, should Tidings con their Redemption was defigued; to believe, I consent to the Truth thereof. For Reason si bigger the Sinner the less Grounds or hope of

2. The second Reason was, if perhaps Email Son of Shaddai their King by seeing the H and prophane doings of the Town of Mansoul. Repeat, though entered into a Covenant of Reing them, of pursuing that Covenart of the demption; for he knew that Shaddai was Holthat his Son Emanuel was Holy, yea, he knew wosul experience: For, for the Iniquity and Sin abolus, was he east from the highest Orbs. What more rational than for him to concluct thus, for Sia it might fare with Mansoul; Buing lest also this Knot should break, he bethinkelf of another, to wit:

3. Thirdly, to endeavour to possess all He the Town of Mansoul. that Shaddai was raising Army, to come to overthrow, and utterly to d this Town of Mansoul. (and this he did to forest Tidings that might come to their Ears, of their verance) for thought he, if I first brute this, t dings that might come after, will all be swallow of this; for what else will Mansoul say, when shall hear that they must be delivered, but the true meaning is. Shaddai intends to destroy Wherefore, he summons the whole Town int Market place, and there with deceitful Tongue he addresses himself unto them.

Gentlemen, and my very good Fi
The place of you are all as you know my legal Su hearing and of and Men of the jamous Town of Man you know bow from the first day that been with you until now, I have behaved my self you, and what liberty, and great priviledges yo joyed under my Government, I hope to your end mine, and also to your content and delight: Now. my famous Manfoul, a noise of trouble there is abroad, of trouble to the Town of Manfoul, forry I am thereof for your sakes, For I received but now by the Post from my Lord Lucifer, ( and be uset to bave good intelligence ) That your o'd King Shaddai, is raising of an Army to come against you, to destroy you root and branch : And this O Manfoul! is now the cause, that at this time I have called you together; namely to advise what in this junteure is best to be done; for my part, I am but one, and can with ease shift for my felf, did I list to seek my open ease, and to leave my Mansoul in all Danger: But my beart is so firm'y united to you, and so un. willing am I to leave you; that I am willing to stand and fall with you, to the utmost Hazzard that shall befall me. What say you? O my Manioul! will you now desert your old Friend; or do you think of standing by me? Then as one Man, with one Mouth, they cried out together. Let kim die the Death that will not.

Then laid Diabolus again, 'Iis vain for us to bope for Quarter, for this King knows not how to show is: True ierbaps, he at his first siting down before us, will talk of, and presend to mer. Language cy, that thereby with the more ease, and less thereby with the more ease, and less trouble, he may again make himself the master of Mansoul; whatever therefore he shall say, he ieve not one syllable or Tittle of it, for all such Language is but to oversome us and to make us while we wallow in our blood, the Irophies of his merciles Victory. My mind is therefore, that we resolve to the last Man, to resist him.

Door will come our Danger But hall we be flattered out of our Lives? I hope you know more of the rudiments of Politicus than to suffer your selves so pitifutly to be served.

and not to believe bim upon any terms. For in at that

But sup ose be should, if he get us to yield, save some of our Lives, or the Lives of some of them that are underlings in Mansoul, what help will that he to you that re the Chief of the Town, especially of you whom I have the and whose greatness has been procured by 3

Lying Language. through your faithful flicking to And suppose again, that be should give Quarter to Ty of you, be sure be will bring you into that dage, under which are captivated before, or a n and then what good will your Lives do you? . you with him live in Pleasure, as you do now; No, you must be bound by Laws that will pinch you, an made to do that, which at present is hateful to ye am for you, if you are for me, and it is better to di He is afraid nantly, then to Live like pitiful St. of losing of But I say, the Life of a Slave will b counted a Life too good for Mansoul Manloul. Blood, Blood, nothing but Blood is in e blaft of Shaddai's Trumpet, ag ainst poor Mansouls Pray be concerned, I bear be is coming up, and ft a your Arms, that now while you have any Leisure, 1 learn you some Feats of War. Armour for you I learn you some six is; Tea, and it is sufficient for Man from Top to Toe; nor can you be but the puts them what his force can do, if you shall ke well girs and saften about you: ( themselves. therefore to my Castle and welcome, barness your selves for the War. There is Hel Breast plate Sword and Shield, and what not, that make your fight like Men.

His Helmet. 1. My Hemlet, otherwise called an Fi piece, is hope of doing well at last, what Lives so you Live, Deut. 29. 19. This is that which they mbo said, that they should have Peace, tho' they wed in the Wickedness of their Heart, to add Drunness to Thirst; a peice of approved Armour this is, whoever has it and can hold is, so long no Arrow, I Sword or Shield, can hurt him; this therefore keep and thou wit keep off many a Blow, my Mansoul. His Breast-Place. 2, My Breast plate is a Breast-pla Iron Rev. 9. 9. I had it forged in mine own Cour and all my Souldiers are Armed therewish; is plain gauge it is an Hard Heart, an Heart as hard as and as much past feeling as a stone the which if you keep, neisher Mercy shall win you, nor Just right you This therefore is a piece of Armour, most neessary for all to put on that hate Shaddai, and that would fight against him under my Banner.

3. My Sword is a Tongue that is set on His Sword Fire of Hell, Pfal. 57, 4. and 64. 3. Jam. 3. And that am bend it self to speak Evil of Shaddai, his Son, lis Ways, and People; use this, it has been tryed a thousand simes twice told; whoever hath it, keeps it, and makes that use of it as I would have him, can never be conquered by mine Enemy.

4. My Shield is Unbelief, Job 15. 26. His Shield Pfal. 76. 3. Mar. 6. 5, 6. Or calling into Question the truth of the Word, or all the sayings that speak of the Judgment that Shaddai bas appointed for Wicked Men, use his Shield; many attempts be has made upon it, and sometimes tis true, it has been bruised, but they that have writ of the Wars of Emanuel against my Servants, beve testifyed that be could do no mighty work there, besause of their Unbelief: Now to bandle this weapon of mise aright, it is, not to believe things, because they are true, of what fort, or by whom so ever afferted; if be freaks of Judgment, care not for it; if be speaks of Mer-13. care not for it; if be promises, if be swares that be would do to Mansoul, if it turns, no burt but good; relard not what is said, question the truth of all; for it is to wield the Shield of Unbelief aright, and as my Ser-vents ought and do: And he that doth otherwife loves me nor do I count bim but an Enemy to me.

3. An other part or piece, said Diaholus, of mine excellent Armour is, a Dumb and Prayerless Spirit, a spirit that scorns to cry for Mercy; wherefore he you my Mansoul, sure that you make use of this: What! cry for Quarter? Never do that, if you would be mine; I know you stout Men, and am sure that I have clad you with that which is Armour of Proof; wherefore to sry to Shaddai for Mercy, let that he far from you: Besides ill this, I have a Maul, Fire-brands, Arrows and Death, all good Hand weapons, and such as will do Ex-wion.

After he had thus furnished his Men with Armon

He backs all and Arms, he addressed himself to th with a Speech in fuch like Words as thefe, Rememl quoth be, that I am your rightful King, that you have taken an Oath, and entred into Coven to be true to me and to my Cause; I say remember to and so, w your eves stout, and valiant Men of M: Remeniber aifo the kindness that I have siw flewed to you, and that without your Petition, I b. granted to you external Things, wherefore the Pri ledges, Grants Immunities, Profits, and Honours whe with I have endowed you, do call for at your Han resurns of Loyalty, my Lion-like Men of Manseul: A when so fit a time to show it as when another shall s to take my Dominion over you into their own Hand One Word more, and I have done: Can we but stand, overcime this one thock or brunt. I doubt not but in lit time all the World will be ours. And when that I comes my true Hearts, I will make you Kings. Prin

Diabelus having thusarmed and forearmed his S vants and Vaffals in Manfoul, against their good a lawful King Shaddai, in the next place he doubleth They of Man Guards at the Gates of the Town, a ful finew their betakes himself to the Castle, which is Loyalty to the his strong Hold: His Vassals also Giant. hew their Wills, and suppose (but noble) Gallantry, Exercise them in their Arms evidence their Enemies, and sung up the praises of the Tyrant; they threatted also what Men they wo be, if ever things should rise so high, as a Wartween Shaddai and their King.

and Captains, and what brave Days shall we have then

Now all this time, the good King, the King Shaddwas preparing to fend an Army to recover the To of Manfoul again from under the Tyranny of the Shaddai prepareth and pretended King Diabolus: But he thou pareth and regood at the first, not to fend them by for the Hand and Conduct of brave Emanuel 16.016.7 of Son, but under the Hand of some of Manfoul.

Servants, to see first by them the te of Manfbul; and whether by them they would be won to the Obedience of their King. The Army confifted of above Forty Thousard, all true Men: For they came from the King's own Court and were those of his own chufing.

They came up to Manfoul under the Conduct of four flout Generals, each Man being Captain of Ten Thousand Men, and these are the Names, and their Signs. The Name of the First was Boanerges. The Name of the Second was Captain Con. willion. The name of the Third Captains Names.

Fourth was Captain Execution: These were the Captains that Shaddai fent to regain Manfoul.

These four Captains (as was said ) the King thought six in the first place to send to Mansoul, to make an Attempt upon it, for indeed generally in all his Wars, he did use to send these four Captains in the Van, for they were very stout and rough hewn Men, Ps. 60.4. Men that where six to break the Ice, and to make their way by dint of Sword, and their Men were like themselves.

To each of these Captains the King gave a Banner that it might be displayed, because of the Goodness of his Cause, and because of the Right that he had to Manfoul.

First to Capt. Boanerges, for he was the Chief, to him I say, was given ten thousand Men; his Ensign was Mr. Thunder, he bare the Colours, and his Scutcheon was the Three Burning Thunder-bolts, Mark 3.17.

The second Capt. was Captain Conviction, to him was given ten Ttousand Men; his Ensign's Name was Mr. Sorrow, he did bear the Pale Colours, and his Scutcheon was the Book of the Law wide open, from whence issued a Flame of Fire, Deut. 33. 2.

The third Capt. was Captain Judgmens, to him was given ten thousand Men; his Ensign's Name was Mr Jerror, he hare the Red Colours and his Scutcheon was a burning fiery Furnance, Matt. 13. 40, 41.

The fourth Captain was Captain Execution; to im was given ten Thousand Men; his Enligh we for a while, be wail the condition of the Town; they quickly saw how that it was profitate to Will of Diabolus, and to his Ways and Designs.

Well, to be short, the Captains came up before Town, March up to Eargue, set down there that was the place of hearing). So when they had pied their Tents, and Intenched themselves, they dressed themselves to make their Assault.

The Worldare convinced by fo Gillant a Company fo bravely Act the well or tred, and so excellently disciplined, have detel life of the Godly or their flying Coloris could not come out of their Houses and Gize. But the cunn Fox Diabolus, fearing that the People, after this si should on a sudden Summons, open the Gates to Captains, came down with all haste from the Caf and made them retire into the B dy of the Tow who when he had them there, made this Lying a deceivable Speech unto them.

Diabolus alienates their minds from them.

Gentlemen quoth he, although y are my trusty and well beloved Frien yet Icannot but (a little) chide you your late uncircumspet Action; in ing out to Gaze on that great and mighty Force, to but Yesterday set down before (and have now letrenched themselves in order to the maintaining the Siege against the samous) Town of Mansoul. You know who they are? Whence they come? A what is their purpose in sitting down before the Town That's false of Mansoul? Thoy are they of whom Satan. have told you long ago, that they wou come to destroy this Town, and against whom I has been at the cost to arm you Capa-pee for you Body, besides great Fortifications for your min wherefore then did you not rather, even at the same appearence of them, Cry out, Fire the Beacons, as the model Town as allows concerning them.

give the whole Town an alarm concerning them, the we might all have been in a Posture of Defence, as have been ready to have received them with the high

Dbedience.) Thus when thou hast commanded if they in truth submit thereto (then do thou uttermost of thy Power, what in thee lies, to for me a Garrison in the samous Town of it; nor do thou hurt the least Native that more breathern therein if they will submit them-to me, but treat thou such as if they were thy i er Brother; for all such I Love, and they shall r unto me: And tell them that I will take a o come unto them, and to let them know that Merciful, Ibes. 2. 7, 8, 9, 10, 11.

he producing of my Authority, resist, stand out it thee, and Rebel; then do I command thee ke use of all thy Cunning, Power, Might, force, to bring them under by strength of eyou see the sum of their Commissions; for as efore, for the Substance of them, they were that the rest of the Noble Captains had. resore they having received each Commander thority, at the Hand of their King: The Day ppointed, and the Place of their. They prepare tyous prefixed; each Commander for a March.

Farewel.

in such Gallantry, as his cause and calling d. So after a new entertainment from Shaddai, ying Colours, they set forward to march to the Famous Town of Mansoul. Captain Board the Van; Captain Convision, and Captain mt made up the main Body; and Captain xx-brought up the Rear. They then having a vay to go (for the Town of Mansoul was far off he Court of Shaddai) Bph. 2. 13, 17. They ed through the Regions and Countries of many; not hurting or abusing any, but Blessing rer they came. They also lived upon the 100st, in all the way they went.

ing 1 ravelled thus for many Days, at last they within fight of Manfoul: The which when they Captains could for their hearts do no less than then let them take the Town if they can.

Well, before the King's Forces h The King's before Mansoul three Days, Captai Trumpet founed at Ear-gate. uerges commanded his Trumpeter down to Ear-gate, and there in the of the great Shaddai to Summon Mansoul to gi dience to the Meffage that he in his Mafter's Nan to them commanded to deliver. So the Trum whose Name was, Take beed what you bear, went he was commanded to Ear gate, and there Sound Trumpet for a hearing: But ther They will not none that appeared, that gave answ regard; for so had Diabolus comma so the Trumpeter returned to his captain, and tol what he had done and also how he had sped, where Cap. was grieved, but bid the Trumpeter goto his Again Capt. Boanerges sendeth his A fecondSummons repulled peter to Ear-gate, to found as before hearing ; but they again kept close, not out, nor would they give him an answer, so vant were they of the command of Diabolus their] Then the Captains and other Field-Oi A. Council called a Councilof War, to confider wha of War. ther was to be done, for the gaining of Town of Mansoul, and after some close and thor debate upon the Contents of their Commissions, concluded yet to give to the Town by the Hand of forenamed Trumpeter, another Summons to hear if that shall be refused said they, and that the I shall fland it out fill, Luke 14. 23. Then they d mined, and bid the Trumpeter tell them for that would endeavour by what means they could, to pel them by force to the Obedience of their Kir So Captain Bomerges commanded his Trumpe go up to Ear-gate again, and in the Name of the King Shaddai, to give it a very loud Summons, mons to come done without delay to gate, there to give Audieuce to the K

moftNobleCaptains. So the trumpeter went, and as he was commanded: He went up to Ear gat led his Trumpet, and gave a Third Summens out, Isa. 58. 1. He said moreover, That if this should still refuse to do, the Captains of his rince d with might come down upon them, and on our to reduce them to their Obedience by the new frod up my Lord Willbewill, who was received.

The LordWill-bewills vernour of the Town (this Willbewill was bewills Speech the Apostate of whom mention was made to the Trumpeter.

Mansoul He therefore with big and ruffling Words, demanded of the Trumpeter, who he was? Whence he came? And what was the Cause of his making so hideous a noise at the Gate, and speaking such insufferable Words against the Town of Mansoul.

The Trum Peter answered, I am Serveter.

The Trum Boanerges, General of the Forces of the Great King Shaddai, against whom both thyself, and the whole lown of Mansoul, have Rebelled, and lift up the Heel; and my Master the Captain, hath a special Message to this Town, and to thee as a Member therest The which if you of Mansoul, shall Peaceably hear, so if not, take what follow.

willbewill. I hen faid the Lord Willbewill, 'I will carry the Words to my Lord, and will * know what he will fay.

The Trumpeter. But the Trumpeter replied, saying, on Message is not to the Giant Diabolus, but to the miserable Town of Mansoul: Nor shall we at A regard what Answer by him his made; not yet by any for him; we are sent to this Town, to recover it from under his Crue! Tyranny, and to persuade it to submit, as in sort mer Times is did, to the most Excellent King Shaddai.

Wilbewill. Then faid the Lord Willbewill, I will do your Errand to the Town.

The Trumpeter then replied, Sir, do not deceive us, least in so doing, you deceive your selves much more. He added moreover, For me are resolved, if in Peaceable manner you do not submit your selves, thento make War upon you, and bring you under by force. And of the Truth of what I say, this shall be a Sign unto you, you shall see the Black Elag, with its bot Burning Thunder-bolts, set upon the Mount to Morrow, as a token of Desiance against your Prince, and of our resources are reduced you to our Lord and Riefall King.

the faid Lord Willbewill returned The Trumperoffthewall, and the Trumpetercame er returns to the the Camp. When the Trumpeter Camp. ome into the Camp, the Captains and Officers of lighty King Shaddai, same together to know if he ibtained a hearing, and what was the Effect of his nd : So the Trumpeter told, faying, 'When I had nded my Trumpet, and called aloud to the Town a Hearing, my Lord Willbewill, the Governour. he Town, and he that bath charge of the Gates. te up, when he heard me Sound, and looking over Wall, he asked me what I was? Whence I came? d what was the Caule of my making this noise? So ld him my Errand, and by whole Authority I ught it. Then said he, I will tell it the Govenour. i to Mansoni: And then I returned to my Lords. hen faid the Brave Boanerges, 'Let Carual et for a while lyeftillinour Trench- make a wrong and see what these Rebels will do. interpretation when the time drew nighthat Au. of the delign te by Manfoul must be given to the of a Gosfel e Bomerges and his Companions; is commanded, that all the Men of War throughhe whole Campof Shaddai, should as one man stand eir Arms, and make themselves ready if the Town moul shall hear, to receive it forthwith to Mercys f not, to force a Subjection. So the Day being the TrumpetersSounded, and that throughout vhole Camp, that the Men of War might be in iness, for that which then should be the Work of Dav. But when they that were in the Town of outheard the found of the Trumpets throughout Camp of shaddai, and thinking no other but that ist be in order to Storming the Corporation, they A were put to great Consternation of Spirit: but they a little were fettled again they also made t preparation they could for a War, if they did m; elle to fecure themselves.

ell, when the urmost time was come, Bomerges solved to hear their Answer; wherefore he sent out his Trumpeter again to Summons Manfoul to 2 hearing of the Message that they had brought from Shadlai, Zach. 7. 11. so he went and Sounded, and the Townsmen came up, but made Ear gate as sure as they could. Now, when they were come up to the Top of the Wall, Captain Boanerges desir'd to feethe Lord Mayor, but my Lord Incredulity was then Lord Mayor, for he came in the room of my Lord Luftings. So Incredulity, he came up and shewed Boznerges re- himself over the Wall. But when the fules turnake Incredu'ity a Captain Boanerges had fet his Eves up. Judge of what on him, he cryed out aloud, This is not he had to de- be; where is my Lord Understandings liver to the fancient Lord Mayer of the Town of Mansoul, for to bim I would deliver my or Manfoul. Mellage?

- J42

Then said the Giant, (for Diabolus was also come down) to the Captain; Mr. Captain You have by your boldness given to Mansoul, at least four Summons, to subject ber self to your King; by whose Authority I know not; nor will I despute that now. I ask therefore what is the reason of all this ado? Or, who would you be at if you knew your selves.

Then Captain Boanerges, whose was Boanerges hi the Black Colours, and whose Scutches Speech. was Three burning Thunder . bolts, ( taking no notice of the Giant, or of his Speech ) thus address'd himself to the Town of Mansoul: Beit know unto you, O Unbappy and Rebellious Mansoul! That the most Gracious King, the Great King Shaddai my Master, bath sent me unto you, with Commission (and so he shewed to his Town his Broad Seal) 1016. duce you to bis Obedience. And be bath commandel me, in Case you yield upon my Summons. to carry it to you as if you were my Friends or Brethren; but ke a so bath bid, that if after Summons to submit, you ftill stand out and Rebel, we should endeavour to take you by force.

Then flood forth Captain Convidien, and faid (bis the pale Colours, and for a Scurcheon be had the Rock

by John Bungan.

the Law wide open, &c.) Hear oul! Thou, O Mansoul, was viction his nous for Innocency, but now thou Speech. enerated into Lies and Deceit; 3. 10. 11. 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 23. 16, 17, 18. Pfal. 50. 21, 22. Thou bast beard y Brother, the Captain Boanerges hath said, 's your Wisdom, and will be your Happiness, so , and accept of Conditions of Peace and Mercy. fered; especially when offered by one, against ou bast Rebelled, and one who is of Power to e in Pieces, for fo is Shaddai our King, ner : bis Angry, can any thing stand before him. If you have not sinned, or Alted Rebellion against 2, the whole of your doings, since the Day that off his Service, (and there was the beginning Sin) will sufficient y testisse against you; what ans your bearkning to the Tyrant, and your rebim for your King? What means elle your rebe Laws of Shaddai, and your Obeying of Di-Yes, what means this your taking up of Arms and the shutting of your Gates upon us, the Servants of your King? Luke 12. 58, 59. Be en, and accept of my Brother's Invitation. and, d not the time of Mercy, but agree with thine ry quickly. Ab Mansoul, suffer not thy se f ift from Mercy, and to be run into a Thousand , by the flastering Wiles of Diabolus: Perit piece of Deceit may attempt to make you beat we feek our own profit in this our Service; v'tis Obedience to our King, and Love to your is, that is the cause of this undertaking of

I I sty to thee, O Mansoul, consider if it be zing Grace, that Shaddai should so Humble is be doth, 2 Cor. 5, 18, 19, 20, 21. Now he Reasons with you, in a way of Intreaty and 'erswasions, that you would subject your selves Has be that need of you, that we are sure of him? No, no, but he is Merciful, and will not that Mansoul should Die, but turn to him an Live.

The Poly War,

Then stood forth Captain Audement, Captain Judg- who was the Red Colours, and for a ment his Scutcheon, had the Burning Fiery Fw-Speech. nace, and he said, O ye the Inhabitant of the Town of Mansoul! that have lived so long it Robellion and Alls of Treason against the King Shaddai: Know, that we come not to Day to this Place, it this manner, with our Message of our own Minds, or to revenge our own Quarrel; it is the King our Mafter, that hath fent us to reduce you to your Obedient to him the which if you retule, in a Peaceable way w yield we have Commission to compel you thereto. And never think of your selves, nor yet suffer the Tyran Diabolus to perswade you to think that our King by his Power is not able to bring you down, and lay you under his Feet, for he his the Former of all things, and if be touches the Mountains, they smoak. Nor will the G te of the King's Clemency stand always open, su the Day that shall Burn like an Oven, is before him yea, it bastetb greatly, it stumberetb not, Mal. 4. 1. 1 Pet. 2. 3. O M. noul! Is it little in thine Eyes, that our King does offer thee Mercy, and that after so may Provocations? Yea, he still bolderb out bis Galde Sceptie to thee, and will not yet fuffer bis Gate to k fout against stee wit thou Provoke bim to do it? Confider of what I fay; 'so thee it shall be opened m * more for ever, 30b. 36 14. Ch. 36. 18. Plal. 9.7 'Isa. 66. 15. If thou sayest thou shall not see him, set " Judg ment is before bim; therefore trust thou in bin: · Yea, because there is Wrath, beware, lest be take the away with his Stroak; then a great Ransom cannot deliver thee. Will be efteem thy Riches! No, 11th Gold. nor all the Forces of Strength He bath pre-* pared bis Thome for Judement; for be will come with Fire, and with his Charicts, like a Whirlwind, 19 Frender bis Anger with Fury, and rebukes bim Flant of Fire. Therefore O Mansoul, take heed, left after . thou haft fulfilled the Judgment of the Wicked, Je

, and Judgment should take hold of thee. Now that Captain Judgment, was making of this ion to the Town of Manfoul, it was observed by , that Diabolus Trembled: But he proceeded in 'arable, and said, o thou woful Town of Manwilt thou not yet fet open the Gate to receive Us. reputies of the King, and those that would rejoice thee Live? Ezek. 22. 14. 'Can thine Heart en-, or can thy Hands be strong in the Day that hall deal in Judgment with thee? I say, canst indure to be forced to Drink, as one would Drink Wine, the Sea of Wrath that our King bas prefor Diabolus and his Angels? Confider, besimes ler. ien flood forth the fourth Captain, the Noble ain Execution, and faid: 'O Town Manfoul! once famous but now like Caprain cution his fruitles Bough; once the delight Speech. be high ones, but now a Den for bolus: Hearken also to me and to the Worls I Shall speak to thee, in the Name of the Great ddai. Behold the Axe is laid to the Root of Tree, every Tree therefore that bringeth not th good Pruir, is hewn down and cast into the e, Mar. 3. 7, 8, 9, 10. bou, O lown of Mansoul! bast kitterto been this tless Tree, thou barest nought but iborns and ars, Dent. 32. 32. Thy Evil Fruit forespeaks not to be a good Tree: Thy Grapes are Graves Fall, thy Clusters are bitter. Thou has Rebelled inst thy King, and lo we, the Power and Force of dai, are the Ax that is laid to thy Rocts; what thou wilt thou turn? I fay again tell me bebe first Blow is given; wilt thou turn? Our Ax first be laid to thy Root before it be laid at thy it must first be laid to thy Root in a way of atning, before is is laid as thy Root by way of ecution; and between these two is required thy entance, and this is all the time thou hast. What then do? Wils thou turn, Or shall I smite?

4.8 The Voly War,

I fetch my Blow, Mansoul, down rous Commission to 'ay my Ax at, as well' nor will any thing, but yie ding to our doing of Execution, What are thou fit for if Mercy preventeth not, but to be bewn into the Fire and Burnt?

O Man'oul! Patience and forbearance for ever: A Tear or two, or three they m Provoke by a Three Years Rebellion, and ready done more than this, then what follor down, nay after that thou shalt cut i . 13. And doft thou think that thefe are bi or that our King has not Power to execut O Mansoul! ibou wilt find that in the King. wb n they are by Sinners made of, there is not only The eatning, but Bur Eire.

Thou bast been a Cumber-ground long wile rbon continue so still? Thy sin ba ; Army to thy Walls, and shall it bring it in do Execution to thy Town? Thou haft be Captains bave said, but as yet thou stutt - feeak out Mansoul, wist thou do so still?

accept of Conditions of Peace?

These brave Speeches of these sour nol the Town of Manfoul refused to hear, thereof did beat against Ear gate, thou thereof could not break i fine, the Town defired a tin their Answer to these Den Captains then told them, nothing but mischief will come would throw out to them one Ill paufe, the Town, that they might reward him kis Works, then they would give him time But if they would not call bim to them o of Manfoul, then they would Upon what none: For faid they, we know Conditions the Captains as Ill paufe draws Breath in good Confideration will be con would give hear time.

Manfoul defires time to anakeaniver.

Diabolus who was there present,
h to lose Ill-pause, because he Diabolus inbrator, (and yet be sure he had, and fits Increbrator) was resolved at this In-fwer them, tive them answer by himself, changing his Mind, he commanded the then tyor, the Lord Incredulity to do it: Saying, do you give these Runnagates an Answer, out, that Mansoul may bear and understand edulity at Diabolus's Command His Speech id faid: Gentlemen, you bave ie do behold, to the disturbance of our Prince. tation of the Town of Mansoul, camped a-But from whence you come we will not know; you are, we will not believe. Indeed you tell Terrible Speech, that you have this Authority Idai, but by what right he commands you to do twe shall be yet Ignorant? ve also by the Authority aforefaid, Summoned to defert her Lord, and for Protection to yield. to the Great Shaddai your King: Flatterng ker, that if the will do it, be will pals byarge ber wirb her past Offences. , you have also to the terror of the Town of threatned with great and fore Destruction to s Corporation, if the consents not to do at your id bave ber. aptains, from whence soever you The true Picthough your Designs be never so ture of Uma know ve. that neither my Lord belief. nor I bis Servent Incredulity. brave Mansoul, doeb repard either your Perage, or the King that you say bath sent you: r, his Greatness, his Vengeance we sear not :. re yield at all to your Summons the War that you threaten to make upon us.

the War that you threaten to make upon us, therein defend our elves as well as we can e e, that we are not without where without.

bid defiance to you. And in short, (for I will tedious: I tell you that we take you to be so gabond. Runagate Crew, that have shaken of dience to your King, have gotten together in snous manner, and are ranging from Place to see, if through sour Flatteries, you are shilled and the ane side, and threats where with you Pritte, on the other; to make some silly Town, Country, to desert their Place and leave it to so Danssoul is some of them.

To conclude, we dread you not, we fear you a mill we obey your Summons: Our Gates we fout upon you our place we will keep you out of: we long thus suffer you to fit down before us. A ple must Live in quiet: Your appearance doth them, Luke 11. 21. Wherefore arise with Baggage, and be gone, or we we will from the * Walls against you.

This Oration made by Old Increditity, was ed by desperate Willbewill, in Words to this Gentlemen, we have heard your The Speech and the noise of your Threats, as willbewill the Sound of your Summons, but not your Force, we regard to Threats, but will still abide as you found us. command you, that in Three Days time, you appear in these Parts, or you shall know who once to dare offer to rouse the Lion Diabelus, sleepin the Town of Mansoul.

The Recorder, whose Name vof Forgetgood, the Gentlemen, my Lords, as you fe Recorder, with mild and gentle Words,

Recorder, with mild and gentle Words, your rough and angry Speeches; to moreover, in my hearing, given you leave quie part as you came. Wherefore take their hind he gove; we might have came out with Horce; and have canfed you to feel the Dint of our
But as no love case and quiet our solves; the takent or motell eithers.

Then did the Town of Manfoul shout for Joy, as if by Diabolus and his Crew, felved to some great Advantage had been gotten withstand of the Captains. They also Rang the Cartain . Bells, and made Merry, and Darced upon the Walls.

The Town rethe

Diabolus also returned to the Cafile, and the Lord Mayor and Recorder to their Place: But the Lord Willbewill took special care that the Gates should be . secured with double Guards, double Bolts, and double Locks and Bars. And that Ear-gate (especially) might the better be looked to, for that was the Gate, in at which the King's Porces fought most to enter : The Lord Willbewill made one old Mr. Prejudice (an Angry and Ill condition'd Fellow ) Captain of the Ward at that Gate, and put under his Power Sixty Men; called Deaf men fee men fee Men advantagious for that Service, for to keep Ear-

the Captains, not of their Soldiers. Now when the Captains saw the answer of the great Ones, and that they resolved to could not get an hearing from the old giethem. Natives of the Town, and that Mansoul Battle. was resolved to give the King's Army Battel; they prepared themselves to receive them: and to try it out by the Power of the Arm. first they made their Force more formidable against Ear-gate; for they knew, that unless they could penetrate that no good could be done upon the Town. This done they put the rest of their Men in their Pla-After which, they gave out the The Baule Word, which was, Te must be born a- begun, gens. Then they founded the Trumpet; then they in the Town made them answer, with Shout against Shout, Charge against Charge, and to the Battel began. Now they in the Town had Planted upon the Tower over Ear. Two Guns gase, two great Guns, the one called Equition High mind, and the other Heady. Unto these two Guns they trusted much; they were Cast in the Castle by Diabolus's Founder, whose Name was Mr. Pass up, and Mischievous Peices they were But so vigilent and watchful when the Captain saw them, were they, that tho' sometimes their Shot would go by their Ears with a Wbizz, yet they did them no harm. By these two Guns, the Townsfolk made no question but greatly to annoy the Camp of Sbadlai, and well enough to secure the Gate, but they had not much cause to boast of what Execution they did, as by what follows will be gathered.

The famous Manfoul had also some other small Pieces in it, of the which they made use against the Camp of Shaddai.

They from the Campalio, did as Stoutly, and with as much of that as may (in truth) be called Valour, let thy as fast at the Town, and at Ear gate: For they saw that unless they could break open Ear gate. 'twould be but in vain to batter the The Sentence Wall. Now the Kings Captains had brought with them several Slings, and two or three Battering Rams; with their Slings therefore they battered the Houses and People of the Town, and with their Rams they fought to hreak Eat gate open.

The Camp and the Town had several Skirmishes, and brisk Encounters, while the Captains with their Engines, make many brave Attemps to break open or to be to make their Entrance: But Manford should be to make their Entrance: But Man-

The Town though the Walour of the Lord Wills will, and the Conduct of Old Increduling, and the Conduct of Old Increduling, and the Mayor, and Mr. Forget good the Recorder, that the Charge and Expence upon to their Winter Quarticles.

Winter Quarticles of that Summer's Wars, fon the King's fide) feemed to be almost quite lost, and the advantage to return to Man.

Joal: Bu- when the Captains faw how it was, they wade a fair Retreat, and Intenched themselves in their wints warters. Now in this War, you must need e was much loss on both sides, of which h take this brief Acc unt sollowing.

ng's Captains when they Marched from the come against Mansou' to War, as they cam for the Country, they happened to light upon three young Pollows that An account of Mind to go for Soldiers; prope this War with they were, and Men of Courage refernce to Skill) to Appearance. the lofs on were Mr. Tradition. Mr. Human both fides. and Mr. Mans Invention. The New up to the Captains, and proffere Soldiers. Service to Shaddai. The Captain told them of their Design, and bid them not rath in their Offers; but the Young Men told they had considered the thing before, and tha ing they were upon their March for such a I came hither on purpose to meet them, that they be Listed under their Excellences. Then a Bomerges, for that they were Men of Courage ed them into his Company, and so away the

to the War.

Now when the War was begun, in one briskeft Skirmishes, so it was, that a Company Lord Willbewill's Men Sallied out of the Sally or Postern of the Town, and sell in upon the E Captain Boanerge's Men, where these three I hapned to be, so they took the They are tangeness, and away they carried the to the Town; where they had n long in Durance, but it began to be noised about the Town, what three notable Prison Lord Willbewill's Men had taken, and brou Prisoners out of the Camp of Sbeddai. At Tidings thereof was carried to Diabolus to the to Wit, what my Lord Wellbewill's Men had and whom they had taken Prisoners.

They are brought before Diabolus. So he asked him, and he toke and are content to fight under his Bancer.

Then Diabolus called for William and are content then did the Gians fend for the lers, who when they were con manded of them who they were, we they came, and what they did in the Camp of And they told him. Then he fent

By John Bunyan.

igain. Not many day after he sent for the again, and then asked them, if they woung to serve him against their former Captain hen told him, that they did not so much living, as by the Fates of Fortune, And that sindship was willing to Entertain them, the thould be willing to ferve him. Now while were thus in Hand, there was one Anything. tain Anything, a great Doer in the of Manfoul, and to this Captain Anything did lus fend these Men, with a Note under his H receive them into his Company; the Conte which Leter were thus.

Anything, my Darling, the three He therefore that are the Bearers of this Letter, finds them to a defire to ferve me in the War thing with a know I better to whose condust to Letter.

them, than to thine: Receive them fore in my Name, and as need sh quire, make use of them against Shaddai and bis Farewel. So they came, and he Auything reved them, and he made two of vice. Serjeants, but he made Mr. M. vice. vention, his Ancient Bearer. But much for this, and now to retu the Camp.

They of the Camp did also some Execution
The Reso of Cold Incredulities House bear down.

The Town, for they did beat down Reso of the old Lord Mayor's I and so laid him more open than I before. They had almost (with a Shain my Lord Willbewill outright) be made a shift to recover again. But they me notable Slaughter among the Aldermen, for one only Shot they cut off Six of them: To Mr. Swearing, Mr. Whorth. Mr.

Six Aldermen Mr. Swearing, Mr. Whoring, Mr. Stand to-lies, Mr. Drunkennes Mr. Chessing.

The Two great Guns difmount.

They also Dismounted the two that stood upon the Tower over difmount.

gate, and laid them flat in the Di told you before that the King's Captains had drawn off to their Winter Quarter had there intrenched themselves and their carr so as with the best advantage to their King as greatest. Annoyouce to the Enemy, they migh nable and warm Alarms to the Town of Man-And this Design of them did so hit, that I say they did almost what they would to the Moition of the Corporation.

or now could not Manfoul Sleep serily as before, nor could they now go heir Debaucheries with that quiet as in times past. For they had a the Camp of Staddai such frequent, warm, and ifying Alarms; yea, Alarms upon Alarms, first one Gate, and then at another, and in, at all the Gates at once, that y were broken as to former Peace. It ugh compand that when the Nights were at gest, the Weather coldest, and so consequently seff, the Weather coldest, and so consequently Scason mest unseasonable; that that Winter was he Town of Mansoul a Winter by itself. Somees the Trumpets would sound, and sometimes the gs would whirl the Stones into the Town. Somees Ten Thousand of the King's Soldiers would be ning round the Walls of Mansoul at Midnight, ling, and lifting up the Voice for the Battel letimes again, some of them in the Town would Nounded, and their Cry and lamen.

e Voice would be heard to the great much molestation of the now Languishing leited.

vn of Manfoul. Yea, fo diffrested those that laid Seige against them, were they, I dare say, Disboius their Kinghad in these days Rest much broken.

these Days, as I was informed, Change of Thoughts, and Thoughts that be to run counter one to another, be- Mandoul.

to possess the Minds of the Men of Town of Mausoul. Some would say, there is no g thus: Others would then reply, this will be shortly; then would a Third stand up and any let us turn to King Shaddai, and so put an end these Troubles: And a Fourth would come in with with a fair Saying, I doubt be will not receive us.

58

The old Gentleman too, the Recorder, fre.ks.

The old Gentleman too, the Recorder, that was so before Diabolus took Manfoul; he also began to talk aloud, and his Words were now to the Town of Manfoul; as if they were great Claps of Thunder. No-noise now so terrible to Manfoul, as was his, with the noise of the Soldiers, and Shoutings of the Captains.

A Famine in Mansoul; now the things that her Soul lusting after were departing from her, Luke 15, 14, 15. Upon all her Pleasant things there was a Blast, and burning instead of Beauty. Wrinkles now, and some shews of the Shadow of Death, were upon the Inhabitants of Mansoul. And now, O how glad would Mansoul have been to have enjoyed quietness and satisation of Mind, though joyaed with the meanest Condition in the World

The Captains also, in the deep of the Summoned 2- Winter, did fend by the Mouth of Bogain to yield, anerges's Trumpeter, a Summons to Manfoul to yield up her self to the Great King shaddai. They fent it once, King, the Great King shaddai. and twice and thrice; not knowing but that at some time their might be in Manfoul some will nainess to furrender up themselves unto them, might they but have the Colour of an invitation to do it under. Yea, so far as I could gather, the Town had been furrendered up to them before now, had it not been for the opposition of old Incredulity, and the Pickleness of the Thoughts of my Lord Willbewill. bolus also began to Rave, wherefore Mansoul as to yielding was not as yet all of one Mind, Manfoul in therefore they fill lay Diffressed under Diftrefs. these perplexing Pears.

I told you but now that they of the King's Army had this Winter fent three times to Menfoul, to Submit her felf.

The first time the Trumpeter went, he ent with Words of Peace, telling of of the first tem, that the Captains, the Noble Cap-Summons. ins of Shaddai, did pity and bewail the ifery of the now Perishing Town of Mansoul; and ere troubled to see them so much to stand in the way there own Deliverance. He said moreover, that the aptains hid him tell shem, that if now poor Mansoul would Humble her self, and turm, her former Rebelous, and most Notorious Trensons, should by their Merful King he Forgiving them, yea, and forgotten toomal having hid them beware that they stood not in heir own way, that they opposed not themselves, nor tade themselves their own losers: He returned again into he Camp.

Secondly, the second time the Trumneter went, he did treat them a little of the third note Roughly. For after sound of summons.
Trumpet he told them, that their contiuing in their Rebellion did but chase, and heat the pirit of the Captains, and that they were resolved to take a Conquest of Mansoul, or to lay their Bones beweste Town Walk.

Thirdly, He went again the third ime, and dealt with them yet more of the third loughly; telling of them, That now, Summons.

nee they had been so borribly Prophane, edid not know, not certainly know, whether the Capains were inclining to Mersy or Judgment; only, said e, they commanded me to give you a Summons to open be Gotes unto them: So be returned, and went into be Camp.

These three Summons, and especially the two last, lid so Distress the Town, that they resently call a Consultation, the result sounds for a of which was this, that my Lord Will-Parley.

The Town founds for a parley.

Well the Captains of the Captains of the Camp for Parley. Well the Lord Willbernill ounded upon the Wall, so the Captains came up to their Harness, with their Ten Thousands at their Eeer. The Townsmen then sold the Captains, that they had heard and considered their Summons, and would come to an Agreement with them and with

They Pro reund Conditions of Agree ment—

The King Shaddai, upon fuch certain Terms, Articles, and Propositions as with and by the order of their Prince, they to them, were appointed to Propound. To wit, they would agree up on these Grounds to be one People with them.

Propedition ny, as the now Lord Mavor, and their Mr. Forget good, with their brave lord Willbewill, might under Shaddai be still the Governours of the Town, Castle, and Gates of Mansoul.

Proposition ferved under their Great Giant Diabolus the Second. be by Shaddai cast cut of House, Harbor, or the Freedom that he hath betherto enjoyed in the Famous Town of Mansoul.

Proposition 3. That it shall be granted them, that they of the Town of Mansoul shall energy the Third.

certain of their Rights and Priviledges. To wit, such as have formerly been granted them; and that they have long lived in the enjoyment of, under the Reign of their King Diabolus, that now is and long has been their only Lord, and great Defender.

Proposition cutioner of Law or Office, or Facthe Fourth Power over them, without their own choice and confens.

These be our Propositions, or Conditions of Peace: And upon these Terms, said they, we will submit to your King.

But when the Captains had heard this Week and feeble offer of the Town of Manjoul, and their high and bold Demands; they made to them again by their noble Captain, the Captain Boan: rges, this Speech following.

babitants of the Town of Man-Boanerges his in I beard your Trumpet found Answer. ley with us, I can truly say, I but when you said you were willing to sub-felves to our King and Lord, then I was yet: But when by your silly Provisoes, and soot, you lay the Stumbling-block of your Iniquity rown Faces, then was my Gladness turned ws, and my hopeful beginnings of your return sishing, fainting Fears.

, that Old Ill paule, the Ancient Enemy of did draw up those Proposals that now you with, as Terms of an Agreement; but they to be admitted to sound in the Ear of any pretends to have Service for Shaddai, 2 Time; do therefore jointly, and that with the high-n, resuse, and reject such things as the great uities.

Mansoul, if you will give your selves into our rather into the Hands of our King, and will to make such Terms with, and for you, as good in his Eyes, (and I dare say they shall you shall find to be most profitable to you) ill receive you, and he at Peace with you: a like not to trust your selves the Arms of ur King, then things are hut where they were I we know also what we have to do.

ryed out old Incredility the Old Incredility's.
or, and faid: And who, be-Reply,
the Hands of their Enemies, are now, will be so foolish as to put the of their own Hands, into the Hand of they who? I for my part will never yield to se i a proposition. Do we know the Manner er of their King ('Tis said by at he will be angry with his Unb lief neif but the breadth of an Hair ble intalk, but ace to step out of the way: always speaks others, that he requireth of michievoully.

form. Wherefore it seems, O Mansoul, to be thy Wisdom to take good heed what thou dost in this Matter. For if you once yelld, you give up your selves to another, and so you are no more your own: Wherefore to give up your selves to an unlimited Power, is the greatest folly in the World. For now indeed you may Repent, but can never justly complain. But do you indeed know, when you are his, which of you he will Kill, and which of you he will save alive? Or whether he will not cut off every one of us, and send out of his Country another new People, and cause them to inhabit this Town?

The Seech undid all, but it did please the Devil.

This Speech of the Lord Mayor, modified all, and threw slat to the Ground their hopes of an accord: Wherefore the Captains returned to their Trences, to their Tents, and to their Men, as they were; and the Mayor to the Cafile, and to his King.

Now Diabolus had waited for his return, for he had heard that they had been at their points. So when he was come into the Chamber of State, Diabolus faluted him with, Welcome my Lord: How went matters betwirt you to Day? So the Lord Incredulity ( with a low Congy ) told him the whole of the Matter, faying, faying, and thus faid the Captain of shadei, and thus and thus faid I. the which as 'twas told to Diabolus, he was very glad to hear it, and said, My Lord Mayor, my faithful Incredulity, I bane proved thy Fidelity above ten times already, ver yet found thee Ealje, I do promise thee if we rub over this brunt, to prefer thee to a place of Honour. a place far better than to be Lord Mayor of Mansoul. I will make thee my Universa! Deputy, and thou shats, next to me, have all Nations under thy Hand; yea, and thou falt lay Bands upon them that they may no refift thee, nor shall any of our Vassals weik more at liberty, but those that shall be content to malk in thy Fetzers.

w came the Lord Mayor out from Diabolus, as and obtained a favour indeed; wherefore to his ation he goes in great State, and thinks to feed f well enough with hopes, untill the time came is greatues should be enlarged.

now, though the Lord Mayor and Diabolus ius well agree, yet this repulse to the Brave ins put Manfoul into a Mutiny. For while o'd vity went into the Caftle to Congratulate his with what had paffed, the old Lord Mayor that before Diablous came to the The Under-, to wit, My Lord Understand. The Under-standing and the old Recorder Mr. Conscience begetting Intelligence of what had gin to receive at Ear-gate ( for you must know conviction, and they fer the Soul in a chate, left they should then have Hubbub.

ied, for the Captains ) but I say got Intelligence what had passed there, and much concerned therewith) wherefore they g some of the Town together, began to Posses, with the reasonableness of the Noble Captains de. , and with the bad consequences that would folon the Speech of old Incredulity the Lord Mayer: it. how little revenge he shew'd therein, eito the Captain or to their King; also how he citly charged them with unfaithfulness, and chery: For what less, quoth they, could be made Words, when he said he would not yield to Proposition; and added more over a Suppositithat he would Deftroy us, when before he had us Word he would shew us Mercy. The itude being now possessed with the conviction. e Evil old Incredulity had done, began to run her by Companies in all Places, in every corner of the Streets of A mutiny in Manfoul. mi, and first they began to mutter, to talk openly, and after that they run to and and cried as they run, O the brave Captains of ai! Would me mere under the Government of the tear of this Days Work, be will give you but linke thanks for your Labour.

Now while these Gentlemen were thus in their Chiding Words, down comes from the Walls and Gates of the Town, the Lord Willbewill. Men of Arms Mr. Prejudice, Old Ill pause, and sevecome down. ral of the New made Aldermen and Burgesses, and they asked the reason of the Hubbub. and Tumult. And with that every Man began to tell his own Tale, so that nothing could be heard di- .! Rinchly: Then was a filence commanded, and the old-Fox Incredulity began to speak; My Lord, quoth he, bere are a Couple of Peevillo Gentlemen, that bave, as a Fruit of their had dispositions, and as I fear, through the Advice of one Mr. Discontent, tumultuously gathered this Company against me this Day; and also attempted to run the Town into Acts of Rebellion against Lour Prince.

Then flood up all the Diabolonians A crear Conthat were present, and affirmed these fulion. things to be true.

Now when they that took part with my Lord Understanding, and with Mr. Conscience, perceiv'd that they were like to come by the worft, for that Force and Power was on the other fide; they came in for their help and relief: So a great Company was on both fides. Then they on Incredulity's fide, would have had the two Old Gentlemen presently away to Prison; but they on the other fide said they should not. Then they began to cry up Parties again: The Disbolonians cry up old Incredulity, Forget good, the new Aldermen, and their great one Diabolus; and the other Party, they as fast cried up Shaddai, the Captains, his Laws, their Mercifulness, and applauded their Conditions and Ways. the Bickerment went a while, at last from Words they passed from Words to Blows, and A) Blows. now there were Knocks on both fides The good Old Gentleman, Mr. Conscience was knockt down twice by one of the Diabolonians, whose Name s Mr. Benumming. And my Lord Understanding, i like to have been Slain with an Harquebus, but the that Shot, wanted so take his aim aright, or did the other side wholly escape, for there was: Mr. Rashbead, a Diabolonian that had his Brains aten out by Mr. Mind, the Lord Willbewill's Serant; and it made me laugh to see how Old Mr. sjudice was kickt and tumbled about the Dirt. For though a while since was made a Captain of the Diabolonian.

ey had got him under their Feet; and I'll assure us he had by some of the Lord Understanding's Parhis Crown crackt to Boot. Mr. Anything also, became a brisk Man in the Broil, but both sides ere against him, because he was true to none. Yet had for his Malepertness, one of his Legs broken, id he that did it, wisht it had been his Neck. Much irm more was done on both sides; it this must not be forgotten, it was on both sides.

Wa wonder to see my Lord Willbeill so indifferent as he was, he did not seem to take ae side more than another, only it was perceived at he smiled to see how old Prejudice was tumbled p and down in the Dirt. Also when Captain Anying came halting up before him, he seemed to take ut little notice of him.

Now when the Uproar was over, hisbolus sends for my Lord Understand. The two old to and Mr. Conference and class them Gentlemen B nabolus lends for my Lord Understand. The two old is and Mr. Confeience, and claps them Gentlemen put in Prison as oth up in Prison, as the Ringleaders the Authors and Managers of this most heavy riot- of his Revelus Rout in Mansoul. So now the rout.

own began to be quiet again, and the risoners were used hardly, yea, he thought to have nade them away, but that the present juncture did not erve for that purpose: For that War was in all their lates. But let us return again to our Story: The laptains, when they were gone back from the Gate, and were come into the Camp again, call'd a Councile

68

rield.

The Holy War.

War, to consult what was further for The Captains them to do. Now some said, Let us go call a Council prefently and fall upon the Town, but and confult the greatest part thought, rather better what to do 'twould be to give them another Summons to yield, and the Reason why they thought this to be the best, was, because, that so far as could be preceived, the Town of Manfoul now was more inclinable than heretofore. And if, faid they, while some of them are in a way of Inclination, we should by Ruggedneß give them Diftafte, we may fet them further from cloting with our Summons, then we would be will ng they thould.

Wherefore to this Advice they agreed, The refule is, and called a Trumpeter, put Words into they fendano his Mouth, fet him his time, and bid him ther Trumpeter God speed. Well, many Hours were not the Town to expired before the Trumpeter Addressed himself to his Journey. Wherefore co-

Steereth his course to Ear gate; and there sounded, 25 he was commanded; they then that were within, came out to see what was the matter, and the Trumpeter made them this Speech following.

O bard Hearted and deplorable Town of The Summons Mansoul, bow long will show love thy fait felf. ful Simplicity, and ye Fools delight in their Scorning? As yes despite you she offers of Peace and Deliverance? As yet will ye refuse the Golden offers of Shaddai, and trust to the Lies and falshood of Diabolus? Think you when Shaddai hall have Conquered you, that the remembrance of these your carriages towards him will yield you Peace and Comfort: Or that by Ruffing Language you can make bim afraid as a Grafsbopper? Dosh be imreas you, for fear of you? do you shink that you are stronger then be? Look to the Heavens and bebold, and consider the Stars, bow bigh are they? Can you flop the Sun from running his Course, and binder the Moon from giving ber Light? Can you count the :Number of the Stars, or flat the Bottles of Heaven? Con call for the Waters of the Sea, and cause them to co the Face of the Ground? Can you belold every one is Proud and abase him; and hend their Faces in ct? Yet these are some of the Works of our King in se Name, this Day, we come up unto you: The you be brought under his Authority. In his Name there-! I Summon you again, to yield up your selves to his tains.

At this Summons the Manfouliums The Town at a med to be at a fland, and knew not fland.

us forthwith appeared, and took upon him to do himfelf, and thus he begins; but turns his Speech them of Manseul.

Gentlemen, quoth he, and my faithful Disholos belts, if it is true that this Summoner makesa speech bfuld, concerning the greatness of their to the Town, ng by his terror you will alway he kept and enden-houdage, and so be made to sneak. Yea, vone to terrive can you now, tho' he is at a distance spearent, chive to think of such a mighty one? And God.

not to think of him, while at a distance

vean you indure to be in his presence? I your Prince, familiar with you, and you may play with me, as you ald with a Grasshopper. Consider therefore, what is your pross, and remember the Immunises that I ne granted you.

Fariber, if all be true that this Man bath faid, how us is to pass that the Subjects of Shaddal, are so enved in all flaces were they come? none in the the Unitie so unhappy as they, none so Trampled upon as they. Consider my Mantoul: Would thou wert as loth to ve me, as I am loth to leave thee. Fut consider I say, Ball is yet at my Foot, liberty you have, if you know to use it: Yea, a King you have too if you can bow to love and Obey him.

Upon this Speech the Town of Man-I did again harden their Hearts, yet Martinal into ore against the Captains of Shaddi delport. Thoughts of his Holine's, sunk them in despair: Wherefore after a short Consult they ( of the Diabolonians Party they were) fent back this Word by the Trumpeter, That for their parts, Manfoul they were resolved to stick to their King, grows worfe but never to yield to Shaddai: So it was and worle. but in vain to give them any further Summons, for they had rather die upon the place than to yield. And now things feemed to be gone quite back, and Mansoul to be out of reach or call; yet the Captains who knew what their Lord could do, would not yet be heat out of Heart: They therefore fend them another Summons, more sharp and severe thin the last, but the sooner they were sent to reconcile to Shaddai, the further off they were, Hof. xi. 2. As they called them, so they went from them, yea, tho they called them to the most High.

The Captains leave off to Summon, and betake them felves to Prayer.

Town, and to deliver it from the Tyranny of Didelius: And one faid after this manner, another after that. Then food up the right noble, Captain Conviction, and faid my Brethren, mine Opinion is this:

First, That we continually play our Slings into the Town, and keep it in a continual Alarm, molesting of them Day and Night; by thus doing we shall stop the Growth of their Rempart Spirit. For a Lion may be tamed by continual molestation.

Secondly, This done, I advise, that in the next place, we with one consent, draw up a Petition to our Lord Shaddai, by which, after we have shewed our King the condition of Mansoul, and of Affirs here, and have begged his Pardon for our no better success, we will earnestly implore his Majesty's help, and that he will please to send as more Force and Power, and some gallant and well spoten Commander to head them, that so his Majesty may lost top the benefit of these bis good beginnings, but may conserve the sent of these bis good beginnings, but may conserve the sent of these bis good beginnings.

pleat bis Conquest upon the Town of Mansoul. To rhis speech of the Noble Captain Conviction, they one Man, consented, and agreed that a Petition all forthwith be drawn up, and sent by a fit Man, ay to Shaddai with Speed. The Contents of the ition were thus.

Most Gracious, and Glorious King, the Lord of the World, and the Builder of the Town of Manloul, have, dread Sovereign, at thy Commandment, put Lives in Feopurdy, and at thy bidding made a Warm the famous Town of Manloul. When we went up uinst it, we did according to our Commission first of-Conditions of Peace unto it. Mat. 22 5. Pto. 1-ch 7. 10, 11, 12, 13. But they, great King, set light our Council, and would none of our reproof: They are sor shuting of their Gates, and for keeping us out the Town. They also mounted their Guns they Sallied t upon us, and have done us what damage they could, the pursued them, with A'arm upon Alarm, requires of them with such retribution as was meet, and wed me some Execution upon the Town.

Diabolus, incredulity, and Willbewill, are the great vers against us? now we are in our Winter Quarters, to as that we do yet with an high Hand Molest,

I destress the Town.

Once, as we think, had we had but one jubstantial iend in the Town, such as would but have see ided found of our Summors, as they ought, the Perfle ght have yielded themselves: but there were none but temies there, nor any to speak in behalf of our Lord, to town: Wherefore though we have done as we could, thansoul abides in a state of Rebellion against thee. Now King of Kings, let it please thee to pardon the successfulness of thy Servants, who have been no more vantatious in so destrable a Work, as the Conquering Mansoul is: And send, Lord, as we now desire more rees to Mansoul, that it may be subdued; and a Man bead them, that the Town may both Love and Feir.

We do not thus speak because we are milling to requish the War (for we are for laying of our Bound against the Place ) but that the Town of Manson! was be went for thy Majesty. We also pray thy Majesty for Expedition in ib's matter, that after their Conquest, we may be at Liberty, to be fent about other thy Gracious Defigns Amen.

The Petition thus draw up, was knt Whocarried away with hafte to the King, by the Hand shis Petition. of that good Man Mr. Leve to Manfoul.

When this Petition was come to the To whom it Palace of the King, who should it be demas deliver'd. livered to, but the King's Son. So he took it and Raad it, and because the Contents offit pleased him well, he mended, and also in some things, added to the Petition himfelf. So after he had made fuch Amendments and Additions as he thought convenient with his own Hand, he carried it into the King: To whom when he had with Obeisance delivered it, he put on Authority, and fpake to it himfelf.

Now the King, at the right of the Pe-The King re- tition, was glad but how much more think you, when it was seconded by his gladiu G. Son. It pleased him also to hear that his Servants that Encamped against Mensoul, were is hearty in the Work, and fo fledfast in their resolves, and that they had already got fome Ground upon the famous Town of Manfoul.

Wherefore the King called to him E-The King calls manuel his Son, who said here am I my his Son, and Father. Then said the King, thou know tells him that he shall go to est, as I'do my self the Condition of the Town of Manfeul, and what thou haft Cunquer the Town of Mandone to redeem it. Come now therefore foul, and h: is placed at ir. my Son, and prepare thy felf for the War, for thou shalt go to my Camp at Mar-

Thou shalt also there prosper, and prevail, and loul. conquer the Town of Manfoul.

He folsceth Thoughts of As Work

Then faid the King's Son: Thy Law is within my Heart. I delight to do thy himself in the Will. H b. 10. I his is the Day that have longed for, and the Work that! ed for all this while. Grant me therefore ce thou shalt in thy Wisdom think meet. I go, and will deliver from Diabelus, and Power, thy perithing Town of Manfoul. it has been often pained within me, for the Town of Manfoul. But now 'cis rejoyced, 'tis glad; and with that he leaped over the 13 for Joy, saying.

not in my Heart thought any thing too deac al; the Day of Vengeares is in mine Heart, ny Manfoul, and glad am I, that thou my aft made me the Captain of their Salvab. 2. 10. And I will now begin to plague ave been a Plague to my Town of Man-I will deliver it from their Hands. the King's Son had faid thus to The highest r, it presently flew like light. Peer in the Kingdom ad about at Court: Yea, itthere vet to go ne only talk, what Emanuel was this Defign.

do for the famous Town of

But you cannot think how the Courtiers e taken with this delign of the Prince. Yea, I were they with this Work, and with the of the War, that the highest Lord and beer of the Kingdom did cover to have Connder Emaruel, to go to help to recover abaddsi that miserable Town of Mansou!. vas it concluded that some should go and cargs to the Camp, that Emmuel was to come : Manfoul, and that he would bring along with ghty, so impregnable a Force that he could ifted. But oh how ready were the high ones to run like Lacquies to carry these Tidings mp that was at Manfoul! Now when the Careiv'd that the King would fend Emanuel his . that it also delighted the Son to

The Camp. this Errand by the great Shad-They for jy A l'an thui. ther: They also to flew, how pleased at the Thoughts of his hear the ave a shout that made the direct

Earth rentat the found thereof. Yea, the Mountains did answer the Eccho, and Dialolus himselfdid Totter and shake.

For you must know, that though the Town of Marfoul it self, was not much if at all, concerned with the Project, for, alas for them they were wofully beforted, for they chiefly regarded their Pleasure and Luss: Yet

Diabolus a fraid at the News of his coming.

Diabolus a fraid at the News of his coming.

Diabolus a fraid at the him Intelligence of all things, and they coming.

him, and that Emanuel would shortly, certainly come with a Power to invade him. Nor was there any Man in Court, nor Peer of the Kingdom, that Diabolus so feared, as he fear'd this Prince. For if you remember, Ishewed you before that Diabolus had felt the weight of his Hand already. So that since it was he that was to come, this made him more afraid. Well, you see how I have told you that the King's Son was engaged to come from the Court to save Manfoul and that his Father had made him the Captain of the

The Prince addresses: The time thereof of his setting forth, being now expired, he addressed himself for his March, and taketh with him for his Power Five Noble Captains and their Forces.

1. The First was that famous Captain, the Noble Captain Credence, his were the Red Colours; and Mr. Promise bare them: Fohn 1. 29. Eph. 6, 16. And for a Scutcheon he had the Holy Lamb, and Golden Shield. And he had Ten Thousand Men at his Feet.

2. The Second was that famous Captain, the Captain Good bope, his were the Blew Colours: Heb. 6. 19. His Standard Bearer was Mr. Expedicion; and for a Scutcheon he had the Three Golden Anchors. And he had Ten Thousand Men at his Feet.

3. The Third Captain was that Valiant Captain, the Captain Chrisy: 1 Cor. 13. His Standard Bearer was Mr. Piriful, his were the Green Colours; and for his Cutcheon, he had Three Naked Orphans Imbrack

e. And he had Ten Thousand Men at his Feet; in Fouth was that Galant Commander the Innocent: Mat. 10. 16. His Standard Bearer Harmless; his were the White Colours, and cutcheon he had Three Golden Doves.

e Fifth was the truly Loyal and well belotain, the Captain Patience: His Standard was Mr. Suffer long, his were the Black Cond for a Scutcheon he had Three Arrows Golden Hears.

were Emanuel's Captains, these ndardBearers, their Colours, and tience do the work.

1d. Heb. 6. 12. So as was said.

e Prince took his March, to go to the Town I. Captain Gredence led the Van, and Captain rought up the Rere. So the other three with n made up the Main Body. The Prince himg in his Chariot at the Head of them.

then they set out for their March, the Trumpets sounded; their Theirmarch glittered, and how the Colours waved in the The Princes Armour was all Gold, and it e the Sun in the Eirmament. The Captains was of Proof, and was in appearence like the 5 Stars. There were also some from the at rode Reformades, for the Love that they be King Shaddai, and for the happy Delive-

the Town of Manfoul... laifo when he had thus let forgo to recover the Town of Man-ble comain with him at the Commanding 66 Books... his Father, Forty four Batters, and Twelve Slings to whirl Stones with laise of these was made of pure Gold, and these ried with them in the Heart and Body of my, all along as they went to Manfoul.

marched till they came within less than a the Town, and there the play till the first iss came thither, to acquaint him with ma

The Forces to the Town of Manseul, and unto Manseul, and unto Manseul, and unto Manseul, and they came, but when the Old Soldiers that were in the Camp saw that they had new Forces to juyn with, they again gave such-a shout before the Walls of Manfoul, that it put Diabelus into another Fright. So they let down before the Town, not now as the other Frue Captains did, to wit against the Gates of Manfoul only: But they invironed it round on every side, and beset it behind and before Mansoul be- it will, it saw Force and Power lie in leaguered Siege against it. Beside there were Mounts cast up against it, the Mount up against it Gracious was on the one side, and Mount

Justice on the other. Farther, there were several small Banks, and advance Ground, as Plaintrub-Hill, and No fin banks, were many of the Slings were placed against the Town. Upon Mount Gradous were Planted Four, and upon Mount Justice were placed as many: And the rest were conveniently placed in several Parts round about the Town. Five of the best Battering Rams, that is of the biggest of them, were placed upon Mount Hearken, a Mount cast up hard by Ear gate, with intent to break that open.

Now when the Town of Manfoul law the Mulcitude and the Soldiers that were come up against the Place, and the Rams and Slings, and the Mounts on which the ywere Planted; together with the glittering of the The Heart of

The Heart of hanfoul be lours: They were forced to shift, and spins to fail. Shift and again to shift their Thoughts, but they hardly changed for Thoughts more front, but rather for Thoughts more faint. For though before they thought themselves sufficiently guarded; yet now they began to think that no Man knew what would be their hap or lot.

When the good Prince Emanuel had thus beleagured Manjoul: In the first Place be hangs out the white Flag, which ed to be set up among the Golden Slings that lanted upon Mount Gracious. And this he did Reasons: 1. To give Notice to Mansoul, that d, and would yet be gracious, if they turned . 2. And that he might leave them the more t Excuse, should he destroy them, they coatin their Rebellion.

ne white Blag, with the three Golden Doves in hanged out for two Days together, to give me, and space to consider. But they, as was before, as if they were unconcerned, made to the favourable Signal of the Prince.

n he commanded, and they fet the ig, upon that Mount called Mount
The red Flag
Twas the red Flag of Captain

we, whose Scutcheon was the Burning Fiery. And this also frood waving before them in ind, for several Days together. But look how irried it under the white Flag, when that was I out, so did they also when the red one was: et he took no Advantage of them.

n be commanded again that his The black Flag ts would hang out the black Flag hang.out.

the three burning Thurder bolts. But as unconwas Manfoul at this, as at those that went before, en the Prince saw that neither Mercy nor Judgnor Execution of Judgment, would, or could lear the heart of Manfoul; he was touch'd with Computation, and said surely, this strange carse the town of Manfoul, doth rather arise from Ige of the manner and seats of War, than from t Desiance of us, and Abhorrence of their own Or if they know the manner of the War of wn; yet not the Rites and Cere-of the Wars in which we are Christ makes ned, when I make Wars upon World does.

efore he fent to the Town of Manfoul; to les words what he meant by thole Signs and Cere monies of the Flag, and also to know of them which

He fends to know if they would have Mercy or judgment.

Mercy or
judgment.

Bolts and Bars, as fast as they could.

Their Guards were also doubled, and their Watch made as strong as they could. Diabelus also did pluck up what Heart he could, to encourage the Town to make Resistance.

The Townsmen also made answer to the Prince's Messenger, in substance, according to that which follows.

The Towns Great Sir, as to what, by your Messer we folks answer. Ger you have signifyed to us, whether we will accept of your Mercy, or fall by you Fustice. We are bound by the Law and Custom of this Place, and can give you no positive answer. For it is against the Law, Government, and the Prerogative Royal of our King, to make either Peace or War without him. But this we well do, we will petition, that our Prime will come down to the Wall and there give you such a Treatment as he shall think sit and profitable for us.

When the good Prince Emanuel heard this answer, and saw the Slavary and Emanuel Bondage of the People, and how much contented they were to abide in the Chains of the Tyrant Diabolus, it grieved him at the Heart. And indeed when at any time he proceived that any were contended under the Slavery of the Giant, he would be affected with it.

But to return again to our purpose. After the Town had carried this News to Diabolus, and had told him moreover, that the Prince that lay in the Leaguer,

Disbolus afraid. without the Wall, waited upon them for an answer; He refused, and huffed as well as he could, but in Heart he was afraid-

Then laid he, I will go down to the Gates my felf, and give him such an answer as I think fit so he went and there Addressed himself to ak to Emanuel ( but in such Languages as the Town erstood not ) the Contents whereof were as follow. thou great Emanuel Lord of the His Speech to old, I know thee, that thou art the Son the Prince. be great Shaddai! Wherefore art thou e to Icment me, and to cast me out of my Possession? is Town of Mansoul. as thou very well knowest, is e by right of Conquest, I won it in the open Fiel!. I shall the Prey be taken from the mighty, or the law-Captive be delivered ? 2. This Town of Mansoul is 28 also by their subjection. They have ofened the tes of their Town unto me, they have fworn fidelity ne, and have openly chosen me to be their Heart. B. They bace also given their Costle into Hands; yea, they have gut the whole frength of mloul under me.

Moreover, this Town of Mansoul bath disavewed 1: Yea, they have cast thy Law, thy Name, thy Image, I all that is thine, behind their Back: And have acted and set up in their Room, my Law, my Name, Image, and all that ever is mine. Ask else thy Capus and they will tell thee, that Mansoul hath, in ancer so all their Summons, shewn Love, and Loyalty to; but always disdain, dispite, contempt, and scorn bee and thine: Now thou art the just one, and the y (and shoulds do no Iniquity). depart then, I pray to their series from me, and leave me to my just Inherence peaceable.

his oration was made in the Language of Diabolusifelf. For although he can to every Man speak in ir Language (else he could not Tempt them as he
s) yet he has a Language proper to himself, and s the Language of the internal Cave or Black Pir.
Wherefore the Town of Mansoul (poor Hearts) untheoretic town of Mansoul (poor Hearts) unCringed, while he tood before Emanuel their Prince.
fea they all this while took him to be one of that wer and Force that by no means could be resided, erefore while he was thus intreating that he might that the mesidence there, and that Emanuel would not take it from him by force; the Inhabitants boafted even of his Valour, faying, who is able to make War with bim?

Well, when this pretended King had made an end of what he wou'd fay: Emanuel the golden Prince flood up and spoke: The Contents of whose Words follow.

Thou deceiving one, said be, I have in my Father's Name, in my own Name, and on the behalf, and for the good of this wretched Town of Mansoul, somewhat to say unto thee. Ibou pretendest a Right, a lawful Right to the deplorable Town of Manfoul, when it is most apparent to all my Father's Court; that the Entrance which then haft obtained in at the Gates of Mansont, was through thy Lyes and Faishood; thou belyeast my Father, thou belyedst his Law, and so descivedst the People of Mansoul. Thou presendest that the People bave accepted thee for their King, their Captain, and right Liege-Lord, but that also was by the exercise of Desett and guile. Now if Lying, Wiliness, Sinful Craft, and all marmer of borrible Hypocrifie, will go, in my Father's Court (in which Court thou must be Tried) for Equity and Right, then will I confess unto thee that then had made a lawfu! Conquest. But alas! What Thief. what Tyrant, what Devil is there that may not conquer after this fort? But I can make it appear O Diabolus, that thou in all thy Pretences to a Conquest of Mansoul, bast nothing of Truth to say. Thinkest thou this to be right, that thou didst put the Lie upon my Father, and madest bim (to Mansoul) the greatest deluder in the World? And what sayst thou to the perverting knowingly, the right purport and Intent of the Law? Was it good also that thou madest a. Prey of the Innocency and Simplicity of the now miserable Town of Mansoul? Yea, thou didit overcome Manfoul by promising to them Happiness in their Transgressions, egainst my Father's Law, when thou knewest, and coulast not but know, back thou consulted nothing but thine own Experience, that that was the way to undo them. Ibou best also the self (O.! Those Master of Enmisy) of Spite defaced my obe's inage in Mansons, and set up thy own in the to the great contempt of my Father, the beighif thy Sin, and to the intollerable Damage of the

g Town of Mansoul.

bast moreover, ( as if all these were but little wish thee ) not only deluded and undone this but by thy Lies, and fraudulent carriage bast n againsi their own deliverance. How bast theu them up against my Father's Captains, and ma e fight against those that were sent of him to debem from their Fondage? All these things and any more thou balt done against thy light, and in s of my Fasher, and of his law: Yea, and wib o bring under bis displeasure for ever, the miserun of Manfoul, I am therefore come to reven; e one that thou half done to my Father, and to deel ee for the Blast bemies wherewith thou hast made lanfoul Blaspheme b's Name. Yea, upon thy Head, ince of the infernal Cave, will I require is.

or my self. O Diobolus, I am come against thee by Power, and to take by firength of Hand, this f Mansoul out of thy burning Fingers. For this if Mansoul is mine, O Diabolus and that by ted right, as all shall see that will diligently search oft ancient, and most Authentick Records, and I ead my Title to it to the confusion of thy Face.

for the Iown of Manfoul, my Father built, and foion it with his Hand. the Palace also that the midst of that Town, he Built it for his own t. This Town of Mansoul therefore is my Faand that by the hest of Titles: and he that Gain-andly, a thou Master of the Lie, this Town of ill is mine,

Trush of this, must lie against his Sou!.

For that I am my Father's Heir, bis first Born, : only delight of bis Heart, Heb. 1. 2. John 15. em therefore come up against thee in mine own even to recover mine own Inkeritance out of lands.

But further, as I have a Right and Title to Manv. being my Father's Heir, fo I have also by my Father's Donation, John 17. His it was, an it me; nor have I at any time Offended my I be should take it from me and give it so thee, Nor have I been forced by playing the Banks or set to sale to thee, my Beloved Town of Mansoul is my Desire, my Delight, and the Heart. But,

3. Manfoul is mine by Right of purchase bought it (O Diabolus) I have bought it Now since it was my Father's and mine, as Heir, and since also I have made it mine by great purchase, it followerb, that by all La the Town of Mansoul is mine, and that thou furper, Tyrant and Trayton in thy boldin there of Now the cause of my surchasing of i Mansoul bad trespassed against my Father, 1 ther had faid, that in the Day they that broke shey (bould die. Now it is more possible for l Earth to pass away, then for my Father to Word, Mat. 5. 18. Wherefore when Manfou ned indeed by bearkning to thy lie, I put come a surety to my Father, Fody for Body, for Soul, that I would make Amends for Transgressions: and my Father did accept th when the time appointed was come, I gave Body for Body, Soul for Soul. Life Ema for Life, Blood for Blood, and so Redeemed my Beloved Mansoul.

4. nor did I do this to the halves, my Fa and Justice that were both concerned in the

mon of Mansoul ( but so soon as mention at he had a Word to speak to the Besorted ansoul, the Gates were double Guarded commanded not to give him Audience) ded, and faid, o unbappy Town of Mansoul. be touched with Pity and Compassion for hast accepted of Diaboius for thy King, and Nu fe and Minister of Diabolonians against Lord. Thy Gates thou hast opened to him, bem fast aganst me; thou hast piven him t hast stopt thine Ears at my Cry; be brought estruction, and thou didst receive both bim n come to thee bringing Salvation, but thou Besides, thou bast with Sacrileginot. then thy fe f with all that was mine in t given all to my Foe, and to the greatest ther his. You have bowed and subjected your you have Vowed and Sworn your selves to Manfoul! what shall I do unto thee? Shall Shall Idestroy thee? What shall I do unto fall upon thee and Grind thee to Powder a Monmueut of the Richest Grace? What nto thee? Harken therefore thou Town of arken to my Word, and thou shalt Live. Mansoul, and thou shall find me so; shut thy Gates, Cant. 5. 2.

I neither is my Commission or Inclination at hurt; why styest thou so fast from thy lickest so close to thine Enemy? Indeed I hee, because it becomes thee, to be sorry nt do not despair of Life, this great Force thee, but to deliver thee from thy Bon-reduce thee to thy Obedience.

sion indeed is to make a War upon Diabo;, and upon all Diabolonians with him;
strong Man Armed that keeps the House, ve him out; his Spoils I must divide his ist take from him, his Hold I must cist him mast make it an Hibitation for my self.
Mansoul, shall Diabolus know; when he shall be made follow me in Chains, and when Mi Shall rejoice to fee it to.

I could, would I now put forth my might, canf forthwith be should leave you and depart; but I b in my Heart so to deal with him. as that the Just the War that I shall make upon him, may be seen a knowledg'd by all. He bath take: Mansoul by and keeps it by Violence and Deceit, and I will ma bare and naked in the Eyes of all Objervers.

All my Words are true, I an mighty to fave, an deliver my Mansoul out of bis Hand. This Speech intended chiefly for Manfoul, but Manfoul woul have the hearing of it. They shut up Ear gate, Barricado'd it up, they kept it lock'd and be they fet a Guard thereat, and commanded th Manfoulonian should go out to him, nor that any the Camp should be admitted into the Town: a they did, so horribly had Diabolus inchanted th do, and feek to do for him, against their rig Lord and Prince; wherefore no Man, nor nor Sound of Man that belonged to the Gli Hoft, was to come into the Town.

So when Emmuel saw that M

Emanuel pre- was thus involved in Sin, he call pares to make Army together (fince now all his \ War upon were despised, and gave out a Manhoul, mandment throughout all his Hoff seady against the time appointed. Now foral as there was no way lawfully to take the To folved upon certain Proit should be offered Emaill accept thereof, for hey I then the next was, who to-stoop, and by nt on this Errand. Now the Town of Mansoul an Diaholus fends by the Hand of his Servant Mi. Lothhim he propeunds Conditions of Peace.

Piabolonian, and his Name ub to floop, a stiff Man in his way, and a for Diabolus; him therefore they fent, and mouth what he should say. So he went and Camp to Emanuel, and when he was come, ippointed to give him audience. So at the ne, and after a Diabolonian Ceremony or b'gan and faid, Tit. 1. 16. Great Sir, that 18 wn unto all Men bow good natured a Prince s, te bath fent me to tell your Lordsbip that ling rather than to go to War, to Mark this. nto your Hands one balf of the I am therefore to know if your will accept of this Proposition.

id Emanuel, the whole is mine by Gift and wherefore I will never lose one half. d Mr. Loth to stoop, Sir, my Master bath said l be content that you shall be the d Titular Lord of all, if he may nanuel answered, the whole is mine real-Name and Word only: Wherefore I will Lord and Possessor of all, or of none at oul.

Part, Luke 13, 25.

Ir. Losb-to floop faid again, Sir, behold the n of my Master! He says that be Mark this. tent, if he may but have a ligned

: Place in Mansoul, as a Place to live primd you shall be Lord of all the rest, Acts 5.

id the go'den Prince, All that the Father giall come to me; and of all that he hath giill lose nothing, no not a Hoof, nor a Hair; berefore grant him, no not the least Cox-

UGE

ner in Manfoul to dwell in, I will have all to my fell to

Then Loth to stoop said again, But Sir, suppose that in, my Lord should resign the whole Town to me and Lord should resign the whole Town to me and when he comes into this Country, may for old Aquin tance sake he entertained as a way-faring Man for the Days, or ten Days, or a Month, or so; may us this small Matter be granted?

Then said Emanuel, No. He came as a way faint Man to David, nor did he fray long with him, and yet it had like to have cost David his Soul. 2 said 12. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. I will not consent that he ere should have any Harbour more there.

Then faid Mr. Loth-to floop, Sir, you seem to be well bard. Suppose my Master floould yield to all that your Lordship bath said, provided the bis Friends and Kindred in I-lansoul my have Liberty to Trade in the Town, and to enjoy their profem dwellings; may not that be granted Sir?

Then faid Emanuel, No; that is contrary to my Fether's Will: Rom. 6. 13. Col. 3. 5. Gal. 5. 24. For all, and all manner of Diabolonians that now are, or that at any time shall be found in Manfoul, shall not only lose their Lands and Liberties, but also their Live.

Then faid Mr. Loth to stoop again, But Sir, may me my Master, and great Lord, by Letters, by Passengen, by accidental opportunities, and the like, Weark this maintain, if he shall deliver up all unitables, some kind of old Friendship with Mansoul. John 10, 8.

Emanuel answered, No, by no means; for as much as any such Fellowship, Friendship, Intimacy or Acquaintance in what way, fort or mode soever maintained, will tend to the corrupting of Manjoul, the alienating of their Affections from me, and the codangering their Peace with my Father.

Mr. Loth-to-floop yet added further, faying, Brigger Briefly, fince my Master bath many Friends, Mark this. and those that are dear to him in Mansall Rom, 6. 12, 13. May be not, if he shall depart for even of his Rounty and good Nature, bestow upem, as be sees fit, some Tokens of bis Love and Kindthat he had for them, to the end that Manfoul, be is gone, may look up n such Tokens of kindness received from their old Friend and remember him was once their King, and the merry times that they imes enjoyed one with another, while he and they

l in Peace together?

hen faid Emanuel, No; for if Manfoul come to be I shall not admit of nor confent that there should e leaft Scrap, shred, or Dust of Diabolus left beas Tokens or Gifts bestowed upon any in Manthereby to call to remembrance the Horrible munion that was betwixt them and him.

Il Sir faid Mr. Loth-to Stoop, I have one thing to Propound, and then I am got to the. Mark this I my Commission: 2 Kings 1. 3. 6. 7. le that when my Master is gone from Mansoul, any et shall live in the Town, should have such bufiness. eb Concerns to do, that if they be negleffed, the fball be undone; and suppose Sir, that no Body can n that Case, so well as my Master and Lord; may mo me Mafter be fent for upon so urgent an occaes this? Or if he may not be admitted into the Town, 10t be and the Person concerned, meet in some of the zes near Mansoul, and there lay their Heads togeand there consult of matters? his was the last of these ensnaring Proposions that Losb to floor had to Propound to Emanuel, on beof his Mafter Diabolus; but Emanuel would not t it, for he faid, there can be no Case, or thing, atter fall out in Manfoul, when thy Mafter shallbe that may not be falved by my Father: I Sam, 15. Besides, 'twill be a great Disparagement to my her's wisdom and skill, to admit any from Mansoul, of ant to Diebolus for advice, when they are bid re, in every thing by Prayer and Supplication, to heir requests be made known to my father, 2 Kings . 2. Further this, should it be granted, would be rant that a door should be set open for Diabolus, and the Diabelonians in Manford to hatch and pl bring to pass Treasonable Deligns, to the Griel Father and Me, and to the utter Deftruction of A When Mr. Lorb-to floop had hea Loth-to ftoop answer, he took his leave of Email departs. departed, laying, that he would de to his Mafter concerning this whole Affair, So parted and came to Diabolus to Manfoul, and to the whole of the matter, and how Emanuel wo admit, no not by any means, that he when he w gone out, should for ever have any thing more either in, or with any that are of the Town of A When Manfoul and Diabo'us had heard this rela things, they with one confent, concluded to ul best endeavour to keep Emanuel out of Manfo fent old Ill-pause, of whom you have heard bel tell the Prince and his Captains fo. Lo the Old C man cime up to the Top of Ear-gate, and called Camp for a hearing; who when they gave Au he faid, I have in Commandment for my Hig to bid you to tell it to your Prince Emanu Mansoul, and their King are reso A speech of Old Ill-pause to Stand and fall together, and that vain for your Prince to think of a the Camp. ving of Mansoul in bis Hand, soile take it by Force. So some went and told to B what Old Ill pause a Diabolonian in Mansonl, ha Then faid the Prince I must try the Power Sword. Epb. 6. 17. For I will not ( for all the lions and Repulses that Manfoul has made again raise my Seige and depart, but wi They must redly take my Mansoul, and deli Fight. from her Enemy. And with that h Preparations to the Battle Out a Commandment that Capta nerges, Captain Conviction, Captais ment and Captain Execution shall march forthw to Ear gate, with Trumpets founding, Colours I and with shouting for the Battle, also he would Captain Credence should join him self in wich Emanuel moreover gave order that Captain G

Laptain Charity should draw themselves up before me. He bid also that the rest of his Captains and Men should place themselves for the best of their stage against the Enemy, round about the Town, Il was done as he commanded. Then he bid that Vord should be given forth, and the Word was stime. Emanuel. Then was an Alarm founded. he battering Rams were plaid, and the Slings did flones into the Town amain, and thus the Batgan. Now Diabolus himself did manage the ilmen in the War, and that at every Gate a fore their Relistance was the more forcible, L and offenfive to Emanuel. Thus was the good eengaged and entertained by Diabojus and Manor several Days together. And a sight worth it was, to behold how the Captains of shadhaved thewselves in this War.

i first for Captain Bomerges (not to Bonnerges value the reft) he made three most Plays the man, Affaults, one after another, upon Ear-gase, to aking of the Posts thereof. Captain Conviction made up as fast with Boanerges, as possibly ald, and both discerning that the Gate began id, they commanded that the Rams should Riu yed against it. Now Captain Conviction go. very near to the Gate, was with Force driven back, and received Wounds in the Mouth. And those ode Reformades, they went about Angels, ourage the Captains.

the valour of the two Captains made mention of , the Prince sent for them to his Pavilion: and inded that a while they should rest themselves. at with somewhat they should be refreshed. Care so taken for Captain Convillion, that he should led of his wounds, the Prince also gave them a of Gold, and bid them yet be of good Courage. did Captain Goodbope nor Captain Charity come I in this most desperate Fight, for they did so bave themselves at Eje gate, that they had al-

Charicy play the Men at Eye gate.

Goodhope and most broken it quite open. alfoa Reward from their Prince had the rest of the Captains, becau did valiantly round about the To

"In this Engagement leveral of the Officers of dus were Slain, and some of the Townsmen we For the Officers there was one Capt. Boastin This Basting thought that no bod Capt. Boaft have thaken the Post of Ear.g. have shaken the Heart of Diabolus. to him there was one Capt. Secure Slain: thi used to say that the Blind and L Capt. Secure Mansoul were able to keep the G Slain. the Town against Emanuel's Army.

This Captain Secure did Captain Co cleave down the Head with a two-handed Swor he himselfreceived three Wounds in the Mous

Besides there was one Captain Bragman, a ve perate Fellow, and he was Captain over a F those that threw Fire-brands, Arrows and De also received by the Hand of C Capt. Brag-Goodbope at Ege gase, a Mortal man Slain. in the Breaft.

There was moreover one Mr. Feeling, but he Captain, but a great flickler to encourage Man Rebellions, he received a Wound in the Eve Hand of one of Boanerges's Soldie Mr. Feeling had by the Captain himself been hurt. but that he made a sudden Retreat.

But I never faw Willbewill so daunted in all n he was not able to do as he wont, and some also received a Wound in the Leg, and that I the Men in the Princes's Army had certainly fe limp as he afterwards walked on the Wall. I shall not give you a particular account of the of the Soldiers that are maimed and wounde Slain; for when they saw that the t Willbewill of Ear-gate did shake, and Eye-ga the Soldiers in well nigh broken quite open; a ManfoolSlain that their Camps were Slain; the away the Hearts of many of the Diabolonians, they fell also by the Force of the Shot that were sent by the Golden Slings into the midft of the Town of Manfoul.

Of the Townsmen there was one Loveme good, he was a Townsman but a Di-Wounded. Love-nogood bolonian, he also received his Mortal Ill-pause Wound in Mansoul, but he Died not ve- Wounded. ry foon.

Mr. Ill pause also, who came along with Diabolus, when at first he attempted the taking of Mansoul, he allo received a grievous Wound in the Head, some say that his Brain pan was crackt; this I have taken notice of, that he was never after this able to do that mischief to Mansoul as he had done in times past, Also old Prejudice, and Mr. Anything Fled.

Now when the Battel was over, the Prince commanded that yet once more the White Flag should be set upon Mount Graci-The White ous, in fight of the Town of Manfoul; to significant out thew that yet Emanuel had Grace for the wretched Town of Mansoul.

When Diabolus faw the White-flag hanged out again, and knowing that it was not for him but Man; foul; he cast in his Mind to play another Diabolus's Prank, to wit, to see if Emanuel would new Prank. raise his Siege and be gone upon promise of a Reformation. So he came down to the Gate one Evening, a good while after the Sun was gone down. and calls to speak with Emanuel, who presently came down to the Gate, and Diabelus faith unto him.

Forasmuch as thou makest it appear by His Speechto the White Flag, that thou art wholly gi- Emanuel. ven to Peace and Quiet; I thought meet to acquaint thee, that we are ready to accept thereof upon Terms which thou mayest admit.

I know that thou art given to Devotion, and that Holiness pleases thee; yea, that thy great end in ma-king a War upon Mansoul, is, that it may be an boly Habitation. Well, draw off thy Forces frem the Town, and I will bend Mansoul to thy Bow.

E 2

Diabolus would be Enra urls
Deputy, and be would turn formerly been against thee, and will be willing to become thy Deputy, and will as I have Resormer.

First, I will lay down all Alts of Hosting to be much thee, and will be willing to become thy Deputy, and will as I have formerly been against thee, now serve thee in the Town of Mansoul.

And more particularly,

1. I will perswade Mansoul to receive thee for their Lord, and I know that they will do it the sooner, when they shall understand that I am thy Deputy.

2. I will show them wherein they have Erred, and that Transgression stands in the way to life.

3. I will shew them the Holy Law unto which they must conform, even that which they have broken.

4. I will press upon them the necessity of a Reformation according to Law.

5. And moreover that none of these things may fail, I my self at my own proper cost and charge, will set up and maintain a sufficient Ministry, besides Lestures in Mansoul.

6. Thou shalt receive as a token of our Subjection to the continually Year by Year, what thou shalt think fit to by and levy upon us, in token of our Subjection to thee.

Then said Emanuel to him, O sull of The Answer. Deceit, how moveable are thy Ways! how often has thou changed and re changed, if so be thou mightest still keep pessession of my Mansoul, tho as has been plainly declared before, I am the right Heir thereof? Often hast thou made thy Proposals already, nor is this last a whit better than they, 2 Cor. 11. 14. And failing to deceive when them show shy self in thy Black; thou hast now transformed thy since an Angel of light, and wouldest to deceive, be now as a Minister of Righteousness.

But know thou, O Diabolus, that nothing must be negarded that thou canst propound, for nothing is done by thee but to deceive; thou neither hast Conscience to Biabolus has mbence then should these thy sayings arise, no Conscience but from Sinful Crass and Deceit? He con Mansons, that can list and will propound what he needs.

and that therewith he may destroy them that bim, is to be abandoned with all that be |ball tt if Righteousness be such a Beauty Spot in ves now, how is it that Wickedness was so closely. by thee before? But this is by the By.

talkest new of a Reformation in Mansoul, and u thy felf, if I will please, will be at the bead Reformation, all the while knowing that the proficiency that Man can make in the Law, and breausness thereof, will amount to no more for. ng away of the Curse from Mansoul, than just gatall; for a Law being broken by Mansoul, that fore upon a supposition of the breast thereof at renounced against bim for it of God, er by bis obeying of the Law, de- He know that! mfelf sherefrom. ( To fay noshing that will do no good which wer it a Reformation is like to be fet up he propounds sfoul, when the Devil is become the for the Health, or of Vice ) Thou knowest that all of Mansoul. ou bast now said in this matter is but Guile and Deceit; and as it was the First the last Card that thou hast to play. Many there do discern thee, when thou shewest them thy 1 Foot; but in thy White, thy Light, and in the rmation thou art feen but of a few. / ut thou t do thus with my Mansoul, O Diabolus, for I' love my Manfeul.

les. I am not come to put Mansoul upon Works thereby, should I do so, I should be like unto thee ) m come, that by me, and by what I have and shall Manfoul, they may to my Father be reconciled; by their Sin they have provoked him to anger; ugh by the Law they cannot obtain Mercy. talketh of subjecting of this Town

I when none desireth is at thy Hands. All things fent by my Father to possess it my in Mansoul. nd to guide it by the skitfulness of nds into such a conformity to bim as shall be picabis fight. I will therefore poffest it my self, I eses and cast thee out: I will set up mine ou Zeand.

E 2:

Standard in the midst of them: I will also govern them by new Laws. new Officers, new Motives, and new Ways: Yea I will pull down this Town and build it ayain, and it shall be as thought it had not been, and it shall then be the Glory of the whole Universe.

When Diebolus heard this, and percei-(Diabolus ved that he was discovered in all his Decontounded. ceits, he was confounded and utterly put to a Nonplus; but having in himself the Fountain of Iniquity, Rage, and Malice against both Shaddai and his Son, and the Beloved Town of Manjoul, what doth he but ftrengthen himfelf whathecould togive fre ftr Bartel to the Noble Prince Eminuel? So then, now we must haveanother Fight before the Town of Manfoul's taken. Come up then to the Mountains, you that love to fee Military Actions, and behold by both fides New Prepa- how the fatal Blow is given, while one fecks ratica for to hold and the other feeks to make himfelf master of the famous Town of Marsoul. Diaboius therefore having withdrawn himself from the Wall to his Force that was in the Heart of the Town of Manfoul. Emanuel also returned to the Camp, and both of them after their divers way, put themselves into a posture fit to bid Battel one to another.

Diabolus depairs of holdcontrives to do it what . milchief he to Fight.

Diabolus as filled with despair of tetaining in his Hands the famous Town ingerManfou', of Manfoul, refolved to do what mischief and therefore he could ( if indeed he could do any ) to the Army of the Prince, and to the Famous Town of Manfoul, for alas it was not the happiness of the filly Town of M. nfoul that was defigned by Disbolus, but the utter ruin and over-throw thereof; as now is enough in view. Mar. 26, 27. Wh refore he commands his Officers that they fould then when they fee that they could hold the Town no longer, do it what harm and mischief they could, rending and tearing of Men Women and Children. For faid he we had better quite demolish the Place, leave it like a runious heap than so leaveit that it may be an Habitation E-MANU Taumuci.

manuel again knowing that the next Battle would : in his being made Mafter of the Place, gave out a ralCommandment to all-his Officers, high Captains Men of War, to be fure to shew themselves Men of r against Diabolus, and all Diabolonians; but farable merciful, and meek to all the old Inhabitants lanfoul. Bend therefore, faid the Noble Prince, the :eft Front of the Battle, again & Diabolusand his Mon, o the Day being come, the Command was given the Princes Men did bravely fland to their Arms; did as before, bend their main Force inft Eurgate and Eye gate. The word The Bartel then, Manfoul is won; fo they made kined, and Diabo.us they Fight on both fides ir Assault upon the Town. as fast as he could with the main of his Fiercely. wer, made refistance from within, and high Lords and chief Captains for a time fought veruelly against the Princes Army. But after three or four notable Charges the Prince and his Noble Captains, broke open gate was broke open, and the Bars Bolts were with it was used to be faftshutup against Prince were broken into a Thousand pieces. Then the Princes Trumpets found, the Captains Thou-, Town shake, and Diabolus retreat to his hold. Well. on the Princes Forces had broken open the Gate. iself came up and did set his Throne t's also he fer his Standard thereby, up Standard fet Mount that before his Men wascaft up, and the to place the mighty Slings thereon. Slings are e Mount was called Mount Hearwell, Plail fill at re therefore the Prince abode, to wit, d by the going in at the gate. He commanded also t the Golden Slings should yet be played upon the wn, especially against the Castle, because for shelthither was Diabolus retreated. Now from Ear-gate Arcet was firait even to the House of Mr. Recorthat was so before Diabelus took the Town, and d by his House stood the Castle, which Diabolus for ng time had made his Irklome Den. The Captains thereof did quickly clear the Street by the use of their Slings, so that way was made up to the Heart of the Town. Then did the Prince command that Captain Boanerges, Captain Conviction, and Captain fudgment, should forthwith march up the Town to the old & Gentleman's Gate. Then did the Captains is · Confeience moft warlike manner enter into the town they go up to of Manfon', and marching in with flying the Recor-Colours, they came up to the Recorders der's House. House, (and that was almost as strong as was the Cafile.) Battering Rams they took also with them to plant against the castle gates. When they were come to the house of Mr. Conscience, they knocked and demanded entrance. Now the old Gentlemannot knowing as yet fully their delign, kept his Gates fut all the time of this Fight. Wherefore Bomerges demanded entrance at his gates, and no man making and fuer, he gave it one stroke with the Head of a Ram They demand and this made the old Gentleman hake, and his House to tremble and totter. Chtrance. Then came Mr. Recorder down to the Gate, and as he could with quivering Lips he ask'd who was there? Boanarges answer'd, we are the Captains and Commanders of the great Shaddai, and of the bleffed Emanuel his Son, and we demand Poffession of your House for the use of our noble Prince. that the battering Ram gave the Gate another shake: This made the old Gentleman tremble the more, yet durk he not but open the Gate: Then the King's Forces march'd in namely the three brave Captains mentioned before. Now the Recorder's House was a place of much convenience for Emanuel, not only because it was near and fronted the Cafile, the Den where now Diabolus was; for he was now afraid to come out of his hold. As for Mr. Recorder, the Captains carried it very refervedly to him; as yet he knew nothing of the great Defigss of Emanuel; so that he did not knew They do keep what judgment to make, not what would thewlolves rebe the end of such Thundring begin-Servedly from Biogs.

be Recordes-

by John Bungan:

97

It was also noised in the Town how the Re house was possessed, his Rooms and his palace made the Seat of War. state of War. state of the State of War. o others of his Friends (and you know as a Snow-ball loses nothing by rolling) so in little time the whole Town was possessed, that they must expect nothing from the Prince but Deftinction; and the ground of the business was this, the Recorder trembled; and the Captains carried it frangley to the Recorder; for many came to see, but when they with their own Eyes did behold the Captains in the Palace, and their Battering Rams ever playing at the Caftle Gates to beat them down; they were riveted in their Fears, and it made them as in a maze. And as I said, the Men of The Office of whoever came to him, or discoussed Confeience when he is a. with him, nothing would he talk of tell them, or hear, but that Death and Deftruction now attended Manfoul.

For (queth the old Gentleman) you are all of for lensible that we all have been Transors to that once despised, but now famously Victorious and Glorious Prime Emanuel, for be now, as you fee doth not only lye is close Siege about us, but bath forced his entrance in a our Gates; moreover Diabolus flies before bim, and be bath as you behold, made of my House a Garrison against the Castle were be is. I for my Part bave Trangressel greatly (and he that is clean it is well for him. ) But, I Jay I have Trang effed greatly, in keeping of filence when I should have ficken, and in perverting of Justice when I should have executed the same True, I baw suffer'd something at the Hands of Diabolus for taking part with the Laws of King Shaddai, but that alas? what will that do! Will that make compensation for the Rebellions and Treasons that I have done, and have suffered without gainsaying, to be committed in the Town. of Mansoul? O I tremble to think what will be the end of this so dreadful and so ireful a beginning?

Now while these brave Captains were thus busie in the Heuse of the old Resorder, Captain Execution was busie in other parts of the Town, in securing the sheet, firects and the Walls. He also hunted the Lord for the result sorely, he suffered him not to rest in any control of the Pursued him so hard that he drove his Men om him and made him glad to thrust his The brave lead into a Hole. Also this mighty War- explois or iour did cut three of the Lord Willbewill's Capt Execu-Officers down to the Ground; one was tion. Ild Mr. Prejudice, he that hadhis Crown crack't in the Autiny; this Man was made by my Lord Tillbewill Keeper of Eas gate, and fell by dice Slave he Hand of Captain Execution. There was lso one Mr. Back-ward to all but nought, and he also vas one of Lord Willbewill's Officers, and was the captain of the twoGuns, that once were mounted on he Top of Ear gate, he also was cut down to the Fround by the Hands of Captain Execution. Betides hele two there was another, a. Third, and his Name ras Captain Treacherous, a Vile Man this was, but one hat Willbewill did put a great deal of confidence in, out him also did this Captain Execution cut down to he Ground with the rest.

He also made a very great Slaughter among my Lord Villbenil's Soldiers, killing many that were Stout and iturdy, and Wounding of many that for Diabelus were nimble and active. But all these were Diabelonians, here was not a Man, a Native of Mansoul hurt.

Other Feats of Warwere also likewise performed by ther of the Captains, as at Eye-gate, were Captain soodbope and Captain Charity had a charge, was great execution done; for the Captain Goodbope with his win Hands, Siew one Captain Blindfold, hopedo. h!ay rasCaptainof a Thousand Men, and they cap. Blindiod rere they that fought with Mauls; he story that fought with Mauls; he so pursued his Men, Siew many, and Wounded

There were also at that Gate Mr. Ill pause, of whom on have heard before, he was an Old Man, and had Beard that reached down to his Girdle, the same ras he that was Orator to Diabolus, he did auch mischief in the Yown of Mansoul, and Ill-pause all by the Hand of Captain Goodbope.

That Mall I say? The Diabolomians in these Days

Tay dead in every Corner, though too many ye alive in Manfoul.

Now the old Recorder, and my The Old Understanding, with some others c Townsmen Chief of the Town, to wit, such as they must stand and fall with the eonfalt. mous Town of Manfoul, came to upon a Day, and after confultation had, did join gree to draw up a Petition, and to fend it to En now while he sat in the Gate of Mansoul, so they up their Petition to Emanuel the Contents w of where this, That they the O The Town. habitants of the deplorable Town of does Petition, foul, confessed their Sin, and were that they had offended his Princely N. fwered with filence. and prayed that he would spare Lives.

Untothis Petition be gave no answer at all, an did trouble them yet so much the more. Now a while the Captains that were in th The Castle corder's House were playing with Gate brake Battering Rams at the Gates of the to beat them down. so after some Labour and Travel, the Gate of the Caftle thi called Impregnable, was beaten open, and broke feveral Splinters; and so a way made to go up Hold in which Diabolus had hid himself, Then Tidings were sent down to Ear-gate, for Emanue abode there, to let him know that a way was in at the Gates of the Caftle of Manfoul, But O the Trumpets at the Tidings founded througho Princes Camp, for that now the War was fo ng end, and Manfoul it felf of being fet free !

Then the Prince arose from the where he was, and took with him of his Men of War as were fitted that Expedition, and marched up Street of Manjaul to the old Recorder's House.

Now the Prince himselfwas Clad all in Arm Cald, and to he marched up the Town, with him and born before him; but he kept his Countenance much referred all the way as he went, fo that the Peo. ple could not tell how to getter to themselves Love or Hatred by his Looks. Now as he marched up the Street, the Towfolk came out at every Door to fee and could not but be taken with his Person, and the Glory thereof, but wondered at the refervedness of his Countenance; for as yet he spake more to them by his. Actions and Works, than be did by Words or Smiles. But also poor Mansoul ( as in such Cases all are apt to. do)they Interpreted the Carriage of Emanuel to them. as did fofeph's Brechten his to them, even How they Inall the quite contrary way: For thought allow they are they if Emmuel Loved us he would thew nucl's Carit to us by Word or Carriage, but none of riage, thefe he doth therefore Emanuel Hates us.

Now if Emanuel Hates us, then Mansout shall be Slain, then Mansout shall become a Dunghill. They knew that they had Transgressed his Father's Law, and that against him they had been in with Diabolus his Enemy. They also knew that the Prince Emanuel knew all this; for they were convinced that he was an Angel of God, to know all things that are done in the Earth, And this made them think that their condition was miserable, and that the good Prince would make them desolate.

And thought they, what time so fit to do this in, as now, when he has the Bridle of Manfoul in his Hand? And this I took special notice of, that the Inhabitants (notwithstanding all this) could not; no, they could not, when they see him march through the Town, but Cringe, Bow, Bend, and were ready to lick the Dust off his Feet. They also wished a Thousand times over, that he would become their Prince and Captain, and would become their Protection. They would also one to another talk of the comelines of his Person, and how much for glory and valour he out stript the great ones of the World But poor Hearts, as to themselves their Thoughts would change and go upon all manner of Exyreams, Yea, through the Working of them backard, and forward, Manfoul became as a Ball tossed

And they faid, he had led Captivity Cap-They Sing. tive, he hath spoiled Principalities and Powers. Disholus is subjected to the Power of the Sword; and made the object of all der fon.

Those also that Rode Resormades, and The Refor- that came down to fee the Battel, shoutmades J. y. ed with that greatness of Voice, and Sung with such Melodious Notes, that they caused them that dwell in the highest orbs to open their Windows, put out their Heads, and look down to fee the capfe of that Glory, Lake 15. 7, 10.

The Townsmen also, so many of them as saw this fight, were as it were aftonished, while The Men of they looked betwixt the Earth and the Manfoul ta- Heavens. True, they could not tell what would be the Issue of things as to them Emanuel. all things being done in such excellent: Methods; and Icannot tell how, but things in the management of them seemed to cast a smile towards the Town, so that their Eyes, their Heads their Hearts, and their Minds, and all that they had, were takens and held while they observed Emanuel's order,

So when the brave Prince had finished this part of his Triumph over Diabolus his Foe, he turned him up. in the midft of his Contempt and Shame, having given him a charge no more to be a Poffesfor of Manioul. Then when he from Emanuel, and out of the midft of his Camp to Inherit the Parched places in a Salt

Land, seeking reft but finding none, Mat 12. 34.

Now Captain Boanerges and Captain Convillien, were both of them Men of very great Majesty, their Pace were like the Faces of Lions, and their Words like the Roaring of the Sea; and they still quartered: in Mr. Conscience's House, of whom mention was made before. When therefore the High and The carriage Mighty Prince had thus far finished his of Boanerges, Triumph over Diabolus, the Townsmen Conviction do had more leifure to view and to behold erushthe Spirit the Actions of these Noble Captains. of Manfoul But the Captains carried it with that cerrour and dread in all that they did (any you may e fure that they had private Instructions so to do) hat they kept the Town under continual Heart aking, nd caused (in their Apprehension), the well being of fanfoul for the future, to hand in doubt before them, that (for some considerable time) they neither new what rest or Ease, or Peace, or Hope meant.

Nor did the Prince himself, as yet, abide in the own of Mansoul, but in his Royal Pavilion in the camp, and in the midft of his Fathers Forces. So at time convenient, he sent special Orders to Captain banerges, to Summons Marfoul, the whole of the Townsmen into the Castle Yard, and then and there efore their Faces, to take my Lord Understanding. dr. Conscience and that Notable one the The Prince ord Willbewill, and put them all Three commands and n Ward, and that they should fet a firong the Captains Suard upon them there, until his Plea. put the three ore concerning them was further known. chief of Man-The which Orders when the Captains and put them in Execution, made no small Addiions to the Fears of the Town of Mansoul: For now otheir thinking, were their former fears of the Ruin f Manfoul confirmed. Now, what Death they should ie, and how lorg they should be in Dying, was that which most perplexed their Headsard Hearts: yea, hey were afraid that Emanuel would comand them all ato the Deep, the Place that the Prince Diabolus was fraid of; for they knew they had deserved it. Also o Die by the Sword in the Face of the Town, and a the open way of Difgrace, from the Hand of so good ndfoHelyaPrince, that (two) troubled them fore, the lown was also greatly troubled for the Men committed to Ward, for that they Manfoul rere their stay and their, guide, and for dittressed hat they believed that if those Men were ut off, their Execution would be but the beginning of the Ruin of the Town of Mansoul. Wherefore what to they, but together, with the Men in Prison, draw pa Petition to the Prince, and sent it to Emanuel

They send a Pention to Emantion to Emandor Mr. Wouldlive. So he went and came to the Prince's Quarters, and presented the Petition: The sum of which was this.

Great and wonderful Potentite, Villor over Diabolus, and conqueror of the Town of Manfoul. We the milerable inhabitants of that most world Corporation, do humbly beg that we may find favour in the sight, and remember not a ainst us former transgression, nor yet the fins of the crief of our Town, but spare us according to the greatness of the merey, and let us not die, but live in the sight: So shall we be willing to be the servants and if thou shall think sit, to gather our meat under the Table. Amen.

They are an fwer'd with Silence.

So the Petitioner went as was faid with his Petition to the Prince, and the Prince took it at his Hand, but fent him away, with Silence. This fiill afflicted the Town of Manfoul, but yet confidering that now they must either petition or die, for new they could not do any thing elfe, therefore they confulted again, and fent another Petition, which was much after the form and method of the former.

And when the Petition was drawn up, by whom should they send it was the next question; for they would not send this by him, by whom they sent the first; (for they thought that the Prince had taken some offence at the manner of his deportment before him)

They petition is they attempted to make Captain Comvision their Messenger with it, but he said, That be neither durst nor would petition Emanuel for Traytors; nor be to the Prince an Advocate for Rebels. Yet withal, said he, our Prince is

They cannot tell by whom to fend it.

They cannot tell by the Hand of one of your Town; provided he went with a Rope about his head and pleaded nothing but Mercy.

Well, they made through fear their delays as long as they could, and longer than delays were good, but fearing at last the dangerousness of them, they thought, but with with many a fainting in their minds, to fend their Po Fit on by Mr. Defires awate; so they fent for Mr. De Bes awake; now be dwelt in a very mean cotrage i Manfoul, and he came at his neighbours request. S they told him what they had done, and what the would do concerning petitioning and that they di Befire of him that he would go therewithtothe Princ Then faid Mr. Defires ewake, why should mot I do the best I can to save so famous Town as Manfoul from deferved deftru- with the P Rion? They therefore delivered the Pe- mion. Eition to him. and told him how he must address himself to the Prince, and wisht him ten tho Aind good speeds. So he comes to the Prince's Pavi on, as the first, and asked to speak with his Majest; So word was carried to Emanuel, and the Prince can wut to the Man. When Mr. Defires awake fawthe Princ The fell flat with his face to the Ground and cried of O'that Mansoul might live before thee! and with that he presented the Petition. The tainment. whichwhenthe Prince hadread he turned away for while and wept, but refraining himfelf turn'd again to the Man (who all this while lay cr ing at his Feet at the first ) and Gid to him, Go ! may to thy Place, and I will confider of thy requests.

Now you may think that they of Manfoul shat h fent him what with guilt, and what with fear, left the Petition should be rejected, could not but leok wi many a long look, and that too with strange workin of Heart, to see what would become of their Petitio At last they saw their Messenger coming back; so when he was come, they asked him how he fared? what Emanuel said? to them that was become of the Petition? sent him.

But he told them that he would be filent till he came to the Prison to my Lord Mayor, my Low Willow M. and Mr. Recorder. So he went forwards wards the Prison house, where the Men of Mansoull bound. But O! what a Multitude flocked after to he what the Messengersaid. So when he wascome, and he thewn himfelfat the gate of the Prison, my Lord Mayor [12] himselflookt as white as a Clout, the Recorder also did quake; but they asked and faid, Come good Sir, who did the great Prince fay to you? Then faid Mr. Defiresawake, when I came to my Lord's Pavilion, I called, and he came forth; fo I fell-proftrate at his Peet, and delivered to him my Petition. ( for the greatness of his Person, and the Glory of his Countenance would not fuffer me to stand upon my Legs. ) Fow as he received the Petition, I cried 0 that Mansoul might live below thee! So when for a while he had looked thereos, he turned him about and faid to his Servant, Gothy way to thy Place again, and I will confider of thy requests. The Messenger added moreover, and said, The Prince w whom you fent me, is such a one for Beauty and Glorgthat whole fees him must both love and fear him: I for my part can do no less, but I known not what will be the end

h'ansoul confounded at the answer.

h'ansoul confounded at the answer.

h'ansoul confounded at the prison, and they that followed the Messenger thither to hear the News, nor knew they what, or what manner of Interpretation to put upon what the Prince had faid. Now when the Prison was cleared of the throng, the Prisoners among themselves began to

The Prisoners Lord Mayor said, that the Anjwer did not judgment up look with a rugged face; but Willbewill Answer. said it betokened Evil.; and the Recorder, that it was a Messenger of Desib. Now they that were left, and that flood behind, and so could not so well hear what the Prisoners said, some of them catcht hold of one piece of a Sentence, and some on a bit of another, some took hold of what the Messenger said

Missiving and some of the Prisoners judgment thereon, so none had the right understanding of things; but you cannot imagine what a confusion there was in Mansal now.

For presently they that had heard what was said flew about the Town, one crying one thing, and another the uite contrary, and both were fure enough they rue, for they did hear they fald with their Ears was faid, and therefore could not be deceived. would say, we must all be killed, another would We must all be saved; and a Third would say, that rince would not be concerned with Mansoul; and urth, that the Prisoners must be suddenly put to And as I said, every one stood to it, that he his tale the rightest; and that all others but he out. Wherefore Manfoul had now Moleftation uplolestation, nor could any Man know on what to the Sole of his Foot; for one would go by now, . as he went, if i cheardhis Neighbour tell histale, to re he would tell the quirecontrary, and both would I in it that he told the Truth. Nay some of them got this Story by the end, That the Prince did into put Manfoul to the Sword. And Manfoul in it begun to be Dark, wherefore ut so far as I could gather by the best information uld get, all this Hubbub came through the Words the Recorder said when he told them, in his Judgment the Prince's answer Guit do?

Mansoul was in sad perplexity all Ferplaity.

Night until next Morning.

a Messenger of Death, 'T was this that

I the I own, and that began the fright in Manfoul; Manfoul in former times did use to count that Mr. rder was a Seer, that his Sentance was equal e best of Oracles: and thus was Manjoul a terror : felt.

.nd now did they begin to feel what was the efof Robborn Religion, and unlawful reliftance aof their Prince. I say they now began to feel the As thereof by guilt and fear that now had swalhd them up; and who more involved in the one they that were most in the other, to wit the chief he Town of Manjoul?

o be brief, when the fame of the They refolve ht wasoutofthe Town, and the Prison to Petition &nadalittlerecoveredthemselves, they Bain.

take to themselves some heart, and think to P the Prince for life again. So they did draw Third Petition; the Contents whereof was the Prince Emanuel the great, Lord Their Petition. Worlds, and Master of Mercy, we s wresched, mijerable, dying Town of Mansoul, do unto thy great and glorious Majesty, that we have against thy Father and Thee, and are no more we be called thy Marsoul, but rather to be cast into 1 If thou will flay us we have deserved it. If thou w demn us to the deep, we cannot but fay thou art Rig We cannot complain whatever thou dost, or however carrielt it towards us. But Ob! let mercy reign let it be extended to us! O let mercy take bo'd ut and free us from our Transgressions, and we will thy Merey, and of thy Judgments. Amen.

Prayer attended with difficulty.

This Petition when drawn up we figned to be fent to the Prince as the but who should carry it, that was the but who should carry it.

ftion. Some faid, let him do it that with the first, but others thought not good to do and that because he sped no better. Now there

Old Good-deed propounded as a fit person to the Name, but had nothing of the carry the Petiton, the Old Recorder opposes it and he is rejected.

Old Man in the Town, and his Nam Mr. Good deed. A Man that bare the Name, but had nothing of the carry the Petiton, the Old Recorder opposes it and he is rejected.

Old Man in the Town, and his Nam Mr. Good deed. A Man that bare we for the Name of the Name

Mercy, wherefore to fend our Petitio
M.m of his Name, will jeem to crofs the Petit felf, foould we make Mr. Good-deed our Mel when our Petition eries for Mercy?

Besides, quoth the old Gentleman, should the now, as he reserves the Petition, ash him, and say is thy Name? And no body knows but he will; should say, old Good deed; what think you, wo mancul say but this; Ay, is old Good deed yet a Mansoul, then let old Good-deed save you from Distresses. And if he says so, I am sure we are to boufand of old Good-deeds fave Manfoul. er the Recorder had given in his Reasons, why 'ood deed should not go with this Petition to Emathe rest of the Prisoners and Chief of Mansoul dit alfo, and fo Old Good deed was laid aride, ey agreed to fend Mr. Defines awake again; fo int for him, and desir'd him that he would a Seime go with their Petition to the Prince, and dily told them he would. But the, bid him that I wise he should take heed that in no W rd or ige he gave offence to the Prince, for by doing ough: we can tell, you may bring Manfoul into leftruction, faid they.

w Mr. Desires-awake, when he saw Mr. Desires ae must go on this errand, befought wake goes and rakes would grant that Mr. Wes. Eyes one Wes-eyes go with him. Now this Wes Eyes with him.

near Neighbour of Mr. Defires, a Man, a Man of a broken Spirit, yet one that could well to a Petition. So they granted that he should th him. Wherefore they address themselves to business; Mr. Defires put a Rope upon his head, 1r. Wet Eyes went with his Hands wringing tor. Thus they went to the Prince's Pavilion. w when they went to Petition this third time, were not without thoughts that by often coming might be a burden to the Prince. Wherefore they were come to the door of his Pavilien, they nade their Apology for themselves, and for their ig to trouble Emanuel fo often; and they faid, they came not hither to day, for that Their Apolo-lelighted to hear themselves talk; but Their Apoloat necessity caused them to come to his coming again. y; they could they said, have no rest or Night, because of their Iransgressions against lai, and against Emanuel bis Son. They also thought ome misbehaviour of Mr. Defires awake, the last might give distaste to his Highness; and so cause be returned from so merciful a Prince empty, and ve counsenance. So when they had made this A-thy Servants are.

DOJOEA

pology, Mr. Desires-awake cast himself profesate upon the Ground as at the first, at the Feet of the might Prince faying, Ob ! that Manfoul might live before shee! To he delivered his Petition. The Prince when having read the Petition, turned a side a The Prince while as before, and coming again to the place were the Petitioner lay on the Ground, he demmanded what his Name was and of what efteem in the account of Manfoul? For that he above all the Multitude in Manfoul, should be fent to him on such an Errand. Then faid the Mante the Prince, O let not my Lord be angry; and wby enjulrest theu after the Name of such a dead Dog as I am? Pase by I pray thee, and take not Notice of whom I am, because there is as thou very well knowest. So great a dispreportion between me and thee. Why the Townsmen choic to fend me on this Errand to my Lord, is best iree Speech to known to themselves, but it could not be, for that they thought that I had favour with his Prince. my Lord For my part I am out of Charity with my self, who then should be in Love with me? Is live I would, and so would I, that my Townsmen sould; and because both they and my self are guilty of great Transgressions, therefore they have sens me, and I am come in their Names to beg of my Lord for Mercy. Let

Then said the Prince, and what is he that is become thy companion in this so Weighty a Mater? So Mr. Defires told Emanuel that he was a poor Neighbour of his, and one of his most intimate Associates, and his Name said he, may it please your most Excellent Majesty, is Wes Eyes of the Town of Mansoul. I know that there are many of that Name that are nought, but I hope that he no Offence to my Lord, that I

it please therefore to incline to Mercy, but ask not what have brought my poor Neighbour with me.

Then Mr. Wei Eyes fell on his face to the Ground, and made this Apology for his coming with his Neighbour to his Lord.

by John Bunyan.

gerd, quoto be, what I am, I my felf, nor whesher my Name Mr. Wet-Eyes my jelf, nor whether my tvame Afology for or true, especially when I begin his coming with his e was given me, because Mr. Re. Neighbour.

e was my Father. Good Men baus ldren, and the fincere do often times beget Hy-My Mother also called me by this Name from lle, but whather because of the moistness of my or because of the softness of my Heart, I cannot see dire in mine own Tears, and Filtbiness in the of my Prayers. But I pray thee ( and all this while mieman wept ) that thou wouldest not remember us our Transgression, nor take offence at the uniedness of thy Servants, but mersifully pass by the Mansoul, and regrain from the glerifying of thy at his bidding they arose, and both stood trembefore him, and he spake to them to this purpose.

e Town of Manfoul bath grievousty The Princes Bed against my Father, in that they Answer.

rejected bim from being their King, did chuse for themselves for their Captain, a Liar, & rderer, and a runagate Slave. For this Diabolus, your pretended Prince, though once so bigbly account. of by you, made Rebellion against my Father and me, m infour Palace and big best Court there, thinking to ome 4 Prince and Ring. But being there Theoriginal rome a reme and apprehended, and for of Diabolus. is Wickedness bound in Chains, and se. arated to the Pit with those that were bis Companions, e offered bimfelf to you, and you have received bim.

Now this is, and for a long time bath been an big affront to my Putber ; wherefore my Fether fent to you E Powerful Army to reduce you to your Obedience. Es ben know bow those Men, their Captains, and the Councils were esteemed of you, and what they received Jeur Hand. You Rebelled against them, you sout go Gates upon them, you bid them Battel, you fought ? and fought for Diabolus against shem. So they we my Father for more Power, and I with my Men a to subdue 30u. But as you treated the Servants so yo ed their Lerd. You stood up in hostile manner ag, you shut up your Gates against me, you turned th Ear to me, and resisted as long as you could; bn have made a Conquest of you. Did you cry to me s ey so long as you had hopes that you might against me? But now I have taken the Town, but why did you not cry before when the White my Mercy, the Red Flag of Justice, and the Bla that threatned Execution, where set up to Cite yo.
Now I have Conquered your Diabolus, you come for Favour; but why did you not bely me agai Mighty? Tet I will consider your Petition, a answer it so as will be for my Glory.

Go bid Captain Boanerges, and Captain Conbring the Prisoners out to me into the Camp to A and say you to Captain Judgment, and Captain tion, stay in the Castle, and take good beed to you that you keep all quiet in Mansoul, until you sh further from me: And with that be turned himse them, and went into his Royal Pavilion again.

So the Petitioners having received this answithe Prince, returned as at the first, to go to the panionsagain. But they had not gone far but the began to work in their Minds, that no Merci was intended by the Prince to Mansoul: So the to the place were the Prisoners lay bound; but workings of Mind, about what would become a foul, had such strong Power over them, that I they were come unto them that sent them, the scarce able to deliver their Message.

But they came at length to the Gates of the (now the Townsmen with earnestness were waitheir return) where many met them to know answer was made to the Petition. Then they cruto those that were sent, what Newsfrom the and what hath Emannes said? But they said the must (as afore) go up to the Prison, and there their Message. So a way they went to the Priso tude at their Heels, now when t Of Inquitite come to the Gates of the Pri- uve Thoughts. y told the first part of Emanuel's Speech to the rs, to wit, how he reflected upon their disloyal-3 Father and himself, and how they had chose. ed with Diabolus, had fought for him, hearknim, and been ruled by him, but had despised i his Men. This made the Prisoners look Pale. Messengers proceeded, and said, Prince, said moreover, that yet be The Meff n. mider your Pesition, and give fuch gers in telling bereto as will stand with his Glory. fight the thefe words were spoken Mr. Wet- Prisoners. e a great figh. At this they were emftruck intotheir Dumps, and could not tell fay; Fear also possest themin marvellousman-I death seemed to sit upon some of their Eye-Now there was in the Company a sharp witted Fellow, a mean Man e, and his Name was Old Inquifitive; a asked the Petitioners if they had told out eit of what Emanuel laid. And they answered, Then faid Inquisitive, I thought so indeed. nat was it more that he said unto you? Then us'd a while, but at last they brought out all, the Prince did bid us bid Captain Boanerges. tain Conviction, bring the Prisoners down to Morrow, and that Captain Judgment and Capeution, should take charge of the Castle and till they should hear further from him. They o. That when the Prince had commanded them to, be immediately turned his Back upon them, into bis Royal Pavilion_ Oh how this return, and especially this last it, that the Prisoners must go out to the Prince into brake all their Loins in Peaces! Wherefore e Voice they fet up a Cry that reached up to vens. Thisdone, each of the three preparedhime, ( and the + Recorder faid unto a Confinence bis was the thing that I feared.)

For they concluded that to Morrow by that the Sun went down, they could be tumbled out of the World. The whole Town also counted of no other, but that in their time and order they must all Drink of the same Cup. Wherefore the Town of Manfoul spent that Night in Mourning and Sackcloth and Ashes. Prisonersalso when the time was come for them to go down before the Prince, dreffed themselves in Mourning Attire, with Ropes upon their Heads. The whole Town of Manfoul also shewed themselves upon the Wall, all Clad in Mourning Weeds, if perhaps the Prince with the fight thereof might be moved, with Compassion. But Oh how the Busie bodies Vain that were in the Town of Manfoul, did now Thoughts. concern themselves! They did run hereand there through the Streets of the Town by Companies, crying out as they ran in Tumultuous wife, one after one manner and another the quite contrary, to the almoft utter diftraction of Manfoul.

Well, the time is come that the Prisoners must go down to the Camp, and appear before the Prince. And thus was the manner of their going down: Captain Boanerges went with a Guard before The Prisoners them, and Captain Conviction came behind, had to Tsyal and the Prisoners went down bound in Chains in the midst; so I say (the Prisoners went in the midst) and the Guard went with slying Colours the midst. Or more particularly thus:

How they went The Prisoners went down all in Mouraing, they put Ropes upon themselves; they went on smiting of themselves on the Breats, but durft not list up their Eyes to Heaven. Thus they went out at the Gate of Mansoul, till they came into the midst of the Prince's Army, the sight and Glory of which did greatly highten their Assistion. Nor could they now longer forbear, but cry out aloud, O Unbappy Man! O mresched Man of Mansoul! Their Chains Aill mixing their dolorous Notes, with the Cryes of the Prisoners, made the noise more Lamentable.

So when they were come to the Door of the Princes Pavilion, they cast themselves proftrate They fell ipon the Place; then one went in and told downproftrate is Lord, that the Prisoners were come before him. lown. The Prince then ascended aThrone of State, and fent for the Prisoners in stwho when they ame, did Tremble before himsalfo they covered their Faces with Shame: Now as they drewneartothe place where he fit, they threw themselves do unbefore him: then said the Prince to the Captain Boanerges hid the Prisoners fland upon their Feet; then they stood trem-Bling before him, and he faid, are you the Men that bereisfore were the Servants of Shaddai? And they faid Yes, Lord yes. Then faid the Prince again, are you she Men that did suffer your selves to be cor rupted and Defiled by that abominable one Diabolus? And they faid, we did more on their tryal than fuffer it Lord ; for we chose it of our mind. The Prince asked further, saying, could you have been contert that your Slavery should bave continued under his tyran-19, as long as you had lived? Then faid the Prisoners. Yes, lordyes; for his ways were pleasing to cu' Flesh. and we were grown Aliens to a better State. And did ron faid be, when I'came up agairst this Town of Mansoul. beartily wish that I mi bt not have the Victory over you? Yes, Lord yes, faid they. Then faid the Prince, and what Purishmens is it think you, that you deferve at ny Hand, for these and other y we high and mighty Sins? And they faid, both Death and the Deep Lord; for me have deferved no less. He asked again, If they had ought In fay for themselves, why the Sentence that they con-Estat that they had deserved, should not be pulled upon bem? And they faid we can fay nothing, Lord; tho a art fuft, for we have Sinned. Then faid They conthe Prince, and for what are these Ro es demn themm your Heads? The Prisoners answered, selves. the+ Ropes are to bend us withal to the Place of Execution, if Mercy he not pleasing in thy fight. Prov, 5. 22. So he further ask'dif all the Men in to Town of Mansoul were in this Confession, as they ? And they answered, all the Natives, Lord; but for the + Diabolonians that came into our Town, when the Tyrant got Possession of u, the Scul. we can lay nothing for them.

Corruptions Then the Prince commanded that an and Lufts. Herald should be called, and that he † AVictory should in the midft, and throughout the Camp of Emanuel proclaim, + and that with found of Trumpet, that the Prince, the Son of sbaddai, had in his Father's Name and for his Father's Blory, gotten a Perfect Conquest and Victory over Manfoul, and that the Prisoners should follow bim and (47, Amen. So this was done as he had commanded. And presently the + Musick that was in the 'i loyfor the upper Region founded melodior fly.

V. Clory. Captains that where in the Camp shouted. and the Soldiers did ting Songs of Triumph to the Prince, the Colours waved in the Wind, and great low was every where, only it was wanting as yet in the Hearts of the Men of Manfoul.

Then the Prince called for the Priloners They are pare to come and to fland again before him, doned and are and they came and flood trembling. And commanded to proclaim it to he faid unto the m, The Sins, Trefpilles iniquities, that you with the whole Town Morrow in Manfoul, bave from time to time commit-ManGul. ted against my Father and Me.

Power and commandment from my Father to forgive to the Town of Mansoul; and do forgive you accordingly, And having so said, he gave them written in Parch ment, and Sealed with seven Seals, a large and general Pardon, commanding both my Lord Mayor, myLord Willbewill, and Mr. Recorder, to proclaim, and cause it to be proclaimed to Morrow by that the Sun is of throughout the whole Town of Manfoul.

Moreover the Prince Stripped the Prion-Their Ragge ers of their Mourning Weeds, and gave are taken them Beauty for Ashes, and the Oyl of from them. For for Mourning, and the Garment

T

Raise for the Spirit of Heaviness, Ita, 61.3.

Then he gave to each of the Three, Jewels of Gold, and precious Stones, and took Affrance away their Ropes, and put Chains of Gold about their Necks, and Ear-rings in their Ears. Now the Prisoners when they did hear the Gracious Words of Prince Emmuel, and had beheld all that was done unto them, fainted almost quite away; for the Grace, the Benefit, the Pardon, was sudden Glorious, and so big. that they were not able withoutflaggeringtofland up under it. Ye, my Lord Willbewill Swoonded outright, but the Prince flept to him, put his everlafting Arms under him, Embrac'd him, Kiffed him, and bid him be of good cheer, for all should be performed according to his Word. He also did Kiss and Embrace. and Smile upon the other two that were Willbewill's Companions, laying, take these as further Tokens of my Love, Favour and Compassions to you: And I charge you, that you Mr. Recorder tell in the Town of Menfoul, what you have heard and feen.

Then were their Fetters broken to pie- Their Guilt ces before their Paces, and cast into the Air, and their steps were enlarged under them. Then they fell down at the Peet of the Prince, and Kissed his Feet, and wetted them with Tears; also they cryed out with a mighty firong Voice, saying, Bleffed be the Glory of the Lord from this place. So they were hid rife up. and go to the Town and tell to Man foul what the Prince had done. He commanded also that one with Pipe and Tabor should go and play before them all the way into the Town Pipele Tabor of Mansoul. Then was fulfilled what they never looked for, and they were made to posses that which they never dreamt of. The Prince also called for the Noble Captain Credence, and commanded that he and some of his Officers should march before the Noblemen of Mansoul, with flying Colours into the Town. He gave allo unto Captain Credence a charge, that about the time that the Recorder did

They are lent home with

C. Credence Guards them. Home. When Fair and Pardon meet together Judgmentand Execution de-MOTE ATTAG the Hears.

zev

read the general Pardon in the Town of Manfor at that very time he should with slying Colours in at Eye gate, with his Ten Thousand at his and that he should so go until he came by th Street of the Town, up to the Castle Gates, an himself should take possession thereof, against his came thither. He commanded moreover that he bid Capt. Judgment and Capt. Execution, to lea strong hold to him, and to withdraw from Manso to return into the Camp with speed unto the I

And now was the Town of Manfoul also del from the Terrour of the first Four Captains and Men.

Well, I told you before how the Priseners we tertained by the Noble Prince Emanuel, and ho behaved themselves before him, and how he them away to their Home with Pipe and Tabor before them. And now you must think that those Town, that had all this while waited to hear or Death, could not but be exercis'd with sadness of and with thoughts that pricked like Thorns. could their Thoughts be kept to any one poin Wind blew with themall this while argreatunce ties, yea their Hearts were like a Balance that ba disquieted with a shaking Hand. Butatlast as the manya long look look'd over the Wall of Manlou. thought that they saw some return to the T and trought again, who should they be too, who they be at last they descern'd that they were the I ers; butcanyouimaginehowtheithearts were fur with wender, especially when they perceived. what equipage, and with what honour they we home! they went down to the Camp in Black they came back to the Town in White; they down to the Camp in Ropes, they came back in (

of Gold; they went down to the Camp A frange Feet in Festers, but came back with fleps enlarged under them; they went a the Camp looking for Death; but they came back thence with afference of Life; they went down

Camp with beaut Hearts, but came back again with Pipe end Tabor playing before them. So foon as they were come to Eye gate, the poor and toccering Town of manfoul adventured to give a shout; and they gave Such a shows as made the Captains in the Princes Army leap at the found thereof. Alas! for them poor Hearts, who could blame them, fince their dead Priends were come to life again? for 'twas to them as Life from the dead, to see the Ancients of the Town of Mansoul to shine in such splendor. They looked for nothing but the Ax and the Block; but behold! joy and gladness, comfort and confulation, and such melodious notes attending of them, that was sufficient to make a sick Man well, Ila. 33. 24. So when they came up they fainted each other welcome: Welcome and bleffed be bethat spared you. They added also, We see it is well with you, but how must it go with the Town of Manfoul? And will it go well with the Town of Mansoul, said they? Then answered them the Recorder, and my Lord Mayor, Oh! Tydings! glad Tydings! good Tydings of good! and of great joy to poor Manfoul! then they gave an other shout that made the Earth to ringagain After this they enquired yet more particularly how things weatin the Camp, and what message they had from Emanuel to the Town. So they told them all passages that had happened to them at the Camp, and every thing that the Prince did to them. This made Manfoul wonder at the Wisdom and Grace of the Prince Emanuel: then they told them what they had received at his Hands for the whole Town of Manfoul. and the Recorder delivered it in these O the joy of Words, Pardon, Parden, Pardon for Man- Pardon or Sin. foul 4 and this shall Mansoul know to Morrow. Then he commanded, and they went and fummoned Manfoul to meet together in the Market-place to Morrow, there to hear their general Pardon read.

But who can think what a turn, what a change what an alteration this hint of things did make in the Countenance of the Town of Manjoul! no Man of Manjoul could fleep that Night for Joy; in every House there was joy and musick, singing and making merry ling and hearing of Emanuel's Happiness, was that Mansoul had to do: And this was the bur all their Song, ob! more of this at the rising Sun! more of this to morrow! Who though yas would one say, that this Day would have been day to us? And who thought, that saw our Prisa down in Irons, that they should his turned in Choins of Gold! yea, the sunger, were by his Mose ed of their Judge, were by his Mose quitted, not for that they were innocent, but Princes Merey, and sent home with Pipe and Tabor

But is this the common Cuftom of Princes? dufe to shew such kind of Favours to Traytors? No is only peculiar to Shaddai, and unto Emanuel h

Now Morning drew on apace, wherefore the Mayor, the Lord Willbewill, and Mr. Recorder down to the Market place at the time that the I had appointed, were the Townsfolk were waiti them; and when they came, they came in that and in that glory that the Prince had put the the day before and the firect was lightned with Glory: So the Mayor, Recorder, and my Lord will drew down to Mousbegate, which was at the er end of the Market-place, because that of olwas the Place were they used to read publick mathematically the market therefore they came in their Robes, and Tabor went before them. Now the eagerness People to know the full of the matter was great Themsener.

The manner of reading the Pardon.

The manner of reading the Pardon.

The manner of reading the for a filence, he read out with a Voice the Pardon. But when he can be can these Words, The Lord, the Lord God mereif gracious, pardoning iniquity transgressions and and to them, all manner of sin and blassbomy shall given, &c. Exod. 34. Mark 3. they could not st but leap for joy. For this you must know, that was conjoined herewith every Man's Name in Seals of the Pardon made a brave flew," the Recorder had made an end of reading the he Townsmen run upon the Walls of n, and leaped thereon for joy, and How they iemselves seven times with their fa the Flesh. rds Emanuel's Pavilion, and shouted I for joy, and faid, Let Emanuellive for ever. order was given to the young men in Manfoul is should ring the Bells for joy (so did ring, and the People fing, and warm ;k go in every House ) in Mansoul, thoughts. the Prince had fent home the The carriage foners of Manfoul with joy, and of the Camp Taber: re commanded his Caphall the Field-Officers and Soldiers through-Army to be ready in that Morning that the should read the Pardon in Mansoul, to do his 'leasure. So the Morning as I have shewed, ne, just as the Recorder had made an end of :hePardon, Emanuel commanded that all the is in the Camp should sound, that the Colours : displayed, half of them upon mount Gracious, of them upon mount Justice. He commandnat all the Captains should shew themselves in Harness, and that the Soldiers out for joy. Nor was Captain Cre. Faith will ough in the Caftle, filent in fuch a not be fihe from the top of the holdshewed Manfoul rith the found of Trumpet to Man- is faved. to the Princes Camp. have I shewed you the manner and way that took to recover the Town of Mansoul from e hand and power of the Tyrant Diabo'us. when the Prince had compleated thefe outward s of bis joy, He again commanded that his and Soldiers should shew unto fome feats of War. So they pre- The Prince dreffed themselves to this work. Graces before with what agility, nimbleness Mansoul.

Men discover their skill in seats of War to the now gazing Town of Manfoul!

They marched, they counter marched, they opened to the righ and left, they divided and subdivided, they closed, they wheeled, made good their front and reer, with their right and left wings, and twenty things more, with They are rawere again, that they took, yea ravified figh of them the bearts that were in Manfoul to bebold it. But add to this, she bandling of their Arms, the managing of their Weapons of War, were marvellous taking to Manfoul and me.

When this adion was over, the whole Town of manfoul came out as one Man to the Prince in the. Camp to praise him, and thank him for his abundant Favour, and to beg that it would rleafe his Grace to come unto Mansoul with his Men, and

They beg that there to take up their Quarters for ever-the Prince and his Men will And this they did in most humble manner, bowing themselves seven times to. dwell with them for ever. the ground before him. Then faid he,

All peace be to you: So the Town came nigh and touched with the hand the top of his Golden Scepter, and they faid, Ob! that the Prince Emanu. el with his Captains and Men of War would dwell in. Manfoul for ever 3 and that his Battering Rams and Slings might be ledged in ber for the use and Service of the Prince, and for the belp and Strength of Manfoul For faid they, we have room for thee, we have room for thy Men, we have also room for thy Weaponsof War, and a place to make a magazine for thy Carriages. Do it Emanuel, and then shalt be King Say and and Captain in Manfoul for ever. Yea, 20hold to it vern thou also according to all the defire of Manfoul. thy foul, and make thou Governouts and Princes under thee of thy Captains and Men of War. and we will become thy Servants, and thy Laws that be our Direction.

Theyadded moreover, and prayed his Majefry to cos-Eder thereof, for laid they if now after all this grace petrower bestowed upon us thy miserable Town of Mansoul, thou houldest withdraw, thou and thy Captains from us, the Town of Mansoul will die. Yea said they, our bleffed Emmuel, if thou shouldst depart from us now, now thou haft done so much good for us, and shewed so much Mercy unto us: what will follow but that our Joy will be as if it had not been, and our Enemies will a second time come upon us with more rage than at the first? Wherefore we beseech thee, O thou the Desire of our Eyes, and the firength and life of our poor Town, accept of this motion that now we have made unto our Lord, and come and dwell in the midft of us, and let us bethy People. Belides, Lord Their Fears, we do not know but that to this Day many Diabolonians may be yet lurking in the Town of: Manfoul, and they will betray us when thou shalt leave us, into the Hand of Diabolus again; and who knows what Defigns, Plots, and Coutrivances have passed betwixt them about these things already: Loth we are to fall again into his horrible Hands. Wherefore let it: please thee to accept of our Palace for thyplace of residence, and of the Houses of the best-Men in our Town. for the reception of thy Soldiers, and their Furniture,

Then said the Prince, If I come to your Town, will you suffer me surfer to Question to prosecute that which is in my Heart 4-Mansoul. gainst mine Eucmies and yours? Yea, will you belp me in such Undertakings?

They answered, We know not what Their Answer we shall do, we did not think once that we should have been such Traytors to Shaddai as we have proved to be: What then shall we say to out Lord? Let him put no trust in his Saints, let the Prince dwell in our Cestle, and make of our Town a Garrison; let him set his noble Captains, and his Warlike Soldiers over us. Tea, let him Conquer us with his Love, and overcoments with his Grace, and then surely shall be be with us, and belp us, as he was, and did that Merning that our Rardon was read unto us, we shall comply with this our Lord, and with his ways, and fall in with his word want the Mighty.

One Word more, and thy Scrvants have a in this will trouble our Lord no wore. We she depth of the Wisdom of thee our Prince. It have thought that had been ruled by his Reason much sweet as we do now enjoy, should have of those hister Tryals wherewith we were trists? But Lord, let light go before, and let laster: Yea, take us by the Hand, and lead a Counsels, and let shis always abide upon us, things shall be for the best for thy servants, an aur Mansoul, do as it pleasets thee. Or, Lora our Mansoul, and do what thou wilt, so thou I from Sinning, and makest us serviceable to the Then said the Prince to the

He consenteth Mansoul again, Go return to you to dwell in in Peace, I will willingly in the Mansoul, and promiseth to with your Defires. I will remove come in to Pavilion, I will draw up my Foremore, when the state to Marrow and so me morrow. Eye gate to Morrow, and so we forwards into the Town of Main will possess myself of your Castle of Mansoul set my soldiers over you; yea, I will yet do Mansoul that cannot be paralles d in any Natio try or Kingdom under Heaven.

Then did the Men of manfoul give a shout turned unto their Houses in Peace; they all their Kindred and Friends the good that had promised to Mansoul. And to Morsow, so he will march into our Town, and take up I ling, he and his Men in Mansoul.

Manfouls preparation for his reception.

Then went out the Inhabitants of the town foul with hafte to the green Tr to the Meadows to gather Bon Flowers therewith to firew the against their Prince the Son o

Mould come; they also made Garlands, and o Works, to betoken how joyful they were, are be to receive their Emmuel into Mansoul? I firewed the Street quite from Eye-2 are to the place where the Prince should be.

so prepared for his coming what Musick the Town of Manfoul would afford, that they might play before him to the Palace of his Habitation.

So at the time appointed, he makes his approach to Manfoul, and the Gates were let open for him; there also the Ancients and Elders of Mansoul met him to falute him with a thousand Welcomes, Then he arose and entred Manfoul, he and all his Servants. I'he Elders of Manfoul did allo go dancing before him, till he came to the Castle gates. And this was the He enters the manner of his going up thither. He was Town of Manclad in his golden Armour, he rode in foul, and how. his royal Chariot, the Trumpets founded about bim, the Colours were display'd, his tenthousands went up at his Beet, and the Elders of Manfoul danced before him. And now were the Walls of the famous Town of Manfoul filled with the Tramplings of the Inhabitants thereof, who went up thither to view the approach of the bleffed Prince and his royal Army. Also the Casements, Windows, Balconies, and Tops of the Houses were all now filled, with Persons of all sorts, to behold how their! Town was to be filled with good.

Now when he was come to far into the Town as too the Recorder's House, he commanded that one should go to Captain Credence, to know whether the Castle of Mansout was prepared to entertain his Royal Presence, (for the Preparation of that was left to thes Captain) and Word was brought that it was, Alts 14. 9. Then was Captain Credence commanded also to come forth with his Power to meet the Prince, the which was as he had commanded done, and he conducted him into the Castle, Epb. 3.17. This done, the Prince that Nightedid lodge in the Castle with his mighty Captains and Men of War, to the Joy of the Town of Mansoul.

Now the next care of the Townsfelk was how the Captains and Soldiers of the Prince's Army should be Quartered among them, and the care was not how they should first their Hands of them, but how they should fill their Houses with them; for every Man of Manfoul.

The Towns men covet who that belong to the Prince.

Manfoul now had that effects of I and his Men, that nothing grieve than have most more, than because they were noten of the Soldiers enough every one of them to rece whole Army of the Prince: yea counted it their glory to be waiti on them, and would in those Days run at the ding like-Lackies. At last they came to this t That Captain Immovency were Quarter quarter at Mr. Reafens. ed in the Fown

2. That Captain Patience should ter at: Mr. Minds. This Mr. Mi. formerly the Lord Willbewills C fime of the Rebellion.

a. It was order'd that Captain Charity hould ter at Mr. Affections House.

4. That Captain Goodbope should quarter at my Mayor's. Now for the House of the Recorder. I defired, because his House was next to the Cast because from him it was ordered by the Prince if need be, the Alarm should be given to Manse was I say, defired by him that Captain Box and Captain Conviction should take up their Qu with him, even they and all their Men.

5. As for Captain Judgment and Captain tion, my Lord Willbewill took them and their to him, because he was to rule under the Prin the good of the Town of Manford now, as he h fore under the Tyrant Diabolus for the hurt as mage thereof, Rom 6. 19, Epb. 2. 17.

6. And throughout the rest of the Town were tered Emanuel's Forces; but Captain Credence wi Men abode fill in the Caftle. So the Prince, his tains, and his Soldiers were lodged in the To Mansoul.

Now the Ancients and Elders of the Town of M thought that they never should med with their enoughofthe Prince Emanuel; his P Prince Ems- his Actions, his Words and Behr Duels. were to pleasing, so taking, so d of Mansoul was his place of Residence (and they that he might dwell there for ever (yet that he often visit the Streets, Houses, and People of ul. For said they, Dread Sovereign, thy Prethy Looks, thy Smiles, thy Words, are the Life, strength, and Sinews of the Town of Nansoul, sides this, they craved that they might have with ifficulty or interruption, continual is unto him, so for that very purtice.

he commanded that the Gates cess unto him. Id flard open )that they might there see the manof his Doings, the Fortifications of the Place, and Royal Mansion-House of the Prince.

When he spake, they all Ropped their They karn of

ouths, and gave Audierce; and when him. : Walked, it was their Delight to imi-te him in his Goings.

Now upon a time Emanuel made a Feaft for the own of Man'oul and upon the Feafting Day, the l'ownsfolk were come to the Caffle to partake of his Barquet. And te Feaffed th m with all manner of Outlandish Food, Food that grew not in the Fields of Manfoul, nor in all the whole Kingdom of Universe It was Food that came from his Father's Court, and to the e was Difh after Difh Promite. fet before them, and they were command ed freely to Eat. But fill when a fresh Dish was set! fore them, they would whileeringly fay to each oth What is it? For they wish not what to call it, Ex-16. 15. They drunk also of the Water that Prave was made Wine; and were very Merry terrain with him. There was Mufick alo all the white at the Table, and Man did eat Angels Food had Hency given him out of the Rock; so Ma did eat the Pood that was peculiar to the Court. they had now thereof to the full, P[al. 78 24, :

I must not for get to tell you, that as at this? there were Musicians; so they were not those country, nor yet of the Town of Massoul;

upon his Wats and Doings with Ma were the Mafters of the Songs that were Sung Court of Sheddai.

Now after the Feast was over, Emmuel was tertaining the Town of Mansoul with some c Riddles. Riddles of Secrets drawn up by his Fa Secretary, by the Skill and Wisdom of dai; the like to these there is not in any Kingdom The Holy Kriptuter.

The Holy Riddles were made upon Kingdom Kriptuter.

Emanuel also Expounded unto them some of Riddles himself, but on how they were lightned saw what they never saw, they could not have the that such Rarities could have been couched in and such ordinary Words I told you before whon Riddles did concern; and as they were opened People did evidently see twas so. Yea they did g that the things themselves were a kind of a Paure, and that of Emandel himself; for when the in the Scheme where the Riddles were writ, and ed in the Face of the Prince, things look is to in one to the other, that mansoul could not sorbe:

fay, This is the Lamb, this is the Sacrifice, this Rock, this is the Red Cow, this is the Door, an is the Way; with a great many other things mi And thus he dismissed the Town of Manfoul. can you imagine how the People of the Corpo were taken with his Entertainment The end of they were Transported with Joy, they saw and understood, and considered what Emanuel entertained them withal, and what My he opened to them; and when they were at he their Houses, and in their most retired Places, could not but Sing of him, and of his Actions. so taken were the Townsmen now with their P is might be most pleasing to him, and that might best stand with the profit and Security of the now flourishing Town of Mansoul. He provided also against in-urrections at home, and invasions from abroad; such love had be for the samous Yown of Mansoul.

Manfoul must Emanuel to new model the Town of foul; and to put it into fuch a co

Wherefore he first of all commanded hat the great Slings that were brought The Infirmrom his Father's Court when he came mounted. o the War of Minfoul, should be mounted ome upon the Passlements of the Castle, some upon he Towers for there were Towers in the Town of Manout, Towers new built by Emanuel finca he came this ther. There was also an Inftrument inrented by Emanuel, that was to throw A nameless stones from the Caftle of Marfoul, out Rrument in at Mouth-gate; an Instrument that could Mansoul. not be resisted, nor that could mis of Ex. ecution; wherefore for the wonderful Exploits that it lid when used, it went without a Name, and it was committed to the care of, and to be managed by the brave Captain, the Captain Credence in case of War. This done, Emanuel called the Lord Willbewill to him, and gave him in command-ment to take care of the Gates, the Wall, and Towers in Manfoul: Also the Prince gave himthe Milinia into his Hand, and a special charge to withfland all Infurrections and Tumults that might be made in Mansoul against the Peace of our Lord the King and the Feace and Tranquility of the Town of Manfoul. He also gave him in Commission, that is he found any of the Diabolonians lurking in any Corner of the Famous Town of Mansoul, he should forthwith apprehend them, and flay them, or commit themto fafe cuftody, that they may be proceeded against according to Law.

Then he called unto him the Lord Under. My Lord standing, who was the old Lord Mayor, he Mayor put that was put out of place when Diabolus into place. took the Town, and put him into his former Office again, and it became his place for his Life time. He bid him also that he should build him a Palace near Energy are and that he should build it in fashion like a Toxet for a defence. He bid him also that he should read in the Revelations of Mysteries all the Days of his Life, that he might know how to perform his Office aright.

Mr. Knowledge the Remade Recorder, not of contempt to old Mr. (modeled and make who had been Recorder before; but for that it was in his Princely Mind to confer upon Mr. Confeience another Employ; of which he told the old Gentleman he should know more hereafter.

Then he commanded that the Image of Disolus should be taken down from the place where it was set up; and that they should destroy it uter-the Prince and his Father set up again in and that the Image of Ibaddai his Father should be set up again, with his own, upon the Castle Gates. And shat it should be more fairly drawn than ever; for as much as both its Father and h mielf were cometo Menfordinmore Grace and Mersy than heretofore, Rev. 22. 4. He would also that his Name should be fairly engraven upon the front of the Town, and that it should be done on the best of Gold for the Honour of the Town of Manfoul.

After this was done, Emanuel gave out a Command. ment that those three greaft Diab loniums should be apprehended, namely the Two late Lord Mayors, to wit, Mr Incredulity, Mr Lustings and Mr. Forget good, the Recorder. Besides these, there were

Some Diabel. fome of them that Diabolus made Burted to Prifon under the hand were committed to Ward by the hand of of Mr. True—the now Vallant; and now right Noble; mantheke:per the brave Lord Willbewill.

And these were their Names, Alderman Atheism, Alderman Hard-Heart, and Alderman False Peace. The Burgestes were Mr. No truth, Mr. Pittless, Mr. Hangher, with the like. These were committed to closen cu. Hody; and the Goaler's Name was Mr. True man; this Irus.

man was one of those that Emanuel brought with from his Pather's Court, when at first he made ar upon Diabolas in the Town of Mansoul. feer this, the Prince gave a charge Diabolus frong the three firong Holds that at the Hilds pulled mand of Diabolus the Diabolonians down. in Manfoud, should be demolished and cly pulled down; of which Holds and their Names, their Captains and Governors, you read a little be-But this was long indoing, because of the largeness e Places, and because the Stones, the Timber, the Iand all rubbish wasto be carried without the Town. then this was done, the Prince gave A Court to be rithat the Ed. Mayor and Alder, called to try of Manfoul, should call a Court of the Diabolocature, for the Tryal and Execution of mians. Diabolonians in the Corporation now er the charge of Mr. True man the Goaler. low when the timewas come, and the rtlet, Commandment was lent to Mr. The Princers brought to the man the Goaler to bring the Prifo Bar. idown to the Bar. Thenwere the Prirs brought down, piuion'd and chain'd together, as ruftom of the Town of Manfoul was. So when they e presented before the Lord Mayor, the Recorder, the reft of the Honourable Bench. The Jury im-t, the Jury was Impanell d and then panelled, and Witnesses (worn. The Names of the Witnesses (worn. y were these, Mr. Belief, Mr. Truet, Mr. Upright, Mr. Hate bad, Mr. Love-God, Mr. Truth, Mr. Heaven'y mind, Mr. Moderate, Mr.

rble. 'he Names of the Witnesses were Mr. Know-all, Tell true, Mr. Hate-lies, with my Lord Willbeand his Man, if need were.

reful, Mr. Good-work, Mr. Zeal for God, and Mr.

o the Prisoners were set to the Bar, then Do-right Mr. Do right (for he was the Town- the Clerk, rk) set Asbeisin to the Bar, Goaler. So vas let to the Bar. Then faid the Clerk, Atheism. Atheism set to ded up thy Hand. Thou are here andithe Bar, his ded by she Name of Atheism (an instuder Indistance. upon the Town of Mansoul) for that the maintained that there is no Ged, and so no beed to be taken to Religion. This thou hast done against the Being, Honour, and Glory of the King, and against the Peace and Sasety of the Town of Mansoul. What segment are show guilty of this Indiament, or not?

Gry s, Call Mr. Know-all, Mr. Tell-true, and Mr.

Frate lies, into the Court.

5% they were called, and they appeared.

lerk. Then faid the Clerk, You the Witnesses for the King, look upon the Prisoner at the Bar, do you know him?

Know. Then said Mr. Know-all, Yes my Lord, we know him, his Name is Asheism, he has been a very pestilent Fellow for many Years in the miserable Town of Mansoul.

Clerk. You are fure you know bim.

Know. Know him! Yes my Lord, I have heretofore too often been in his Company, to be at this time ignorant of him. He is a Diabolonian; the Son of a Diabolonian, I knew his Grandfather and his Father.

Clerk. Well said: He standeth here institled by the Name of Athensia, Sc. And is charged that he hat maintained and taught that there is no God, and so no heed to be taken to any Religion. What say you the King's Witnesses to this? Is he guilty or not?

Know. My Lord, I and he were once in Villaini-Lane together, and he at that time did briskly talk of divers Opinions, and then and there I heard him fay, That for his part he did believe that there was no God. But, faid he, I can professione, and be as religious too if the Company I am in, and the circumstances of other things, said he, shall put me upon it.

Clerk: You are sure you have heard him say thus.

Know. Upon mine Oath I heard him say thus.

Then said the Clerk, Mr. Tell-true, What say you to

's Judges, tousbing the Prisoner at the Bar? ly Lord, I formerly was a great Companion of the which I now repent me and I have often m fay, and that with very great Romachfulness :lievedthetewasneitherGod, Augel, norSpirit. Where did you bear bim say so? In Blackmousb lane, and in Blasphemers-row, any other places besides.

Have you much knowledge of bim? know him to be a Diabolonian, the Son of a tian, and an horrible Man to deny a Deity; his sName was Never-be good, and he had more n than this Arleism. I have no more to say. Mr. Hate-lies look upon the Prisoner at the iou knew bim ?

My Lord, this Asheifm is one of the Vilest les that ever I came near, or had to do with in . I have heard him fay that there is no God a heard him fay that there is no World to come. nor Punishment heareafter: And moreover, I eard him fay, that 'twas as good to go to a house, as to go to hear a Sermon.

. Where did you bear him fay thefe things?

. In Drunkards row, juft at Rafcals lanes end. onse in which Mr. Impiety liv'd.

. Set bim by Goaler, and set Mr. Luftings to Lustings, thou are here Indicated by Lustings for one of Lustings (an Intruder upon to the Bar. m of Manfoul) for that thou baft to the Bar. bly and Traiteroufly taught by practice and Filthy that it is lawful and profitable to Man : way to his Carnal defires, and that His Iudich or thy part bast not, not never wilt deself of any Sinful delight as long as thy Name is gs, How sayest thou, art thou guilty of this Inis or not ? . Then said Mr. Lustings, My Lord,

Man of high Birth, and have been used foresandpastimes, and greatness. I have not bee wont to be fould for my doings, but have been left: follow my will as if it were Law. And it feems ftrange to me that I should this day be called into question for that, not only I, but almost all Men do either secretly or openly countenance, love and approve of it.

Clet. Sir we concern not our selves with your greatness ( thought the higher the better you should have been ) but we are concerned, and so are you now, about an indistance preferred against you. How say you, are you guilty of it, or not?

Luft. Not guilty.

Cler. Cryer, call upon the Witnesses to stand forth, and give Evidence s.

Cryer, Gentlemen, you the Witnesses for the King, come and give in your Evidence for our Lord the King, against the Prisoner at the Bar.

Cler. Come Mr. Kniw all, look upon the Prisoner at the Bar, do you know him?

Know. Yes my Lord, I know him.

Cler What's his Name?

Know. His Name is Luftings, he was the Son of one Beaftly, and his Mother bare him in Fiesh street, she, was one Evil Concupiscence's Daughter. I knew all the Generation of them.

Cler. Well said. You have here heard his Indiament what say you to it, is he guilty of the things charged against bins or not?

Know. My Lord, he has, as he faith, been a great Man indeed; and greater in Wickedness than by Pedigree, more than a Thousand-fold.

Cler. But what do you know of his particular Adions, and especially with reference to his Indiament.

Know. I know him to be a Swearer, a Lyar a Sabbath breaker; I know him to be a Fornicator, and an unclean Person; I know him to be guilty of abundance of Evils. He has been to my Knowledge a very Filthy Man.

Cler. But where did be use to commit his Wickednesses, in some private Corners, or more open and spameksly?

Know. All the Town over, my Lord.

Cler.

Cier. Come Mr. Tell true, what have you to fay for ur Lord the King, against the Prisoner at the Bat? Tell. My Lord, all that the first Witness has said, I sow to be true, and a great deal more besides.

Cler. Mr. Lustings, do you hear what these Gentle-ica fay?

Luft. I was ever of Opinion, that the happiest life at a Man could live on Earth, was to keep himself tack from nothing that he desired in the World; nor twe I been salse at any time to this Opinion of mine, it have lived in the love of my notions all my Days, or was I ever so Churlish, having found such sweets in them my self, as to keep the Commendations them from others.

Cours. Then faid the Court, There bash proceeded ough from his own Mouth to lay him open to Communition, wherefore fet him by, Goaler, and fet Mr. icredulity to the Bar.

Incredulity fet to the Bar.

Cler. Mr. Incredulity, thou art here Indiced by the ame of Incredulity (an intruder upon the Town of Manul) for thou hast seloniously and wickedly, and that hen thou wers an Officer in the Town of Mansoul, made ad against the Captains of the great Shaddai, when ey came, and demanded possession of Mansoul; yea thou is this defiance to the Name, Forces, and cause of the ing, and didst also, as did Diabolus thy epsain, stir up and encourage the Town of ment. lansoul to make head against, and resist the id force of the King. What sayest thou to this Indicent, art thou guilty or not?

Then faid Incredulity, I know not Shad- His Ples.

i; I loved my old Prince, I thought it my ty to be true to my truft, and to do what I could possess the Minds of the Men of Mansoul, to do leir utmost to relist Strangers and Foreigners, and ith might to fight against them. Nor have I, nor shall change mine Opinion for fear of Trouble, though ou at present are possessed of Place and Power.

to the Mr. Forget good to the Bar.

Forget good fet to the Bar.

Cler. Mr. Forget-good, thou art bere Indisted l Name of Forget-good an intruder upon the Town of l soul, for that thou when the whole Affairs of the of Mansoul were in the Hand, didst u of Mansoul were in thy Hand, didst us

His Indiament. didst fall in with the Tyrant Diabolus as Shaddal the King. against his Cancine and a Shaddal the King, against his Captains, and a Host, to the dishenour of Shaddal, the breach of Law, and the endangering of the destruction of the mous Town of Mansoul. What sayes thou to the diffment, art thou guilty or not guilty?

His Piea. Then faid Forget-good, Gentlemen, at this time my Judges, as to the Indicate by which Island by several Crimes accorded before pray attribute my so getfulness to my age, am to my wilfulness: to the craziness of my brain, not to the carlefness of my mind, and then I h may by your Charity be excused from great Pu ment, though I be guilty.

Then said the Court, Forget good, Forget-good, forgetfulness of good was not simply of frailty, be purpose, and for that thou didst loath to keep verthings in thy mind. What was had thou could tain, but what was good thou couldst not abide to

er. Mr. Know-all, what can you fey for our Lord ing, against the Prisoner at the Bar?

10m. My Lord, I know this Man well, he is a Disian, the Son of a Diabolonian, his Father's Name love-nought, and for him I have often heard him That he counted the very Thoughts of Goodness nost burdensome thing in the Word, er. Where have you heard him fan these Words?

10m. In Field lane, right opposite to the Church. nen faid the Clerk, Come. Mr. Tell-true, give in Evidence concerning the Prisoner at the Bar, about for which he stands here, as you see, Indicted bebis bonourable Court.

7. My Lord, I have heard him often fay, He had er think of the vileft thing, than of what is con-

ed in the Holy Scriptures.

et. Where did you hear him fay fuch grievous words? L Where? in a great many places; particularly suseous street, in the House of one Shameless, and !tb-lane, at the Sign of the Reprobate, next Door e Descent into the Pit.

Gentlemen, you bave beard the Indiament. lea, and the testimony of the Witnesses.

paler, set Mr. Hard beart to the Bar.

He is fet to the Bar.

cr. Mr. Hard-beart, thou art bere indicted by the of Hard heart, (an intruder upon the Town of Manfor that thou didst most desperately and wickedly the Town of Mansoul with impenisency and obdu-:s, and didst keep them from remorse and sorrow for evils, all the time of their apostasse from, and rebelgainst the blessed King Shaddai. What sayest thou s Indiament. art thou guilty, or not guilty?

wd. My Lord I never knew what remorfe or formeant in all my Lite: I am impenetrable, I care ) Man; not can I be pierced with Mens griefs groans will not enter into my Heart; whomever chief, whomever I wrong, to me it is Mulick, to others Mourning.

ut. You see the Man is a right Diabolonian, and bas convided binfelf. Set bim by, Goaler, and set Mr. False peace to the Bar.

False peace fet to the Bar.

Mr. False peace, Thou are there indicted by the name of False peace (an intruder upon the Town of Mansoul) for that thou did most wickedly and saturnically bring, hold, and keep the Town of Mansoul, both in her appliase, and in her bellish rebellion, in a false, groundless and dangerous peace, and dannable security, so the dishonour of the King, the transgression of his Law and the great damage of the Town of Mansoul. What syest thou, are thou quity of this Indictment, or not?

Then said Mr. Faise peace, Gentlemen, and you now appointed to be my Judges, I acknowledge that my name is Mr. Peace, but that my Name is Falle peace, I utterly deny. If your Honours should please He denies to fend for any that do intimately know me, or for the Midwife that laid my Mother of me, or for the Gossips that were at my Christening; they will any, or all of them prove that my name is not False-peace but Peace. Wherefore I cannot plead to this Indictment, for as much as my name is not inferted therein, and as is my true name, so also aremy conditions. I was always a Man that loved to live at quiet, and what I loved my felf, that I thought others might love also. Wherefore when I faw any of my neighbours to labour under adisquieted mind, I endeayour'd to help them what I could ; and inftances of this good temper of mine, many I could give: As,

t. When at the beginning our Town of Munfoul did decline the ways of Sbaddai, they fome of them afterwards began to have disquieting reslections upon themselves for what they had done; but I, as one troubled to see them disquieted, presently sought out means to get them quier again.

2. When the ways of the old World, and of Solom, were in fashion; if any thing happened to molest those that were for the customs of the present times, I laboured to make them quiet again, and to cause them to all without molestation.

3. To come nearer home, when the Wars fell out between Shaddai and Diabolus, if at any time I saw any of the Town of Mansoul assaid of destruction, Iostenused by some way, device, invention or other, to labour to bring them to peace again. Wherefore since I have been always a Man of so vertuous a temper, as some say a peace maker is, and if a Peace-maker be so deserving a Man as some have been bold to attest he is; then let me Gentlemen, be accounted by you, who have a great Name for Justice and Equity in Mansoul, for a Man that deserveth not this inhumane way of treatment, but liberty, and also a Licence to seek damage of those that have been my Accusers.

Then said the Clerk. Cryer, make Proclamation.

Cryet. O yes, for as much as the Prisoners at the Bar bath denied his Name to be that which is mentioned in the Indistment, the Court requireth that if there he any in this place that can give information to the Court of the original and right name of the Prisoner, they would come forth and give in their Evidence; for the Prisoner stands upon his own innocency.

Then came two into the Court, and defired that they might have leave to speak what they knew concerning the Prisoner at the Bar; the Name of the one was search srub, and the Name of the other Vouch truth to the Court demmanded of these Meta is they knew the Prisoner, and what they could say concerning him, for he stands, said they, upon his own Vindication?

Then faid Mr. Scareb truth, My Lord. Court. Hold, give him hisOath, thenthey fwore him. So he proceeded

Jearch. My Lord, Iknow, and have known this man from a child and can atteft that his name is False peace. I knew his Father, his name was Mr, Flatterer, and his mother before she was married was called by the name of Mrs. South up; and these two when they came togegether, lived not long without this Son, and when he was born, they called his name False peace. I was his playfellow, only I was somewhat older than he; and when his Mother did use to call him home from his play, she sed to say, False peace, False peace, come home quick

 $G_3$

Then Mr. Verch erreb was called

Then Mr. Vouch truth was called what he knew of him. So they swa Then faid Mr. Vouch truth, My Le former Witness hath said, is true; he peace, the Son of Mr. Flasterer, and in Mother. And I have in former angry with those that called him an False peace, for he would say that a and nick-name him, but this was in Mr. False peace was a great Man, an bolonious were the brave Men in Man.

Court. Gentlemen, you have bea Men have fwoon against the Prisoner now Mr. False peace to you, you have to be False peace, yet you see that the sworn that this is your name. As to y you are quite besides the matter of you are not by it charged for evil doing, beca of Peace or a Peace-maker among but for that you did Wickedly and I keep, and hold the Town of Mansoul, mastacr from. and in its Rebellion as vithout this Foundation, is grounded upon a Lye, and s both descripul and damnab'e; as also the great Shadla kath said: thy Plea therefore has not delivered bee from what by thy Indiament thou are charged with, us rather it doth fasten all upon thee.

But thou shall have very fair play, let us call the Vitnesses that are to testifie, as to matter of fact, and to what they say to have to say for our Lord the King against be Prisoner at the Bar?

Cler. Mr. Know all, what say you for our Lord the King, against the Prisoner at the Bar ? #.

Know-MyLord, this Man bath for a long time made to my Knowledge, his business to keep the Town of Manfoul in a sinful quietness, in the midst of all her Leudness. Filthiness and Turmoils, and hath said, and that in my hearing, Come, come, let us sly from all rouble, on what ground sever it comes, and let us be for a quiet and peaceably Life, though it wanteth a good Foundation.

Cler. Come Mr. Hate lies, what have you to fay?

Hate. My Lord, I have heard him fay, that Peace, though in a way of Unrightcounces, is better than Trouble with Truth.

Cler. Where did you bear bim fay this?

Hate. I heard him say it in Folly yard, at the House of one Mr. Simple, rext door to the Sign of the Self-deceiver. Yea he hath said this to my Knowledge

Twenty times in that place.

Cler. We may spare farther Witness, abis Evidence is plain and full. Set bim by Goal-r, and let Mr. No truth to the Bar. Mr. No to the Bar. truth, thou art here Indicted by the Name of No-truth. (an Intruder upon the Town of Mansoul) for that thou hast always, to the dishonour of Shaddai, and the endangering of the utter ruin of the famous Town of Mansoul set thy self to desace, and utterly to spoil all the remainders of the Law and Image of Shaddai that have been found in Mansoul, after her deep apostage from her King, Diaholus, the envious Tryans. What spelf thou, art thou guilty of this Indictment, or no

No truth. Not guilty, my Lord.

Then the Witnesses were called. and Mr. Know al did first give in his Evidence against him.

Know. My Lord, this Man was at the pulling down of the Image of Shaddai; yea, this is he that did it with his own Hands. I my felf flood by and saw him do it, and he did it at the commandment of Diabetus. Yea, this Mr. No true b did more than this, he did also fet up the horned Image of the beast Diabetus, in the same place. This also is he that at the bidding of Diabetus did rend and tear, and cause to be consumed all that he could of the remainers of the Law of the King, even what ever he could lay his hands on in Manson.

Cler. Who faw him do this befides your felf?

Hate. I did my Lord and so did many others besides: for this was not done by stealth, or in a corner but in the open view of all, yea, he chose himself to do it publickly for he delighted in the doing of it.

Cler. Mr. No-truth, how could you have the face to plead not guilty, when you where fo manifestly the doc-of all this Wickednes's?

No-tr. Sir, I thought I must say something, and as my Name is, so I speak: I have been advantaged thereby before now, and did not know but by speaking No truth, I might have reaped the same benefit now.

Cler. Set kim by Goalet, and set Mr. Pityless to the Bar. Mr. Pityless, thou art bere indicted by the Name of Pityless, (an intruder upon the Town of Mansoul) for that thou didst most traiterously and wickedly shut up all Bowels of Compassion, and would not suffer poor Mansoul to condole her own misery, when she had apostatized for her rightful King, but didst evade, and at all times turn her mind away from those shoughts that had in them a tendency to lead her to Repentance. What sayelf thou to this Indistment! Guilty or not guilty?

Not guilty of Pitylefsness, all I did was to Cheer up, according to my Name, for my Name is not Pityless but Cheer up; and I could not abide to see Mansfeel

Incline to Melancholy,

Clerk. How! do you deny your Name, and say it is is, but Chear-up? Call for the Witnesse: the Witnesles to this Plea?

w. My Lord, his Name is Pitylefs; so he hath imself in all Papers of concern, wherein he has do. But these Diabolonians love to counterzir Names: Mr. Coveterusness covers himself he Name of good Husbandry, or the like; Mr. an when need is, call himself Mr. Neat. Mr. me, or the like, and fo of all the rest of them.

c. Mr. Tell true, what say you?

His Name is Pitalels my Lord: I have known om a Child. & he hath done all that Wickedness of he flands charged in the Indictment; but is a Company of them that are not acquainted he danger of Damning, therefore they call all Melancholy that have serious Thoughts how tate should be shunned by them.

r. Set Mr. Haughty to the Bar, Goaler hty, Thou are bere Indicted by the Name of Haughn Intruder upon the Town of . Manfoul ) for that idst most Trayterously and Devilisbly teach the Mansoul, to carry it leftily and stoutly against nmons that were given them by the Captains of the ihaddai. Thou didft also reach the Town of Manr freak contemptously and villifyingly of ing Shaddai; and didft moreover encourage, both ds and Examples, Mansoul to take up Arms both the King, and his Son Emanuel. How: [17eft rt thou guilty of this Indiffment, or not?

gb. Gentlemen, I have always been a Man of ge and Valour, and have not used when under atest Clouds to-sneak or hang down the Head Bul.ush; nor did it at all at any time please me Men veil their Bonnets to those that have opthem. Yea, though their Adversaries seemed to Ten times the advantage of them. I did not use ider who was my Poe, for what the cause was in I was engaged. Twas enough to me if I cirried ely, Fought like a Man, and came off a Victor. t. Mr. Haughty, you are not here Indicated 10 that you have been a Valiant Man, nor for your me rage and stourness in times of Distress, but for that 1th bave made use of this your pretended Valour to ditte she Town of Mansoul into Acts of Rebellion, both again the great King and Emanuel bis Son. This is the Crime, and the thing wherewith thou art charged in and by the Indiament. But he made no answer to that.

The Voly War,

Now when the Court had thus far proceded against the Prisoners at the Bar, then they put them over to the Virdiet of their Jury, to whom they did apply themselves after this manner.

146

Court. Gentlemen of the Jury, you bave been bere and have seen these ment you have beard their india ments, their Pleas, and what the Witnesses bave testi fied against them: Now what remains, is, that jou de forthwith withdraw your se'ves to some place, when without consuston you may consider of what Virdill in way of truth and rightcousness you ought to bring it for the King against them, and so bring it in accordingly

Then the Jury, to wit, Mr. Belief, Mr. Inc bear Mr. Upright, Mr. Hate bad, Mr. Love good, Mr. See. truth, Mr. Heavenly mind, Mr. Mederate, Mr. 7bank ful, Mr. Humble, Mr. Good work, and Mr. Zeal for God with-drew themselves in order to their Work Now when they were shut up by themselves, they sel to discourse among themselves in order to the drawing up of their Virdiat.

And thus Mr. Belief ( for he was the Foreman 1 be gan: Gentlemen, quoth he, for the Men, the Priles ers at the Bar, for my part I believe that they all de ferve Death. Very right faid Mr. True beart, 1 at wholly of your Opinion: O whata Mercy is it, fair Mr. Hate bad, that such Villains as these are appre hended! Ay, Ay, faid Mr. Love good, this is one of the 104 fullest Days that ever I saw in my Life. Then sai Mr. See truth, I know that if we judge them to Deal our Verdit shall stand before Shaddai bimself. Nor d I at all queftion it, said Mr. Heavenly mind; he said moreover, when all such beasts as these are east out Mansoul, what a goodly Town will it be then! The - 12

Said Mr. Moderate. It is not my manner to pass my Judgment with rashness, but for these their Crimes are so notorions, and the Witness so palpable, that that Man must be wilfully blind, who sayeth the Prisoners ought n. to Die. Blessed be God, said Mr. Ibankful, that the Traytors are in safe Custody. And I join with you in this, upon my bare Knees, said Mr. Humble, I am glad also said Mr. Good work. Then said the warm Man and true-hearted Mr. Zeal for god, Cut them off, they have been the plague, and sought the Destruction of Mansoul.

Thus therefore being all agreed in their Verdict, they came instantly into the Court.

Clerk. Gentlemen of the Jury, answer all to your Names: Mr. Belief, One: Mr. True beart, Two: Mr. Upright, Three: Mr. Hate had, Four: Mr. Lovegood, Five: Mr. See-truth, Six: Mr. Heavenly mind, Seven: Mr. Moderate, Eight: Mr. Thankful, Nine: Mr. Humble, Ten: Mr. Good work, Eleven: And Mr. Zeal for god, Twelve: Good Men and true, stand together in your Verdist; are you all agreed?

Jury. Tes, my Lord.

Clerk. Who shall speak for you?

Jury. Our Foreman.

Clerk. You the Gentlemen of the Fury being impannelled for our Lord the King, to serve here in a matter of Life and Death, have heard the Tryas of each of these Men the Prisoners at the Bar: What say you, are they guilty of that, and those Crimes for which they stand here Indised, or are they not guilty?

Foreman. Guilty, my Lord. Clerk. Look to your Prisoners, Goaler.

This was done in the Morning, and in the Afterneon they received Sentence of Death according to the Law.

The Goaler therefore having received such a charge, put them all in the inward Prison, to preserve them there till the day of Execution, which was to be the next Morning.

But now to fee how, it happened, one of the Prisoners, incredulity by Name, in the interim betwin the Sentence and time of Execution, brake Prison, and made his escape, and gen him away quite out of the Town of Manson, and lay lurking in such places and holes at he might, until he should again have opportunity to do the Town of Mansoul a mischief, for their this handling of him as they did.

Now when Mr. Truemanthe Goaler Perceived that he had loft his Prisoner, he was in a heavy taking because bethat Prisoner we speak of, was the very work of all the Gang: Wherefore first he goes and acquaint my Lord Mayor, Mr. Recorder, and my Lord Wilhewill with the matter, and to get of them an Order to make Search for him throughout the Town of Mansoul. So an Order he got, and search was made, but no such Man could now be found in all the Town of Mansoul.

All that could be gathered was, that he had lurked a while about the out fide of the Town, and that here and there one or other had a glimple of him, as hedd make his escape out of Manfoul 3, one or two also did affirm that they saw him with out the Town, going a pace quite over the Plain. Now when he was quite gone, it was affirmed by one Mr. Didste that he ranged all over dry places, till be met with Diabolus his Friend; and where should they meet one another but upon Hell gate bill.

But Oh! what a lamentable Story did the Old Gentleman tell to Diabolus, concerning what sad alteration Emanuel had made in Mansoul?

As first, how Manfoul had, after some delays received a general Pardon at the delays received a general Pardon at the Hands of Enanuel, and that they had in vited him into the Town, and that they had given him the Castle for his Possession.

He said moreover, that they had called his Soldiers into the Town, coveted who should Quarter the most of them; they also enterrain him with the Timbres, Song and Dance. But that, said Incredulty, that is the forest vexation to me, that he hath pulled down, C Fasher, thy Image, and set up his own, pulled dow thy Officers, and fet up his own. Yea, and Willbewill, that Rebel, who, one would have thought, should never have turned from us he is now in as great Pavour with Emanuel as ever he was with thee. But belides, att this, this Willbewill has received a special Commisfion from his Mafter to fearch for, to apprehend, and to put to Death all, and all manner of Diabolanians, that he shall find in Mansoul: Yea, and this Willbewill has taken and committed to Prison already Eight of my Lords most truly Friends in Manfoul. ther, my Lord, with grief I speak it, they have been all arraigned, condemned, and I doubt before this, executed in Manfoul. I told my Lord' of Eight, and myfelf was the Ninth, who should affuredly have drunk of the same Cup, but that through crast I have made mine Escape from them.

When Dialolus had heard this lamentable Story he yelled, and souffed up the at this News. Wind like a Dragon, and made the Sky to look dark with his Roaring: He also sware that he would try to be revenged on Mansoul for this. So they concluded to enter into great Consultation bow they might get the Town of Manfoul again.

Now before this time the Day was come in which the Prisoners in Mansoul were to be executed: Rom. 8. 13, and 6. 12, 13, 14. So they were brought to the Cross, and that by Mansoul, in most solemn manner: for the Prince said that this should be done by the hand of the Town of Mansoul, that I may see, said he, the forwardness of my now redeemed Mansoul to keep my Word, and to do my Commandments; and that I may heless Mansoul in doing this Deed, Gal. 5, 24. Proof of sincerity peases me well, let Mansoul therefore six stay their Hands upon these Diabolonians to destroy them.

So the Town of Manfout flew them according to the Word of their Prince: But when the Prifoners were brought to the Crofs to die, you can hardly believe what troublesome Work Manfoul had of it to put to Discolonians to Death (for the Men knowing that it must die, and all of the m having implacable entitle their Heart to Mansoul) what did they but took courage at the Cross, and there resisted the Men of the Town of Mansoul. Wherefore the Men of Mansoul were forced to cry out for help to the Captains and Men of War. Now the great Shaddai had a Secretary in the Town, and he was a great Lover of the Men of Mansoul and he was at the Place of Execution also so he hearing the Men of Mansoul cry out against the strugglings and the unruliness of the Prisoners, rose up from his place, and came and put his Hands upon the Hands of the Men of Mansoul. So they Crucified the Diabolomians that had been a plague, a grief, and an offence to the Town of Mansoul, Rome 8. 12.

Now when this good work was done,
The Prince the Prince came down to see, to visit, and to congratulate them.

Now when this good work was done,
the Prince came down to see, to visit, and to speak comfortable to the Men of Manto congratulate them.

And he said to them, that by this

Ast of theirs he had proved them and found them to be Lovers of his Person, observers of his Laws, and such as had also respect to his Honour. He said more over, (to shew them that they by this should not be losers, nor the Town weakned by the loss of them) that he would make them an other Captain and that of one of themselves. And that this Captain should be the ruler of a Thousand for the good and benefit of the now Flourishing Town of Mansoul.

So he called one to him whose Name was Waking, and bid him go quickly up to the Castle gate, and enquire there for one Mr. Experience, that waiteth upon that noble Captain, the Captain tain Credence,, and bid him come hither to me. so the Messenger that waited upon the good Prince Emanuel, went and said as he was commanded. Now the young Gentleman was waiting to see the Captain Train and Muster his Nien in the Castle-yard. Then said Nr. Waiting to him, Sir, the Prince would that you should come down to his Highness forth with. So he brought him down to Emanuel.

ind he came and made obeliance before the qualification. Now the Men of the Town knew tions of their Mr. Experience well, for he was born new Captain, and bred in Man/oul; they also knew him to be a Man of Conduct, of Valour, and a Person prudent in matters; he was also a Comely Person, well poken, and very successful in his Undertakings.

Wherefore the Hearts of the Townsmen were transported with Joy when they say that the Prince himself was so taken with Mr. Experience, that he would needs make him a Captain.

So with one consent they bowed the Knee before Emanuel, and with a shout said Let Emanuel live for ever. Then said the Prince to the young Gensleman, whose Name was Mr. Experience, I have thought good to confer upon thee a place of Trust and Honour in this my Town of Mansoul, ( then the young Man bowed his Head and Worshipped ) It is, said Emanuel, that thou shouldst be a Captain, a Captain over a Thoufand Men in my beloved Town of Mansoul. Then said the Captain, Les the King live. So the Princegave outOrders forthwith to the King's Secre-HisCommiffetary, that he should draw up for Mr. Ex. on fent him. pèrience a Commission to make him a Captain over a Thousand Men, and let it be brought to me, said he, that I may set to my Seal. So it was done as commanded. The Commission was draw up. brought to Emanuel, and he fet his Seal thereto. Then by the hand of Mr. Waiting, he sent it away to the Captain.

Now so soon as the Captain had received his Commission, he sounded his Trumpet for Volunteers, and Young Men came to him apace; yea the greatest and chiefest Men in the Town sent their Sons to be Listed under his Command. Thus Captain Experience came under Command to Emanuel, for Officers. the good of the Town of Mansoul. He had for his Lieutenant one Mr. Skiiful, and for his Connet one Mr. Memory. His under Officers I need not name, I Sam. 17. 36, 37. His Colours were the Whit nis ever obliged 1 ewn or manjout. So after a and fome fweet Communion between them Townsmen having solemnly ended their Cere returned to their place again.

He renews their Charter.

He mending feveral faults therein, that Manfoul' might be yet more easie, Heb. 8. 13. Mat. 11.
this he did without any defice of theirs, even own frankness, and noble mind. So when he ha for and feen their old one, he lad dit by, and said that which decayeth and waxeth old is ready to away. He said moreover, the Town of Manson have another, and a better. An Epitome whereo as follows.

1 Emanuel Prince of Peace, and a great lover Town of Mansoul do in the Name of my Fathe of mine own Clemency, give, grant, and bequeath belowed Town of Mansoul; 1 Cor. 3. 21. 22. And they shall have that power over it, as shall stand with the Honour of my Father, my Gtory, and their comfort, yea, I grant them the benefits of Life and Death, and of things present, and things to come. This Privilege, no other City, Town or Corporation shall have, but my Mansoul only.

Fishly, I do give and grant them leave, and free access to me in my Palace at all Scasons, there to make known their wants to me, and I give them moreover a promise that I will bear and redress all their grievances,

Hen. 10. 19, 20. Mat. 7. 7.

Sixthly, I do give grant to, and invest the Town of Mansoul, with full Power and Authority to scek out, take, enslave, and destroy all, and all manner of Diabolonians that at any time-from whence soever shall be sound straggling in, or about the Town of Mansoul.

Seventily, I do further grant to my beloved Town of Mansoul, that they shall have Authority not to suffer any Foreigner or Stranger, or their seed, to be free in, and of the hiessed Town of Mansoul, nor to share in the excellent Privileges thereof. But that all the Grants, Privileges and Immunities that I hessow upon the samous Town of Mansoul, shall be for those the old natives, and true Inhabitants thereof, to them I say, and to their right Seed after them, Eph. 4. 22. Col. 3. 5. 6. 7. 8, 9.

But all Diabolonians of what fort, Birth, County, or Kingdom soever, shall be debarred a share thereim

So when the Town of Mansoul had received their gracious Charter, (which in it felf is infinitely more large) they carried it to Audience, that is to the Market-place, and there Mr. Recorder read it in the prefence of all the People, 2 Car. 3. 3. Fer. 31. 33. Heb. 8. 10. This being done, it was had back to the Caffle gates, and there fairly engraven upon Their Clanter the Doors thereof, and laid in Letters of for upon their Gold, to the end that the Town of Man-Gastle-gates, y soul, with all the People thereof, might have it always in their view, or might go where they might see what a blessed freedom their Prince had be flowed upon them, that their Joy might be increase their Heads.

When this was over, the Prince sent for the of Manfoul, and communed with them about firy he intended to established among them; Ministry that might open unto them, and instruin the things that did concern their present a true State.

For, faid he, You of your felves, without you Teachers and Guides, will not be able to know if not to know, to be fure not to do the Will Father, fer. 10, 23. I Cor. 2. 14.

At this news when the Elders of four broughts, to the People, the fed them well, as what ever the Prince now did, the People ) and all with one confent implored jefty that he would forthwith establish such alv among them as might teach them both Lawan menl, Statute and Commandment; that they m documented in all good and wholsome this gs.

Towncamerungingtogether ) for eternal concerns of the Town of Manfoul.

And this is he, faid the Prince, that must be your chief Teacher: For 'tis he, and he only that can teach vou clearly in all high and supernatural things. He and he only it is that knows the ways and methods of my Father's Court, nor can any like him shew how the heart of my Father is at all times, in all things, upon all occasions towards Manfoul, (for as no Manknows the things of a Man, but that Spirit of a Man which is in him, fob. 14. 26. Cb. 16. 13. 1 Job. 2. 27. So the things of my Pather knows no Man but this high and mighty Secretary. Nor can any (as he) tell Manfoul how and what they shall do to keep themselves in the love of my Father. ) He also it is that can bring loft things to your remembrance, and that can tell you This Teacher therefore must of nethings to come. cessity have the preheminence ( both in our affections and judgment ( before your other Teacher; his perfonal dignity, the excellency of his teaching, also the greet dexterity that he hath to help you to make and draw up Petitions to my Father for your help, and to his pleasing, must lay Obligations upon you to how him, fear him, and to take heed that you grieve him not., 1 Thef. 1. 5. 6.

This Person can put life and Vigour into all he says yea, and can also put it into your Heart, Asts 21.10, 11. This Person can make Seers of you, and can make you tell what shall be hereafter, Jud. v. 20. Epb. 6.18. Rom. 8. 16. Kev. 2. 7, 11, 17, 29. Epb. 4. 30. Is. 63. 10. By this Person you must frame all your Petitions to my Father and me; and without his Advice and Councel first obtain'd, let nothing enter into the Town or Castle of Manjoul, for that may digust and grieve this noble Person.

Take heed, I say, that you do not grieve this Minn fler, for if you do, he may fight against you; and should he once be moved by you, to set himself against you, against you in Battel Array, that will distress you more than if twelve Legions should transfer ther's Court be sent to make War upo

But (as I said) if you shall hearken unto ' shall leve him : if you shall devote your selv teaching and shall seek to have converse, and tain Communion with him, you shall find times better than is the whole World to any 13. 14. Rom. 5. 5. Yea, he will shed abroad of my Father in your Hearts, and Mansoul w wifest, and most hiessed of all People.

Then did the Prince call unto him the Ok man, who afore had been the R Con cience Man Soul, Mr Conscience by Name made a Minihim that for afmuch as he was w in the Law and Government of t of Manfoul, and was also well spoken, and cou nently deliver to them his Master's Will in a and domestick Matters, therefore he would a him a Minister for, in, and to the goodly tows foul, in all the Laws, Statutes and Judgmer famous Town of Mansoul. And thou must Prince) confine thy felf to the teaching of M tues to Civil and Natural Duties, but thou attempt to bresume to be a Revealer of those fupernatural Mysteries that are kept close in of shaddai my Father, for these things know nor can any reveal them but my Pather's Secre

Thou art a Native of the Town of Manfou Lord Secretary is a Native with my Pather; u as thou haftknowledge of the Laws and Cufto Corporation, so he of the things and will of m

Wherefore, Oh! Mr. Conscience, althoug made the Minister and a Preacher to the Manfoul ger as to the things which the Lord knoweth, and shall teach to this People, th must be his Scholar, and a Learner, even a of Manfoul are.

Thou must therefore in all high and supe things, go to him for Information; for thou be a Spirit in Man, this Person's inspiracion him upderstanding, 305 33.8. Wherefore, Mr. Recorder, be humble, and remember t'

∙ SµC.

boisnims, that kept not their first charge, but lest their own standing, are now made Prisoners in the Pit; be therefore content with thy Station.

I have made thee myFather's Vicegerent
In Earth, in fuch things of which I have In Menfoul,
I have made mention before: And take thou power
I to teach them to Manfoul, yea, and to impose them with Whips and Chastisements, if they shall not willingly hearken to do thy Commandments.

And Mr. Recorder, because thou art old and feeble, therefore I give thee leave and license to go when thou wilt to my Fountain, my Conduit, and there to drink freely of the Blood of my Grape, for my Conduit doth always run Wine, Heb. 9. 14. Thus doing thou shalt drive from thy Heart and Stomach, all foul, gross, and hurtful Humours. It will also lighten thine Eyes, and Brengthen thy memory for the reception and keeping of all that the King's most noble Secretary teacheth.

When the Prince had thus put Mr. Recorder (that once so was) into the place and office of a Minister of Manson; and the Man had thankfully accepted thereof, then did Emanuel Address himself to the Townsmen themselves.

Behold (said the Prince to Manfoul) The Prince's my love and care towards you, I have foul. 'added to all that is past, this mercy; to appoint you Preachers, the most noble Secretary to teach you in all sublime Myfteries; and this Gentleman (pointing to Mr. Conscience) is to teach you in all things human and domestick for therein lyeth his work. He is not by what I have faid, debarred of telling to Menfoul any thing that he hath heard from the Lord high Secretary; only he shall not attempt to prefume to pretend to be a revealer of those high Myfteries himself; for the breaking of them up, and the discovery of them to Mansoul lieth only in the power, authority, and skill of the Lord High Secretary ' himself. Talk of them he may, and so may the rest of the Town of Manjoul, as A Licence to occasion gives them opportunity, pres-ther to Manjoul, when this with them is won but for that you must whollyand solely have re to, and make flay upon his Doctrine, that . Teacher after the first order. Yea, Mr. Record felf must not look for Life from that which h felf revealeth; his dependance for that must be ed in the Doctrine of the other Preachers. L · Recorder also take heed that he receive not as thrine or Point of Doctrine, that is not comm ted to him by his superior Teacher, nor yet the Precincts of his own formal knowledge. Now after the Prince had thus lettled thing: famous Town of Menfoul, he proceeded to gi Elders of the Corporation a necessary caution, how they should carry it to the He gives them Captains that he had, from his F caution about Court sent or brought with bim the Captain: famous Town of Manfoul. 'These tains, said he, do love the Town of manfou they are Men pickt out of abundance, as Me own of Manjoul; yet a little discountenance cast on them from the Town of Manjoul, will deject deaft down their faces, will weaken and take atytheir courage. Do not therefore carry it unadly to my valiant Captains, and couragious Men War, but love them, nourish them, succour them, d lay them in your Bosoms, and they will not onfight for you, but cause to fly from you all those inholonians that seek, and will if possible, be your ter destruction.

If therefore any of them should at any time be sick weak, and so not able to perform that office of ve, which with all their Hearts they are willing to (and will do also when well and in health) Heb.

1. 12. Is 35. 3. slight them not, nor despise them, it rather strengthen them, and encourage them, tho' eak and ready to dye, for they are your sence, and our guard, your wall your gates, your locks, and our bars, Rev. 3. 2. 1 Ibes. 5. 14. And altho' when ey are weak they can do but little, but rather need be helped by you, (then that you should then exist great things from them) yet when well, you, sow what Exploits, what Feats of Warlike Atherements they are able to do, and will perform tyou.

Besides, if they be weak, they Town of Mansoul, canot be strong; if they be strong, then Mansoul canot be weak; your safety thereforedoth sie in their ealth, and in your countenancing of them. Reember also, that if they be sick, they saich that Dis-fe of the Iown of Mansoul it felf.

These things I have said unto you, because I love our welfare, and your honour: Observe therefore, I have given in charge unto you, and that not only as Town corporate, and so to your Officers and Guard and Guides in chief, but to you as you are a People hose well-being, as single ersons, depends on the bservation of the Orders and Commandments of their ord, Next, Oh my Mansoul, I warn you of that.

of which, not with flanding the A Caution a- mation that at present is w ' mong you, you have need to yer remain in fabout; wherefore hearken dili Manfoul. to me. I am now fure, and s know bereafter, that there are yet some D remaining in the Town of Manfoul; L , that are flurdy and implacable, and that o while I am with you, and that will yet me am from you, frudy, plot, contrive, invent ly attempt to bring you to Desolation, a state far worse than that of Egyption Bond; are the avowed Priends of Diabolus, ther about you, Mas 7. 21, 22. They used her lodge with their Prince in the Castle, who lity was Lord-Mayor of this Town, but fin ming hither they lie more in the out-fides: and have made themselves Dens, and C: Holes, and ftrong Holds therein, Rom. 7. 1 fore, Oh Mansoul! thy work as to this. much the more difficult and hard; that is mortifie, and put them to Death, accord Will of my Father. Nor can you utterly selves of them, unless you should pull down of your Town, the which I am by no mea you should. Do you ask me, What shall me Why, be you dil gent, and quit you like I . serve their Holds, find out their Hanis, affa and make no Peace with them: Where e . haunt, lurk, or abide, and what terms of Pea they offer you, abhor; and all shall be we . you and m:. And that you may the bet them from those that are the Natives of 1 will give you this brict Schedule of the Nai chief of 'em; and they are these that folk Lord Fornication, the Lord Adultery, the L ' der, the Lord Anger, the Lor The Names of oufness, the Lord Deceis, the L ere, Mr. Drunkenness, Mr. Diabelenians Mr. Idolatry, Mr. Whiteber af in Manlow.

riance, Mr. Rmulation, Mr. Wrath, Mr. Strife, Mr. Sedision, and Mr. Herefie. These are some of the chief, O Mansoul! of those that, will seek to overthrow thee for ever: These I say are the Skulkers in Mansoul, but look well into the Law of thy King, and thou shalt find their Physiogmoner, and such other characteristical notes of them, by which they may be known.

'These, O my Mansoul, (and I would gladly that wou should certainly know it (if they be suffered to run and range about the Town as they would, would ouickly, like Vipers, eat out your Bowels, yea Poy-. fon your Captains, cut the finews of your Soldiers. * break the Bars and Bolts of your Gates, and turn your now most flourishing Manfoul, into a barren and defolate Wilderness, and ruinous heap. Wherefore that you may take courage to your selves to apprehend these Villains wherever you find them, I give to you my Lord Mayor, my Lord Willbewill, and Mr. Recorder, with all the Inhabi-to destroy the Diabolonians. er and commission to seek out, to take, and to cause to be put to death by the Cross, all mane ner of Diabolonians, wherever you fall find them lurk mithin, or wishout the Walls of the Town of Manfoul. I told you before that I had placed a standing Mianiftry among you, not that you have but these with e you, for my four first Captains who came against the Master and Lord of the Diabolonians that was in " Manjoul, they can, and (if need be ) if they be required, will not only privately inform, but publick-· lypreach to the Corporation, both good and wholefome Doftrine, Yea, they will fet up a weekly, yea, if need be, a daily Lecture in thee, Oh Manfoul? s and will instruct the in such profitable Lessons, that if heeded, will do the good at the ead. And take · Lood beed than you spare not the Men that you have a * Commission to take and Crucisie.

Now as I have fet out before your Eyes the Vagrants and Runagates by Name, to Camion.

I will tell you, that among your felves fome of shall creep in to beguile you, even such as feem, and that in appearance are very rife a for Religion. And they, if you watch not, we you a mischief, such an one as you do not the

These will shew themselves to you in an oth than those under the discription before. Who watch and be sober, and suffer not thy self to be b.

When the Prince had thus far new modeli Town of Manjoul, and had instructed them i matters as were profitable for them to know; t appointed another Day, in which he intended, w Townsfolk came together, to be Another Prifurther Badge of Honour upon the viledge in of Manfoul. A Badge that show Manioul. flingwish them from all the People dreds and Tongues, that dwell in the Kingdon niverse. Now it was not long before the Day a ed was come, and the Prince and his People the King's Place, where first Emanuel made Speech unto them, and then did for them as faid, and unto them as he had promised.

My Mansoul, said ke, ibat which am about to do, is to make you ke the World to be mine, and to disting also in your own Eyes, from all false Traytors to creep in among you.

Then he commanded that those that waite him should go and bring forth out of his Tr those whire glistering Robes, that I, said he provided and laid up in store for my Mansoul. white Garments were setched and laid forth Eyes of the People, Rev. 19. 8. Moreover, granted to them that thay should take them a them on. So the People were put into white five Linnen, white and clean.

Then said the Prince unto them. This, O h is my Livery, and the Badge by which mire an from the Servants of others. Tea, it is that ill that are mine, and without which no Man ted to see my Fase. Wear them therefore for who gave them unto you; and also if you would by the World to be mine.

ow! can you think how Manfoul, shone? It as the Sun, clear as the Moon, and terrible rmy with Banners.

rince added further, and said, No Prince, Pon mighty one of Universe, giveth this Livery Celf: Behold therefore, as I said before, you own by it to be mine.

ve. faid he, I have given you my Livery, les ou also in command ment concerning them:

fure that you take good beed to my Words. Wear them daily, Day by Day, lest you should times appear to others, as if you were none of icl. 9. 8.

ily, Keep them always white, for if they be

s Dishonour to me, Rev. 3. 2.

ly, Wherefore gird them up from the ground, emnot be foiled with dust or dirt.

hly, Take beed that you lose them not, lest you d and they see your some.

y, But if you should sully them, if you should a (the which I am greatly unwilling you should, rince Diabolus will be glad if you would) Rev. 5. 17. Then speed to do that which is written in that yet you may stand, and not fall before me, my shore. Luke 21. 36. Also this is the way hat I may not leave you nor so sake you while dwell in this sown of Mansoul for ever.

ow was Manfoul, and the Inhabitants of it as et upon Emanuel's right Hand; were was w a Town. a City a Corporation that could with Manfoul! A Town redeem'd from the d from the Power of Diabolus! A Town that; Sheddai loved, and that he fent to regain from the Prince of the Inoustrace of we; yea, a Town that Emanuel loom.

ve; yea, a Town that Emanuel lowell in, and that he chose for his

Roya

Royal Habitation; a Town that he fortified for himfelf, and made strong by the force of his Army. What shall I say! Manfoul has now a most excellent Prince, Gol len Captains and Men of War, Weapons proved, and Garments as white as Snow. Nor are these Benetics to be counted little, but great; can Manfoul esteem them so, and improve them to that end and purpose, for which they are bestowed upon them?

When the Prince had thus compleated the modeling of the Town, to shew that he had great delight in the Work of his hands, and took pleasure in the good that he had wrought for the famous and flourishing Minsoul, he commanded, and they let his Standard upon the Battlements of the Castle. And then,

First, Hegave them frequent Visits, nota Day now but the Elders of Mansoul must come to him ( or he to them ) into his Palace, 2 Cor. 6. 16, Now they must walk and talk together of all the great things that he had done, and yet further promised to do for the Town Thus would be often do with the Lord of Minfoul. Mayor, my Lord Willbewill, and the honest subordinate Preacher Mr. Conscience, and Mr. Recorder, But Oh! how graciously! how lovingly! how courteously! and tenderly did this bleffed Prince carry it towards the Town of Mansoul! in all the Streets, Gardens, Orchards, and other places where he came, to be fure the Poor should have his Blessing and Benediction: Yea, he would Kiss them, and if they were ill. he would lay hands on them, and make them well. tains also he would daily, yea sometimes hourly incourage with his Presence and goodly Words: you must know that a smile from him upon them, would put more Vigour Life and Stoutness into them than any thing else under Heaven.

The Prince would now also feast them, and be with them continually; hardly a Week would pass but a Banquet must be had betwixt him and them, I Cor. 5.

8. You may remember that some Pages before, we made mention of one Feast that they had together, but now to Feast them was a thing more common; with h Manfoul was a Feaft-day now. Nor did he when y returned to their places, fend them empty away. er they must have a Ring, a Goldn. a Bracelet, a white Stone, or some-Marriage. ig; fo dear was Menfoul to him now, A Token of ovely was Manfoul in his Eyes. condly, Whenthe Eldersand Towns. A Token of ididnot come to him, he would fend Braury. uch plenty of provision unto them; Pardon. at that came from Court. Wine and ad that were prepared for his Father's Table: Yea Delicates would be send unto them, and therewith ild fo cover their Table, that whoever saw it, coned that the like could not be seen in any Kingdom. . hirdly, If Manfoul did not frequently visit him as lefired they should, he would walk out to them, ck at their Doors and defire entrance, that Amity the be maintained betwire them and him; if they hear and open to him, as commonly they would if were as bome, then would he renew his former re, and confirm it to, with some new tokens, and ns of continued Favour, Rev. 3, 20. Capt. 5. 2. and was it not now amazing to behold, that in that y place where sometimes Diabolus had his Abode, entertained his Diabolonians, to the Imoft uttrerde-Gion of Mansoul, the Prince of Princes should ut ing and drinking with them, while all his mighty prains, Men of War, Trumpeters, with the Sing-Men and Singing Women of his Father, Manfo. I's d round about to wait upon them! Now Maufoul', Cup run over, now did her iduits run sweet Wine, now did she cat the finest of Wheat, and drink Milkand Honey out of the Rock! w the faid, how great is his goodness! For fince I id Favour in his Eyes, how honourable have I been ! he bleffed Prince did also ordain a new Officer in Town, Col. 3. 15. And a goodly Person he was, Name was Mr. God'speace; this Man was let over Lord Willbewill, my Lord Mayor, Mr. Recorder, Sub rdicate Preacher, Mr. Mind and over all the Paries H

Natives of the Town of Manfoul. Himself was not tive of it, but came with the Prince Emanuel from Court. He was a great acquaintance of Capta dence, and Captain Goodbope; some say they we and I am of that Opinion too, Rom. 15. 13. Th as I faid, was made Governour of the Town in g specially over the Caftle, and Captain Credence help him there. And I made great Observatio that fo long as all things went in Manfoul as thi natured Gentlemen would, the Town was in mo py condition. Now there were no lars, no Ch noInterferings, no unfaithful doings in all the T Manfoul; every Man in Manfoul kept close to h Employment. The Gentry, the Officers, theS and all in place observed their orde Holy Concepas for the Women and Children Good Town they followed their Business Thoughts. ly, they would work and fing from ing till Night; so that quite throught the Town soul now nothing was to be found but Harmen etness, joy and health. And this lasted all that mer. But there was a Man in the

Mr. Carnal-Security.

Mal-Security, this Man did, after Mercy bestowed on this Corps bring the Town of Manfoul into great and gi Slavry and Bondage. A brief Account of his

of his doings, take as followeth.

When Diabolus at first took Possession of the of Menjaul, he brought thither with himself, a number of Diabolonians, Men of his own Concord Now among these there was one Mr. Self conceit. Namewas Mr. Self conceit, and a numbrisk Man he was, as any that in those Days of selfs the Town of Mansonia. Diabolus then perturbed Man to be astive and bold, sent him upon deleptate Designs, the which he managed between to the pleasing of his Lord, than most the with him from the Dens could do. Wherefore him so sit for his purpose, he preserved him, fext to the great Lord Willbewill, of whom we spoke so much before. Now the Lord Willbewill in those Days very well pleased with him, and his Atchievements, gave him his hter, the Lady Fear-nothing to Wise.

Carnel Securities of my Lady Fear-nothing did this Mr. Original.

Miceis beget this Gentleman Mr. Car-

curity. Wherefore there being then in Manfoulfirange kind of mixtures, 'twas hard for them be cases, to find out who were Natives, who for Mr. Carnal-Security sprang from my Lord will by Mother's side, though he had for his Fail, this Carnal Security took much his Pather and Mother, he was Selfeed, he feared nothing, he was also a very busie nothing of News, nothing of Dostrine, nothing cration or talk of Alteration could at any time Foot in Manfoul, but he fure Mr. Carnal Securould be at the Head or Till of its hou to be would decline those that he deemed the weaked flood always with them (in his way of standthat he supposed was the strongest side.

Diabolonian by nature.

w when Shaddai, the mighty, and Emanuel his rade War upon Manfoul to take it, this Mr. Carsurity was then in the Town, and was a great among the People, encouraging them in their lion, putting of them upon hardning of themin their rentling of the King's Forces; but when that the Town of Mansoul was taken, and con-I to the use of the glorious Prince Emanue'; and he also saw what was become of Diabolus, and e was unroofted, and made to quit the Cafile ip eatest contempt and scorn, and that the Town isoul was well lined with Captains, Engines of and Men, and also Provision, what doch he, but about also; and as he had served Diabolus athe good Prince, so he seigned that he would be Prince against his Foes.

having got some little smattering of Emanuel's think things by the end (being bold) he ventures himself into the Company of the Townsmen, and attemps also to chat among them. Now be knew that the Power and strength of the Town of Mansoul was great, and that it could not but be pleasing to the People, if he cryed up their Might and their Glory. Wherefore he beginneth his Tale with the Power and ginneth his Tale with the Power and How Mr. Car- Strength of Manfoul and affirmed that it naisecurity be. was impregnable. Now magnifying their ry of Manfoul Captains, and their Slings, and their Rans, then crying up their Fortifications, strong Holds; and lastly, the Assurances that they had from their Prince, that Manfoul should be bappy for ever. But when he faw that some of the Men of the Town were tickled and taken with his Discourse, he makes it his Business, and walking from Street to Street, House to House, and Man to Man, he brought also Mansoul to dance after his Pipe, and to grow almoft as carnally fecure as himfelf; fo from talking they went to Parfling and from Peafting to Sporting; and so to some other matters; (now Emanuel was yet in the Town of Mansoul, and he wisely observed their doings. ) my Lord Mayor, my Lord Willbewill, and Mr. Recorder, were also taken with the Words of this tatling Diabolonian Gentleman; forgetting that their Prince had given them warning before, to take heed that they were not beguiled with any Diabelenia fleight; he had further told them, that the fecurity of the now flourishing Town of Manfoul aid not so much lye in her present Fortifications and Force, as in her fo using of what she had, as might oblige her Ema-For the right Donuel to abide within her caftle. Etrine of Emanuel was, That the Town of Mansoul should take heedthat they forget not his Father's Love and his; also that they should so deam themselves as to continue to keep themselves therein. Now this was not the way to do it, namely to fall in Love with one of the Diabolonians, and with such an one too as Mr. Carnal-Security was, and to be led up and down by the Nose by him: they should have heard their Prince Prince, fear'd their Prince, loved their Prince, and have Ston'd the Naughty park to Death, and took care to have walked in the ways ofth ir Prince's prescribing, for then should their Peace have been as a River, when their Righteousness had been like the Waves of the Sea

Now when Emantel perceived that through the Policy of Mr. Carnal Security, the Hearts of the Men of Manfoul were chill'd and abated in their practical

Love to him:

First, he bemoans them, and condoles their State with the Secretary, saying, 0 that bemoans my People had bearkned unto me, and that Mansoul. Mansoul had walked in my Ways! I would have fed them with the finest of the Wheat, and with Honey out of the Rock would I have suffained them. This done, he said in his Heart, I will return to the Court, and go to my place, till Mansoul shall consider and acknowledge their Offence. And he did so, and the sause and manner of his going away from them was thus:

The Cause was for that,

First, Mansoul delined him, as is manifest in these Particulars.

1. They left off their former way of vifiting of him; they came not to his Royal Palace as afore.

2. They did not regard, nor yet take notice that he same, or came not to vifit them.

3. The Love-feasts that had wont to be between their Prince and them, though he made them still, and salled them to them, yet they neglected to come at them, or to be delighted with them.

4. They waited not for his Councils, but began to be bead strong and consident in themselves, concluding that wow they were strong and invincible, and that Mansoul was secure, and beyond all reach of the Foe, and that her state must needs be unatterable for ever.

Now, as was faid, Emanuel perceiving that by the traft of Mr. Carnal-Security the Town of Manfoul was aken off from their dependance upon him, and upon a Father by him, and fet upon what by them was be-

H 5

Rowed upon it: He first, as I said, benioan'd their state; then he used means to make them understand that the way they went on in, was dangerous. For he sent my Lord High Secretary to them, to sorbid them such ways; but twice when he came to them, he sound them at Dinner in Mr. Carnal-Security's Parlour, and

They grieve the Holy Ghoot and Christ.

They grieve the Holy Ghoot and Christ.

The will be their good, he took grief and went his way. The which when he had took to the Related Formatting the many properties of the properties o the Prince Emenuel, he was grieved also, and return'd to his Father's Court.

Now the methods of his withdrawing, as I was faring before, were thus.

Chr.ft withdraws not all
at once.

I Even while he was yet with them in draws not all
at once.

I Even while he was yet with them in the draws not all
at once.

2. His Speech was not now, if he came is their Company, so pleasant and familiar as formerly.

3. Nor did be, as in times pult, send to Mansoul from bis Table, those Dainty Bits which be was wont to do

4. Nor when they came to vifit him, as now and then they would, would be he so easily speken with, as they The working found him in times past. They might now of their Affe knock once, yea twice, but he would seem ont at all to regard them; whereas swerty he would run, and meet them half.

way, and take them too, and lay them in his Bosom.

But thus Emanuel carried it now, and by this his carriage be fought to make them bethink themselves and return to him. But alas! they did not consider, they did not know his ways, they regarded not, they were not touched with these, nor with the true remembrance of former savours, Ezek. 11. 21. Hos. 5. 15. Lev. 26. 21, 22. 23, 24. Wherefore what does he but in private manner withdraw himself, first from his Palace, then to the Gate of the Town, and so away from Mansoul he goes, till they should acknowledge their Ossence, and more earnestly seek his Face. his rate peace also laid down his Commission, and would the present ask no longer.

us they walked contrary to him and he again by f retaliation, walked contrary to them, fer. 2. ut alas! by this time they were so hardened in way, and had to drunk in the Doctine of Mr. -Security, that the departing of their Prince ed them not, nor was be remembred by them gone ; and fo of confequence his A Trick put e was not condoled by them. uponMr. Godw there was a day wherein this old ly fear, he goes eman Mr. Carnal-Security did again to the Frank, a Feaft for the Town of Manjoul, and fire there ere was at that time in the Town like a Stranger. ir. Godlyfear, one now but little fet by, though rly one of great request. This Man Old Carnel y had a mind, if possible, to Gull and abuse as the rest, and therefore he now bids him to the : with his Neighbours. So the Day being come repare, and he goes and appears with the reft Gueffs; and being all fet at the Table, they t and drink. and were merry, even all but this lan: For Mr. Godinfear fat like a Stranger, and ither eat, nor was merry, which when Mr. Security preceived, he address'd himself, in ah thus to him.

. Godlyfear, Are you not well? You Talk betwixt o be of ill Body, or Mind, or both. Mr. Car nal Security, and : a Cordial of Mr. Forges good's Mr. Godlyfear g, which, Sir, if you will take, I.

t may make you bonny and blith, and so make ore fit for we feating Companions.

to whom the good old Gentleman discreetly re-: Sir, I thank you for all things courteous and but for your Cordial I have no lift thereso. But to the Natives of Manfoul: You the Elders and of Mansoul, to me it is strange to see you sa joind merry, when the Town of Mansoul is in such safe.

en said Mr. Carnal-Security, You want Sleep, iir, I doubt. If you please lie down and take: , and we the mean while will be merry.

Then faid Mr. Godly fear as follows: Sir, if you were not destitute of an bonest Heart, you could not do as you have done, and do.

Then faid Mr. Carnal Security, Why?

Godly. Nay pray interrupt me not. 'Tis true, the Town of Manfoul was strong, and (with a provide). impregnable; but you have weakned it, and it now lies obnoxious to its Foes; nor is it a time to be flient; 'tis. you, Mr. Carnal Security, that have (tripped Manfoul, and driven ber Glory from ber ; you beve pulled down ber Towers, you have broken down ber Gates, you have spoiled ber Locks and Bars.

And now to explain my felf ? From that time that my Lords of Mansoul, and you, Sir, grew so great, from that time the strength of Mansoul has been offended, and. now be is risen and is gone. If any shall question the . truth of my Words, I will answer kim by this, and such like Questions: Where is the Prince Emanuel? When did a Man or Woman in Mansoul see him? When did you hear from him, or caste any of his dainty Bits? Tou are now a feasting with this Diabolonian. Monster, but be is not your Prince; I say therefore, though Enemies from without, bad you taken beed, sould not beve made a prey of you, yet since you bave sinued: against your Prince, your Enemies within have been 100. bard for you.

Then faid Mr. Carnal Security, Pie! Fie! Mr. God: lyfear, Fie! Will you never shake off your timoroufzess? Are you assaid of being Sparrow-blasted? Who hath hurt you? Behold I am on your fide, only you. are for doubting, and I am for being Confident. Betides. Is this a time to be fad in? A Feast is made for mirth; why then do you now, to your shame, and our. trouble, break out into such passionate melancholy Language, when you should eat and drink, and be merry?

Then said Mr. Godlyfear again, I may well be sad, for Emanuel is gone from Mansoul: I say again be is gone, and you Sir, are the Man that has driven him a. may; year be is gone without so much as acquaining s of Mansoul with his going and if that is nos his Anger, I am not acquainted with the mesodiness

w my Lords and Gentlemen, for b is ftill to ign, you gradually this Syeach to from bim, did provoke bim to do Maricu. 1 you, the which be did gradually

s you would have been made sensible thereby, been renewed by bumbling of your selves; but saw that none would regard, nor lay these sear-nings of his Anger and Fudgment to Heart, he say from this place, and this I saw with mine berefore new vohile you boust, your strength is are like the Man that had lost his Locks that I wave about his Soulders. You may with this your Feast shake your selves, and conclude to do retimes; but since without him you can do nothing, departed from you, turn your seast into a sigh, mirth into lamentation.

the Subordinate Preacher, old Mr. to by Name, he that of old was Confcience of Manfoul, being flattled at flattled.

is faid, began to second it thus:

Indeed, my Evethren, quoth he, I fear that ily fear tells us true: I for my part, have not prince a long feason. I cannot remember, for my part. Nor can I answer Mr. God-Question. Lam asraid that all is naught with

y. Nag. I know that you will not find him in it, for he is departed and gone, yea, and gone for its of the Elders, and for that shey rewarded his wish unsufferable Unkindnesses.

I did the Subordinate Preacher look as build fall down dead at the Table, all again.

I here present, except the Man of the all again.

I here and wan. But having a littivered themselves, and jointly agreeing to beaute. Godlysear and his Sayings, they began to what was best to be done (now Mr. Carnal Sayings).

curity was gone into his withdrawing Room, liked not such dumpish doings) both to the h the House, for drawing them into evil, and recover Emanuel's Love.

And with that, the saying of their Prince cam hot into their Minds, which he had bidden then such as were false Prophets that should arise to the Town of Manjoul. So they took Mr. Carie swity, (concluding that he must be

They confult and burning his Houle upon him wi and burn their for he also was a Diabolomian by nat

So when this was past and over bespeed themselves to look for Emanuel their I Cant. 5. 6, And they sought him but they four not; then were they more consumed in the ti Mr. Godlyfear's Sayings, and began also severely sleet upon themselves for their vile and ungodlyd for they concluded now that their Prince had less

Then they agreed and went to my Lord Sec. (him whom before they refused to hear, him they had grieved with their doing themselves to the Holy Ghoth but he is grieved, &c.

they had grieved with their doing know of him, for he was a Seer and tell where Emanuel was, and how might direct a Petition to him. B Lord Secretary would not admit the a Conference about this matter would admit them to his Royal Palace, nor con to them, Ifa. 63. 10. Epb. 4. 30. 1 Theff. 5. 19

And now was it a Day gloomy and dark, a D clouds and of thick darkness with Mansoul. Now saw that they had been soolish, and began to ceive what the company and prattle of Mr. Carnewity had done, and what desperate Damage his gering Words had brought poor Mansoul into. what surther it was like to cost them, that they ignorant of. Now Mr. Godlysear began again in repute with the Men of the Town; yea, were ready to look upon him as a Prophet.

A Thundring Well, when the Sabbath day was know, they went to hear their Sub Preacher, but oh how did it thunder and lighten this Day! His Text was that in the Prophet Jonah, They that observe lying vanities, for sike their own Mercies, Jonah 2. 8. But there was then such power and authority in that Sermon, and such a dejection seen in the Countenances of the People that day, that the like hath seldom been heard or seen. The People, when Sermon was done, were scarce able to go to their Homes, or to betake themselves to their imploys the week after; they were so Sermon-smitten, and also so Sermon sick, that they knew not what to do, Hof. 6, 13.

He did not only shew Mansoul their Sin, but did tremble before them, under the sense of his own, still crying out the sense of himself as he preached to 'cm, Under the sense of himself as he preached to 'cm, Under the sense of his compliance wicked a thing! That I! a Preacher: with Mr. Carwhom the Prince did set up to teach to Manfoul his Law, should my self live senseles and fortishly here, and be one of the first sound in Transgression This Transgression also tell within my Precincts, I should have exied out against the Wickedness, but I let Mansoul lie wallowing in it, until it had driven Emanuel from its Borders. With these things he also charged all the Lords and Gentry of Mansoul, to the almost distracting of them, Pla. 88.

About this time also there was a great

Sickness in the Town of Manfoul, and most ness in Manof the Inhabitants were greatly afflicted.

Yea, the Captains also, and Men of War, were brought thereby to a languishing condition, and that for a long time together; so that in case of an Invasion, nothing could to purpose now have been done, either by the Townsmen or Field Officers, Heb. 12. 12, 13. Rev. 3. 2. Is. 3. 24. Oh how many pile Faces, weak Hands, seekle Knees, and staggering Men were now seen to walk the Streets of Mansoul! Here were Groans, there Pants, and yonder lay those that were ready to faint.

The Garments too, which Emanuel had given the were but in a forry case; some were rent, some were torn, and all in a nafty condition; some also did hang fo loofely upon them, that the next Bush they came at was ready to pluck them off.

After some time spent in this sid and desolate condition, the Subordinate Preacher called for a Day of Fasting, and to humble themselves for being so wicked against the great shaddai and his Son: And he defired that Captain Boanerges would Preach. So Boanerges he consented to do it, and the Day was to Manfoul come, and his Text was this, Cut it down, wby cumbere is it the Ground? And a very fmart Sermon he made upon the Text. First, he shewed what was the occasion of the Words, to wit, because the Fig-tree was barren; then he shewed what was contained in the Sentence, to wit, Repentance, or utter Desolation. He then shewed also by whose Authority this Sentence was pronounced, and that was by Skaldzi himself. And laftly, he shewed the Reasons of the Point, and then concluded his Termon. But he was very pertinent in the application, infomuch that he made poor Mansoul tremble: For this Sermon, 25 well as the former, wrought much upon the Hearts of the Men of Manfoul; yea it greatly helped to keep awake those that were rouzed by the Preaching that went before. So that now throughout the whole Town there was little or nothing to be heard or seen, but Sorrow and Mourning, and Woe.

Now after Sermon they got together They confult and confulted what was best to be done. But said the Subordinate Preacher, I will', do nothing of mine own Head, without advising with my Neighbour Mr. Godlyfear.

For if he had after, and understood more of the mind of our Prince than we, I do not know but he also may. have it now, even now we are turning again to Vertue. So they call'd and sent for Mr. Godiefear, and he forthwith appeared; then they defired that he would further shew his Opinion about what they had best to do. Then faid the old Gentleman as followeth, It is my roinigo Opinion that this Iown of Mansoul stould in this Day of her Distress, draw up and Mr. Godlysean's send an humble Petition to their offended

Prince Emanuel, that he in his Favour and Grace, will turn again unto you, and not keep his Anger for ever-

When the Townsmen had heard this Speech, they did with one consent agree to his advice; so they did presently draw up their request, and the next was, But who shall carry it? At last they did all agree to fend it by my Lord Mayor. So he accept-ed of the Service, and addressed himself to They send the his Jourcey; and went and came to the to Court. Court of Shaddai, whither Emanuel the Prince of Mansoul was gone, Lam. 3.8, 44. But the Gate was faut, and a ftrict Watch kept thereat, fo that the Petitioner was forced to fland without for a great while together. Then he defired that somewould go in to the Prince, and tell him who stood at the Gate, and what his business was. So one went and told Shaddai and Emanuel his Son, that the Lord Mayor of the Town of Manjoul, flood without at the Gate of the King's Court, defining to be admitted into the Presence of the Prince, the King's Son. He also told the Lord-Mayor's Errand, both to the King and his Son Emenuel. But the Prince would not come down, nor admit that the Gate should be opened, but sent an Answer to this effect, Fer. 2. 27,28. They have twined. the backunto me, and not their face, but now in the time of their trouble they say to me, Arise and save us. Butcanthey not now go to Mr. Carnal Security, to whom they went uben they turned from me, and make bim their Leader, their Lord, and their Protection? Why now in: their trouble do they visit me, fince in their Prosperity. they went astray?

This answer made my Lord-Mayor look black in the face; it troubled, it perplexed, it rent him fore, Lam. 4. 7, 8. And now he began again to see what it was to be samiliar with Diabolonians, such as Mr. Carnal Security was. When he saw that at Court (28 yet) there was little h. In to be expected, either f. r. himself, or

as. 2 3

The Lord Breaft, and returned weeping, and all he way bewailing the lamentable State of North Well, when he was come within 19ghtof the Town, the Elders and chief of the People the Town, the Elders and chief of the People of Manfoulwent out at the Gate to meet him, and to falute him, and to know how he sped at Court. But he told them his tale in so doleful a man her, that they all cried out, and moure ed, and wept. Wherefore they threwsher and dust upon their heads, and put sackcloth upon their soins and went crying out through the Town of Marful; which when the rest of the Townsfolk saw, they all mourned and wept. This therefore was a Day of rebuke and trouble, and of anguish to the Town of Mansoul, and also of great Distress.

They confeit again, Mr. asked advice, as they did before, of that agair, Mr.

Godlyfear's asked advice, as they did before, of that advice.

Reverend Mr. Godlyfear, who told them, that there was no waybetter than to do as they had done, nor would he that they should be discourzed dat all with that they had met with at Court; yea, the several of their Petitions should be answered with nought but silence or rebuke: For said he, is is the way of the wife Shaddal, to make Men wait, and to exercise patience, and it should be the way of them in want, to be willing to stay bis leisure.

Then they took courage, and sent athe Work of a backfliding to there was not one Day, nor an Hour Saint awakeand Man might nothave met upon the Road one or other riding Post from Manjoul to Grozning defires.

the Court of King Shaddai; and all with Letters petitionary in behalf of (and for the Prince's return to) Manfoul.

The Road, I say, was now full or Mellengers, going and returning, and meeting one another; some from

Tt, and some from Mansoul and this was the the miserable Town of Manseul, all that, long arp, that cold and tedious Winterif you have not forgot, you may yet ber that I told you before, that after Allen sel had taken Mansoni, yea, and after that he had modelled the Town, there remained in several by Places of the Corporation, many of the old Monians, that either came with the Tyrant, when he ded and took the Town, or that had thereby rea-Munlawful mixtures their birth, and breeding, and ging no And their Holes Dens and lurking Places e in, under, or about the Wall of the Town. Some heir Names are the Lord Fornication, the Lord Aery. the Lord Murder, the Lord Angel, the Lord riviousness, the Lord Deceis, the Lord wil eye, the ed Blassberry, and that horrible Villain the old and ... igerous Lord Covetou [nefs. These with many more, 1 yet their above in the Town of Manfoul, and that'er Emanuel had driven Diabolus out of the Cafile. Against these the good Prince did grant a Commisn to the Lord Willbewill and others, years the wholeown of Manfoul to feek, take, secure and destroy any, all that they could lay hands of, for that they were abolonians by Nature, Enemies to the Ptince, and ofe that fought to ruin the bleffed Town of Manfoul. it Manfoul did not purfue this Warrant, it negletled to apprehend, secure, and Mansoul beedtroy these Diabelonians. Wherefore ed not the hat do these Villains, but by degrees tion, nor fut ke courage to shew themselves to the his Committion h bitants of the Town. Yea, and as I imp Execution astold fome of the Men of Manfoul grew o familiar with some of 'em, to the forrow of the Cor pration, as you will hear more of in time and place Well, when the Diabolovian Lords per-The Diabol ived that Manfoul had through Sinning mans Plot, Fended Emanuel their Prince, and that · had withdrawn himfelf and was gone, what do? : Plot the ruin of the Town of Mansoul. So met together at the hold of one Mr. Mischief's; who also was a Diabolanian, and there consulted how they might deliver up Man/oul into the Hands of Diabolus again. Now some advised one way, and some anothe, every Man according to his own liking. At last my Lord Lasciviousness propounded some of those that were Diabolonians in Manfoul, to offer themselves for Servants to some of the Natives of the Town; for said he, if they do so, and Mansoul shall accept of them they may for us, and for Diabolus our Lord, make the taking of the Town of Manfoul more case than otherwise it would be. But then flood up the Lord Murder, and said, This may not be done at this time, for Manfoul is now in a kind of Rage, because by our Friend Mr. Carnal Security, the bath been once enforred already, and made to offend against her Prince, and how thall the reconcile her felf ur to her Lord again, but by the Heads of these Men? Pelides, we know that they have in Commission to take and slav us wherever they shall find us; let us therefore be wise as Foxes; whin we are Dead, we can do them no hurt, but while we live we may. Thus when they had toffed the matter to and fro, they jointly agreed that a Letter should forthwith be sent away to Diabolus in their They fend Name, by which the flate of the Town of Manfoul should be she wed him, and how much it is under the frowns of their Prince; we may also, said some, let him know our intentions, and ask his Advice in the Case. So a Letter was prefently framed, the contents of which was this,

To our great Lord, the Prince Diabolus, dwelling below in the Infernal Cave.

Great Father, and mighty Prince Diabolus, we the true Diabolonians, yet remaining in the Rebellious Town of Mansoul, having received our Beings from thee, and our Nourishment at thy Hands, cannot with content and quies endure to behold, as we do this Day, how thou are dispraised, disgraced, and remaached among the Inhabitants of this Town; nor is thy long absent oul, and such as sought our Honour and Revenge in of the Town of Mansoul. We also rejoiced that they are in a degenerated condition, and bave offended their Prince, and that he is beir Sickness also pleaseth us, as does also your Might, and Strength. Glad also would we be, rribly belowed, could we get this Town into thes again. Nor will we be sparing of spending our Cunning, our Craft, and Hellish Inventiing to a wished Conclusion, this your brave Ben order thereio. ake this for your Comfort, (our Birth, and our that shall we again surprize it and take it, ettempt to put all your Foes to the Sword, and e you the great Lords and Captains of the Place. I you fear (if ever we get it again) that we t shall be cast out any more; for we will come e strength, and so lay far more fast bold than at we did. Befides, it is the Law of that Prince , they own, that if we get them a Jesond time, be ours for ever, Mat. 12. 43, 44, 45. u therefore our trusty Diabolonians, yet more and endeavour to spie out the Weakness of the . Mansoul. We also would that you your selves ipt to weaken them more and more. Send us word what means we had best to attempt the regaineof, to wit, whether by Persmasson to a vain e Life; or, whether by tem ting them to doubt air; or, whether by bowing up of the Youn by powder of Pride and Self conceit. Do you also. tre Diabolonians, and true Sons of the Pit, be in a readiness to make a most bideous Assault when we shall be ready to storm it without. ted you in your project, and we in our defires. It Power of our Gates, which is the Wish of your iabolus Mansoul's Enemy, and bid bim that tremin be thinks of Judgment to come; all the Bleffings it be upon you, and so we close up our Letter.

en at the Pits Mouth by the joint Consens of all the Princes of Darkness, to be fent (to the ford and power that we have yet remaining in Mansoul) by the Hand of Mr. Profane.

By me Diabelus,

This Letter was fent to Manfoul to the Disholmians that yet remained there, and that yet inhabited the Wall, from the dark Dung on of Diebolus, by the hand of Mr. Profuse, by whom they also in Masse fent theirs to the Pit. Now when this Mr. Profes had made his return, and was come to Profane comes Manfoul again, he went and came as he home agai 1. was wont, to the House of : Mr. Mijthis, for there was the place where the Contrivers were met. Now when they saw that their Meffenger was returned fafe and found, they were greatly gladded thereat. Then he presented 'em his Letter, which who they had read and confidered, did much augment their gladness. They asked him after the welfare of their Friends, as how their Lord Diabous, Lucifer, and Beef rebub did, with the rest of those of the Dea. To which this Profane made answer, Well, well, my Lords, the are well, even as well as can be in their place. The also, said he, did ring for joy at reading of your Letter, as you will perceive by this when you read it.

Now, as was faid, when they had read their Letter, and perceived that it incouraged them in their work they fell to their way of contriving again, to wit, how they might compleat their delign upon Manfoul. And the first thing that they agreed upon. was to keep all things from Man'oul as close as they could. Let it not be known, let not Mansoul be acquainted with what we delign against it. The next thing was, how, or by what means they should try to bring to pass the ruin and overthrow of Manfoul, and one faid after this manner, and another faid after that. Then stood up Mr. Deceit, and faid, My right Diabolomian Priends, our Lords, and the high ones of the deep Dungeon do propound unto us thefe three ways.

i Whether

hether we had best to seek its rain by making pul loofe and vain.

whether by driving themtodoubt and despair r whether by endeavouring to blow them up

Jun-power of Pride and Self-conceit.

I think if we shall tempt them to Pride that fomething; and if we tempt them to Wantonat may help. But in my mind, if we could em into Desperation, that would knock the the Head; for then we should have them in place, question the truth of the love of the their Prince towards them, and that will difmuch. This if it works well, will make ave off quickly their way of fending Petitions then tarewell earnest follicitations for help My; for then this conclusion lies naturally hem. As good do norbing, as to do to no purpose. r. Deceit they unanimously did concent.

the next question was, but how shall we do this our Project to pais? And twas answered ame Gentleman, that this might be the best do it; even let quoth be, so many of our as are willing to venture themselves for the ng of their Prince's Cause disguise themselves parel, change their Names, and go into the like far Country Men, and proffer themselves ants to the famous Town of Manioul, and let etend to do for their Mafters as beneficially as ; for by so doing they may, if Mansoul shall m, in little time so currupt and defile the Cori, that her now Prince shall be not only further. l with them, but in conclusion shall spew them is Mouth. And when this is done our Prince shall prey upon them with ease : Yea, of them ey shall fall into the mouth of the eater.

project was no founer propounded, but was as accepted, and forward were all Diabolohians engage in the Enterprise; but it was not thought all should do thus; wherefore they pitched agor three, namely, the Lord Coverouness, the Lord Laciviculness and the Lord Anger: The Lord Covereoutness, called himself by the Name of Prudentability; the Lord Lasciviousness called himself by the Name of Harm'ess mireb; and the Lord Anger called himself by the Name of Good zeal.

So upon a Market-day they came into the Marketplace, three fully Fellows they were to look on, and they were cloathed in Sheeps ruffet, which was also now in a manner as white as were the white Robes of the Men of Mansoul. Now the Men could freak the "Language of Manjoul well. So when they were come into the Market-place, and had offered themselves to the Townsmen, they were presently taken up, for they asked but little Wages, and promiled to do their Mathers great Service.

Mr. Mind hired Prudent thrifty. and Mr. Godlyfew hired Good zeal. True, this Fellow Harmless mirth did hang a l ttle in Hand and could not so soon get? Matter as the others did, because the Town of Martoul was now in Lens, but after a while, because Lens was alm oft out, the Lord Willbewill hired Harmless mirth to be both his waiting Man and his Largety and thus they got them Mafters.

These Villians now being got into the Houses of the Men of Mansoul, quickly began to do great mischief therein; for being filthy, arch, and fly, thy quickly corrupted the Families were they were; yea, they cainted their Masters much, especially this Prudent. sbrifty, and him they called Harmles mush. I'rue, be that went under the Vizor of Good zeal was not so well liked of by his Mastersfor he quickly found that he was but a counterfeit Rascal; which when the Fellow percaived, with speed he made his escape from the House. or I doubt not but his Mafter had Hanged him.

Well, when these Vagabonds had thus far carried on their delign, and corrupted the Youn as much as they could, in the next place they confidered with themselves, at what time their Prince Diabolus, without and themselves within the Town, should make an attempt to feize upon Manjoul; and they all agreed upon this that a Market day would be b ft for that work; for why? Then will the Townsfolk be busic in their ways: And always take this for a Rule, When People are most busic in the World, they least fear a surprize. We also then, said they, shall be able with less suspicion to gether our selves together for the wo k of our Friends, and Lords; yea, and in such a Day if we shall attempt our Work, and miss it, we may when they shall give us the rout, the better hide our selves in the croud, and escape.

These thingsbeing thus far agreed upon by them, they wrote another Letter to Diobolus, and sent it by the hand of Mr. Prophane, the Contents of which was this.

The Lords of Loofness fend to the great and high Disho us from our Dens, Caves, Holes, and Strong Holds, in, and about the Wall of the Town of Mansoul, Greeting.

OR great Lord, and the nourisher of our lives, Diaholus; bow glad we were when we heard of your Fatherhood's readiness to comply with us, and help forward our Disgn in our attempts to ruin Mansoul I none can tell but those, who as we do, set themselves against all appearance of good when and wheresoever we find it, Rom. 7. 21 Gal. 5. 7.

Touching the encouragement that your Greatness is pleased to give us to continue to devise contrive, and study the utter desolation of Mansoul, that we are not sollicitous about, for we know right well that it cannot but be pleasing and profitable to us, to see our Enemies, and them that seek our Lives, to die at our seet, or sy before us. We therefore are still contriving, and that to the best of our cunning, to make this Work most facile and easy to your Lordsbips, and to us.

First, we considered of that most bellishly, cunning compasted three-fold Project, that by you was propounded to us in our last; and have concluded that though to blow them up with the Gun powder of Pride wou'd do well, and to do it by tempting them to be loose and vain will belp on, yet to contrive to bring them into the Gu's of Desperation, we think will do best of all. Now we wio are at your Beck, have thought of two ways to do this: First we for our pares will make them as vile as we can, and then you with us, at a time appointed, shall be ready to fall upon them with the utmost force. And of all the Nations that are at your Whiftle, we think shat an Army of Doubiers may be the most likely to attack and and overcome the Town of Manfoul. Thus shall we overcome thefe I nemies, elfe the Pit thall open ber Mouth upon them, and Desperation shall thrust them down into it. We have a'fo, to effect this fo much by us defined defign, sent stready three of our trusty Diabelonians among them, they are dispuised in Garb they have changed their Names, and are now accepted of them, to wit, Covetouliies, Lasciviousness, and Anger. The Name of Covetousness is changed to Prudent-thristy. and bim Mr. Mind bas bired, and is a most become as bad as our Friend. Lasc. viousness bas changed bis Name to Harmless mirth, and be is got to be the Lord Will newill's Lacquey, but be has made his Master very wanson. Anger changed bis Name into Good zeal, and was entertained by Mr. Godlyfear, but the peevish old Gentieman took Pepper in the Nofe, and turned out Companion out of his House: Nay, be has informed us since, that he ran away from bim, or else bis old Master bad banged bim for bis labour.

Now sheft have much belped forward our Work and Design upon Mansoul; for notwithstanding the spite and quarressime Temper of the old Gentleman tast mentioned, the other two ply their business well, and are like to ripen

the Work apace.

Our next project is, that it be concluded that you come upon the Town upon a Market day, and that when they are upon the heat of their husiness; for then to be sure they will be most secure, and least think that an assault will be made upon them. They will also at such a time be ies able to desend themselves, and to offend you in the projection of our Design. And we your trusty (and we are sure your beloved) ones, shall when you make your furious Assault without, be ready to second the business within. So shall we in all like ibood be ab'e to put Manioul to utter Confusion, and swallow them up before they can come to them elves. If your Serpentime Heads, most subtle Dragons, and our bigby esteemed Lords, can find out a better way than this, let us qui k'y know your minds.

> To the Monfters of the Infernal Cave, from the House of Mr. Mischief in Mansoul, by the hand of Mr. Profese.

Now all the while that the raging runnagates, and bellish Diabe onions were thus contriving the rain of the Town of Manfoul, they, to wit, the poor I own it felf, was in a fad and woful cafe, partly The fad flate because they had so grievously offended of Mansul. Sheddai and his Son, and partly because that the Enemies thereby got thrength within 'em afresh, and also because though they had by many Petitions made fuit to the Prince Emanuel and to his Father Shaddai by him, for their Rardon and Favour, yet hitherto obtained they not one im'le; bu' coutrariwife, through the craft and subtilty of the dome-Rick Diabolonians, their Cloud was made to grow blacker and blacker, and their Emanuel to stand at further diftance.

The Sickoness also did fill greatly rage in Mausoul, both among the Captains, and the Inhabitants of the Towntheir Enemies, and the r Enemies only were row lively and strong, and like to become the Head, whilst Manoul was made the Tail.

By this time the Letter 1aft mentioned, that was written by the Diabolonians that yet lu ked in the Town of Manfou!, was conveyed to Diabolus in the Blak-Den, by the hand of Mr. Frogbane. He carried the Letter by Hellgate bill as afore, and conveyed it by Cerberus to his Lord.

But when Cerberus and Mr. Prophane did meet, they were presently great as Beggars, and thus they fel ai into Discourse about Manfoul, and about the I againft her.

Ah! Old Friend, quoth Cerberus art thou c Hell gate bill again! by St Mary I am glad to fe Prof. Tes my Iord, I am come a bout the concerns of the Town of Man, Cerb. Prichee tell me; what cond that Town of Manfoul in at prefent

Pros. In a brave condition, my Lord, for us, my Lords, the Lords of this place I trow; for a greatly decayed as to Godliness, and that's as well Heart can wish; their Lord is greatly out with and that doth a so please us well. We have alrea foot in their Dish, for our Dish son an Fricaid in their Bosoms, and what do we lack, but to steep of the place? Resides, our trusty Friends in soul are daily Plotting to betray it to the Lords Town; also the Sicknesses rages bitterly amount that which makes up all, we kope at last to

Then said Cerberus, no time like this so them; I wish that the entriprize be followed and that the Success defired may be soon aff see I wish it for the poor Diabo onians sakes that the continual sear of their Lives in that Tra

Town of Mansoul.

Prof. The contrivance is almost sinished, the Mansoul that are Diabolonians are at it Day and and the other are like silly Doves, they want hea concerned with their State, and to consider that at hand. Hesides, you may, yea, must think uput all things together, that there are many reasprevail with Diabolus to make what haste he can Cer. Thou hast said as it is, I am glad thirs this pass, Go in, my brave Profane, to my Lowill give thee for thy welcome as good a Cothis Kingdom will afford. I have sent thy in already.

Profine's his Lord Diabolus met him, as him with Welcome, my trufty

1 made glad with thy Letter. The rest of the the Pit gave him also their Salutations. Then after Obeisance made to them all, said, Let e given to my Lord Diabolus and let him ing for ever. And with that the yawning Hell gave so loud and hideous a Groan ( for : Mulick of that place) that it made them unut it totter, as if they would fall in pieces.

after they had red and confidered the Letconfulted what answer to return, and the

: did speak to it, was Lucifer.

Then said he, The first Project what Answer abolonians in Manfoul, is like to rogive to the and to take; to wit, that they Letter.

I the means they can, make Man-nore Vile; no way to defroy a Soul like this; iend Balaam went this way and profeered maago, Num, 31. 16. Rev 2. 14. Let this therewith us for a Maxim, and he to Diabolonigeneral Rule in all Ages, for nothing can s to fail but Grace, in which I would hope Town has no share. But whether to fall upon a Market-day, becau fe of their cumber in that I would should be under debate. An I fore reason why this Head should be debated. . fome other should; hecause upon this will vhole of what we shall attempt. If we time isiness well our whole Project may fail Our he Diabolonians fay, that a market day is then will Manfoul be most butie, and have loughts of a turprize. But what if they half heir guards on those Days, ( and methinks nd Reason should teach them to do it ) and hey should keep such a Watch on these Days cessity of their present case requires? Yea, neir Men should be always in Arms on these hen you may, my Lords, be disappointed in impts, and may bring our Priending the utter Danger of unavoidable Ruin. renfaid the great Heelzebub. There is a thing in what my Lord hath said, but his conjecture may, or may not fall out. Nor hath my Lord said it down as that which must not be receeded from, for I know that he said it only to provoke to a warm debate thereabout. Therefore we must understand, if we can, whether the Town of Mansoul has such Sense and Knowledge of her decayed State and of the design that we have on Foot against her, as to set Watch and Ward at her Gates, and to double them in Market days. But if after enquire made, it shall be found that they are assert, then any day will do but a Market day is best; and this is my Judgment.

Diab. Then quoth Diabolus how should we know this? And 'twas answered, erquire about it at the Mouth of Mr Frofare. So Profane was called in and asked the question, and he made his answer as follows.

Prof. My Lords so far as I can gather,

Profance's Dethis is at present the condition of the lorns for present the of Mansoul; they are decayed in their faith of Mansoul.

Them the back; they send often by Petinion to setch him again, but he makes no hast to answer on to fetch him again, but he makes no haft to answer their request, nor is there much Reformation among them. Diah. I am glad that they are back ward to a Reformation, but yet I am shaid of their Petition. ng. However, there lookels of Life is a fign that there is not much heart in what they do, and with out the heart, things are little worth. But go on, my Masters, I will divert you, my Lords no longer.

Beel. If the case he so with Agained, as Mr. Profine has described it to be, 'twill be no great matter what Day we assult it, not their Prayers, nor their Power will do them much fervice.

Dreadfal Advice against on, then Apollyon did begin. My Opinion, faid he, concerning this matter, is that we go on tair and fostly, not doing things in a hurry. Let our Friends in Manfoul go on fill to pollute and defile it, by seeking to draw it yet.

Manfoul.

Manfoul.

Manfoul.

anfoul.) If this be done and it takes effect, Man oul it self will leave off to Wa ch, to Petition, or any ing elfe, that should tend to her security and safery; r the will forget her Emanuel, the will not defire his moany and can she be gotten thus to live, her Prince Il not come to her in hafte. Our trutty Priend Mr. urnal Security, with one of his Tricks, did drive him it of the Town, and why may not my Lord Coverouf. is, and my Lord Lasciviousness, by what they may do. thim out of the Town? And this I will tell you ot because you know it not) that two or three Dialonions, if entertained and countenanced by the own of Manson!, will do more to the keeping of Emuel from them, and towards making of the Town Manfoul, our own, than an Army of a Legion that ould be fent out from us to withfiand him. Let therefore this first Project that our Priends in lanfoul have fet on foot, be ftrongly and diligently rried on with all cunning and craft imaginable; and them fend continually under one guife or other, we and other of their Men to play with the People Manfoul; and then perhars we shall not need to be the charge of making a War upon them; or if that uft of accessity be done, yet the more finial they are. e more unable they will be to relift us, and then the ore easily we shall overcome them. And besides, ppose (and that is the worst that can be supposed) at Emanuel should come to them again, why may the fame means (or the like) drive him from 'em ce more? Yea, why may be not by their lapse into at Sin again, be driven from them for ever, for the se of which he was at the first driven from them for cason? And if this should happen, then away go th him his Rams, his Slings, his Captains, his Solai-, and he leaveth Manfows naked and bure. Yea, willt this Town, when the fees herfelf utterly for laken. her Prince of her own accord open her Gates ain unto you? But this must be done by time, a few ays will not effect to great a Work as this. .

io loon as Apollyes had made an end of speaking, Listo v Diabolus hegan to blow out his own Malice, plead his own cause, and he said, My Lords arers of the Cave, my true and trusty Friends, with much impatience, as becomes me, give your long and tedious Orations. But my furiou and empty Paunch, so luste haster are possiny famous Town of Mansoul, that whatever con I can wait no longer to see the events of linger jests. I must, and that without surther delay, all means I can to fill my unsatiable Gulf with and Body of the Town of Mansoul. Therefore me your Heads, your Hearts, and your Helpam going to recover my Town of Mansoul.

When the Lords and Princes of the Pit law ming defire that was in Disbolus to devour the ble Town of Mansoul they left off to raise any m jedions, but consented to lend him what fireng could: Though had Apollym's Advice been tak had far more fearfully diffreffed the Town of I But I fay, they were willing to lend him what i they could, not knowing what need they mig of him, when they thould engage for themselve Wherefore they fell to adviting about the nex propounded, to wit, what Soldiers they were, how many, with whom Diabolus should go aga Town of Manfoul to take it; and after some d was concluded, according as in the Letter the lonians had suggested, that none was more fit Expedition, than an Army of terrible Doubter therefore concluded to send against Mansoul, a fit to be employ'd in that Servibetween twenty and thirty thous then the refule of that great Cer those high acd mighty Lords wa Disbolus should even now out c of flurdy Doubsers. The number 1

An Army of Doubters raifed to go against the Youn of Mansfoul.

beat up his Drum for Men in the Land of D. when Lard lyeth upon the confines of the plan Hell gate-bill, for Men that might be employed at the miserable Town of Mansoul. Y concluded, that these Lords themselves The Princes of should help him in the War, and that they the Pic go with would to that end head and manage his with them. Men. So they drew up a Letter, and sent it back to the Diabolonians that lurked in Mansoul, and that waited for the coming back of Mr. Profane, to signify to them into what method they had put their design. The Contents whereof sollow.

From the dark and horrible Dungeon of Helle Diabolus, with all the Society of the Princes of Darkness, sends to our trusty ones, in and about the Walls of the Town of Manfoul, now impatiently waiting for our most devilish Answer to their venomous and most possenous Design against the Town of Manfoul.

O'UR native ones, in whom from Day to Day we boust, and in whose Astions all the Tear long we do greatly delight our selves: We received your Welcome, because highly esteemed Letter, at the hand of our trusty and greatly beloved, the old Gentleman, Mr. Prosane. And do give you to understand, that when we had broken it up, and had read the Contents thereof (to your amazing Memory he it spoken) our yawning hollow hellied place, where we are, made so hideous and yelling a noise far Joy, that the Mountains that stand round about Hellegate hill, had like to have been shaken to pieces at the Sound thereof.

We could also do no less than admire your Faithfulness to us, with the Greatness of that Subility that now hath shewed its self to be in your Heads to serve us against the Town of Mansoul. For you have invented for us so excellent a method for our proceeding against that rebellious People, a more effectual cannot be thought of by all the Witt of Hell, The Proposals therefore which now at last you have sent us, since we saw them, we have done little else bus bigbly approved and admired them.

Nay, we shall to encourage you in the profundity of your Crass, let you know, that at a full affembly and Conslave of our Princes, and Principalities of this plan, your Project was discoursed and tossed from one side of our Cave to the other by their Mightin sies, but a ketter, and as was by themselves judged, a more sit all proper way, by all their wits could not be invented, u surprize, take and make our own, the Rebellious som of Man'oul.

Wherefore in five, all that was faid that varied from what you had in your Letter propounded, fell of it felf to the ground, and yours only was stuck to by Diaholus the Prince; yea, his gaping Gorge, and jawning Panul was on fire, to put your invention into Enecution.

We therefore give you to understand that our stout, furious, and unmerciful Diabolus, is rising for your relief, and the ruin of the Rebellious Town of Mansoul, more than Twenty Thousand Doubters, to some against that Feo, le. They are all stout and study Men, and Men that of o'd have been accustomed to War? I say, be in doing of this Work of his with all the speed he can, for with his heart and spirit is engaged in it. We define therefore that as you have hitherto stuck to us, and given us both a lvice and encouragement, you still will prosecute our dign, nor shall you lose, but he gainers thereby; yes, we intend to make you the Lords of Mansoul.

One thing may not by any means be omitted, that is, those with us do desire that every one of you that are in Mansoul, would still use all your Fower, Cunning and Skill, with delusive persuasions, yet to draw the Town of Man soul into more Sin and Wick-duess, even that Sin may be finished and bring forth Death.

for thus it is concluded with us, that the more vile finful, and debauched the Town of Mansoul is, the more, backward will their Emanuel be to come to their belp, either by presence, or other relief; yea, the more Sinful, the more weak, and so the more wable will they be so make resistance when we shall make our assume them to swallow them up. Tes, that may cause that their mighty haddan himself may east them out of his Presection; yea, and send for his Captains and soldiers home, with his Sings and Rams, and leave them match and bire, and then the Town of Man oul will of it self open to us, and sall as the Fig into the Month of the eater. Tea, to be sure that we then with a great deal of ease shall come upon her and overcome ker.

As to the time of our coming upon Mansoul, we as yet have not fully resolved upon that, though at present some of us think as you, that a Niarket-day, or a Market-day as Night will certainly be the best. However, do you be ready, and when you sail hear our rowing Drum without, do you be as huse to make the most borrible compliant without, to Pet. 5. 8. So shall Mansoul certainly be distressed before and behind, and shall not know which way to betake berself for best. My Lord Luciser, my Lord Beelzebub, my Lord Apollyon, my Lord Legion, with the rest salue you, as does also my Lord Legion, and we wish beth you, with all that you do or shall possess, the very set same fruit and success for their doing, as we our selves at present enjoy for ours.

From our dreadful Confines in the most fearful Pit, we salute you, and so do those many Legions here with us, wishing you may be as hellishly prosperous as we desire to be our selves. By the Letter Carrier, Mr. Profess.

Then Mr. Profame addressed himself for his return to Mansoul, with his Errand from the horrible Pit to the Diabolonians that dwelt in that Town. So he came up the Stairs from the Deep to the Mouth of the Cave where Lerberus was. Now when Cerberus saw him, he asked how matters did go below, about, and against the Town of Manfoul,

Prot. Things go as well as we can expelt. The Letter that I carried thister was highly approved, and well liked by all my Lords, and I am returning to tell our Diabolonians so. I have an answer to it here in my Eosom, that I am sure will make our Masters that sint me, glad; for the Contents thereof is to encourage them so pursue their design to the utmost, and to be easy a so to fall on within, when they shall see my Lord Diabolus beleaguering of the Town of Mansouli.

Cerb. But does he intend to go against them himsels?

Prof. Does be! Ay, and he will take along with him more than twenty thousand all flurdy Doubters and Men of War, picked Men grom the Land of Doubting, we serve him in the Expedition.

Cerb. Then was Cerberus glad, and said, And is there such brave Preparations a making to go against the miserable Town of Mansoul? And would I might be put at the Head of a thousand of them, that I might all shew my Valour against the samous Town of Mansoul.

P.of. Your wish may come to pass, you look like one that has mettle enough, and my Lord will have with him those that are valiant and stout. But my Rusiness requires baste.

Cerb. Ay, so it does. Speed thee to the Town of Manfoul, with all the deepest mischiefs that this place can afford thee. And when thou shalt come to the House of Mr. Mischief the place where the Diabelonians meet to Plot, tell them that Cerberus doth with them his Service, and that if he may, he will with the Army come up against the samous Town of Mansoul.

Prof. That I will. And I know that my Lords that are there, will be glad to bear it, and to fee you also.

So after a few more such kind of Complements, Mr. Profane took leave of his Friend Cerberus and Cerberus again with a thousand of their Pit wishes, bid him haste with all speed to his Masters. The which when he had heard, he made Obeisance, and began to gather up his Heels to run.

Thus therefore he returned, and went and came to Manfoul, and going as afore to the House of Mr. Missief, there he found the Diabolonians assembled, and waiting for his return. Now when he was come, and had presented himself, he delivered his Letter, and adjoined his Complement to them therewith: My Lords, from the Confines of the Pit, the high and mighty Principalities and Powers of the Densaure you here, the true Diabolonians of the Town of Mansoul: Wilhing you always the most proper of their Benedikton.

for the great Service, high At empts and brave At. chievements that you have pur y ur selves upon, for the restoring so our Prince Diabo'us the samous Town of Mansoul.

This was therefore the present state of the miserable Town of Mansoul: She had offended her Prince, and he was gone; she had encouraged the Powers of Hell by her toolishness, to come against her, to seek her utter Destruction.

True, the Town of Manfoul was somewhat made sensible of her Sin, but the Diabolonians were gotten into her Bowels; she cried, but Emanuel was gone, and her cried did not fetch him as yet again. Besides, she knew not whether ever or never, he would return, and come to his Manfoul again; nor did they know the Power and Industry of the Enemy, nor how forward they were to put in Execution that Plot of Hell that they had devised against her.

They did indeed flill fend Petition after Petition to the Prince, but he answered all with silence. They did negle & Reformation, and that was as Diabolus would have it; for he knew, if they regarded Iniquity in their Heart, their King would not hear their Prayer; they therefore did fill grow weaker and weaker, and were as a rowling thing before the Whirlwind. They cried to their King for help, and laid Diabolonians in their Bosoms, what therefore should a King do to 'em? Ye; there seemed now to be a mixture in Mansoul, the Di abolonians and Mansoulians would walk the Streets to. gether. Yea, they began to seek their Peace, for they thought, that fince the Sickness had been so mortal in Manfoul, twas in vain to go to hardy gripes with 'em Besides, the weakness of Manjoul, was the strength o their Enemies; and the Sins of Manfoul, the advantage of the Diabolonians. The Foes of Manjoul did alice now begin to promise themselves the Town for a Pos fession; there was no great difference now betwixt th Mansoulians and Diagolonians, both seemed to Masters of Mansoul. Yea, the Diabolonians increas and grew, but the Town of Monloud diminished gr ly. There was more than eleves thousand of Men, women, and Children, that died by the Sickness of Wanfoul.

MBut now, as Shaddai would have it, there was one shole Name was Mr. Prywell, a great Lover of the cople of Manfoul. And he, as his manner was, did Fo liftening up and down in Manfoul, to fee, and to hear if at any time he might, whether there was any design against it or no. For he was always a jealous Man, and fear'd some Mischief sometime The Story of would be fall it, either from the Diabele Mr. Prywell. nians within, or from some Power without. Now upon a time it so happened, as Mr. Prfwell went I stening here and there, that he lighted upon a place, call'd Vile bill in Manfoul, where Diste lonions used to meet; so hearing a muttering (you must know that it was in the Night) he foftly drew near to hear; nor had he flood long under the

The Diabolonian Plot difcovered, and by whom.

The Diabolothouse-end, (for there stood a House there) but he heard one considerably asfirm, That it was not, or would not be long before Diabolus should possess himfelf again of Manfoul, and that then the Diebolonians did intend to put all Manfoulians to the Sword, and would kill and destroy the King's Captains, and drive all his Soldiers out of the Town.

He faid moreover, That he knew there were above twenty thousand fighting Men prepared by Diabolus for the accomplishing of this Design, and that it would not be many Months before they all should see When Mr. Prywell had heard this it. Understanding Story, he did quickly believe it was true, Confcience. wherefore he went forthwith to my Lord Mayor's House, and acquainted him therewith; who sending for the Subordinate Preacher, brake the business to him, and he as soon gave the Alarm to the Town, for he was now the chief Preacher in Mansoul, because as yet my Lord Secretary was ill at eale. this was the way that the Subordinate Preacher did take to Alarm the Town therewith: The same Hour fed the Letture-Bell to be rung, so the People ogether; he gave them then a short Exhortati-Watchfulness, and made Mr. Prym Is News the nent thereof. For, said he, an horrible Plot is ved against Mansoul, even to Massacre us all in; nor is this Story to be sighted, for Mr. Prythe Author thereof. Mr. Prymell was always a of Mansoul, a sober and judicious Man, a Manino tatler, nor raiser of saise Reports, but one wes to look into the very bottom of matters, lks nothing of News but by very solid Argu-ill call bim, and you shall hear him your oun ; so he called him, and he came and told his o punctually, and affirmed its truth with such grounds, that Manfoul fell prefently under a tion of the truth of what he faid. The Preacher fo back him, faying, Sirs, it is not irrational to believe it, for we have provoked Shaddar to ; and have finned Emanuel out of the Town; ve had too much Correspondence with Diabo-; and have forgotten our tender Mercies; no I then if the Enemy both within and without defign and plot our Ruin; and what time like do it? The Sickness is now in the Town, and ve been made weak thereby. Many a goodng Man is dead, and the Diabolonians of late tronger and ftronger. ides, quoth the Subordinate Preacher, I have re-I from this good Truth teller this one g further, that he understood by those the Alarm. e over heard, that several Letters have passed between the Furies and the Diabolonians, er to our destruction. When Mansoul heard all nd not being able to gainfay it, they lift up their and wept. Mr. Prywell did also in the presence : Townsmen, confirm all that their Subordinate her had faid. Wherefore they now fet afresh to I their Folly, and to a doubling of Petricus to i, and his Son. They also break the bulines form d he will, to beleaguer the Town When the Captains heard this, they true Lovers of the Town of Manfoul, when the form many Sampfons, they shake the come together to consuit and contrive I the shold and hell she contrivances that wheel, by the means of Diabo'us and he and the now sickly, weakly, and much Town of Manfoul; and they agreed u lowing Particulars:

Their Agreement.

Their Agreement.

Locks, and that all Persons to came in, should be very strictly exa
Captains of the Guards, 1 Cor. 16. 13 said they, that those that are managers mongst us, may either coming or go and that we may also find out who are t trivers (amongst us) of our Ruin, I and

L. The next thing was, that a first sea made for all kind of Diabelonians, the whole Town of Manfoul; and that every from too to bottom, should be look'd in Lamfoul, that a publick Faft, and a Day of Humiliation should be kept throughout the whole Corporation to the justifying of their Prince, the abasing of them selves before him for their Transgressions against hims and against Shaddai his Father, Joel 1. 14. Chap. 2. 15. 16. It was further resolved, that all such in Mansoul of did not on that Day endeavour to keep that Fast. and to humble themselves for their faults, but should ind their worldly Employments, or be found wanding up and down the Streets, should be taken for Disholonians, and suffer as Disholonians for such wicked doings.

5. It was further concluded then, that with what speed, and with what warmth of mind they could, hey would renew their Humiliation for Sin, and their Petitions to Shaddai for help; they also resolved to send Fidings to the Court, of all that Mr. Prywell bad told them, fer. 37. 4.

6. It was also determined, that Thanks should be given by the Town of Mansoul to Mr. Prywell, for his diligent seeking of the welfare of their Town; and further, that forasmuch as he was so naturally inclined to seek their Good, and also to undermine their Fors, they gave him a Commission of Scout-mastergeneral, for the good of the Town of Mansoul.

When the Corporation with their Captains had thus concluded, they did as they had said, they shut up their Gates, they made for Diabolonians strict search, they made those with whom any was sound, to do Penance in the open place. They kept their Fast, and renewed their Petitions to their Prince, and Mr. Prywell managed his Charge, and the Trust that Marsoul had put into his Hands, with great Conscience, Mr. Prywell and good Fidelity; for he gave himself goesascoutwholly up to his Employ, and that not ingoonly within the Town, but he went cut to pry, to see, and to bear.

And not many days after, he provided for his fourney, and went towards Hellgare bill, into the County where Doubsers were, where he heard of all that?

been talked of in Mansoul, and he perceived al Diabolus was almost ready for his March, &c. came back with speed, and calling the Capta Elders of Manfoul together, he told them wi had been, what he had heard, and what he ha

He seturns with great

Particularly be told them, that I was almost ready for his March,a he had made old Mr. herudelity.th brake Prison in Mansoul, the Gei his Army; that his Army confifted of all Doub that their Number was above twenty Thousa told moreover that Diebe'us did intend to brit him the chief Princes of the Infernal Pit. and would make them chief Captains over his D He told them moreover, that it was certain that several of the Black Den would with a ride Reformades to reduce the Town of Manform

He faid moreover, that he understood by th ters, among whom he had been, that the real old Incredulity was made General of the whole was, because none truer than he to the Tyran because he had an implacable spight against t fare of the Town of Manfoul. Besides, said he. members the Affronts that Manfoul has give and he is refolved to be reveng'd of them.

Obedience of Diabolus their Prince.

But the Black Princes shall be made Hig manders; only Incrudelity shall be over them cause he can more easily and dextrously be the Town of Mansou, than any of the Prin fides, Heb. 12. 1.

Now when the Captains of Manfoul, with the of the Town, had heard the Tidings that Mr. did bring, they thought it expedient without delay to put into Execution the Laws against abolonians, their Prince had made and given t Commandment to manage against them. Wh forthwith a diligent and impartial fearch was: all Houses in Mansout, for all and all manner obolenisms. Now in the House of Mr. Mind House of the great Lord Willbewill, were two Di lonians found. In Mr. Mind's H use was one Lord netousness found, but he had changed his Name to ident-shrifty In my Lord Wilbewill's House, one serviousness was found, but he had changed his ime to Harmless mirrh. These two the Captains I Elders of the Town of Mansoul took and committed to Custody, under the hand of Mr. Trueman the raler; and this Man handled them so severely, and ded them so well with Irons, that they both sell to a very deep Consumption and died in the Print; their Masters also, according to the Agreement the Captains and Elders, were brought to do Pence in the open place, to their shame, and for a training to the rest of the Town of Mansoul.

Now this was the manner of Penance in those days, he Persons offending being made sensible of the Evil their doings, were enjoyned open Consession of eir Paults, and a strict Amendment of their Lives. After this the Captains and Elders of Mansoul sought at to find out more Diabolonians, where ever they rked, whether in Dens, Caves, Holes, Vaults, or here else they could, in, or about the Wall, or Town

Manfaul. But though they could plainly fee their ooting, and so follow them by their Trad, and smell their Holds, even to the Mouths of their Caves and eas, yet take and do justice upon them they could st, their ways were so crooked, their Holds so strong, at they so quick to take Sanduary there.

But Manfoul did now with so stiff an Hand rule ser the Diabolonians that were lest, that they were ad to shrink into Corners: Time was when they write walkopenly and in the Day, but now they were reed to embrace privacy and the Night: Time was hen a Manfoulian was their Companion, but now bey counted them deadly Enemies. This change d Mr. Prywell's Intelligence make in the Town of tansoul.

By this time Diabolas had finished his Army which intended to bring with him for the Run of Man foul and had fet over them Captains, and other Field Officers, such as liked his surious Stomach hest, his felf was Lord Paramount. Incrudelity was General his Army. Their highest Captains shall be named terwards, but now for their Officers, Colours, a Scutcheons.

1. Their first Captain was Captain Rage, he was Catain over the Election doubters, his were the red Clours; his Standard-bearer was Mr. Defirative, at the great Red Dragon he had for his Scutcheon, Id. 12, 2, 4, 13, 15, 17.

2. The second Captain was Captain Fury, he was Captain over the Vocation doubters; his Standard be er was Mr. Darkness, his Colours were those that we pale, and he had for his Scurcheon the fiery Flys Serpent, Num. 21. 6.

3. The third Captain was Captain Dammain, was Captain over the Grace doubters, his were the Colours, Mr. No life bare them, and he had for Scutcheon the Llack den, Mat. 3, 22, 25, Rev. 9, 4

4. The fourth Captain was Captain Infaision was Captain over the Fairb doubters, his were the Colours, Mr. Devourer bare them, and he had his Scutcheon the Yawning jaws, Prov. 27. 20.

5. The fifth Captain was Captain Bringtone, be Captain over the Perseverance doubters. his also the red Colours, Mr. Burning have them, and Scutcheon was the blue and stacking fl. me, Plat. 16. Rev. 14. 11.

6. The fixth Captain was Captain Torment, he captain over the Refurredion doubters, his Colomwere those that were pale, Mr. Gnaw was his State and bearer, and he had the Black-worm for his Scuttern, Mark 9. 44, 46, 48.

7. The seventh Captain was Captain No ease, was Captain over the Salvation doubters, his were tred Colours, Mr. Reftless bare them, and his was the ghafily Picture of Death, Rev. 4. 11. Chap. 6. 8.

8. The eight Captain was Captain Sepulchre, but Captain over the Glory doubters, his was all these were the standards, these were their and these were their Scutcheons. Now over the great Diabolus make Superior Captains, were in Numberseven: As namely, the Lor hub, the Lord Lucifer, the Lord Legion, the pollyon, the Lord Tysbon, the Lord Cerberus, Lord Beliet; shele seven he set over the and Recredulty was Lord general, and Diabolus

The Reformates also, such as were like the were made some of them Captains of Hunds fome of them Captains of more: And thus

Army of Increduity compleased.

So they fet out at Hellgase bill, (for there their Rendezvous) from whence they cam firaight coorfe upon their March towards the family and have it, received from the of Mr. Prymell the Alarm of thier coming Wherefore they fet a firong Watch at the Ghad also coubled their Guards; they also the caming of their Colours were also terrible and z to behold.

Disbolus was come up against the Townshirst e his approach to Ear-gate, and a furious Affault, supposting, as He makes as a furious Affauir, tupporting, as Affault upon that his Friends in Manfoul had Ear-gate, and My to do the work within; but is repelled. s taken of that before, by the vit. of the Captains. Wherefore missing of the t he expected from them, and finding of his warmly attended with the Stones that the did fling ( for that I will fay for the Captains. isidering the Weakness that yet was upon y reason of the long Sickness that had annoyed in of Manfoul, they did gallantly themselves ) he was forced to and me retreat from Manfoul, and es homfel ich himself and his Men in the vithout the reach of the Slings of the Town . 7.

having intrenched himfelf, he did caffup four against the Town; the first he called Mount , putting his own Name thereon, the more to the Townof Manfoul, the other three he called lount Alesto, Mount Megare, and Mount Tifor these are the names of the dreadful Furies

Thus he began to play his Game with and to serve it as the Lyon his Prey, even it fall before his Terror. But, as I fail, the s and Soldiers relifted to flourly, and wid to recution, that they made him, though against i, to retreat: Wherefore Manjoul began to rage.

upon Mount Diabolus, which led on the North fide of the Sign here did the Tyrant fet up his up , and a fearful thing it was to

for he had wrought in it by Dewilish Art af manner of his Scutch:on, a Hernbur Ray o behold, and the Picture of Man ch might at last (if possibly, at the first t willing yet) be forced to do it.

So the Drummer did as commande and did heat his Drum. But when his if one looked towards the Town of Madurkne/s and forrow, and the light was a Heaven thereof, Isa. 5. 30. No noise w upon Earth more terrible, except the dai, when he speaketh. But how did ble! it now looked for nothing but fortswallowed up.

When this Drummer had beaten a Pa this Speech to Manfoul, My Master & you, That if you will willingly submit, the good of the Earth, but if you shall be is resolved to take you by force. But by gitive had done beating of his Drum, the Manfoul had betaken themselves to the were in the Castie, so that there was no nor to give this Drummer an Answer; sed no further that Night but returned Master to the Camp.

should be his Messenger to Mansoul, but the terrible Captain Sepulcher; so Captain Sepulcher came up to the Walls of Mansoul, and made this Oration to the Town.

O ye Inhabitants of the rebellious Town of Manfoul! I Summon you in the name of the Prince Diabolus, that without any more ado, you set open the Gates of your Town, and admit your Lord to come in. Eut if you shall still Rebel, when we have taken the Town by sorce, we will swallow you up as the Grave; wherefore if you will barken to my Summons, say so.

and if not, then let me know.

Thereason of this my Summons, quoth he, is, for that my - Lord is your undoubted Prince and Lord, as you your selves have formerly sweed. Nor shall that Assault that was given to my Lord, when Emanuel deals so dishonourably by him, prevail with him to lose his Right, and to forbear to attempt to recover his own. Consider then, o Mansoul, with thy self, will thou shall quietly yield up thy self, then our old Friendship shall be remembed; but if thou shall yet refuse and rebel, then expect nothing but Fire and Sword

When the languishing Town of Manfoul had heard this Summoner, and his Summons, they were yet more put to their dumps, but made the Captain no

Answer at all, so away he went as he came.

But after some Consultation among themselves, as also with some of their Captains, they applied themselves afresh to the Lord Secretary for Counsel and Advice from him; for this Lord Secretary was their chief Preacher (as also is mentioned some Pages before) only now he was ill at ease; and of him they begged savour in these two or three things.

and not keep himself so much retired from them as formerly. Also that he would be prevailed with to give them a hearing while they should make known their miserable condition to him. But to this he told them as before, That as yet be were but ill at ease, and therefore could not do as be bad formerly done.

2. The second thing they desired, was, that he would be pleased to give them his Advice about their now so important Affairs, for that Diabolus was come and set before the Town with no less than Twenty Thousand Doubters. They said moreover, that both he and his Captains were cruel Men, and that they were assaid of them. But to this he said. You must look to the Law of the Prince, and there see what is laid upon you to do.

3. Then they defired that his Highness would help them to frame a Petition to Sbaddai, and unto Eminuel his Son, and that he would set his own hand thereto, as a Token that he was one with them in it: For, said they my Lord, many a one bave we sent, but can get no answer of Peace, but now surely one with thy Hand unto it, may obtain good for Mansoul.

But all the answer he gave to this, was, That they had offended their Emanuel, and had also grieved himself, and that therefore they must as yet partake of their own devices.

This Answer of the Lord Secretary fell like a Millflone upon them; yea, it crushed them so, that they could not tell what to do, yet they durft not comply with the Demands of Diabolus, nor with the Demands of his Captain, Lam. 1. 3. So then here were the firaights that the Town of Mansoul, was betwixt, when the Enemy came upon her: Her Foes were ready to swallow her up, and her Friends did forbear to help her.

Then flood up my Lord Mayor, whose Name was my Lord Understanding, and he began to pick and pick, until he had pick'd comfort out of that seemingly bitter saying of the Lord Secretary; for thus he descanted upon it: First, said he, This unavoidably sollows upon the saying of my Lord, That we must yet suffer for our sins. 2. But, quoth he, the words yet sound as if at last we sould be saved from Evenies, and that after a sew more sorrows, Even.

nac

Il come and be our belp. Now the Lord Maythe more Critical in his dealing with the SeWords, because my Lord was more than a t, and because none of his Words were fuch, t at all times they were most exactly signifiand the Townsmen were allowed to pry
m, and to expound them to their best Ad-

ney took their leaves of my Lord, and returnwent, and came to the Captains, to whom d tell what my Lord High Secretary had said, nen they had heard it, were all of the same Ois was my Lord Mayor himself; the Captains to began to take some courage unto them, and are to make some brave Attempt upon the state to the Enemy, and to destroy all that were Dists, with the roving Doubters that the Tyrant ught with him to destroy the poor Town of I.

betook themselves forthwith to aces, the Captains to theirs, the Town of layor to his, the Subordinate Mansoulin Order.

The Captains longed to be at some Work for ince for they delighted in Warlike Atchieve—The Next day therefore they came together sulted, and after Consultation had, they respire an Answer to the Captain of Diabo-Slings; and so they did at the rising of the the Morrow; for Diabolus had adventured nearer again, but the Sling-Rones were to his, like Hornets. For as there is nothing own of Mansoul so terrible as the roaring of a Drum, so there is nothing to Diabolus le as the well playing of Emanuel's Slings. The Diabolus was forced to make another, yet surther off from the Famous Town of

Then did the Lord Mayor of Mansoul: Bells to be rung, and that thanks should be sent ord High Secretary by the Mouth of the Subordian ordinate Preacher; for that by his Words the Captains and Elders of Mansoul had been streng thned against Diabolus.

When Diabolus saw that his Captains and Soldiers, high Lords, and renowned, were frightned and beaten down by the Stones that came from the Golden Slings of the Prince of the Town of Manjoul, he bethought himself, and said, I will try to catch them by fawning, I will try to fatter them into my Net.

Diabolus again to the Wall, not now with his Drum, his way. nor with Captain Sepulcher, but having all to-besugard his Lips, he seemed to be a very Sweet mouthed, peaceable Prince, designing nothing for Humours sake, nor to be revenged on Mansaul for Injuries by them done to him, but the Welfare, and Good, and Advantage of the Town and People therein, was now, as he said, his only Design. Wherefore after he had called for Audience, and desired that the Townsolk would give it to him, he proceeded in his Oration: And said.

Ob! the defire of my beart, the famous Town of Man-

10us, now many Nights bave I watched, and bow miny weary steps bave I taken, if perhaps I might do ibee good, 1 Pet. 5. 8. Rev. 12. 10. Far be it, far be it from me to desire to make War upon you; if will but willingly and quietly deliver up your selves unto me. You know that you were mine of old, Mat. 4. 8. Luke 4. 6, 7. Remember a'fo, that fo long as you enjoyned me for your Lord, and that I enjoyned you for my Subjects, you wanted for nothing of all the delights of the Earth, that I your Lord and Prince could get for you; or that I could invent to make you bonny and blith withal. Consider, you never had so many troublesome, and beart afflicting bours, bard. dark. while you were mine, as you have had fince you revolted from me, nor shall you ever have I eace again unti. 10il and I become one as before. But be but prevailed with to embrace me again, and I will grant, sea entarge your old Charter with abundance of Privileges, fo the your License and Liberty shall be to take, hold, enjoy, and make your own all that is pleasant from the East to the West. Nor shall any of those Incivilities wherewith you have offended me, be ever charged upon you by me, so long as the Sun and Moon endureth. Nor shall any of those dear Friends of mine, that now for the fear of you, lie lurking in Dems and Holes, and Caves in Mansoul, be burtful to you any more; reathey shall be your Servants and shall minister unto you of their substance, and of whatever shall come to band. I need speak no more, you know them and have sometime since been much delighted in their Company, why then should we abide at sach odds? Let us renew our old Aquaintance and Friendship again.

8.

Bear with your Friend, "I take the Liberty at this time to speak thus freely unto you. The love that I have to you presses me to do it as also does the zeal of my beart for mysfriends with you; put me not therefore to surther trouble, nor your selves to surther frights. Have you I will, in a war of Peace or War; nor do you flatter your, selves with the Power and sorce of your Captains, or that you Emanuel will shortly come into your bein; for such strength will do you no pleasure.

I am come against you with a stout and valiant Army, and all the Chief Princes of the Den are even at the Head of Besides, my Captains are swifter than Eagles, stronger than Linus, and more greedy of Prey than are the Evening Wolves. What is Og of Bashan; what's Goliah of Gath! and what's an hundred more of it them to one of the least of my Captains! how then shall Mansoul think to escape my Hand and Force?

Diabolus having thus ended his flattering, fawning, deceitful, and lying Speech to the famous Town of Manfoul, the Lord Mayor replied upon him as follows.

O Diabolus. Prince of Darkness, and Master of all deceit; thy lying Flatteries The Loca we have had and male sufficient Probation Mayor's for any bave tasted too deeply of that destruing Decens.

When the Tyrant faw that there was little 1 in Parlying with my Lord Mayor, he fell Hellish Rage, and refolved that again with h of Doubters, he would another time affault th of Mansoul. So he called for his Drummer, who beat u Men ( and while he did beat, Mansoul did st be in a readiness to give Battel to the Corpo then Diabolus drew near with his Army, a disposed of his Men. Captain Cruel, and Tormens, these he drew up, and placed again gate, and commanded them to fet down there War. And he also appointed, that if nie Captain No ea/e should come into their reli Noje-gase he placed Captain Brimftone ar tain Sepulcher, and bid them look well ! Ward on that fide of the Town of Manfoul. Eye-gate, he placed that Grim-faced one the Past bope, and there also now he did set up his

of them here, and the letting of them fly from that place, did much Execution against the Tyrant's Army; wherefore for these causes with others, Diabo'us sought, if possible, to stop up Mouth gate with Dirt.

Now, as Diabolus was bufie and industrious in preparing to make his Affault upon the Town of Manfoul without, so the Captains and Soldiers in the Corporation, were as bulle in preparing within; they mounted their Slings, they fet up their Banners, they founded their Trumpets, and put themselves in such Order as was judged most for the annoyance of the Enemy, and for the advantage of Manjoul, and gave their Soldiers Orders to be ready at the found of the Trumpet for War. The Lord Willbewill alfo, he took the charge of watching Wilbewill against the Rebels within, and to do plays th. Man what he could to take them while without, or to stifle them within their Caves, Dens, and Holes in the Town-wall of Mansoul. And to speak the truth of him, ever fince he did Penance for his fault, he has shewed as much Honesty and Bravery of Spirit as may be in Mmfoul, for he took one 70les and his Brother Griggill, the two Sons of his Servant Harmle's mirth, Jony and ( for to that Day, though the Father was Griggish tacommitted to Ward, the Sons had a cuted. dwelling in the House of my Lord. ) I fay, he took them and with his own Hands put them to the Cross. And this was the reason why he hanged them up, after their Pather was put into the hands of Mr. Trueman the Goaler they his Sons tegan to play their Pranks, and to be ticking and toying with . the Daughters of their Lord; nay, it was jealoused that they are too familiar with them, the which was brought to his Lordship's Ear. Now his Lordship being unwilling unadvisedly to put any Man to Death, did not suddenly fall upon them; but let Watch. and Spies to see if the thing was true; of the which he was foon informed, for his two Servanes, whole very might Cross just in the lace of Diagons his Army, and there he hanged the young in defiance to Captain Past bope, and the Standard of the Tyrant.

Now this Christian Act of the brave Lor will did greatly abash Captain Past bope, disc the Army of Diabolus put fear Mortification Diabolonian runagates in Manse put strength and courage into 1 fign of hope tains that belonged to Ema ot Life. Prince; for they without did and that by this very Act of my Lord, that was resolved to fight, and that the Diabolonia in the Town could not do such things as had hopes they would. Nor was this the only of the brave Lord Willbewill's Honesty to the appear. Now when the Children of Prudent thrift dwelt with Mr. Mind, for Thrift left With Mr. Mind. when he was also committed nor of his Loyalty to his Prince, as will aft

fay, by Mother's fide too; what does he, but them, and puts them in Chains, and carries to the felf fame place where my Lord hanged vo before, there he hanged them.

te Townsmen also took great Encouragement at A & of Mr. Mind, and did what they could to taken some more of these Diabolonian troublers tansoul; but at that time the rest lay so close, they could not be apprehended; so they set ask them a diligent Watch, and went every Man s place.

old you a little before, that Diabolus and his sy were somewhat abash'd and discouraged at the of what my Lord Willbewill did, when he hangp those two young Diabolonians; but his Discoument quickley turned it self into surious Madness Rage against the Townsmen and Captains with rould. Also the Townsmen and Captains with sey had their Hopes and their Expectation height, believing at last the day would be theirs, so seared them the less. Their Subordinate Preachto, made a Sermon about it, and he took that the sort is serious for his Text, Gad, a Troop shall overcome bim, be shall overcome at the last. Whence he shewed, though Mansous should be forely put to it at the yet the Victory should most certainly be Man-

s at the last, Gen. 49. 19.

o Diabolus commanded that his Drummer should ta Charge against the Town, and the Captains that were in the Town sounded a Charge against m, but they had no Drum, they were Trumpets silver with which they sounded against themen they which were of the Camp of Diabolus came in to the Town to take it, and the Captains in Castle, with the Slingers at Mouth gate played in them amain. And now there was nothing; rd in the Camp of Diabolus but horrible Rage Blasphemy; but in the Town good Words, Prayand singing of Plalms: The Enemy replyed with rible Objections, and the terribleness of the

Dr.m; but the Town made answer with the sapping of their Slings, and the milodious noise of their Trumpets. And thus the fight lasted for several days together, only now and then they had some small Intermission, in which the Townsmen restricted themselves, and the Captains made ready for another Assault.

The Captains of Emanuel were clad in Silver Armour, and the Soldiers in that which was of Proof; the Soldiers of Diabolus were clad in Iron, which was made to give place to Emanuel's Engine shot. In the Town some were hurt, and some were greatly Wounded. Now the worst on't was, a Chirurgeon was scarce in Mansoul, for that Emanuel at present was absent, Rev. 22 2. Pfal. 38.5. Howbeit, with the leaves of a Tree the wounded were kept from dying; yet their Wounds did greatly putrisie, and some did grievously sink. Of the Townsmen these were Wounded, 10 wit, ion: were Wounded.

Who of Mas- in the Head.

Another that was Wounded, was the brave Lord Mayor, he was Wounded in the Eye.

Another that was Wounded, was Mr. Mind, he rece ved his Wound about the Stomach.

The honest Subordinate Preacher also, he received a short not far off the Heart, but none of these were Mortal.

Many also of the inferiour fort, were not only Wounded, but Slain outright.

Who in the Camp of Diabolus were

Camp of Diabolus were Wounded and flain a confiderable number. For inftance,

Wounded and Captain Rage he was Wounded, and

Wounded and Captain Rage he was Wounded, and Siain. fo was Captain Cruel.

Captain Danmation was made to retreat, and to intrench himself surther off of Mansout; the Standard also of Diabolus was beaten down, and his Stand-

Standard-Bearer Captain Much hurt, had his Brains beat out with a Sling stone, to the no little grief and Shame of his Prince Diabolus.

Many also of the Doubiers were Slain out-right, though enough of them were left alive to make Mansoul shake and totter. Now the Vistory that day being turned to did turn that day follow, did put great Valour into the soul, &c.

Townsmen and Captains, and did cover

Diabolus's Camp with a Cloud, but with all it made them far more furious. So the next Day Manfoul reflect and commanded that the Bells should be rung, the Trumpets also joyfully sounded, and the Captains houted round the Town.

My Lord Willbewill also was not idle, but did notable Service within against the Domesticks, or the Diabolonians, that were in the Town, not only by seeping of them in awe, for he lighted in one at last, whose Name was Mr. mysbing, a Fellow of whom mention

My Lord
Willbewilltaketh one Anything and one Loofefoot & committeeth
them to ward-

vas made before, for 'twas he if you remember, that rought the three Fellows to Diabolus, whom the Diabelonians took out of Captain Boanerges Compaies, and that perswaded them to List themselves inder the Tyrant, to fight against the Army of Shadei: my Lord Willbewill did also take a notable Dibolonian, whose Name was Loofefoot; this Loofenot was a Scout to the Vagabonds in Manfoul, and hat did use to carry Tidings out of Mansoul to the camp, and out of the Camp to those of the Enemies Mansoul; both these my Lord sent away safe to Ar. Trueman the Goaler, with a Commandment to eep them in Irons; for he intended then to have hem out to be Crucified, when it 'twould be for the eft to the Corporation, and most for the discouagement of the Camp of the Enemies.

My Lord Mayor also, thought he could not fir asout so much as formerly, because of the Wound hat he lately received, yet gave he out orders to all that were the Natives of Mansoul, to look to their Watch, and stand upon their Guard, and as occasion should offer, to prove themselves Men.

Mr. Conscience the Preacher, he also did his utmost to keep all 1 is good Documents alive upon the hearts of the People of Mansoul.

Well, a while after, the Captains and fout ones of the Town of Mansoul amon the Enemy.

Well, a while after, the Captains and fout ones of the Town of Mansoul according to the make a Sally out upon the Camp of Disbolus, and this must be done in the Night, and there was the folly of Mansoul (for the Night is always the best for the Enemy, but the worst for Mansoul to fight in ) but yet they would do it, their Courage was so high; their last Victory also still stuck in their memories.

They fight in the Night. Who do lead the Van.

So the Night appointed being come, the Prince's brave Captains caft Lots who flould lead the van in this new and desperate Expedition against Discontinuous lus, and against his Diabolonian Army, and the Lot fell to Captain Credence, "to Captain Experience, and to Captain Good bose to lead the Follow hope. (This Captain Experience the Prince created such when himself did reside in the Town of Mansoul) so as I said, they made their Sally out upon the Army that lay in the Siege against them; and their hap was to fall in with the main Body of their Enemies. Now Diabolus and his Men being expertly accustomed to Night work, took the Alarm presently, and were as ready to give them Battel, as if they had sent them word of their coming. Wherefore to it they went amain, and blows were hard on every side, the Hell Drum also was beat most suriously, while the Trumpets of the Prince most sweetly sounded. And thus the Battle was joined, and Captain Insaiable looked to the Enemies Carriages, and waited when he should receive some Prey.

The Prince's Captains fought it foutr. beyond what indeed could be ex- travely. : Eted they should; they Wounded mav, they made the whole Army of Diabolus to make retreat But I cannot rell how, but the brave Capin Credence, Captain Good bope, and Captain Expeence, as they were upon the pursuit, cutting down, nd following hard after the Enemy in the Rear, aptain Credence, stumbled and fell, by Captain Crebich fall he caught fo great a hurt, dence hurt, hat he could not rife, tell Captain Exerience did help him up, at which their Men were ut in disorder; the Captain also was so full of Pain, hat he could not forbear but aloud to cry out; at his, the other two Captains fainted, The rest of upposing that Captain Credence had re-the Captains : wived his Mortal Wound? Their Men faint. illo were more difordered, and had no nind to fight. Now Diabolus being very observing. :bought at this time as yet he was put to the worst. perceiving that an Halt was made among the Men that were the pursuers, what does he, but taking it for granted, that the Captains were either wounded. or dead; he therefore at first makes a stand, then faces about, and so comes up upon the Prince's Army with as much of his furakes contained. ry as Hell could help him to, and his takes courage. hap was to fall in just among the three Captains; Captain Credence, Captain Goodbope, and Captain Experience, and did cut, wound, and pierce them fo dreadfully, that what through Discouagement, what through Disorder, and what through the Wounds that now they had received, and also The Prince's the loss of much Blood, they scarce were able, though they had for their Power Forces beaten the three best Bands in Manfoul, to get sase into the Town again.

Now when the Body of the Prince's Army (aw how these three Captains were put to the work, they hought it their Wisdom to make as safe and good Clves up to his Government.

Diabolonians too that were within, they begate fome what brisk, as we shall shew afterward.)

The Mayor's But the valiant Lord Mayor to the Mayor's That what he got he must get he for as long as Emanuel their Pricalive (though he at present was not so with they wish) they should never consent to yield he per another.

And with that the Lord We should be s

Irave Willbewill's S. eechflood up, and said, Diabolu Master of the Den, and Enemy to is good, we poor Inhabitants of the Town of M are too well acquainted with thy Rule and Gove and with the end of those things, that for cert follow submitting to thee, to do it. Wherefore a while we were without Know'edge, we suffer to take us (as the Bird that saw not the Sni into the Hands of the Fowler) yet since we bs turned from Darkneis to Light, we have also bee that also of the Lord-Mayor did somewhat abate the boldness of Diabolus, encouraged. though it kindled the Fury of his Rage.

The Cartains

It also encouraged the Townsmen and Captains; yea, it was as a Plaister to the brave Captain Credence his Wound; for you must know that a brave Speech mow, when the Captains of the Town, with their Men of War, came home Routed, and when the Enemy took courage and boldness at the Succe's that he had obtained, to draw up to the Walls, and demand Entrance, as he did, was in season, and also ad vantageous.

The Lord Willbewill also did play the Man within, for while the Captains and Soldiers were in the Field. he was in Arms in the Town, and wherever by him there was a Diabolonian found, they were forced to feel the weight of his heavy Hand, and also the edge of his penetrating Sword; many therefore of the Diabelowians he wounded, as the Lord Cavil, the Lord Brisk, the Lord Pragmatick, the Lord Murmur; feveral also of the meaner fort he did sorely main; though there cannot at this time an Account be given you of any that he flew outright. The cause, or rather the advantage that my Lord Willbewill had at this time to do thus, was, for that the Captains were gone out to fight the Enemy in the Field. For now, thought the Diabelonians within, is our time to fiir and make an Uproar in the Town; what do they therefore but quickly get themselves into a Body, and fall forthwith to Hurricaning in Willbewill's Manfoul, as if now nothing but Whirl- Gallantry. wind and Tempest should be there; wherefore, as I said, he takes this Opportunity to fall in among them with his Men, cutting and flashing with courage that was undaunted; at which the Diabolonians with all haft dispersed themselves to their Holds, and my Lord to his Place as before.

This brave Ast of my Lord did somewhat revenge the wrong done by Diabolus to the Captains, and also did let them know, that Manson was not to b 1355 Nothing like Faith to crass two; wherefore the Wing of the TyDiabolus.

Diabolus.

parted with, for the loss of a Victory or two; wherefore the Wing of the Tyrant was clipt again, as to boasting, I mean, in Comparison of what he would have done if the Diabolonians had put the Town to the same plight to which he had put the Captains.

Well, Diabolus yet resolves to have the other bout with Mansoul; for, thought he, since I beat them once, I may beat them twice: Wherefore he commanded his men to be ready at such an Hour of the Night to make a fresh Assault upon the Town, and he gave it out in special, that they should bend all their Force against Feducate and at their Force against Feel gate, and attempt to break into the I own through the far feeling of the Christian.

their Force against Feel gate, and attempt to break into the I own through that: The Word that then he did give to his Officers and Soldiers, was Historic fire. And, said he, if we break in upon them, as I wish we do, either with.

some, or with all our Force, let them that breaking look to it, that they forget not the Word. And let nothing be heard in the Town of Manfoul, but Helfire, Hell fire, Hell fire. The Drummer was also to beat with out ceasing and the Standard bearers were to display their Colours; the Soldiers too were to put on what courage they could, and to see that they played Manfully their parts against the Town.

So the Night was come, and all things by the Tyrant made ready for the Work, he suddenly makes his Affault upon Feel gate, and after he had a while firuggled there, he throws the Gates wide open. For the Truth is, those Gates were but weak, and so most easily made to yield. When Diabolus had thus fur made his Attempt, he placed his Captains, to wit, Tormens and no ease there; so he attempted to pressorward, but the Prince's Captains came down upon him, and made his entrance more difficult than he desired. And to speak truth, they made what resistance they could; but the three of their best and most valiant Captains being Wounded, and by their Wounds made much uncapable of doing the Tow at Service they would, ( and all the reft having more an their Hands full of the Doubters, and their Capins that did follow Diabo'us ) they were over-powed with Force, nor could they keep them out of Wherefore the Prince's Men and their aptains betook themselves to the Caftle, as to the cong hold of the Town: And this they did, partly T their own security, partly for the security of the own, and partly, or rather chiefly, to preferve to manuel the Prerogative Royal of Mansoul, for so as the Caftle of Mansoul.

The Captain therefore being fled into the Cafile, e Enemy without much resistance, possess themlves of the rest of the Town, and spreading themives as they went, into every Corner, they cried it as they marched, according to the Command of e Tyrant, Hell fire, Hell fire, Hell fire ; fo that noing for a while throughout the Town of Mansoul uld be heard but the direful noise of Hell fire tother with the roaring of Diabolus's Drum. w did the Clouds hang black over Manfoul, nor, thing but Ruin feem to attend Mc2100, 0 ... any .

Diebolus also quartered his Soldiers in the Houof the Inhabitants of the Town of Mansoul. Yea, e Subordinate Preacher's House was as full of these utlandish Doubters as ever it could hold ; and so is my Lord Mayor's, And my Lord Willbewill's al-

Yea, where was there a Corner, a Cottage, a rn, or a Hogstie, that now was not full of these ermin? Yea, they turned the Men of the Town out their Houses, and would lie in their Beds, and sit their Tables themselves. Ah, poor Mansoul! now ou feeleft the Fruits of Sin, and what Venom was. the flattering Words of Mr. Carnal Security! They ide great Havock of whatever they laid their hands ; yea, they fired the Town in several places; m?young Children also were by them dashed in pics, yea, those that were yet unborn they destroyed their Mother's Wombs: For you must needs think t it could not now be otherwise: for what Con science, what Pity, what Bowels of Company expect at the Hands of Outlandish Many in Manfoul that were Women, both 1 old, they forced, Ravished, and Beast-lik so that they swooned, miscarried, and man died, and so lay at the top of every Stree and have see of the Town.

all bye places of the Town.

And now did Mansoul seem to be not? Den of Dragons, an Emblem of Hell, and total Darkness. Now did Mansoul lie (ali the barren Wilderness; nothing but Nettle Thorns, Weeds, and flinking Things feer cover the face of Manfoul. I told you bel that these Diabolonian Doubters turned the Man foul out of their Beds, and now I will: wounded them, they mauled them, yea, a brained many of them. Many, did I say, y if not all of them. Mr. Conscience they so ed, yea, and his Wounds to fefter'd, that have no ease Day nor Night, but lay as if a ly upon a Rack (but that Shar Sal Workall, certainly they had Slain among the right. ) My Lord Mayor the Townseen. Fight. ) My Lord Mayor the sed, that they almost put out and had not my Lord Willbewill got into the they intended to have chopt h

Satan has a pleces, for they did look upon particular fire against a Sanctified very worst that was in Manson Will.

Disbolus and his Crew. And i will. Disbolus and his Crew. And i hath shewed himself a Man, a of his Exploits you will hear of afterward.

Now a Man might have walked for mangether in Manfeul, and scarce have seen a Town that look'd like a Religious Manfearful state of Manfoul now! now ever

fwarmed with Outlandift 1
Red-coats and Black coats wa
Rell of ide
Town by clutters, and filled v

Houses with hideous Noises, v

ving Stories, and Blasohemous Language against baddai and his Son. Now also those Diabolonians hat lurked in the Walls, and Dens, and Holes that were in the Town of 'Mansoul, came forth and shew-:d themselves; yea, walked with open face in Com-Dany with the Doubters that were in Manjoul. they had more Boldness now to walk the Streets, to naunt the Houses, and to shew themselves abroad. han had any of the honest Inhabitants of the now woful Town of Mansoul.

But Diabolus and his Outlandish Men were not at Peace in Manfoul; for they were not there entertained as were the Captains and Forces of Emanuel; the Fownsmen did brow beat them what they could: Nor did they partake or make Destruction of any of the Necessaries of Mansoul, but that which they seised on against the Townsmens Will; what they could they hid from them, and what they could not, they had with an ill Will. They, poor Hearts, had rather have had their Room than their Company, but they were at present their Captives, and their Captives for the present they were forced to be, Rom. 7. But I lay, they discountenanced them as much as they were able, and shewed them all the Dislike that they could.

The Captains also from the Castle did hold them in continual Play with their Slings, to the chafing and fretting of the Minds of the Enemies. True, Diabolus made a great many Attempts to have broken open the Gates of the Caftle, but Mr. Mr. Godly car Godly fear was made the Keeper of that; is made Keepand he was a Man of Courage, Con- er of the Cadut, and Valour, that 'twas in vain file gates. as long as life lasted within him, to think to do that Work, though mostly defired; wherefore all the Atrempts that Diabolus made againft him, were fruitless; (I have wished sometimes that that Man had had the whole Rule of the Town

of Mansoul.)

Well, this was the condition of the The Town of Town of Manfou!, for about two Years Mand ul the and an nall; the Body of the Town was feat of War. the feat of War; the People of the Town were driven into Holes, and the Glory of Manfoul was laid in the Duft: what reft then could be to the Inhabitants, what Peace could Manfoul have, and what Sun could fhine upon it? Had the Enemy lain fo long without in the Pain against the Town it had been enough to have famished them; but now when they shall be within, when the Town shall be their Tent, their Trench, and Fort against the Cafile that was in the Town, when the Town shall be against the Town, and shall serve to be a Desence to the Enemies of her strength and life: I say, when they shall make use of the Forts and Town-holds, to secure themselves in, even till they shall take, spoil, and demolish the Castle, this was terrible; and yet this was now the state of the k

ï

be

3

Town of Mansoul.

After the Town of Manfoul had been in this fad and lamentable condition for so long a time as I have told you, and no Petitions that they presented their Prince with (all this while) could prevail; the Inhabitants of the Town, to wit, the Elders and Chief of Manfoul, gathered together, and after some time spent is condoling their miserable state, and this miserable Judgment coming upon them, they agreed together to draw up yet another Petition, and to

Mr. Godlyfear's Advice about drawing up a Petition to the Prince

Mr. Godly-fear flood up, and anfwered, That he knew that his Lord the Prince never did, nor ever would receive a Petition for these matters from the Hand of any whoever, unless the Lord Secretary's Hand was to it, (and this, quoth he, is the reason you prevated not all this while.) Then they said they would draw up one, and get the Lord Secretary's Hand unto it. But Mr. Godlytear answered again, That he knew also that the Lord Secretary would not see his

and to any Petition that kim'elf bad not an band in mposing and drawing up; and besides, said he, the inse doth know my Lord Secretary's Hand from all: Hands in the World; wherefore he cannot be delved by any pretince whatever; wherefore my Adree is, that you go to my Lord, and implore him to rd you his aid. (Now he did yet abide in the Castle ere all the Captains and Men at Arms were.)

So they heartily thanked Mr. Godlyfear, took his ounsel, and did as he had bidden them; so they ent and came to my Lord, and made known the ruse of their coming to him: To wit, that since tanjoul, was in so deplorable a condition, his Highess would be pleased to untertake to draw up a Petion for them to Emanuil, the Son of the Mighty baddai, and to their King and his Father, by him,

Then faid the Secretary to them,

**Dat Perition is it that you would have me The Secretary

**aw_ap for you? But they faid, Our ord knows best the state and condition for not the Town of Manfoul, and how Manfoul.

**eare backsidenanddegenerated from re Prince; thou also knowest who is come up to Var against us, and how Manfoul is now the seat of Var. My Lord knows moreover what barbarous sages our Men, Women, and Children have suffer-their Hands, and how our home bred Diabolowins do walk now with more boltness than dare the Townsinen in the Streets of Mansoul. Let our ord therefore according to the Wisdom of God at is in him draw up a Petition for his poor Serants to our Prince Emanuel. Well, said the Lord ecretary, I will draw up a Petition for, you and will so ser my band thereto. Then said they, But when sail we call for it at the hand of our Lord? But hen swered, Your selves must be present at the doing of

. Yea, you must put your desires to it. True, the sand and Pen shall be mine, but the link and Paper sust be yours, eise how can you say, it is your retition? For bave I need to Petition for my self, because I have to ffended.

He also added as followeth; No Petision goes from me in my Name to the Prince, and so to bis Father by bim, but when the People that are chiefly concerned therein do joyn in Heart and Soul in the Matter, for that must be injerted therein.

So they did heartily agree with the Sentence of the Lord, and a l'etition was forthwith drawn up for them. But now who shall carry it, that was the next. But the Secretary advised that Captain Credence should carry it, for he was a well spoken Man. They therefore called for him, and propounded to him the business. Well, said the Captain, I gladly accept of the Motion; and though I am lame, I will do this bufiness for you, with as much speed, and as well as I can. The Contents of the Petition were to this purpole:

O our Lord, and Sovereign Prince Emanuel, the pt tent, the long-suffering Frince: Grace is poured into thy Lips, and to thee belongs Mercy and Forgivensis, though we have rebelled against thee. We who we more wortby to be called thy Manfoul, nor yet fit " partake of common Benefits, do beseech thee, and the Father by thee, to do away our Transgressions. We confess that thou mightest cast us away for them, bu do it not for thy Name's fake; let the Lord rather tall an Opportunity at our miserable Condition, to let out bis Bowels and Compassion to us; we are compassed every fide; Lord. our own backflidings reprove us an Diaboloniaus within our Town fright us, and the A my of the Angel of the Bottom!ejs-Pit diftresses. 16 Grace can be our Salvation, and whither to go but ! thee we know not.

Furthermore, O Gracious Prince, we have weakne our Captains, and they are discouraged, sick, and of lat some of them grievously worsted, and beaten out of the Field by the l'ower and Force of the Tyrant. Yea, eve thoje of our Captains, in whose Valour we did former use to put most of our Considence, they are as wounde . Men. Besides, Lord, our Enemies are lively, and the are strong, they vaunt and boast themselves, and threaten to part us among themselves for a Booty. They are fallen also up n us, Lord, with many Thousand Doubters, such as with whom we cannot tell what to do; they are all Grim looked, and unmerciful ones, and they hid designed to us and thee.

Our Wisdom is gone, our Power is gone, because thou art departed from us, nor have we what we may call ours, but Sin, Shame, and Confficin of Face for Sin. Take pity upon us, O Lord, take fity upon us thy miferable Town of Mansoul, and save us out of the Hands of our Enemies. Amen.

This Petition, as was touched afore, was handed by the LordSecretary, and carried to the Court by the brave and most frout Coptain Credence. Now he carried it out at Mouth gate, for that, as I said, was the Sally-port of the Town; and he went and came to Emanuel with it. Now how it came out, I do not know, but for certain it did, and that so far as to reach the Ears of Diabolus. Thus I conclude, because that the Tyrant had it presently by the end, and charged the Town of Mansoul with it, saying, Thou Rebellous and stubbern-beared Mansoul, I will make thee to leave off Petition-abide Prayer.

make thee to leave off: Yea, he also knew who the Messenger was that carried the Petition to the Prince, and it made him both to sear and rage.

Wherefore he commanded that his Drum should be beat again, a thing that Manjoul could not abide to hear; but when Diabolus would have his Drum beat, Manjoul must abide the noise. Well, the Drum was beat, and the Diabolonians were parhered together.

Then faid Diabolus, O ye stout Diabolonians, be it known unto you that there is a Ireachery hatcht against us in the Rebellious Town of Mansour; for albeit the Town is in our ressels on as you see yet these miserable Mansoulians have attempted to dare, and have been so bardy as yet to send to the Court of Emanuel for below this I give you to understand, that ye may yet know how to carry it to the presched lown of Mansoul. Wherefore

o my trusty Diabolonians, I command that yet more and more ye distress this Town of Mansoul, and ver it with your Wiles, ravish their Women, dessower their Virgins, slay their Children, brain their Ancients, site their Town, and what other Mischief you can; and let this be the Reward of the Mansoulians from me, for their desperate Rebellions against me.

This you fee was the Charge, but something stept in betwixt that and Execution, for as yet there was but little more done than to rage.

Moreover, when Diabolus had done thus, he went the next way up to the Castle gites, and demanded that upon pain of Death, the Gates should be opened to him, and that entrace should be given him and his Men that followed after. To whom Mr. Godlifer replied, (for he it was that had the charge of that Gate,) That the Gate should not be of ened unto him, we to the Men that followed after him. He said moreover, That Mansoul, when she had suffered a while, should be made perfect, strengthned, and settled.

Satan cannot abide Fanh.

Men that have petitioned against me, estably Captain Credence that sarried it to your Prince, deliver that Variet into my bands, and I will depart from the lown.

Then up starts a Diabolonian, whose Name was Mr. Fooling, and said, My Lord offerest you jair, 'm better for you that one Man perish, than that you whole Mansoul should be undone.

But Mr. Godiffear made him this replication, How long will Mansoul be kept out of the Dungeon, when she hath given up her faith to Diabolus? As good loft the Town as lose Caitain Credence; for if one be gone, the other must follow. But to that Mr. Fooling said nothing. 😘

Then did my Lord-Mayor reply, and faid, 0 that devouring Tyrant, be it known unto thee, we shall head en to none of thy words, we are resolved to resist the as long as a Captain, a Man, a Sling, and a stone to show at thee, shall be found in the Town of Mansoul.

But Disbolus answered, Do you bope, do you wait, do you look for belp and deliver- Diabolus Rages, ance? You have sent to Emañuel, but your Wickedness sticks too close in your Skirts, to let innocent Prayers come out of your Lips. Think you, that you shall be Prevailers and prosper in this Design? You will fail in your wish, you will fail in your Attempts; for 'tis not only I, but your Emanuel is against you Yea, it is be that bath sent me against you to subdue you; for what then do you bope, or by what means will you escape?

Then said the Lord Mayor, We bave Sinned indeed, but that shall be no belp or's Speech just to thee, for our Emanuel bath said it, and as the time of that in great faithfulness. And him that the return of cometh to me I will in no wife cast out. Captain CreHe bath also to'd us (O our Enemy) that all manner of Sin and Bialphemy shall be forgiven to the Sons of Men. Therefore we dare not dejpair, but will look for, and wait for Mercy.

And now by this time Captain Credence was returned and come from the Court from Emanuel to the Caffie of Mansoul, and he returned to them with a Pacquet. So my Lord Mayor hearing that Captain Credence was com; withdrew himself from the nrife of the roaring of the Tyrant, and left him to yell at the Wall of the Town, or against the Gates of the Caftle. So he came up to the Captain's Lodgings, and faluting him, he asked him of his Welfare, and what was the best news at Court? But when he asked Captain Credence that, the water stood in his Eyes. I hen faid the Captain; cheer up, my Lord, fo all will be well in time: And with that he first produced his Pacquet, and laid it by, but that the Lord Mayor and the rest of the Captains took for a sign of good Tidings. ( Now a scalon of Grace being come, he lent for all the Captains and Elders of the Fown that were here and there in their Lodgings, in the Catile, and upon sheir Quaid, to let them know that Captain Credence was returned from the Court, and that he had fomething in general, and something in special to communicate to them.) So they all came up to him, and saluted him, and asked him concerning his Journey, and what was the best news at Ccurt? And he answered them as he had done the Lord Mayor before, that all would be well at last. Now when the Captain had thus saluted them, he opened his Pacquet, and thence did draw out of it several Notes for those that he had sent for. And the first Note was for my Lord Mayor, wherein was signified:

A Note for my that my Lord Mayor had been so true and trusty in his Office, and the great correst hat lay upon him for the Town and People of Mansoul. Also be hid him to know that he took it well that he had been so hild for his Prince Emanuel, and had engaged so faithfully in his Cause against Diabolus. He also signified at the close of his Letter, that he should shortly receive his reward.

The second Note that came out, was for the noble Lord Willbewill, wherein there was signified That his Prince Emanuel did well understand how Vallant and Courageous he had been for the Honour of his Lord, new in his ahsence, and when his Name was under contempt by Diabolus. There was signified also that his Prince had taken it well that he had been so faithful to the Town of Mansoul, in his keeping of so strict a Hand Eye over, and so strict a Reign upon the Necks of the Diabolonians that did still lie surking in their several Holes in the same of Mansoul.

He signified moreover, how that he understood that my Lord had with his own Hand done great Execution upon some of the chief of the Rebels there, to the great discouragement of the adverse Party, and to the good example of the whole Town of Mansoul, and that shortly his Lordship should have his reward.

The third Note came out for the Subor linds. Preacher, wherein was figuified, That his Prince took sell from him, that he had so hinestly A Note for so faithfully performed his Office, and the Subordiuted the trust committed to him by nate Preachera Lord, while he exhibited, rebuted, and wained Mansoul according to the Laws of the in. He signified moreover that he took it well at his not that he called to Fasting, to Sackcloth and Asses, en Mansoul was under her revolt. Also that he calfor the aid of the Captain Boancrees to help in so ighty a Work, and that shortly he also should receive reward;

The fourth Note came out for Mr. A Note for llyfear, wherein his Lord thus figni- Wr. Gody-1, That his Lordship observed that he fear. s the first of all the Men in Mansoul that detectel . Carnal Security, as the only one that thro' bis suby and cunning, had obtained for Diabolus a defection d decay of goodness in the bloffed Town of Mansoul. oreover, bis Lord gave bim to understand, that be fill nembred his Tears and Mourning for the state of Man; 11. It was also observed by the same Note, that bis rd tooksnotice of his detecting of this Mr. Carnal Secu. y at his Table among his Gueffs, in his own House, d that in the midft of his Jolliness, even while he was king to perfect bis Villanies against the Town of Manal Emanuel also took notice that this reverend Per-Mr. Godlylear, flood floutly to it at the Gates of e Caftle against ull the threats and attempts of the rant, and that he had put the Townsmenin a way to ake their Petition to their Prince, so as that be might cept thereof, and as that they might obtain an anver of Peace; and that therefore shortly be should reive bis reward.

After all this, there was yet produced Note for Note which was written to the whole the Town of own of Mansoul, whereby they per-Mansoul. ived, That their Lord took notice of eir so often repeating of Petitions to bim, and that may should see more of the sruits of such their dines a time to come. Their Prince did also therein tell them.

them, That be took it well, that their heart and mind now at last abode fixed upon him and his ways, though Diabolus had made such invoads upon them, and that neither statteries on the one hand, nor hardships on the other; could make them yield to serve his cruel designs. There was also inserted at the bottom of this Note, That his Lordship had less the Town of Mansoul in the hinds of the Lord Secretary, and under the Condust of Captain Credence, saving, Beware that you yet yield your selves unto the governmee, and in due time you (ball receive your Remord.

So after the brave Captain Credence had delivered his Notes to those to whom they belonged, he retired himself to my Lord Secretary's Lodgings, and there spends time in converting with him; for they two were very great one with another, and did indeed know more how things would go with Mansoul, than did all the Townsmen besides. The Lord Secretary also loved Captain Credence dearly, yea, many a good bit wassent him from my Lord's Table; also he might have a shew of countenance when the rest of Manfoul lay under the Clouds; so after some time for converte was spent, the Captain betook himself to his Chambers to reft. But it was not long after but my Lord did fend for the Captain again; so the Captain came to him, and they greeted one another with utual Sa-Intations. Then aid the Captain to the Lord Secretary, What hath my Lord to fay to his Servant? 50 the Lord Secretary took him, and had him afide, and after a fign or two of more favour, he faid, I bave made thee the lord Lientenant over all the Forces in Mansoul; so that from this day forward all Men in Mansoul shall be at thy Word, and thou shalt be be that shall lead in, and that shalt lead out Mansoul. that therefore manage according to the place, the Wat for thy Prince, and for the Town of Mansoul, against the Force and Power of Diabolus, and at thy command fail she rest of the Captains be.

Now the Townsmen began to perceive what inte test the Captain had, both with the Court, and also he Lord Secretary in Mansoul; for no Man beould speed when sent, nor bring such good from Emanuel as he. Wherefore what do fter some Lamentation that they made no more him in their Diffresses, but send by their Sube Preacher to the Lord Secretary, to defire him I that ever they were and had, might be put the Government, Care, Custody, and Condust stain Credence.

heir Preacher went and did his Errand, and ed this Answer from the Mouth of his Lord. aptain Credence should be the great doer in all ing's Army against the King's Enemies, and the welfare of Manfoul. So he bowed to the , and thanked his Lordship, and returned and is news to the Townstolk. But all this was ith all imaginable Secrefie, because the Foes

t great Strength in the Town. But,

eturn to our Story again: When Diabolus faw thus boldly confronted by the Lord Mayor, received the Stormess of Mr. Godlyfear, he fell tage, and forthwith called a Council of War : might be revenged on Manfoul So all the Printhe Pit came together, and old Incredu'ity in d of them, with all the Captains of his Army. / confult what to do. Now the effect and conof the Council that Day, was how they might e Caftle because they could not conclude themdalters of the Town to long astbut was in the on of their Enemies. So one advised this way, wher advised that a but when they could not n their Verdict, Apollyon the President of the I flood up, and thus he began: My brotherkood, ie, I have some things to propound unto you ? first is this, let us withdraw ourselves from the o the Plain again, for our presence bere will do id because the Castle is yet in our Enemies kands; possible that we should take that so long as so ve Captains are in it, and that this bold Fellow is is made the Keeper of the Gates of is. ۵ ما

Now when we have withdrawn ourselves into the Plain, they of their own accord will be glad of some littl: eafe, and it may be of their own accord they again may begin to be remiss and even their so being will give them a bigger blow than we can possibly give them our felves. But if that should fail our going forth of the Town may draw the Captains out after us, and you know what it coft them when we fought them in the Field before. Besides can we but draw them out into the Field, we may lay an Ambulh behind the Town, which shall, when they are come forth abroad, rulh in and take possession of the Castle. But Beelzebub flood up and replied, faying, 'Tis imposible to draw them all off from the Caftle: some you may be fure will lie there to keep that; where: fore it will be but in vain thus to attempt, unless we were fure that they will all come out. He therefore concluded, that what was done must be done by some other means. And the most likely means that the greateft of their heads could invest, was that which apollyon had advised to before to wit, to get the Townsmen again to Sin. For, said he, it is not out being in the Town nor in the Field, nor our Fighting, nor our killing of their Men, that can make us the Mafters of Mansoul; for so long as one in the Townis able to lift up his Finger against us, Emanuel will take their parts, and if he shall take their parts, we know what time a day it will be with us. Wherefore for my part, quoth he, there is in my Judgment no way to bring them into bondage to us, like inventing a way to make them Sin, 2 Pet. 2. 18, 19, 20, 21. Had we faid he, left all our Doubters at hom-, we had done as well as we have done now, unless we could have made them the Masters and Governors of the Caftle; for Doubtersat a diffance are but like Objections repell'd with arguments. Indeed, can we but get them into the Hold, and make them Possessors of that, the day will be our own. Let us therefore withdraw ourselves into the Plain (not expeding that the Captains in Mansoul should follow us) but it I say let us do this, and before we so do, let us advise again with our trusty Diabolonians that are yet in the Holds of Mansoul, and set them to work to betray the Town to us; for they indeed must do it, or it will be lest undone for ever. By these sayings of Beelzebub.
(for I think 'twas he that gave this Counsel) the whole Conclave was forced to be of his Opinion, to wit, that the way to get the Castle, was to get the Town to Sin. Then they sell to inventing by what means they might do this thing.

Then Lucifer stood up and said, The Counse! of Beelzebub is pertinent; now the way to bring this to pass in mine Opinion is this: Let us withdraw our force from the Town of Mansoul, les us do this and let us Betrifie them no more, either with Summons or Ibreats. or with the noise of our Drum, or any other awakening means. Only let us lie in the Field at a Distances and be as if we regarded them not (for Frights I fee do but awaken them, and make them more stand to, their Arms.) I have also another Stratagem in my Head? you know Mansoul is a Market Town, and a Town that delights in Commerce, what therefore if some of our Diabolonians shall seign themselves far country men, and fixel grout and bring to the Market of Mansoul, some of our Wares to sell; and what matter at what rates they sell their Wares, though it be but for baif the worth. Now let those that thus trade in their Market, be those that are witty and true to us, and I will tay my Crown to pawn, it will do. There are two that are come to my thoughts already, that I think will be arch at this work, and they are, Mr. Pennywise pound foolish, and Mr. Get ith' hundred and lose ith'-shire; nor is this Man with the long Name at all inferiour to the other. What also if you joinwith them Mr. Sweet world, and Mr. Prefent good; shey are Men that are civil and cunning, but our true Friends and Helpers, Rev. 3. 17. Let these, with as many more engage in this Business for us, and let Mansoul be taken up, in much Business, and let them grow full and rich, and this is the way to get ground of them; remember yet not that thus we prevailed upon Lacdices, and how many at present do we hold in this Snare? Now when they begin to grow full they will forget their Misery, and if we shall not affright them, may happen to fall asseep, and so be got to neglect their Town Watch, their Cast'e Watch, as well as their Watch at the Gates.

Yea, may we not by this means so cumber Mansoul with abundance, that they shall be forced to make of their Castle a Warehouse, instead of a Garrison sortified against us, and a receptacle of Men of War? Thus if we get our Goods and Commodities thither, I recken that the Castle is more than half ours. Besides, could we so order it, that they should be filled with such kind of Wares, that then if we made a sudden Assault upon them, it would be hard for the Captains to take a science itere. Do you know that of the Parable, Luke 8. 14. The deceitsuiness of Riches choak the word; and again, When the heart is over charged with surfecting and Orunkenness, and the cares of this life, all Mischief comes upon them unawares, Chap. 21. 34, 35. 36

Furthermore, my Lords, quoth he, you very well know that it is not caste for a People to be filled with our things, and not to have some of our Diab lon ans as retainers to their Houses and Services. Where is & Mansoulian that is full of this World that has not for bis Servants and Waiting-Men, Mr. Profule, or M. Prodigality, or some other of our Diabolonian Geng. as Mr. Voluntuous, Mr. Pragmatical, Mr. Oftenta. tion or the like? Now these can take the Castle of Mansoul. or blow is up, or make it unfit for a Ganifon for Emanuel and any of these will do. Yea, these for ought I know may do it for us sooner than an Army of twenty thou, and Men. Wherefore to end as I began, my advice is, that we quietly withdraw our seives, rict offering any surther force, or farcible attempts upen the Castle. at leaf? at this time, and let us set on Soon our new project, and less see if shas will not make bem destroy themselves.

This advice was highly applauded by them all, and was accounted the very Master-piece of Hell, to wir, to choak Manfoul with a fulnels of this World, and to surfeit her heart with the good things thereot. But see how things meet together. Just as this Diabo. lonian Counsel was broken up, Captain Credence received a Letter from Emanuel, the Contents of which was this, That upon the third day he would meet kim in the Field in the Plains about Mansoul. Meet me in the Field, quoth the Captain? What meaneth my - Lord by this? I know not what he meaneth by meeting of me in the Field. So he took the Note in his-Hand, and did carry it to my Lord Secretary to ask his Thoughts thereupon, (for my Lord was a Seer in all matters concerning the King, and also for the good and comfort of the Town of Manfoul.) So he shewed my Lord the Note, and defired his Opinion thereof: For my part, quoth Captain Gredence, I know not the meaning thereof. So my Lord did rake and read it, and after a little paule he laid, The Diabolonians bave bad against Mansoul a great confultation to day; they have I fay, this day been contriving the utterruin of the Town; and the refult of their coursel is. to set Mansoul into such away, which if taken, will furely make her destroy her self. And to this end-they are making ready for their own departure out of the Town intending to betake themselves to Field again, and there to lie till they shall fee whether this their Project will take or no: But be thou read? with the Men of thy Lord (for on the third day they will be in the Plain) there to fall upon the Diabotomans; for the Prince will by that time be in the Fie da yea, by that it is break of day, Sun-rifing, or before, and that with a mighty force against them. So be shall be before them, and thou shalt be behind them, and beswixt you both, their Army shall be destroyed.

When Captain Credence heard this, away goes he to the rest of the Captains, and tells them what a: Note he had a while lince received from the Hand of Emanuel. And, Aid he, that which was day therein has my Lord Secretary expounded unto me-He told them moreover, what by himself and by them must be done to answer the mind of their Lord Then were the Captains glad, and Captain Gredence commanded, that all the King's Trumpeters should ascend to the Battlements of the Castle, and there in the audience of Diabolus, and of the whole Town of Mansoul, make the best Musick that heart could invent. The Trumpeters then did as they were commanded. They got themselves up to the top of the Cafile, and thus they began to found; then did Diabolus flart, and said, What can be the meaning of this, they neither found Boot and Saidle, nor Horse and away, nor a Charge. What do these Mad men mean, that yet they should be so merry and glad? Then answered him one of themselves and said, this is for Joy that their Prince Emanuel is coming to relieve the Town of Mansoul; that to this end he is at the head of an Army, and that this Relief is near.

The Men of Manfoul also were greatly concerned at this melodious charm of the Trumpets; they said, yea, they answered one another, saying, This can be no harm to us. Then said the Diabolonians, what had Diabolous with we best to do? And it was answered, Diabolus with drives from the Fown, and It was best to quit the Town; and that why.

Salah one, Yea may do in purfume of factors of the control of the contr

why. faid one, Yea may do in pursuance of your last Counsel, and by so doing also be better able to give the Enemy Battle, should an Army from without come upon us. So on the second day they withdrew themselves from Mansel, and abode in the Plains without, but they incamped themselves before Eye gate, in what terrene and terrible manner they could. The reason why they could no: abide in the Town (besides the reasons that were debated in their lateConclave) was for that they were not possessed of the strong Hold, and because, said they, we shall have more convenience to sight, and also to siy, if need be, when we are incamped in the open Plain. Besides, the Town would have been a pit for them, rather than a place of defence, had the Prince come up and enclosed them taft therein. Therefore they betook themselves to the Field, that they might also be out of the reach of the Slings, by which they were much annoyed all the while that they were in the Town.

Well the time that the Captains were to fall upon the Diabolonians being The time come tor the come, they eagerly prepared themselves Captains to for action, for Captain Credence had told fight th man the Captains over night, that they Chould meet their Prince in the Field to Morrow, was like Oyl to a flaming Fire; for of a long time they had been at a distance: they therefore were for this the more earnest and desirous of the work. So as I faid, the hour being come, Captain Credence with . the rest of the Men of War, drew out their Forces before it was day by the out into the Sally-port of the Town. And being Field. all ready, Captain Credence went up to the head of the Army, and gave to the rest of the Captains the Word, and so they to the Under-Officers and Soldiers, the Word was, The Sword of the Prince Emanuel, and the Shield of Captain Credence; which is in the Mansoulian Tongus, The Word of God and Fairb. Then the Captains fell on and began roundly to front, and flank, and rere Diabolus's Camp.

Now they left Captain Experience in the Town because he was ill of his Wounds which the Diabolonians had given him in the last fight. But when he perceived that the Captains were at it, what does he, but calling for his Crutches with hast, gets up, and away he goes to the Battel, saying, Shall I lie here when my Brethren are in the Fight, and when Emanuel the Prince will shew himself in the Field to his Servants? but when the Enemy saw the Man come with his Crutches, they were daunted yet the more, for thought they, what Spirit has possessed these Mansoulians, that they fight me upon they Crutches. Well, the Captains as I said sell on, a did bravely handle their Weapons, still crying out, and shouting as they laid on blows, the Sword of the Prince Emanuel, and the Shield of Captain Credence.

Now when Diabolus saw that the Captains were come out, and that so valiantly they surrounded his Men, he concluded (that for the present) nothing from them was to be looked for but blows, with the dints of their two-edged.

Wherefore he also falls on upon the Prince's Army, with all his deadly force. So the Battel was joined. Now who was it that at first Diabous met with in the fight, but Captain Credence, on the one hand, and the Lord Willbewill on the other; now Willbewill's blows were like the blows of a Giant, for that Man had a strong Arm, and he fell in upon the E edion: Doubters for they were the Life guard of Diabolus, and he kept them in play a good while, cutting acd battering shrewdiy. Now when Captain Credence faw my Lord engaged, he did floutly fall on, on the other hand upon the fame Company also, so they put them to great disorder. Now Captain Good-kope had engaged, the Vocation Doubters, and they were flurdy Men; but the Captain was a Valiant Man: Captain Experience did also fend him some Aid, So he made the Vocation Doubters to re-The rest of the Armies were hotly engaged, and that on every fide, and the Diabolonians did fight stoutly. Then did my Lord Secretary command that the Slings from the Caftle should be plaid, and his Men could throw Stones at an hairs breadth. But after a while those that were made to fly before the Captains of the Prince, did begin to rally again, and they came up floutly upon the Rere of that they took courage, and a very herce Barrie Barrie by and by, they took courage, and a very herce Barrie was sught. Then shouted the Captain, saying, the sword of the Prince Emanuel, and the Skield of Capsain Gredence; and with that Diabolus gave back thinking that more aid had been come. But no Emanuel as yet appeared. Moreover the Battle did hang in doubt; and the time of they made a little retreat on both fides. refpite Captain Credence Dravely encouraged his Men to Stand to it, and Diabolus did the like Soldiers. Soldiers. as well as he could. But Captain Credence made a brave Speech to his Soldiers, the Contents whereof here follow.

Gentlemen Soldiers, and my Bretbren in this design, it rejoyceth me much to see in the Field, for our Prince this day so stout and so valiant an Army, and such faithful Louges of Mansoul. You have historio, as hath become you, shown your selves. Men of Truth and Courage against the Diabolonian Forces, so that for all their boast, they have not yet cause much to boast of their gettings. Now take to your selves your wonted Courage, and show your selves Men even this once only; for in a sem Minntes after the next Engagement this time, you shall see your Prince show himself in the Field; for we must make this second Assault upon this Igrant Diabolus, and then Emanuel comes.

No sooner had the Captain made this Speech to his Soldiers, but one Mr. Speedy came post to the Captain from the Prince, to tell him that Emanuel was at hand. This news when the Captain had received he communicated to the other Field-Officers, and they again to their Soldiers and Men of War. Wherefore like Men raised from the Dead, so the Captains and their Men arose, made up to the Enemy, and cried as before, The Sword of the Prince Emany.

nuel, and the Shield of Captain Credence.

The Diabolonians also bestirred themselves, and made resistance as well as they could, but in this last Engagement the Diabolonians lost their courage, and many of the Doubters sell down dead to the Ground Now when they had been in heat of Battle abo an Hour or more, Captain Credence lift up his Eyes and law, and behold Emanuel came, and he came with Co'ours flying, Trumpers founding, and the Feet of his Men scarce toucht the Ground, they hasted with that Celerity towards the Captains that were engaged. Then did Captain Credence wheel his Men to the Townward, and gave to Diabolus the Field. So Emanuel came upon him on the one file, and the Enemies place was betwixt them both; then again they sell to it afresh, and now it was but a little while m re but Emanuel and Captain Credence met, still trampling down the slain as they came.

But when the Captains faw that the Prince was come, and that he fell upon the Disbolovians on the other fide, and that Captain Credence and his Highness had got them up betwixt them, they shouted. (they so shouted, that the Ground rent again) saying The Sword of Emanuel, and the Shield of Captain Credence. Now when Diabolus faw that he and his Forces were so hard beset by the Prince and his Princely Army, what does he and the Lords of the Pit that were with him, but make their escape, and forfake their Army, and leave them to fall by the hand of Emanuel, and of his noble Captain Credence: So they fell all down flain before them, before his Prince, and before his Royal Army; there was not left fo much as one Doubter alive; they lay spread upon the Ground like dead Men, as one would fpread Dung upon the Land.

When the Battle was over; all things came in order in the Camp; then the Captains and Elders of Manfoul came together to falute Emanuel, while without the Corporation; so they saluted him, and welcom'd him, and that with a thousand Welcomes, for that he was come to the Borders of Manfoul again. So he smiled upon them, and said, Peace be unto you. Then they addressed themselves to go to the Town; they went then to go up to Manfoul, they, the Prince with all the new Porces that now he had brought with him to the War. Also all the Gates of the Town.

were set open for his Reception. so glid were they of his blessed return. And this was the manner and order of his going into Manfoul.

First, (as I said) all the Gates of the Town were set open, yea, the Gates of the Cassle; the Elders too of the Town of Mansoul placed themselves at the Gates of the Town, to salute him at his entrance thither: And so they did, for as he drew near, and approached towards the Gates, they said, List your Heals, O ye Gates, and be ye lift up ye everlasting Doors, and the King of Glory shall come in. And they answered again. Who is the King of Glory? And they made return to themselves, the Lord strong and mighty the Lord is mighty in Battel. Lift up your Heads, O ye Gates, even lift them up ye everlasting Doors, &c.

Secondly, It was ordered also by those of Manfoul, that all the way from the Town gates to those of the Castle, his blessed Majesty should be entertained with the song, by them that had best skill in Musick in all the Town of Manfoul; then did the Elders, and the rest of the Men of Manfoul answer one another as Emanuel entred the Town, till he came at the Castle gates, with Songs and sound of Trumpets, saying, They have seen thy goings O God, even the goings of my God, my King in the sanduary.
So the Singers went before, the Prayers on Instruments followed after, and among them were the Damses playing on Timbrels.

Third y, Then the Captains, (for I would freak a word of them) they in their order waited on the Prince as he entred into the Gates of Mansoul. Captain Credence went before, and Captain Goodbope with him; Captain Charity came behind, with other of his Companions, and Captain Patience followed after all, and the rest of the Captains, some on the right hand, and some on the lest, accompanied Emanuel into Mansoul. And all the while the Colours were displayed, the Trumpets sounded, and continual frontings were among the Soldiers. The Prince bims rode into the Town in his Armour, which was all of best on Go d, and in his Chariot, the pillars of it were of Silver, the bottom thereof of Gold, the covering of it were of upple; the midst thereof being paved with Love for the Daughters of the Town of Mansoul.

Fourthly, when the Prince was come to the entrance of Manfoul, he found all the Streets strewed with Lillies and Flowers, curiously deck d with Boughs and Branches from the green Trees, that stood round about the Town. Every Door also was filled with Persons who had adorned every one their stree-part gainst their House with something of variety and singular excellency to entertain him withat as he pessed in the Streets; they also themselves, as Emahuel pussed by, did welcome him with shows and acclamations of joy, saying. Blessed be the Prince that cometh in the name of his Father Shaddai.

Fifthly, at the Castle gates the Elders of Manjoud, to wit, my Lord Mayor, the Lord Willbewill, the Subordinate Preacher, Mr. Knowledge, and Mr. Mind with other of the Gentry of the place, saluted Fms-nuclagain; they bowed before him, they kissed the dust of his Feet, they thanked, they blessed and praised his Highness for not taking advantage against them for their Sins, but rather had pity upon them in their M serv; and returned to them with Mercies, and to build up their Mansoul for ever. Thus was the Royal Palace, and the Place were his Honour was to dwell; the which was ready prepared for Lis Highness by the presence of the Lord Secretary, and the Work of Captain Credence. So he entred in.

Sixthly, Then the People and Commonalty of the Town of Mansoul came to him into the Castle to mourn and to weep, and to lament for their Wickedness, by which they had forced him out of the Town. So they when they were come, howed themselves to the Ground seven times; they also wept, they wept aloud, and asked for giveness of the Prince, and love to Mansoul.

Dr3Asq

Prayed that he would again, as of old, confirm his

To which the great Prince replied, Weep not, but go yo ur way, eat the fat and drink the sweet, and send Portions to them for whom nought is prepared, for the joy of your Lord is your strength. I am returned to Mansoul with Mercies, and my Name shall be set up exalted and magnified by it. He also took these Inhabitants and Kised them, and laid them in his Bosom.

Moreover, he gave to the Elders of Mansoul, and to each Town Officer a Chain of Gold, and a Signet. He also sent to their Wives Ear-rings and Jewels, and Bracelers, and other things. He also bestowed upon the True-born Children of Mansoul, many precious things.

When Emanuel the Prince had done all these things for the samous Town of Manjoul, then he said unto them, sirst, Wash your Garments, then pur on your Ornaments, and then come to me into the Castie of Mansoul, Eccl. 9. 8. So they went to the Fonntain that was set open for Judab and Jerusalem to wash in and there they washed, and there they made their Garments while, and came again to the Prince into Castle, and thus they stood before him, Zach. 13. 12 Rev. 7. 14, 15.

And now there was Musick and Dancing throughout the whole Town of Mansoul; and that because their Prince had again granted to them his presence, and light of his Counterance; the Bells also did ring, and the Sun shine comfortably upon them for a great while together.

The Town of Manfoul, did also now more through: ly seek the destruction and ruin of all remaining Diabolonisms that abode in the Walls, and the Dens (that they had in the Town of Manfoul,; for there was of them that stad to this day escaped with Life and Limb from the hand of their suppressors in the famous Town of Manfoul.

But my Lord Willbewill was a greater terror them now than ever he had been before, for a fmuch as his Hea. was yet more fully bent to feek, contrive, and purfue them to the dath; he purfued them Night and Day, and did put them now to fore diffress, as will afterwards appear.

After things were thus far put into order in the famous Town of Mansoul, care was taken, and order given by the bleffed Prince Emanuel that the Townsmen should, without further delay, ap-Orders given point some to go forth into the Plain to out to lury bury the Dead that were there; the the Dead. D ad that fell by the Sword of Emanuel, and by the shield of Captain Credence, lest the fumes and ill favours that would arise from them, might infect the Air, and so annoy the famous Town of Manfoul. This also was a reason of this Order, to wit, that as much as in Man oul lay, they m ght cut off the name and being, and remembrance of those Enemies from the thought of the famous Town of Manfoul, and its Inhabitants.

So order was given out by the Lord Mayor, that wife and trufty Friend of the Town of Mansoul, that Persons should be employed about this necessary bufinels; and Mr. Godlyfear, and one Mr. Upright were to be Overseers about this matter; so Persons were put under them to work in the Fields, and to bury the flain that lay dead in the Plains. And these were their places of imployment, some were to make the Graves, I me were to bury the Dead, and tome were to go to and fro in the Plains, and also round about the borders of Mansoul, to see if a Skull or a Bone, or a piece of a Bone of a Doubter was yet to be found above ground any where near the Corpora. tion; and if any were found, it was ordered that the Searchers that learched should fet up a mark thereby, and a fign, that those that were appointed to bury them might find it, and bury it out of light, that the name and cemembrance of a Diabolonian Doubter might be blotted out from under Heaven. And that the Children and they that were to be born in Mm. lo. oul might not know (if peffible) what a Skull, what a Bone, or a piece of a Bone of a Doubter was. So he Buriers, and those that were appointed for that surpose, did as they were commanded; they buried he Doubters, and all Skulls and Bones, and pieces of Bones of Doubters, wherever they found them and they cleansed the Plains. Now also Mr. Godspeace took up his Commission, and afted again as in former Days.

Thus they buried in the Plains about Mansoul, the Election-Doubters, the Vocation Doubters, the Grace-Doubters, the Perseverance Doubters, the Resurrection. Doubters, the Salvation-Doubters, and the Glory-Doubters, whose Captains were, Captain Rage, and Captain Cruel, Captain Damnation, Captain Insatia. ble, Captain Brimftone, Captain Torment, Captain No ease, Captain Sepulchre, and Captain Past kone: And Old Incrudelity was under Diabolus their Gene. ral: there were also the seven heads of their Army. and they were the Lord Beeizebub, the Lord Lucifer, the Lord Legion, the Lord Apollyon, the Lord Python, the Lord Cerberus, and the Lord Belial. But the Princes and the Captains, with Old Incredulity their General, did all of them make their escape; so their Men selldown flain by the power of the Prince's Forces. and by the Hands of the Men of the Town of Mansoul. They also were buried as is before related, to the exceeding great joy of the now famous Town of Manfoul. They that buried them, buried also with them their Arms, which were civel Inftruments of Death, (their Weapons were Arrows, Darts, Mauls, Firebrands, and the like) they buried also their Armour, their Colours, Banners, with the Standard of Diabolus and what elfe foever they could find that did but smell of a Diabolonian Doubter.

Now when the Tyrant was arrived at Heligate bill, with his old friend incrudelity, they immediately defeended the Den, and having there with their followers for a while condoled their mission tune, and greatlow that they suffain'd against the Town of Manfoul, the Gorge thought every Day even as long as ever, until they were filled with the Bod with the Flesh and Bones, and with all thos Mansoul. They there'ore resolve to ma attempt upon the Town of Mansoul, and Army mixed, and made up partly of Do partly of Blood men. A more particular Actake of both.

The Doubters are such as have their N their Nature, as well as from the Lord and where they are born; their Nature is to stion upon every one of the truths of Em their Country is called The Land of Douthat Land lyeth off, and surthest remote to be ween the Land of Darkness, and that Valley of the shadow of Death. For though of Darkness, and that called the Land of of Death, be sometimes called as if they and the self same place; yet indeed the lying but a little way assurer. and the

and of Doubting, yet they do both but and bound on the Hill called Hellgate bill. These People are ways in league with the Doubters, for they jointly make question of the Faith and Fidelity of the len of the Town of Manfoul, and so are both alike a alisted for the Service of their Prince.

Now of these two Countries did Disbolus by the sating of his Drum raise another Army against the own of Mansoul, of five and twenty thousand rong. There were ten thousand Doubiers, and steen thousand Blood men, and they were put unser several Captains for the War; and old Incredility as again made General of the Army.

As for the Doubters, their Captains were five of the seven that were Heads of the last Diabolonian Arity, and these are their Names, Captain Beelzebub, aptain Luciser, Captain Apollyon, Captain Legion, and Captain Cerburus, and the Captains that they had after, were some of them made Lieutenants, and me Enigns of the Army.

But Diabolus did not count that in this Expedition his, these Doubsers would prove his principal Men, or their Manhood had been tried before; also the lansoulians had put them to the worst only he did ring them to multiply a Number, and to help it eed was, at a pinch, but his trust he put in his Boodien, for that they were all rugged Villains, and he new that they had done Fears heretotore.

As for the Blood men they also were The Saptains of the Inder command, and the Names of the Blood-men. heir Captains were Captain Cain, Captain Ninrod, Captain Ilomael, Captain Esau, Captain Saul, Captain Absolom, Captain Judas, and Captain Pope.

i. Captain Cain was over two Bands, to wit. the scalous and the Angry Blood men; his Standard-bear r bare the red Colours, and his Scutcheon was the Aurdering-Club. Gen. 4. 8.

2. Captain Nimrod was Captain over two Bublisto vit, the Tyramical and Increasing Blood men; his Scandard

Standard-bearer bare the Red Colours, and his tcheon was the Creat Plood bound Gen. 10. 8, 9

2. Captain libmael was Captain over two E to wit, over the Mocking and Scorning Blood his Standard b aver bare the Red Colours, as Scutcheon was one Mocking at Abraham's Isaac, 21. 9, 10.

4. Captain E au was Captain over two Band wit, the Blood men that grudged that another f have the bleffing; also over the Blood men that a executing their private revenge upon others Standard bearer bare the Red Colours, and his tche. n was one privately lurking to Murder Jacob. 27. 42, 43, 44, 45.

5. Captain Saul was Captain over two Banc wit, the Groundlessy jealous and the Devilibly ! Blood men; his Stardard-bearer have the Red Co and his Scutcheon was three Bloody darts call at Ics David, 1 Sam. 8. 10.

6. Captain Abluiom was Captain over two I to wit, over the Blood men that will kill a Fath a Priend, for the glory of this Word; also over Blood men that will hold one fair in hand with W till they shall have pierced him with their Su hisStandard bearer did bear the Red Colours ar Scutcheon was the Son pursuing the Father's Ch. 19. 10. Ch. 20. 23. 2 Sam. 15, 16, 17 (

7. Captain Judas was over two Bands, to wit Blood man that will fell a Man's Life for Money those also that will betray their Friend with a Ki Standard-bellier bire the Red Colours, and bit tcheon was Thirty pieces of Silver, and the Halter,

26. 14, 15, 16.

8. Captain Fope was Captain over one Band, 1 these Spirits are joiced in one under him, his 5 and hearer bare the Red Colouis, and his Scutt was the Stake, the Flame, and the good Man Rev. 13. 7. 8. Dan. 11. 33.

Now the reason why Diabous did so soon ra' nother Force after he had been beaten out of the ere for that he put mighty confidence in this Army Bloodmen, for he put a great deal of more truft them than he did before in his Army of Doubters, they had also often done great service for him the strengthning of him in his Kingdom. But ese Bloodmen he had proved them often, and their word did seldom return empty. Besides, he knew at these like Mastiffs, would fasten upon any; up-Pather, Mother, Brother, Sifter, Prince, or Goernor, yea, upon the Prince of Princes. And that hich encouraged him the more was, for that they ice did force Emanuel out of the Kingdom of Unirie, and why thought he, may they not also drive m from the Town of Mensoul? So this Army of five and twenty thousand firong, is by their General, the great Lord Incredulity, led against the Town of Mansoul. Now Mr. Prypell e Scout master-general, did himself go out to spie. d he aid bring Manfoul Tidings of their coming :

onians that came up against the Town. So Diabolus brought up his Army, and beleaguered Town of namfoul; the Doubters were placed aut Feel gase, and the Bloodmen fet down before herefore they shut up their Gates, and put themves in a posture of desence against these new Diss gate and Ear gate.

Now when this Army had thus incamped themves, Incrudelity did in the name of Diabolus, his a name, and the name of the Bloodmen, and the t that were with him, fend a Summons as hot as a l hot Iron to Manjoul, to yield to their demands, eatning that if they ftill flood it out against them, y would presently burn down Manjoul with Firer you must know that as for the Bloodmen, they re not so much that Manjoul should be furrendred, that Manjoul should be destroyed, and cut off out the Land of living. True, they sent to them to render, but should they so do, that would not neth or quench the thirs of these Men; They must e Blood, the Blood of Manjoul, else they die and it is from bence that they have their name. Whetefore these Bloodnen he reserv'd while now, that they might, when all his Engines proved ineffectual, is his last and sure card he played against the Town of Mansoul, Psal. 29. 10. Isa. 50. 7. Isa. 22. 17.

Now when the Townsmen had received this redhot Summons, it begat in 'em at present some changing and interchanging thoughts; but they jointly agreed in less than half an hour to carry the Summons to the Prince, the which they did when they had writ at the bottom of it, Lord (eve Mansoul from bloody Men, Plal. 59. 2.

So he took it, and looked upon it, and confidered it, and took notice also of that short Petition that the Men of Mansoul had written at the bottom of it, and called to him the noble Captain Credence, and bid him go and take Captain Pasience with him, and go and take care of that side of Mansoul that was beleaguer'd by the Bloodmen, Heb. 6. 12. Ver. 15. So they went and did as they were commanded; then Captain Credenne went and took Captain Pasience, and they both secured that side of Mansoul that was belieged by the Bloodmen.

Then he commanded that Captain Goodbope and Captain Charity, and my Lord Wilbewill, should take charge of the other fide of the Town a and I, faid the Prince, will let my Standard upon the Battlements of your Caftle, and do you three watch against the Doubters. This done, he again commanded that the brave Captain the Captain Experience should draw up his Men in the Market place, and that there he should exercise them day by day before the People of the Town of Marfoul. Now this Siege was long, and many a fierce attempt did the Enemy, especially those called Bloodness, make upon the Town of Manfoul, and many a shrewd brush did some of the Townsmen meet with from them : especially Captain Self denial: who, I should have told you before, was commanded to take the care of Eurgase and Eyegus now a-Painst the Bloodmen. This Captain Self denial was a POROF rung Man, but flout, and a Townsman in Manson!, Captain Experience also was. And Emanuel at his cond return to Manson!, made him a Captain over thousand of the Manson!, for the good of the orporation. This Captain therefore being an hardy lan, and a Man of great Courage, and willing to inture himself for the good of the Town of Manson!, ould now and then fally out upon the Bloodnen, and give them many notable alarms, and entred several brisk Skirmishes with them, and also did some execution upon them, but you must think that this suld not easily be done, but he must meet with rushes himself, for he carried several of their marks his Face; yea, and some in some other parts of is Body.

So after some time spent for the Trial the faith, and hope, and love of the Emanuel preown of Mansoul; the Prince Emanuel pares to give the Rocky on a day calls his Captains and Men Battle.

War together, and divides them in- How he ortwo Companies; this done, he com- dereth his Menands them at a time appointed, and tat in the Morning very early, to fally out upon the Enemy; saying, Let half of you fall upon the bubters, and balf of you fall upon the Bloodmen.

hose of you that go out against the Doubters, kill ad slay, and cause to perish so many of them as by my means you can lay hands on; but for you that o out against the Bloodmen, slay them not, but take bem alive.

So at the time appointed, betimes in the Morning, beCaptains went out as theywere commanded against be Enemies: Captain Goodbope, Captain Charity, and those that were joined with them, as Captain Incens, and Captain Experience, went out against the housers; and Captain Gredence, and Captain Paties, with Captain Self-denial, and the rest that were point with them, went out against the Bloodmen.

Now those that went out against the Doubters, ew up in a body before the Plain, and marche

The Dolp War, 260

on to bid them Battle : But the Doubters remembring the rlaft Success made a Retreat, not daring to find the Shock but thed from the Prince's Men; where tore they purfued them, and in their Purfuit fley many, but they could not catch them all. Now those that cleared went fome of them home, and the ref ne rives nines, and feventeens, like wanderers, went stregling up and down the Country, where they upon the barbarous People showed and exercised many & their Disboisnien Act ons; nor did these People ife u. in Arms againft them, but fuffered themselves to he enflaved by them. They would also after this flew thems: lves in Companies before the Town of Manual Lit never to abide it; for if Captain Credence, Cap tim Goodkope, or Captain Experience did but fiet tiemielves, they fied

Those that went out against the Bloodness, did t they were commanded, they forbore to flay any. by fought to compass them about. But the Bleeds wien they faw that no gmanuel was in the Fiel concluded also that no Emmuel was in Manson wherefore they looking upon what the Captains di to be, as they called it, a fruit of the extravagancy their wild and foolish fancies, rather despised the than feared them, but the Captains minding their b tiness, at last did compass them round, they also th had routed the Doubters came in amain to their air so in fine, after some little flruggling, for the Blo men also would have run for it, only now it was t late, (for though they are mischievous and cre where they can overcome, yet all Bloodmen are Chie en hearted Men, when they once come to see the I lves matcht and equal'd) to the Captains took's and brought them to the Prince.

Now when they were taken had before the Prin and examined, he found them to be of three fevel Counties, shough they all came out of one Land.

1. One fort of them came out of Blindmarshi and they were such as did ignorantly what the did.

2 8

2. Another fort of them came out of Blindze uishire. and they did super flictions what they did.

3. The third fort of them came out of the Town of Malice in the County of Envy, and they did what they did out of Spite and Implacableness.

For the first of the'e, to wit, they that came out of Blindmanshire when they saw where they were, and against whom they had fought, they trembled, and cried as they stood before him; and as many of the sa asked him Mercy, he touched their Lips with his golden Scepter.

They that came out of Blindzeashire, they did not as their Fellows did, for they pleaded that they had right to do what they did, because Mansout was a Town whose Laws and Customs were diverse from all that dwelt thereabouts, very few of these could be brought to see their Evil, but these that did, and asked Mercy, they also obtained favour.

Now they that came out of the Town of Maliee, that is in the County of Ency, they neither wells nor dispused, but stood gnawing of their Tongues before him for anguish and madness, because they could not have their will upon Mansous! Now these last, with all those of the other two sorts that did unleignedly ask Pardon for their faults: Those be made to enter into sufficient bond to answer for what they had dine against Mansous, and against her King, at the great and genera! Assists to be bolden for our Lord the King, where he himself sould appoint for the Country and Kingdom of Universe.

so they became bound each Man for himself to come in when called upon, to answer before our Lord the King for what they had done as before.

And thus much concerning this fecond Army that was fent by Diebolus to overthrow Manfoul.

.....

But there were three of those that came from the Land of Doubing, who after they had wandred and ranged the Country a while, and perceived that they had escaped, were so hardy as to thrust themselves, nowing that yet there were in the Town of Diabe

Three or four lus, I fay they were fo hardy as to the of the Doubt- themselves into Manfoul among them ers go into (Three did I say, I think there wet Meniou', are four.) Now to whole House house entertained, these Diabolonias Doubsers go, but and by whom. the house of an old Diebolonian in Ma foul. whose name was Evil questioning, a very gre Enemy he was to Manjoul, and a great doer and the Diabolovians there. Well, to this Evil queli ing's House, as was said, did these Diebele come, (you may be fure that they had Directi how to find the way thither ) is he made them we come, pitied their Missortune, succentred them vit the best that he had in his House. Now after little Acquaintance, and it was not long beforethe had that, this old Evil questioning asked the Doubt if they were all of a Town, (he knew that they were all of one Kingdom;) and they answered, no. of one Shire neither, ford, said one, am an Eleth Doubter a I, said another, am a Vocation Doubte then faid the third, I am a Salvation Doubter; in the fourth said he was a Grace Doubter. anoth the old Gentleman, be of what Shire you'vil I am perswaded that you are Town-boys, you have the very length of my foot, are one with my hear and shall be welcome to me. So they thanked his and were glad that they had found themselves an bit bour in Mansoul. Then said Evil que Talk betwirt swing to them, How many of your Com the Donbters pany might there be that, came wk

the Doubters and old Evilquestioning.

Doubters is all, for the rest of the Army confish of fifteen thousand Bloodmen: These Bloodmen, quot they, border upon our Country, but poor Me
we hear, they were every one taken by Emanue Forces. Ten thousand, quoth the old Gentlema I'll promise you that's a round Company. But he came it to pass since you were so mighty a Name that you fainted, and durit not fight your Roes?

General; said they, was the firft Man that did run for't. Pray, quoth their Lordlord, who was that your cowardly General? He was once the Lord-Mayor of Mansoul, said they. But pray call him not a cowardly General, for whether any from the East to the West has done more service for out Prince Diabolus, than has my Lord Incredulity, will be a hard question for you to answer. But had they catched him they would for certain have hanged him, and we promise you hanging is but a bad business

Then faid the old Gentleman, I would that all the ten thousand Doubsers were now well armed in Manload, and my felf in the head of them, I would fee what I could do. Ah, faid they, that would be well if we could see that: But wishes, alas! what are they? And these words were spoken aloud. Well, faid old Evil questioning, take heed that ye talk not too loud, you must be quat and close, and must take care of your selves while you are here, or I'le affure you, you will be fnapt.

Wby? Quoth the Doubsers.

Why! Ouoth the old Gentleman? Why, because both the Prince, and Lord Secretary, and their Captains and Soldiers are all at present in Town? yea, the Town is as full of them as ever-it can hold. And besides, there is one whose name is Willbewill. a mast cruel enemy of ours, and him the Prince has made Reeper of the Gates, and has commanded him that with all the diligence he can, he should look for, search out, and destroy all, and all manner of Diabolonians.

And if he lighted upon you, down you go though vone head's made of Gold.

And now to fee how it happened, one They are over of the Lord Willbewill's faithful Sol- heard. diers, whose Name was Mr. Diligence, flood all this while liftning under old Evil question. ing's Eaves, and heard all the Talk that had been betwist him and the Doubters that he entertaked un er his Roof.

The Soldier was a Man that my Lord had much confidence in, and that he loved dearly, and that both because he was a Man of Courage, and also Man that was unwearied in seeking after Diabolasis.

ans to apprehend them.

Now this Man, as I told you, heard all the talk that was between old Evil-questioning and these Div b lonians; wherefore what does he, but goes to his Lord and Rells him what he had heard. And fayst thou fo, my trufty, quoth my Lord? Ay, quoth Di itente, that I do, and if your Lordship will be pleafed to go with me, you shall find it as I have laid And are they there, quoth my Lord? I know Evilquestioning well, for he and I were great at the time of our Apostasie. But I know not now where he dwells. But I do, faid his Man, and if your Lordth p will go, I will lead you the way to his Den Go! quoth my Lord, that I will. Come my Dille gence, let's go find them out. So my Lord and his Man went together the direct way to his House Now his Man went before to shew him the way, and they went till they came even under old Mr. guilquestioning's wall: Then said Di.igence, Hark! my Lord, do you know the old Gentleman's tongue when you hear it? Yes, faid my Lord. I know it well, but I have not feen him many a day. This I know, he is cunning, I wish he doth not give us the flip. Let me alone for that, faid his Servant Diligence. But how shall we find the door, quoth my Lord? Let me alone for that two, faid his Mag. So he had my Lord Willbewill about, and shewed him the way 19 she door. Then my Lord without more ado, broke open the door, ruthed into the House, and caught them all five together, even as Diligence his Man had told him. So my Lord apprehended them, and led them away, and committed them to They are ap. the hand of Mr. Truemen the Goaler, and commit. and he commanded, and he did put them elto Palon, in Ward. This done, my Lord Mayor was acquainted in the Morning wi

by John Bunyan.

205

Lord Willbewill had done over night, and hip rejoiced much at the news, not only beey were Doubters apprehended, but because Evil questioning was taken; for he had been 'eat trouble to Menfoul, and much affi flion ird Mayor himself. He had also been sought bur no hand could ever be laid upon him the next thing was to make preparation to five that by my Lord had been apprehendthat were in the hands of Mr. Trueman the So the day was fet, and the They are lied and come together, and brought to ners brought to the Bar. My Trial rewill had power to bave flain en at first he took them, and that without e ado, but he thought at this time more ionour of the Prince, the comfort of Manthe discouragement of the enemy; to bring

th to publick judgment.

M٤

fay, Mr. Trueman brought them in Chains ir, to the Town hall, for that was the place ient. So to be short, the Jury was pannelled. leffes (worn, and the Prisoners tried for their e jury was the same that tried Mr. No truth; Taughty, and the rest of their companions. irft, old Queftioning himfelf was fet to the he was the Receiver, the entertainer and r of these Doubsers, that by Nation were h ment then he was bid to hearken to his and was told that he had liberty to object, lought to say for himself, So his Indiament , the manner and form here follows. meftioning. Thou are bere indicted by the Evil questioning, an Intruder upon the Town only for that thou art a Diabolonian by Nal'also a bater of the Prime Emanuel and hast studied the ruin of the Town of Mansoul. alfo bere Indiffed for countenancing the inemies, after wholsome Laws make to the comerant: For, r. Thou haft qualitimed the truth of her Dollrine and State. 2. In wishing that ten thousand Doubters were in her. In receiving, entertaining and encouraging of her Enemies, that came from their Arms unto thee. What fasse thou to this Indichment, are the guilty or wot guilty?

My Lord, quoth he, I know not the meaning of this Indictment, foraimuch as I am not the Man corcerned in it; the Man that frandeth by this Charge accused before this Bench, is called by the name of Evil questioning, which name I deny to be mine, mine being Honest Enquiring. The one indeed sounds like the other, but I trow, your Lordships know that between these two there is a wide Difference; for I hope that a Man even in the worst of time, and that too amongst the worst of Men may make an honest Enquiry after things, without running the danger of Death.

Then spake my Lord Willbewill, for he was one of the Witnesses: My Lord, and you the bonourall Bench and Magistrates of the Town of Mansoul, 1th all bave beard with your Bars, that the Prisoner a the Bar bas denied his Name, and so thinks to fell from the Charge of the Indiament. But I know by so be the Man concerned, and that his proper Name ! Evil-questioning I have known bim (my Lord) bove this thirty years, for be and I (a shame it is se me to ficak it) were great Acquaintance, when Die bolus that Tyrant had the Government of Manfouli and I restifie that be is a Diabolonian by Nature, at Enomy to our Prince, and an Hater of the ble Town of Manfoul. He bas in times of Rebellion leet at, and lain in my House, my Lord, not so little a zwenty Nights together, and we did use to talk the (for the substance of Talk) as be, and bis Doubten bave talked of late : True, I have not feen bim man A Day, I suppose that the coming of Emanuel to Manfoul has made him to change his Lodgings, as abis h different has driven him to share his Name; but this is the Man my Lord.

Then said the Court unto him, Hast thou any more to fay ?

Yes, quoth the old Gentleman, that I have; for all that has yet been faid against me. is but by the Mouth of one Witness, and it is not lawful for the famous Town of Manfoul, at the Mouth of one Witness.

ness to put any Man to Death.

Then stood forth Mr. Diligence, and said, My Lord, as I was upon my Watch such a Night at the Head of Badfreet, in this Town, I chanced to bear a muttering within the Gentleman's House; then thought I, what's to do here? So I went up close, but very softly, to the fide of the House to listen, thinking, as indeed it fell out, that there I might light of some Diabolonian Conventicle. So, as I said, I drew nearer and nearer, and when I was got up close to the Wall, is was but a while before I perceived that there were Outlandist - Men in the House (but I did understand their Speech, for I bave been a Traveller my felf) now bearing such Language in such a sottering Cottage as this old Gentleman dwelt in, I clast mine Ear to a Hole in the Window, and there beard them salk as followeth. This old Mr. Questioning asked these Doubters what they were, whence they came, and what was their Business in these Parts? And they sold bim to all these Questions, yet be did entertain sbem. He also asked what Numbers there were of them, and they told him ten thousand Men. He then asked them why they made no more Manly Affault upon Mansoul? and they told bim. So be called their General Coward, for marching off when he should have fought for bie Prince. Furiker, this old Evil questioning wife, and I beard bim wish, would all the ten shouland Doubters were now in Mansoul, and bimfelf in the head of them. He bid them alfo to take beed of them. He bid them also to take beed and lie quat, for if they were taken they must die, although they had beads of Golde

Then laid the Court, Mr. Evil-questioning, here is now another Witness against you, and his Ten mony is full: 1. He swears that you did receive these Men into your House, and that you did nourish them there, tho you know that they were Diabolomians, and the King's Enemies. 2. He swears that you did wish ten thousand of them in Mansoul. 3. He swears that you did give them advice to be quat and close, lest they were taken by the King's Servans. All which manifesteth that thou art a Diabolonian; but hadst thou been a friend to the King, thou wouldest have apprehended them.

Then said Evil-questioning. To the first of these I answer, the Men that came into mine House were Strangets, and I took them in, and is it now become a crime in Mansoul for a Man to entertain Strangers? That I did also nourish them is true, and why should my charity be blamed. As for the reason why I wished ten thousand of them in Mansoul, I nevertold it to the Witnesses, nor to themselves. I might wish them to be taken, and so my wish might mean well to Mansoul, for ought that any yet knows. I did also bid them take heed that they sell not into the Captains hands, but that might be because I am unwilling that any Man should be slain, and not because I would have the King's Enemies, as such, escape.

My Lord Mayor then replied, That the it was a virtue to entertain Strangers, yet it was Treason we entertain the King's Enemies. And for what else then kast said, thou dost by Words but labour to evade, and deser the Execution of Judyment. But could there he no more proved against thee but that thou are a Diabolonian, thou must for that die the death by the Law; but so be a receiver, a nourisher, a countenancer, and a harbourer of others of them, yea, of outlandish Diabolonians; yea, of them that came from surpose to cut off and destroy our Mansoul: this must not be born.

Then faid Evil questioning, I see how the game will go. I must die for my name, and for my charity. And so he held his Peace.

Then they called the outlandish Doubters to the Bar, and the first of them that was arraigned, was the Election Doubter; so his Indictment was read, and because he was an Outlandish man, the substance of it was told him by an Interpreter: to wit, That be was there charged with being an Enemy of Emanuel the Prince, a bater of the Town of Mansoul, and an opposer of her most wholesome Dostrince.

Then the Judge asked him if he would plead? But he said only this, That be confessed that be was an Flestion Doubter, and that that was the Religion shat be had even been brought up in. And faid moreover, if I must die for my Resigion, I trow, I shall die a Martyr, and so I care the less.

Then the Judge replied, To question Election is to overthrow a great Doctrince of the Gospel; to wit, the Omnisciency, and Power, and Will of God, to take away the liberty of God with his Creature, to stumble the Faith of the Town of Manfoul, and to make Salvation to depend upon Works, and not upon Grace. It also belied the Word, and disquieted the minds of the Men of Mansoul, therefore by the best of Laus he must die.

Then was the Vocation-Doubter called, and fet to the Bat; and his Indictment for substance was the fime with the other, only he was particularly charged with the denying the calling of Manfoul.

The judge asked him also what he had to say for himfelf?

So he replied, That be never believed that there was any such thing as a distinct and powerful call of God to Manson, otherwise than by the general voice of the Word, nor by that neither otherwise than as is exhorted Them to forbear evil, and to do that which is good, and in so doing a promise of bappiness is annexed.

Then said the Judge, Thou art a Diabelonian, and haft denied a great part of one of the most experimental truths of the Prince of the Town of Manfoul; for he has called, and the has heard a most distinct and powerful call of her Emanuel, by which the basis been quickned, awakned, and policifed with He venly Grace to desire to have Communion with her Prince, to serve him, and to do his Will, and to look for her happiness merely of his good pleasure. And for thine abhorrence of this good Dostrince thou must die the death.

Then the Grace-Doubter was called, and his Indictment was read, and he replied thereto, This shough he was of the Land of Doubting, his Father was the offfpring of a Pharifee, and lived in good fathion among his Neighbours, and that he taught him to believe, and believe I do, and will, that Manfoul Ball never be faved freely by Grace.

Then faid the Judge, Why, the Law of the Prince is plain: 1. Negatively, Not of Works: 2. Politively, By Grace you are faved, Rom. 3. Eph. 2. And thy Religion fettleth in and upon the works of the Flesh: For the works of the Law are the works of Besides, in saying (thou hast done) the Flesh. thou hast robbed God of his Glory, and given it to a Sinful Man; thou haft robbed Christ of the needfer of his undertaking, and the sufficiency thereof, and hangiven both these to the works of the Flesh. Thou haft despised the work of the Holy Ghoft, and haft magnified the will of the Flesh, and of the Legal Mind. Thou art a Disbolonian, the Son of a Diabolonian; and for thy Diabolonian Principles thou muft die.

The Court then having proceeded thus far with them, sent out the Jury, who forthwith brought them in guilty of Death, Then stood up the Recorder, and addressed himself to the Prisoners: You the Prisoners at the Bar, you have been here Indisted, and proved guilty of high Crimes against Emanuel our Prince, and against the Welfare of the same Town of Mansoul: Crimes for which you must be put to death; and die se according by.

So they were lentenced to the death of the Cross:
The Place assigned them for Execution was that were Diabolus drew up his last Army against Monfortz tare only that old Evil questioning, was baseded

at the top of Badftrees, just over-against his own-

When the Town of Mansoul had thus far rid themselves of their Enemies, and of the Troublers of their Peace in the next place a first commandment was given out, that yet my Lord Willbewill should, with Diligence his Man, search for and do his best to apprehend what Town Diabolonians were vet left alive in Mansoul. The Names of several of them were Mr. Fooling, Mr. Lett oodflip, Mr. Slavish fear. Mr. Nolove, Mr. Mistrust, Mr. Flesh, and Mr. Slosh. It was also commanded that he should apprehend: Mr. Evil questioning's Children that he left behind him, and that they should demolish his House there a Mr. Doubt, and he was his eldeft Son; the next to him was Legal life, Unblief, Wong thoughts of Christ, Clip-promife, Carnal-fense, Live by feeling, Selflove. All these he had by one Wife, and her Name was No bope, she was the hipswoman of old Incredulity, for he was her Uncle, and when her Father old Dark was Dead, he took her and brought her up. and when the was marriageable, he gave her to this old Evil-questioning to wife.

Now the Lord Wilbewill did put into execution his Commission with great Dilizence his Man. He took Fooling in the Streets, and hanged him up in Wanmit-alley, over against his own House. This Fooling was he that would have had the Town of Manfoul deliver up Captain Credence into the hands of Diebolus, provided that then he would have withdrawn his Force out of the Town. He also took Mr. Lesgoodslip one day as he was busie in the Market, and executed him according to Law; now there was an honest poor Man in Mansons, and his Name was Mr. Meditation, one of no great account in the Days of Apostatie; but now of repute with the best of the Town. This Man therefore they were willing to prefer; now Mr. Letgeodstip had a great deal of Wealth beretofore in Manfoul, and at Emmuel's ming it was sequestred to the vic of the Prince s therefore was now given to Mr. Meditation to improve for the common good, and after him to his Son Mr. Thinkwell; this Thinkwell he had by Mrs. Piety his Wife, and she was the Daughter of Mr. Recorder.

After this my Lord apprehended Clip promise; now because he was a notorious Villain, for by his doings much of the King's Coin was a builed, therefore he was made a publick Example. He was arraigned and judged to be first set in the Pillory, and then to be whipt by all the Children and Servants in Manfoul, and then to be hanged till he was dead. Some may wonder at the feverity of this Man's Punishment, but those that are honest Traders in Manson, are sensible of the great abuse that one Clipper of Promises in little time may do to the Town of Manfoul. And truly my Judgment is that all those of his Name and life should be served even as he.

He also apprehended Carnat sense, and put him is Hold, but how it came about I cannot tell, but he broke Prison and made his escape. Yea, and the hold Vallian will not yet quit the Town, but lurks in the Diabolonian Dens a days, and haunts like a Ghoft honest Mens Houses a nights. Wherefore there was a Proclamation fet up in the Market place in Monfoul, fignifying that whofoever could discover Cunel-sense, and apprehend him and flay him. should be admitted daily to the Prince's Table, and should be made keeper of the Treasure of Mansoul. Many therefore did bend themselves to do this thing, but take him and flay him they could not, though often he was discovered.

But my Lord took Mr. Wrong thoughts of Christ, and put him in Prison, and he died of a lingering.

Confumption.

Self-leve was also taken and committed to custody, but there were many that were allied to him in Manfall, so he judgment was deserted, but at last Mr. Self-denial flood up and said, if such Villains as these may be winked at in Mansoul, I will lay down my

by John Bunyan.

Commission. He also took him from the C and had him among his Soldiers, and there his brained. But some in Mansoul muttered at it, it mone durst speak plainly, because Emanuel w Town. But this brave Act of Captain Self tame to the Prince's Ears, so he sent for him made him a Lord in Mansoul. My Lord Wil also obtained great commendations of Emans what he had done for the Town of Mansoul.

Then my Lord Self denial took courage, as to the pursuing of the Diabolonians with my Willbewill and they took Live by feeling, and took Legal life, and put them in hold till they But Mr Unbelief was a nimble fack, him they never lay hold of, though they attempted to often. He therefore, and some few more of the - tileft of the Diabolonian Tribe did yet rema Manfoul, to the time that Manfoul left off to ary longer in the Kindom of Univerfe. But kept them to their Dens and Holes; if one of dia appear or happen to be seen in any of the Si - of the Town of Man/onl, the whole Town wou - in Arms after them, yea, the very Children in foul would cry out after them as after a Thief, would wish that they might stone them to death Stones. And now did Manfoul arrive to some degree of peace and quiet, her Prince alk abide within her Borders, her Captains also, an Soldiers did their duties and Manfoul minder Trade that the had with the Country afar off; he was bufie her Manufacture, Ifa. 32. 17. Ph 20. Prov. 11.

When the Town of Manfoul had thus far rid t felves of so many of their Enemies, and the trou of their peace; the Prince sent to them, and apped a day wherein he would at the Market place the whole People, and there give them is charge cerning some future matters, that if observed w tend to their farther safety and comfort, and t condemnation and destruction of their born Diabolonians. So the day appointed was come; and the Townsmen met together; Emanuel also came down in his Chariot and all his Captains in their fast attending of him on the right hand, and on the kin. Then was an Oyes made for stience, and after some mutual carriages of love, the Prince t-gan, and the proceeded.

Emanuel's mine heart, many and great are the privilence to Manfoul.

Manfoul. have fingled you out from others, and have chosen you to my self, not for your worthings.

but for mine own take. I have also redeemed you, not only from the dread of my Fathers Law, but from the hand of Diabolus. This I have done because I loved you, and because I have set my heat upon you to do you good. I have also that all things that might hinder thy way to the pleasures of

Paradise might be taken out of the way, laid down for thee, for thy Soul, a plenary satisfaction, and have bought thee for myself; a price not of correp-tible things, as of filver and gold, but a price of Blood, mine own Blood, which I have freely spill upon the ground to make thee mine. So I have reconciled thee, O my Mansoul, to my Father, and intrusted thee in the Manson-houses that are with my Father in the Royal City, were things are, O my Mansoul, that eye hath not seen, nor hath en-tred into the heart of man to conceive.

Besides, O my Manseul, thou seeft what I have done, and how I have taken thee out of the hands of thine Enemies; unto whom thou hast deeply revoked from my Father, and by whom thou wast content to be possessed, and also to be destroyed. I came to thee first by my Law, then by my Gospel to awaken thee and shew thee my glory. And thou knowes the what thou wast, what thou saidst, what thou didst, and how many times thou rebelledst against my Father and me; yet I lest thee not, as thou seek this day, but came to thee, have born thy manners.

have waited upon thee, and after all accepted of thee even of my meer grace and favour; and would not fuffer thee to be loft as thou most willingly wouldst ' have been. I also compassed thee about, assisted * thee on every fide, that I might make the weary of thy ways, and bring down thy heart with moleftation to a willinguels to close with thy good and happinels. And when I had gotten a compleat conquest over thee, I turned it to thy advantage.

Thou feeft also what a company of my Fathers hoft I have lodged within thy borders, Captains and Rulers, Soldiers, Men of War, Engines and Excelfent Devices to subdue and bring down thy foes; sthou knowest my meaning, O Mansoul. And they are my Servants, and thine too, Manfoud. Yea, my defign of possessing of thee with them, and the na-* tural tendency of each of them is to defend, purge, ftrengthen, and sweeten thee for myself, O Man-• foul, and to make thee meet for my Father's presence, bleffing and glory; for thou my Mansoul, art · created to be prepared unto these.

'Thou seeft moreover, my Mansoul, how I have 6 passed by thy back sidings, and have healed thee. Indeed I was angry with thee, but I have turned ' mine anger, and mine indignation is ceased in the destruction of thine Enemies, O Mansoul. Nor did thy goodness fetch me again unto thee, after that Ifor thy transgressions have hid my face, and withdrawn my presence from thee. The way of backsliding was thine, but the way and means of recovery was mine. I invented the means of thy return; it is I that made an hedge and a wall, when thou wast beginning to turn to things in which I delighted not. 'I was I that made thy sweet, bitter; thy day, night; thy smooth way, thorny; and that also confounded 'all that fought thy destruction. 'Twas I that fet Mr. Godinfear to work in Mansoul. Twas I that * firred up thy Conscience and Understanding, thy Will and thy Affections, after thy great and weful decay "Twas I that put life into thee, O Manjoul, to & me, that thou mightest find me. and in thy finding find thine own health, happiness and salvation. I was I that fetched the second time the Diabelmians out of Mansoul; 'twas I that overcame them, and that defleoyed them before thy face.

5

And now my Manioul, Fam returned to thee in opeace and thy transgressions against me, are as if they had not been. Nor shall it be with thee as in former days but I will do better for thee than at thy. heginning. For yet a little while, O my Manfent, 'even after a few more times are gone over thy head, I will (but be not thou troubled at what I fay ) take down this famous Town of Manfoni, flick and fione, to the ground. And I will carry the stones thereof. and the timber thereof, and the walls thereof. and the dust thereof, and inhabitants thereof, into mine own Country, even into the Kingdom of my Fathere and will there let it up in fuch frength and glory, as it never did see in the Kingdon where now it is placed. I will even there fet it up for my Father's habitation, for, for that purpose it was at first erected in the Kingdom of Universe: and there will I make it a spectacle of wonder, a monument of mercy. There shall the Natives of Manfout see all that of all which they have feen nothing here; there shall they be equal to those unto whom they have been inferiour here. And there halt thou, O my Manfoul, have such communion with me, with my Pather, and with your Lord Secretary, as is not possible here to be enjoyned, nor ever could be, 's should thou live in Universe the space of a thoufand Years.

And there, O'my Manfoul, thou shalt be assaid of murderers no more; of Diabolonians no more. There so that be no more plots, nor contrivances, nor a designs against thee, O my Manfoul. There thou shalt no more hear the evil tidings, or the noise of the Diabolonian Drum. There thou shalt not see the Diabolonian Standard bearers, nor yet behold Diabolonian Standard. No Diabolonian Mount should be the Standard.

AsiA •

aft up against thee there, nor shall there the Diaislovian Standard be set up to make thee assaid.
There thou shalt meet with no sorrow, nor grief, nor shall it be possible that any Diabolonian should again (for ever) be able to creep into thy skirts, burow in thy walls, or be seen within thy borders all the days of eternity. Life shall there last longer than here you are able to define it should, and yet it shall have be sweet and new, nor shall any impedinent attend it for ever.

There O Manfoul, thou shalt meet with many of hose that have been like thee, and that have been partakers of thy forrows; even such as I have choen, and redeemed and set a art as thou, for my Father's Court and City Royal. All they will be glad in thee, and thou when thou seeft them, shalt be llad in thine heart.

'There are things, O Mansoul, even things of thy Father's providing and mine, that never were feen ince the beginning of the world, and they are laid 10 with my Father, and sealed up among his I'reafires for thee, till theu shalt come thither to them. [told you before that I would remove my Manfoul and let it up elsewhere, and where I will let it, there tre those that love thee, and those that rejoice in hee now, but much more when they fee thee exaled to honour. My Father will then fend them for you to fetch you; and their bosoms are charlots to put you in. And you, O my Mansoul, shall ride upon the wings of the wind, Plat. 68 17. will come to convey, conduct, and bring you to that, when your eyes see more, that will be your defired baven.

And thus, O my Manson, I have shewed unto thee what shall be done to thee hereafter, it thou canst understand; and now I will tell thee what at present must be thy duty and practice, until I shall come and setch thee to my self, according as is reated in the Scriptures of Truth.

· First, I charge thee that thou dost hereafter keep o more white and clean the Liveries which I gave thee before my last withdrawing from thee. Do it, I say, for this will be thy wiklom. They are in themselves · fine linnen, but thou muff keep them white and clean. This will be your wildom, your honour, and will be greatly for my glory. When your Garments are white, the world will count you mine, Also when · your garments are white, then I am delighted in your ways; for then your goings to and fro will be like a flash of lightning, that those that are present must take notice of, also their eyes will be made to dazzle Deck thy felf therefore according to my bidding, and make thy felf by my Law ftraight fteps for thy feet, so shall thy King greatly delire thy beauty, for he is thy Lord, and worship thou him. 'Now that thou mayft keep them as I bid thee, I have, as I before did tell thee, provided for thee an open fountain to wash thy Garments in. Look therefore that thou wash often in my fountain, and go not in defiled Garments; for as it is to my dishort nour, and my disgrace, so it will be to thy discomfort, when you shall walk in filthy Garments, Zach.

3. 1, 2. Let not therefore my Garments, your Garments, the Garments that I gave thee, be defiled or spotted by the sless, Jude v 23. Keep thy Garments always white, and let thy head lack no Oint-

e ment.

My Mansoul, I have oft-times delivered thee from the designs, plots, attempts, and conspiracies of Diabolus, and for all this I ask thee nothing, but that thou render not to me evil for my good, but that thou bear in mind my love, and the continuation of my kindness to my beloved Mansoul, so as to provoke three to walk, in thy measure, according to the benefit bestowed on thee. Ot old the Sacrifices were bound with cords to the horns of the Golden Altar. Consider what is said to thee, O my blessed.

· . . . / • . .

my Manfont, I have lived, I have died, I live, will die no more for thee. I live that thou eft not die. Because I live thou shalt live also conciled thee to my Pather by the Blood of my is and being reconciled thou shalt live through

I will pray for thee, I will fight for thee, I yet do thee good.

Jothing can burt thee but fin; nothing can grieve but fin; nothing can make thee base before thy s, but Sin: Take heed of fin, my Mansoul. And doft thou know why I at first, and do still: Diabolonians to dwell in thy Walls, O Man? It is to keep thee waking, to try thy Love, nake thee watchful, and to cause thee yet to e my noble Captains, their Soldiers, and my rcy.

t is also that yet thou mayst be made to rememwhat a deplorable condition thou once wast in, ean when, not some, but all did dwell, not in Walls, but in thy Castle, and in thy strong

ld, O Mansoul.

my Monfoul, should I stay all them within, ny there be without that would bring thee into dage; for were all those within cut off, these hout would find thee sleeping, and then as in a ment they would swallow up my Mansoul. It refore lest them in thee, not todo thee hurt (the lich they yet will, if thou hearken to them, and we them) but to do thee good, the which they ist if thou watch and sight against them. Know refore that whatever they shalt tempt thee to, my sign is that they should drive thee, nor surther off, t nearer to my Father, to learn thee War, to make titioning desirable to thee, and to make thee little thine own Eyes. Hearken diligently to this my proul.

Shew me then thy love my Manford, and let not ofe that are within thy Walls, take thy affections from him that hath redeemed thy Soul. Yes, the fight of a Distolonies beighten thy love to me.

I came once and twice, and thrice to five the the poyfon of those arrows that would have to thy death; fland for me, my friend my? against the Diabolonians, and I will stand in before my Father, and all his Court. Love gainst temptation, and I will love thee no franding thine infirmities.

Omy Manfoul, remember what my Captain Soldiers, and mine Engines have done for . They have fought for thee, they have born t at thy hands to do thee good, O Manfoul. thou not had them to help thee Diabolus had tainly made a Hand of thee. Nourish them there my Manfoul. When thou doft well, they will well, when thou doft ill, they will be ill, and fic and weak. Make not my Captains lick, O Manfor for if they be tick, thou canft not be well; if the be weak, thou canft not be firong; if they be fain thou canft not be front and valiant for thy King, O Manfoul. Nor must theu think always to live of fense, thou must live upon my Word. believe, O my Mansoul, when I am for thee, that • yet I love thee, and bear thee upon mine heart f: cver.

Remember therefore, O my Manfoul, that thou art beloved of me; as I have therefore taught thes to watch, to fight, to pray, and to make war agains my foes, so now I command thee to believe that my love is constant to thee. O my Manfoul, how have I set my heart, my love upon thee, watch. For bold, I lay none other burden upon thee, what when bast already, hold fast till I come,

